N.B.—The periods taken in the Statement represent roughly the distribution of rainfall most necessary to the agriculturist. The fall to the end of April may be called 'the ploughing fall,' that to the end of June 'the sowing fall.' The fall between June and August matures the aous, and is essential to the transplantation of the aman. The fall in September matures the aman, while that after September fills out the ear of the aman rice and determines the prospects of the rubbi.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

f foggy, w dew.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway from 25th November to 31st December 1877.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 18TH JANUARY 1878.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway from 25th November to 31st December 1877.

THE approximate figures for the period are as follows:—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Nos.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1877	662,484	10,90,846	72,77,711	27,76,258	38,67,104
1876	595,513	12,39,240	70,34,086	29,64,425	42,03,665
Increase	66,971	......	2,43,625	......	......
Decrease	......	1,48,394	......	1,88,167	3,36,561

The decrease in passenger earnings is of course explained by the very heavy special traffic towards Delhi in December 1876 in connection with the Imperial Assemblage of 1st January 1877.

MERCHANDISE.

With a very considerable increase in weight lifted, there is, it will be seen, a decrease of a little under two lakhs (or about 6½ per cent.) in the receipts from merchandise traffic as compared with December 1876.

It will be remembered, however, that that month was one of very exceptional traffic.

The principal changes are—

Increases.

Coal.
Hides.
Indigo.
Iron.
Other metals.
Opium.
Piece-goods and twist.
Foreign railway material.
Seeds.
Stone.
Timber.
Tobacco.

Decreases.

Commissariat Beer.
Grain.
Salt.
Saltpetre.
Sugar.

Increases.

Coal—Upward ... ... Mds. 1,14,007 Rs. 48,285
Downward ... ... " 3,03,820 " 31,459

The increase in upward coal is entirely at Kurhurbali, the upward despatches from the other fields having considerably fallen off.

In down traffic the increase is almost entirely from the Seetarampore and Burrakur field, where a better quality of coal is coming forward than the old Raneegunge fields can afford.

Hides ... ... Mds. 35,168 Rs. 34,509

There has been a good demand in Calcutta for North-Western Provinces hides

Nearly the whole of the increase lies with Cawnpore and Delhi.

Indigo ... ... Mds. 21,741 Rs. 19,595

A very good crop in Tirhoot this season, which has come into the market freely throughout December.

Iron ... ... Mds. 7,420 Rs. 1,656
Other metals ... ... " 5,798 " 6,132

This is an increase in the quantity of raw metals sent forward from Calcutta to the manufacturing marts of the North-Western Provinces.

Piece-goods ... ... Md. 19,033 Rs. 14,720
Cotton twist ... ... " 3,177 " 3,206

These are small increases of no particular moment.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 2,30,175 Rs. 65,239

To this increase—

Patna contributes ... ... Mds. 1,00,000
Cawnpore ditto ... ... " 45,000
Mirzapore ditto ... ... " 20,000 and other North-Western stations most of the balance.

The weight of seeds cleared from the port in December was 26,000 tons, whereas it will be seen we carried altogether over 27,000 tons.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 11,270 Rs. 6,127

A continued increase in the despatches from Tirhoot, where all crops have been good this season. The failure of crops in Rohilkund has also naturally affected this traffic.

DECREASES.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 89,165 Rs. 1,29,945

Only 1,200 bales of screwed cotton reached Howrah during the whole month hardly a wagon-load a day: and with "good fair" priced at over sixpence a pound in Calcutta, this is not surprising.

As before remarked, in most of the cotton-growing districts there has been very serious failure through long dearth, and it is probable that the area under cotton will be a good deal restricted for some time to come.

Salt ... ... Mds. 63,265 Rs. 17,406

The salt exports from Rajpootana were much restricted during December, traders holding back in expectation of a reduction of the frontier duties.

There was also a slight falling off in the weight sent up from Calcutta

The earning is, however, considerably better than that of December 1875.

Saltpetre, ... Mds. 6,718 Rs. 3,328

This is a slight fluctuation of but little moment; in some weeks of the month there has been an increase, in others a decrease, and this is the balance which probably the first week of January would throw on the other side.

The total weight carried in December 1875 was only 28,000 maunds, so that the weight this month, 71,500, is really unusually large, although less than in December 1876.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 1,12,278 Rs. 66,095

The export of sugar, which was so active in December 1876, has almost entirely ceased: it arose from exceptional causes—the failure of the French beetroot crop among them; and the districts which exported most freely are themselves this season suffering from serious failure.

We now come to—

Grain with a net decrease of... ... ... Mds. 1,70,882 Rs. 1,97,070

Made up as follows—

	Increases.			Decreases.
	Mds.	Rs.		Mds.	Rs.
Common grains ...	2,07,084	87,449	Oats	11,829	4076
Pulses	2,03,031	10,864	Rice	3,90,718	13 021
Barley	91,475	9,768	Wheat	2,69,925	2,88 054
Total ...	5,01,590	1,08,081	Total ...	6,72,472	3,05,151
Net decrease as above			... ...	1,70,882	1,97,070

Common grains (jowar, jenara, and the millets) show a large increase, owing to the rush of grain traffic into Rajpootana, Oudh, and Rohilkund, owing to the failure of the autumn crops.

Of the 2,07,000 maunds shown above, 1,27,000 maunds of increase was shown in the traffic to the North-Western Provinces from the Jubbulpore line, Behar also contributed largely, as also the loop line, so far as we were able to supply wagons for the traffic.

In pulses there is a large increase in weight also, some 80 per cent., while the earnings have only risen 10 per cent.

The bulk of this increase is in pulses from the Scinde, Punjab, and Delhi Railway going into Rohilkund viâ Ghazeeabad and Allyghur, with a lead of 66 miles only over this line, which will account for this feature.

Barley, again, is very noticeable.

It is not a grain in which there is usually any large traffic, but of late it has been flowing out of the Punjab in large quantities and in the same direction as the pulses.

	Decrease.
Rice	Mds. 3,90,718	Rs. 13,021

This traffic was in December 1876 entirely abnormal; the demand for rice in Madras had become very heavy, and in one fortnight of that month (7th to 20th December) 51,000 tons of rice were exported from Calcutta, while in the whole of December 1877 the export was under 38,000 tons.

To show more clearly how exceptional this traffic was in 1876, I give the figures for 1875 in connection with it, thus:—

December 1875	Tons. 21,100	Rs. 1,10,000
„ 1876	„ 31,100	„ 2,09,000

so that there has been an increase in weight of 25 per cent., and in earnings of nearly 80 per cent., in 1877 as compared with 1875.

In fact, in the month under review, a slack demand in Calcutta and food rising in price up-country, every effort has been made to get rice away upwards.

Wheat.—This decrease is really the important feature in the statistics of the month under review.

Of the 9,900 tons decreases shown above, 8,800 tons lies with Cawnpore and 1,100 tons with the traffic viâ Cawnpore: thus this one mart and its feeder explain the whole decrease in weight.

The failure of crops in the North-Western Provinces has greatly restricted the export of rail-borne wheat, and such export demand as there is being to a large extent from the Bengal districts on the north side of the Ganges.

The timely rain which has fallen throughout Northern India has, however, averted all danger of a failure of the spring crops, and I hope we may see the wheat export renewed.

I may here compare with December 1875 as well as December 1876, as the circumstances of the latter period were so very exceptional.

The weight of wheat was—

December 1875	Tons. 3,400
„ 1876	„ 18,400
„ 1877	„ 11,800

the latter month, thus showing more than three-fold traffic as compared with 1875.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching. Mds.	Goods. Mds.	Total. Mds.
1877	256,278	529,081	785,359
1876	268,373	525,874	794,247
Increase	......	3,207	......
Decrease	12,075	......	8,888

Earnings per train mile.

	Coaching. Rs. A. P.	Goods. Rs. A. P.	Total. Rs. A. P.
1877	4 4 1	5 3 11	4 14 9
1876	4 9 10	5 10 2	5 4 8
Increase	......	......	......
Decrease	0 5 9	0 6 3	0 5 11

The earnings per train mile in coaching traffic are lower than in 1876, of course because there were so many special trains in 1876 in connection with the assemblage, and also a heavy first and second class traffic; while in goods traffic the remarks made under the heads of grain traffic will account for a falling off in average results.

Instead of having return loads for wagons running up-country under coal and imported goods, we have had these running up, besides loaded grain wagons; instead of wheat from Cawnpore to Howrah, with a lead of 684 miles, we have had grain from Kutnee to Cawnpore with a (main line) lead of 120 miles; instead of wheat from the Punjab to Calcutta, a lead of 942 miles, we have had barley from the Punjab to Rohilkund, 66 miles, and so on.

The actual earning on all train mileage fully up to the average of the last seven years—

JUBBULPORE LINE TRAFFIC.

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1877	41,195	1,40,361	10,08,072	2,46,507	3,86,868
1876	43,001	2,28,505	11,10,959	2,86,534	5,15,039
Increase	......	......	......	......	......
Decrease	1,806	88,144	1,02,887	48,027	1,28,171

The decrease in coaching earnings on this as on the main line merely the result of the unusual rush of traffic in December 1876 consequent on the Delhi Assemblage.

The earning in 1875 was only Rs. 1,17,376, and thus there is an advance in 1877 of Rs. 23,000, or nearly 20 per cent. over the figures of a corresponding period two years previously.

In like manner, the merchandise traffic compares—

December 1875	Mds. 3,70,000	Rs. 94,000
„ 1876	„ 11,11,000	„ 2,86,000
„ 1877	„ 10,08,000	„ 2,46,000 and the extraordinary rush of famine traffic and wheat for export in 1876 has almost been equalled by the traffic of the month under notice.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Tirhoot State Railway.

Through-booking with this line has now been fully organized, and about 2,000 tons of goods came through from it in December, including 1,000 tons of seed, 300 tons of saltpetre, and 420 tons of indigo; there is every reason to expect a good traffic here.

Half-year's Traffic.

As this is the last report for 1877, I may say a few words as to the gross results of the half-year's working as regards merchandize.

The figures given will not be quite accurate no doubt, but are sufficiently approximate, and may be interesting pending the submission of the more accurate returns which will follow.

The main line totals for the half-year may be taken at merchandize only—

	Tons.	£
1876	935,000	1,419,000
1877	1,278,000	1,664,000
Increase	343,000	245,000
and those for the Jubbulpore line—
1876	111,000	119,000
1877	203,000	169,000
Increase	92,000	50,000
or a total increase for the two lines of some	435,000	295,000

In the main line traffic the principal increases and decreases have been in—

Increases.	Tons.	£	Decreases.	Tons.	£
Pulses ...	106,000	63,000	Wheat (weight increased)	...	32,000
Common grains	91,000	82,000	Piece-goods ...	700	10,700
Seeds ...	61,000	63,000	Sugar ...	5,600	8,000
Coal ...	51,000	42,000	Cotton ...	5,900	20,000
Rice ...	19,000	19,000
Total ...	328,000	269,000	Total ...	12,200	70,700

and these few figures will, I think, give a good idea of the way in which the large increase, both in weight and money has arisen.

As regards the decreased earning in piece-goods, it may be remarked that both the two next preceding half-years showed an increase under this head.

Sugar has been fully remarked on in the body of this report, as have also cotton and wheat.

The latter staple shows an absolute increase in weight carried during the whole half-year of some 13,000 tons, but with a shorter lead, as prospects grew gloomy in the North-Western Provinces.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th February 1878.—The following Bye-laws framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Kishnaghur at a meeting under Section 313 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876, having been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under Section 314 thereof, are hereby published for general information.

For Regulating the Conduct of Business at Meetings.

1. The day of the meeting shall ordinarily be the last Saturday in every month, unless the Chairman for any special reason fix any other day. A notice signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be circulated at least three days before the day of the meeting.

2. A list of business to be transacted at the meeting shall accompany the notice, and no matter which is not contained in such list shall be brought forward for discussion at any meeting unless with the consent of the majority of the Commissioners present at the meeting.

3. Any member wishing to bring any proposition before the Commissioners at a meeting shall give written notice to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of his intention to do so, and such proposition shall be included in the next list of business which may be prepared after the receipt of the notice.

For Regulating the Time and Mode of Collecting the Taxes.

4. A darogah shall be appointed for the purpose of superintending the collection of taxes. The Municipality shall be divided into six wards, as heretofore, and to each of these wards shall be appointed a sirkar, who shall be authorized to collect taxes and to grant receipts. The Commissioners shall also appoint such warrant clerks or other officers as may be necessary for the realization of taxes.

5. Every officer authorized to grant receipts shall be provided with a certificate of his authority to collect, and every such certificate shall bear the seal of the Municipality and the signature of the Chairman. Every collecting officer, at the time of demanding payment, shall be bound to show this certificate, if required, and no tax-payer shall be bound to pay unless such certificate is shown and a printed receipt tendered to him.

6. For all sums paid on account of any tax mentioned in the Act, a printed receipt signed by the tax darogah and the collecting officer, showing the quarter for which the sum is paid, the amount of the tax, the number of the holding and of the ward in which it is situated, and the person from whom the tax is levied, shall be given to the person paying the same.

7. Bills shall not be made over at one time to any collecting sirkar or warrant clerk to a larger amount than that of the security given by him.

8. The darogah shall periodically settle accounts with the sirkars and warrant clerks, at such intervals as the Commissioners may from time to time direct. The darogah shall report to the Chairman the result of such settlements of accounts, and shall certify that the accounts are correct.

9. The darogah shall have a permanent advance of Rs. 25 to meet petty contingent expenses, to be accounted for at the end of each month.

10. When any tax, rate, or toll is levied by distress and sale of moveable property, payment of the purchase-money and delivery of the property shall be made immediately after the sale; and if the purchaser fail to pay the full amount of his bid, it shall be lawful for the distraining officer to sell the property again on the same or any other day, and the first or any succeeding purchaser, except the last, shall in such case be responsible to the Commissioners for any loss; such loss shall be recoverable as a debt due from him.

11. Every person required, in writing, to furnish any schedule or return which the Commissioners may lawfully require him to furnish, shall send such schedule or return to the office of the Commissioners within one week from the date of the service of the requisition, in the manner described in section 367 of the Act. Any person failing to do so shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 5 for the omission, and to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 2 for every day the omission shall continue. Any person submitting a false or incorrect schedule or return shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 20, provided that nothing in this bye-law shall be held to prevent the institution of a criminal prosecution under the Penal Code, should the facts appear to warrant such a proceeding.

For Regulating the Conduct of Persons Employed by the Commissioners.

12. The Commissioners shall have power to inflict, for neglect of duty a fine not exceeding one month's pay upon any person employed by them.

13. All persons now holding, or who may hereafter be appointed to, any office under the Commissioners shall, when required so to do, furnish good security to such amount as the Commissioners may from time to time fix; and any person failing to furnish such security within reasonable time, or within such time as the Commissioners may appoint, shall be held to have thereby forfeited his appointment, and may be removed from office.

For Regulating the Disposal of Offensive Matter, Rubbish, and Dead Bodies of Animals.

RULE II.—Notwithstanding Rule I, no fee shall be chargeable for serving and executing any process, such as a notice, rule, summons, or warrant of arrest which may be issued by any Court of its own motion, solely for the purpose of taking cognizance of, and punishing any act done, or words spoken, in contempt of its authority.

RULE III.—No process which comes within the operation of Rule I shall be drawn up for service or execution, except upon an application made to the Court for that purpose in writing, on a document bearing upon its face stamps not less in amount than the fee, which by Rule I is directed to be charged for serving and executing the process so sought to be drawn up. This application may, however, at the option of the party making it, be included in the petition by which he moves the Court to order the process to issue; but in that case the petition must bear the requisite stamps for the process fee, in addition to such stamps, if any, as are needed for its own validity: and, in either case, the filing of the application, thus duly stamped, shall constitute payment of the fee chargeable for the process.

RULE IV.—In cases which are covered by the note to Article 3 of Part I, and the note to Articles (3) and (4) of Parts II, III, and IV of the Table of Fees in Rule I, the additional fee which may become payable after the process has been actually issued shall be paid by filing a written requisition to the Court to receive the fee, which document shall bear on the face of it stamps not less in amount than the additional fee, together with a memorandum of the purpose for which it is paid.

RULE V.—The proceeds of a sale effected in execution of any decree will only be paid out of Court on an application made for that purpose in writing, and the additional fee (f), Article (6), Parts II, III, and IV must be paid by stamps affixed to, or impressed upon, the first of such applications: whether it be or be not made by the person who obtained the order for sale, or whether it does or does not extend to the whole of the proceeds. No fee will be chargeable upon any such application subsequent to the first.

N.B.—The fees paid in pursuance of these Rules, must, in all proceedings, be deemed and treated as part of the necessary and proper costs of the party who pays them.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

No. 121.—Regulations—

In supersession of G. G. O. No. 1204 of the 1st December 1875, and in conformity with clause 63, War Office Auxiliary Reserve Forces Circular of the 1st July 1877, appointments to the rank of Sub-Lieutenant in the Volunteer Corps in India will cease from this date.

2. Subaltern Officers appointed on or after this date will be granted the rank of Second-Lieutenant, and will, on appointment, receive probationary commissions. They will hold the rank of Second-Lieutenant for two years, unless promoted in the meantime to the rank of Lieutenant after passing the prescribed examination. If not promoted in ordinary succession they will, at the expiration of this period, provided they have passed the prescribed examination and are recommended by the commanding officers of their respective corps, be promoted to Lieutenancies, and their commissions as such will in all cases bear the date of their first appointment to the corps.

2. Officers serving in the rank of Sub-Lieutenant on this date may be recommended for promotion to the rank of Lieutenant as soon as they shall have passed the prescribed examination. They will take precedence of all Second-Lieutenants. Officers of both ranks will wear a star as the badge of rank on the collar of the uniform.

4. Nothing in this order affects the appointment of qualified officers direct to higher grades when recommended by commanding officers, and subject to the examination in the first year of appointment, as laid down in Section V, Regulations for the Volunteer Forces in India.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Public Works Department, is re-published for general information :—

CALCUTTA, the 4th February 1878. (62—1) G. H. SIMMONS, for Vice-Chairman.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Half-yearly General Meeting of subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Monday, the 30th January 1878.

PRESENT:—The Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, V.C., W. Waterfield, Esq., the Hon'ble H. T. Prinsep, D. Fitzpatrick, Esq., J. O'Kinealy, Esq., J. A. Hopkins., Esq., W. H. Grimley, Esq., D. M. Barbour, Esq., C. J. Lyall, Esq., C. Macaulay, Esq., and A. W. Mackie, Esq.

The Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, V.C., in the Chair.

The following report, submitted by the Managers, was taken as read:—

REPORT.

1. The Managers submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the Meeting.

2. Subject to the approval of subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Makgill	£	75

The widow of the late Mr. G. E. Makgill (an invalid annuitant of 1872), who died in England on the 3rd August last. Mrs. Makgill is entitled to the one-fourth pension, or £75 per annum, her husband having, at the time of his retirement, made up his subscription balance to Rs. 6,250.

Mrs. Geoghegan	£	300
1 Daughter	"	60
Total	"	360

The widow and child of the late Mr. J. Geoghegan, who died in England on the 2nd October last.

Mrs. Pollock	£	300
8 Children	"	690
Total	"	990

The widow and eight children (five daughters and three sons) of the late Mr. A. R. S. Pollock, who died in England on the 3rd October last.

Mrs. Boulderson ...	£	300

The widow of the late Mr. H. S. Boulderson (annuitant of 1851), who died in England on the 28th October last.

Mrs. Leycester	£	300
2 Daughters	"	200
Total	"	500

The widow and two daughters of the late Mr. G. P. Leycester (annuitant of 1862), who died in England on the 3rd November last.

Mrs. Becher	£	300
1 Daughter	"	100
Total	"	400

The widow and daughter of the late Mr. S. J. Becher (annuitant of 1866), who died in England on the 21st November last.

Mrs. Schalch ...	£	300
4 Children	"	400
Total	"	700

The widow and four children (three daughters and one son) of the late Mr. V. H. Schalch (annuitant of 1877), who died in England on the 3rd December last, provisionally admitted pending the receipt of papers.

3. The votes of subscribers have affirmed the Resolution passed at the last General Meeting respecting the amendment of section 2, article 8 of the Rules by the insertion of the words noted on the margin. The votes were 117 for the amendment and 2 against it. The clause thus amended will run as follows:—

" Before 'Rs. 12,500' insert 'Rs. 18,750 or to,' and for 'in the former case one-half and in the latter one-quarter,' substitute 'in the first case three-quarters, in the second one-half and in the third one-quarter.' "

Payments for reduced pensions.

But subscribers hereafter so retiring from the service may, at their option, by making up the amount of their subscriptions with interest either to Rs. 18,750 or to Rs. 12,500 or to Rs. 6,250, and by continuing, or compounding for their contributions on their annuities at half the rates levied from subscribers in the service on their allowances, secure to their families, on the same conditions as above, in the first case three-quarters, in the second one-half, and in the third one-quarter of the amount of pensions and other allowances granted to the family of a subscriber dying in the service, or of an annuitant who has made up, on retirement, the full amount of Rs. 25,000.

The above Rule comes into operation with effect from the 1st January 1877.

With reference to the amendment of this Rule, the Financial Secretary to the Government of India demi-officially enquired whether the proceedings of the Fund go regularly to the Secretary of State and, if so, through what channel, and remarked that the amendment would require the sanction of the Secretary of State. Under the Managers' orders Mr. Chapman was informed that the Fund has no communication with the Secretary of State. In regard to the matter of sanction, it was pointed out that there had apparently been some misapprehension as to the rights of the subscribers to the Civil Fund, and that they had probably been confounded with the members of the Annuity Fund.

Subsequently, the following official correspondence passed between the Government of India and the Managers:—

No. 3441.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

SIR,

I AM directed by His Excellency the Viceroy in Council to request that six copies of the proceedings of the General Meeting of the subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held on the 30th July 1877, may be forwarded for the information of the Government of India and transmission to the Secretary of State for India.

2. I am also to request that in future six copies of the proceedings of all General and Special Meetings of the subscribers to the fund may be forwarded to the Government of India for the same purpose.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient servant,
E. J. SINKINSON,
Offg. Under Secy. to the Govt. of India.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT,
SIMLA;
The 29th September 1877.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 3441 of 29th September last

2. In accordance with the request contained in your first paragraph, the Managers have the pleasure of forwarding six copies of the proceedings of the General Meeting of 30th July last, already published in the Gazette of India (Part III, dated 25th August 1877), page 64 as required by Rule XVI.

3. The present Managers will also, I am directed to say, have pleasure in supplying in the same form information as to the published proceedings of General Meetings of the Fund held during their tenure of office, if the supply of such information will be of service to Government; but they desire me to say that they cannot undertake in any way to bind their successors or the subscribers to the Fund, as the supply of information to Government in this form does not appear to be contemplated by the rules of the Fund.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient servant,
COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary.

CIVIL FUND OFFICE,
The 3rd January 1878.

4. The Managers submit for the consideration of the Meeting the case of Mr. R. Evans.

Under article eight of the Rules, subscribers who resign the service and wish to secure to their widows and children the full, three-quarters, half, or one-fourth benefits of the Fund, must, on retirement, make up their subscription balance to Rs. 25,000, 18,750, 12,500 or Rs. 6,250, as the case may be, and must continue their contributions on their annuities at half the rates levied from subscribers in the service. Mr. Evans resigned the service from 1st March 1877. On the 24th April last he was informed that he must at once pay Rs. 4,433-0-10 if he desired to retain an interest in the Fund by making up his balance to the sum of Rs. 6,250. He is anxious to keep up his interest, and he urges the three following circumstances which made it impossible for him to pay the money at the time specified:—(1) During his term of service, extending from 1867 to 1877, he never got beyond the grade of Assistant Magistrate at Rs. 500 a month. (2) When compelled to take leave on medical certificate in 1876, he had not completed the three years' residence after return from previous leave necessary to entitle him to the ordinary furlough allowance of £500. Instead of £500 per annum for two years, he could only claim £300 for one year. (3) His health was so bad when he returned home that he could neither raise money by insuring his life, nor increase his income by obtaining employment. Mr. Evans states that he will be prepared to pay the amount, with any fine that may be imposed within a fortnight after the decision of the subscribers is intimated to him.

The Managers recommend Mr. Evans' application to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

5. In accordance with the request of the Managers, Mr. E. F. Harrison has been in personal communication with the Actuary regarding the valuation of the assets and liabilities of the Fund. He reports that it would be impossible to place the inquiry in the hands of any one more capable of doing justice to it than Mr. Hardy. Mr. Harrison was to have had a further interview with Mr. Hardy in December, and the Managers have thought it advisable to await the result of his projected visit before taking any further steps regarding the valuation.

6. The accounts of the past year 1876-77 are submitted.

NOTIFICATION.

The Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, having under consideration the extension and completion of Drainage, Water and other works of a permanent nature, have resolved under the provisions of Section 334 of Act IV. of 1876, to borrow, in the first instance, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, a sum of Rupees Four Lacs on the security of the rates, taxes and dues, imposed and levied under the said Act. Accordingly it is hereby notified that the Commissioners are prepared to receive tenders for the loan on the security of the said rates, taxes and dues imposed and levied under the provisions of Act IV. (B. C.) of 1876.

Purpose of the Loan.

2. This loan is required for the construction of Drainage Works during the year 1878.

Rate of Interest.

Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum and having a currency of 30 years.

3. The form of the Debenture Bonds will be that given in the seventh Schedule of the aforesaid Act.

Amount of Debentures.

4. No Debenture will be issued for any less sum than Rupees Five Hundred (500), and above that amount no Debenture will be issued for a less sum than Rupees One Hundred (100).

5. Subscriptions will be received, and scrip receipts for instalments paid will be granted, by the Bank of Bengal. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible in exchange for the scrip receipts for instalments paid into the Bank of Bengal.

6. Tenders for the whole, or any part of the above-named sum of Rupees Four Lacs, will be received by the Secretary to the Corporation up to noon of Saturday, the 23rd of February.

7. Each tender must be addressed in the form annexed to this Notification, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for Municipal Loan of 1878."

8. The tenders will be opened at the Town Hall on Saturday, the 23rd of February, at 1 o'Clock P. M., by the Chairman of the Corporation. The Municipal Commissioners do not bind themselves to accept any tender below a certain minimum rate.

The amount of the accepted tenders must be paid in the following instalments.-:—

Seven-tenths within 15 days of acceptance of tender.

One-tenth on Wednesday, the 1st May.

One-tenth on Saturday, the 1st June.

One-tenth on Monday, the 1st July.

9. Interest upon the amount of each payment will be calculated from the dates above mentioned.

10. Parties tendering must pay into the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Corporation a sum equal to two (2) per cent of the amount tendered ; Bank receipt for which amount must accompany the tender.

11. If the tender be accepted, the deposit will be taken in part of the last instalment, but it will be forfeited if, after acceptance of the tender, the allotment is not fully taken up. A cash deposit may, after the tender in support of which it is made is accepted, be replaced by a Government Promissory Note.

12. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted, will be returned on application.

13. In the case of equality of tenders above the amount required, a pro rata allotment will be made.

14. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

15. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender. It is desirable that the tender, or at least the name of the person making the tender, and the amount and rate tendered, should be written in English.

ROBERT TURNBULL,
Secretary to the Corporation.

MUNICIPAL OFFICE,
6th February 1878.

FORM OF TENDER.

I hereby tender for Rupees of the Loan advertised in the Notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 6th February 1878, and agree to pay for the same, subject to the conditions notified at the rate of Rupees annas* for every Hundred Rupees allotted to me.

I enclose a deposit receipt of the Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, for Rs. and engage, if my offer be accepted, to pay to the account of the Municipality at the Bank of Bengal, Calcutta, the first instalment on or before Tuesday, the 12th March 1878, and the several later instalments on or before the dates fixed by the Notification as follows:—

Seven-tenths within 15 days of acceptance of tender.
One-tenth on Wednesday, the 1st May.
One-tenth on Saturday, the 1st June.
One-tenth on Monday, the 1st July.

N. B.—A separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender. In order to avoid mistakes, it is desirable that the tenderer, or, at least, the name of the tender, and the amount and rate tendered, should be written in English.

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of a Select Committee, with the Bill as amended by them, is published for general information:—

We, the undersigned Members of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to whom the Bill for the Licensing of Trades, Dealings, and Industries within the territories subject to the said Lieutenant-Governor was referred, have the honor to make the following report.

From the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce, dated 8th January 1878.
From the Honorary Secretary, British Indian Association, dated 17th January 1878.

We have considered the provisions of this Bill, and the communications regarding it, noted on the margin.

We have made the preamble to correspond with the preamble of the License Bill for the North-Western Provinces, now pending before the Council of the Governor-General for making Laws and Regulations.

We have, for the sake of clearness, divided the Bill into Parts, whereof Part I contains the preliminary provisions and interpretation clause; Part II contains the general provisions applicable to all districts, including Calcutta; Part III sets forth the provisions and procedure applicable in the districts of the interior; Part IV provides a special procedure for Calcutta; and Part V contains certain miscellaneous matters of general application.

We have provided that where a person carries on business in more than one district, he shall take out a license in each district with reference to his earnings in such district; and we have made it clear that Calcutta is, for the purposes of the Act, to be deemed to be a separate district.

We have made the minimum taxable income Rs. 100 per annum.

In Part III we have re-arranged sections 10 to 20 of the original Bill so as to make it more clear what powers the Collector may exercise in framing and amending the list of licensees, and what his powers are to be in dealing with petitions of objection.

We have provided for the recovery of fees from persons chargeable under the Act, who are employed in manufactories or under corporations, through and by means of their employers.

We have provided for an appeal from any order passed on a petition of objection by any officer subordinate to the Collector of the district.

We have removed the penalty clauses of sections 13 and 14 of the original Bill, because by section 37 of the Bill as now amended a legal obligation is imposed upon all persons to furnish information to a Collector when required in matters connected with this Act, and the needful penalties for non-compliance and for false statements are provided by Chapter X of the Indian Penal Code.

We have made the provisions of sections 113–115 and 119 of Bengal Act V of 1876 applicable to warrants of distress and sale under this Act, and have specifically exempted tools and implements of trade and agriculture from attachment and sale.

We have provided that no sums due under the Act shall be recoverable by any process of law after the expiry of three months from the last day of the year in respect of which they are payable.

We have made it clear that the exemption from house cess (under the Road Cess and Public Works Cess Acts), to be enjoyed by licensees under this Act, is not to have retrospective effect as regards instalments of house cess due on or before the 1st April 1878.

In Part IV we have provided that any person working or carrying on business in Calcutta shall be deemed to be a resident of the town for the purposes of the Act, and we have defined the limits of the town so as to include therein for such purposes the river and the fort.

We have provided a special procedure suited to the circumstances of the town and its municipal organization both for the preparation of the lists of licensees and the disposal of petitions of objection.

We propose that in Calcutta the fees shall be recovered in the same manner as municipal rates under Bengal Act IV of 1876 and not otherwise.

In Part V, in the section regarding the disposal of fees and penalties, we have followed, as far as possible, the corresponding section in the Bill for the North-Western Provinces.

The Schedules we have very considerably modified. In Schedule A we have in class I provided for a higher grade of license fee of Rs. 500, to supplement the rate of Rs. 200 originally proposed as the maximum. We have raised the rates of fee under classes III, IV, and V to Rs. 50, 20, and 5 respectively. We have struck out class VII and redrafted the definitions of classes V and VI, providing under the last named class for two grades of fee, Rs. 2 and Re. 1.

In Schedule B we have provided for graduated fees under class I and class VI, to correspond with those under classes I and VI of Schedule A. We have added to classes I, II, III, IV, and V the names of certain trades that are not specially mentioned in the municipal schedule, but which appeared to us able to pay higher rates than those of class VI.

We have struck out the note to Schedule B as being matter more appropriate for the rules to be framed under the Act.

We have made various other verbal and formal emendations in the Bill and Schedules.

We recommend that the Bill as amended be passed.

AMENDED BILL.

A Bill for the Licensing of Trades Dealings, and Industries within the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, in order to provide means for defraying the public expenditure from time to time, incurred and to be incurred for the relief and prevention of famine in British India, it is necessary to effect a permanent increase of the revenue; and it is therefore expedient that persons carrying on trades, dealings, and industries in the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal should take out licenses and pay for the same; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Bengal License Act, 1878," and it shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Interpretation clause.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"Section."

"Section" means a section of this Act:

"Collector."

"Collector" means the Chief Officer in charge of the revenue administration of a district:

"The Commissioners."

"The Commissioners," except in Part IV, mean the Commissioners defined in Bengal Act V of 1876, and in Part IV, the Commissioners defined in Bengal Act IV of 1876.

Local Government

"Local Government" means the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the time being or the person acting in that capacity.

Saving of Bengal Act IV, 1876.

3. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to affect the tax on professions, trades, and callings imposed for municipal purposes by Bengal Act IV of 1876.

Act not to apply to cultivators of land.

4. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to apply to persons earning their livelihood solely by agriculture, or to any cultivator of land as such in respect of the sale of the produce of his land, when he shall not keep a shop or stall for the sale of such produce.

PART II.

General Provisions applicable in all Districts.

Annual licenses to be taken out.

5. Every person who, on or after the first day of April 1878, falls under any of the heads of the Schedules hereto annexed, and carries on (whether on behalf of himself or any other person) his trade, dealing, or industry in any district situated in the said territories, shall take out a license under this Act in such district and shall pay for the same the annual fee specified in the same Schedules as payable by persons of the class to which he belongs. Provided that no person whose annual earnings from his trade, dealing or industry carried on within such district are less than one hundred rupees shall be required to take out a license under this Act.

For the purposes of this Act the Town of Calcutta shall be deemed to be a separate district.

Officer to grant license.

6. Such license shall be granted by the Collector of such district or by such officer as he may appoint in this behalf; and in Calcutta by the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners.

Particulars to be specified in the license.

7. Every such license shall specify—

(a) the date of the grant thereof;

(b) the name, father's name, residence, caste, if any, and the trade, dealing, or industry of the licensee;

(c) the fee paid for the license;

(d) the place or places within such district at which the licensee intends to carry on his trade, dealing, or industry for the ensuing year;

(e) the term for which such license shall remain in force; and shall be received in evidence as primâ facie proof of all matters contained therein.

Commencement and expiration of license.

8. Every such license shall have effect in such district only, and shall continue in force from the day of the date thereof until the first day of April next after the day of the granting thereof.

Renewal of license.

9. Every person to whom any such license has been granted, and who desires to continue to carry on his trade, dealing, or industry in such district after the expiration thereof, shall take out a fresh license for that purpose for the following year, to expire on the day appointed in the last preceding section, and shall renew the same so long as he desires to carry on such trade, dealing, or industry.

PART III.

Applicable to all districts except Calcutta.

Collector to prepare annual list of licensees.

10. As soon as may be after the commencement of this Act and the first day of January in every subsequent year, the Collector shall prepare a list of the persons in the district aforesaid to be licensed under this Act. Such list shall state—

(a) the trade, dealing, or industry of each of the persons therein named;

(b) the class and grade under which he is charged; and

(c) the fee to be paid for his license.

Such list shall be in such language as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may direct, but a copy thereof in the language of the district shall be filed in the Office of the Collector, and shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable times without any payment.

Collector may require list of persons in any house.

11. The Collector may by a notice in writing require the occupier of any house, manufactory or shop to forward to him a statement in writing signed by the occupier of the names of all persons residing in such house or working in such manufactory or shop, and of their respective trades, dealings, industries, or occupations.

Collector to determine class under which licensee is to be charged.

12. The Collector shall from time to time determine under which of the classes or grades mentioned in Schedule A hereto annexed every person required to take out a license under this Act shall be charged, and shall prepare or amend the said list accordingly.

Persons carrying on several trades.

13. A person carrying on several trades, dealings, or industries, in the same district and coming under more than one of the designations in the said Schedule, shall be chargeable only under one of the said designations at the discretion of the Collector. But each member of a firm shall be chargeable with reference to his individual share of the earnings of such firm.

Power to remit fee.

14. The Collector may, subject to such rules as the local Government may lay down, remit the whole or any part of the fee payable under this Act by any person who may carry on his trade, dealing, or industry for a portion of the year only.

Publication of list and notification.

15. The list, or such part or parts thereof as the Collector thinks fit, shall be published in the principal bazars, and at all police-stations of all towns, and at all sub-divisional offices, police-stations, and outposts in the district, and at some conspicuous place in all villages concerned, together with a notification setting forth the Schedule of this Act applicable to the district, and directing that if any person falling under any of the classes specified in the said schedule, whether he is mentioned in such list or not, continues his trade or dealing in the said district, payment of the fee specified in the list as payable by him, or, when he is not mentioned in such list, of the fee mentioned in the said schedule as payable by persons of the class and grade to which he belongs must be made by him within sixty days of the date of the publication of the notification, and within sixty days next after the first day of April of each succeeding year.

Levy of fees on artizans and others in large works.

16. When a statement in writing has been furnished to the Collector under section 11, from which it appears that any person in the employ of any other person, company, or corporation is chargeable with fees under this Act, the Collector may require the employer of such person to deduct the amount of his fee from any salary or wages due to such person, and to pay it to the Collector on his behalf.

Petition of objector.

17. Any person mentioned in the list referred to in section 10 and objecting to the class or grade in which he is charged, may, within thirty days after its publication, or within such further time as the Collector may in each case think fit, apply by petition to the Collector in order to establish his right to have his name transferred to another class or grade, or altogether removed from the list.

Hearing of petition.

18. The Collector shall fix a day for the hearing of the petition, and on the day so fixed, or on such subsequent day as he may from time to time direct, shall hear the same and pass such order thereon as he thinks fit.

Provided that if, in the judgment of the Collector, the petitioner is able to shew that the fee which has been charged exceeds two per cent. upon his annual earnings, in his trade, dealing, or industry, within the district, such excess shall, for the purpose of section 17 be deemed a valid ground of objection, and the Collector shall thereupon order the petitioner's name to be transferred to another class or grade or to be altogether removed from the list. The Collector may also on this ground at any time reduce the amount of fee payable by any person under class V of Schedule A hereto annexed to the fee payable under class VI.

Appeals.

19. There shall be no appeal from an order of a Collector under section 18; but where the order is passed by any officer subordinate to a Collector, an appeal shall lie to the Collector, or to some officer specially empowered by the local Government in this behalf, whose decision shall be final. Every petition of appeal under this section shall be accompanied by a copy of the order complained of, and be presented within fifteen days of the date of such order. In computing the said period of fifteen days, the day on which the order complained of was made, and the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the same, shall be deducted.

Power to summon witnesses, &c.

20. The Collector may, for the purpose of enabling him to determine under which of the said classes or grades the petitioner should be charged, summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents by the same means, and, as far as possible, in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Provided that the Collector shall not, in the course of any proceedings under this section, call for any evidence except at the instance of the petitioner, or in order to ascertain the correctness of facts alleged by him.

Penalty for carrying on business without a license.

21. If after expiry of the period mentioned in the notification published under section 15 for payment of the amount specified therein, any person carries on his trade, dealing or industry without having taken out a license as required by this Act, he shall be liable, by order of the Collector, to pay a fine not exceeding thrice the amount payable by him in respect of such license, exclusive of the amount so payable; and on receipt of such payment the Collector shall grant him a license.

Recovery of fees and penalties.

22. All sums due under section 21, and all fees payable under this Act, shall, where the amount exceeds fifty rupees, be recoverable either as if they were arrears of land revenue, or by distress and sale of the moveables of the person liable, at the discretion of the Collector. In all other cases they shall be recoverable by distress and sale of the moveables of the person liable.

The provisions of sections 113, 114, 115, and 119 of Bengal Act V of 1876 shall apply, as far as possible, to warrants of distress and sale issued by the Collector under this section; and no tools or implements of trade or agriculture shall be distrained or sold under any such warrant.

Limitation.

23. No sums due under this Act shall be recoverable by any process of law after the expiry of three months from the last day of the year in respect of which they are payable.

License to be produced on demand.

24. Every person holding a license under this Act shall produce and show such license when required so to do by an officer generally or specially empowered in writing by the Collector to make such requisition.

Prosecution to be at instance of Collector.

But, save so far as is provided in section 29, no person shall be proceeded against for neglect or refusal to produce such license except at the instance of the Collector.

Receivers and managers chargeable.

25. Courts of Wards and receivers and managers appointed by any Court in British India shall be chargeable under this Act in respect of any trade, dealing, or industry of which the income is officially in their possession or under their control.

Power to retain assessment paid by trustee, &c.

26. When any trustee, guardian, curator, committee, or agent is charged under this Act in such capacity, or when any Court of Wards or receiver or manager appointed by any Court is charged under this Act, every Court and person so charged may, from time to time, out of the money coming to its or his possession as such trustee, guardian, curator, committee or agent, or as such Court of Wards, receiver, or manager, retain so much as is sufficient to pay the fee charged.

Every such person or court is hereby indemnified for every retention and payment made in pursuance of this Act.

Power to require returns from municipalities.

27. The Collector may require the Commissioners, and the punchait of any union constituted under Bengal Act V of 1876, or any village punchait appointed under Bengal Act VI of 1870, to furnish, within a period to be specified under the orders of the local Government, returns showing the names and numbers of persons chargeable under this Act resident within the limits of their municipality, union or village, together with the class under which they respectively fall and the fees payable by them respectively.

If the Commissioners or the punchait fail within the period prescribed to make such returns, or if they make such returns and the Collector has reason to doubt their accuracy, he may at any time revise the return or cause a return showing the names, numbers, and classes aforesaid to be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the local Government.

Notice to municipalities.

28. When the return mentioned in the last preceding section has been furnished or prepared for any municipality, station, or union the local Government may call upon the Commissioners, or may direct the Magistrate in the case of a union, to pay to the Collector, within a period to be named by the local Government, a sum calculated on such return in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Penalties and fines to be credited to Municipal Funds.

29. The Commissioners and Magistrate as aforesaid may take proceedings under sections 21 and 24 for the recovery of any penalties and fines; and shall exercise the powers conferred on a Collector by section 24.

All such penalties and fines shall, when so recovered, be credited to the Municipal, Station, or Union Fund, as the case may be.

Power of recovery in Municipalities.

30. The Commissioners and the Magistrate, as aforesaid, shall have the same powers of recovering the fees chargeable under this Act within the limits of their municipality, station, or union that they have for the realization of municipal taxes under Bengal Act V of 1876. Where the amount due exceeds fifty rupees and it cannot be recovered in the manner above provided, application may be made by the Commissioners or Magistrate aforesaid to the Collector, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to recover it as an arrear of land revenue. The said Commissioners or Magistrate may also appropriate any part of the revenues of their municipality, station, or union for the payment of any sum leviable from it under section 28; and if the sum so leviable is not paid at due date, the local Government may order it or any part of it to be deducted from any funds standing to the credit of the municipality, station, or union in any Government treasury.

Exemption of licensees from house cess under Road Cess and Public Works Acts.

31. No person who pays fees under this Act shall, so long as he continues to pay the same, be liable to pay any instalment of road cess or public works cess on his house under Part IV of Bengal Act X of 1871, or section 7 of Bengal Act II of 1877, falling due after the first day of April 1878.

Powers of Collector under Act may be exercised by other officers.

32. All or any of the powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Act on a Collector may, subject to the orders of the Collector of the district, be exercised and performed by any Assistant or Deputy Collector, or by such other officer as the local Government shall from time to time appoint in this behalf.

PART IV.

Special Provisions for the Town of Calcutta.

Special scale of fees in Calcutta.

33. From every person who shall within the town of Calcutta exercise any of the trades, dealings, industries, or callings included in the classes specified in Schedule B hereto annexed, the Commissioners shall levy the fees shown in the said Schedule, and shall pay to the local Government annually a sum to be fixed by such Government and calculated on the proceeds of such fees. For the purposes of this Part, any person working or carrying on business in Calcutta shall be deemed to be a resident of Calcutta, and the Town of Calcutta shall be deemed to include all places within the local limits of the ordinary original jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature of Fort William in Bengal, including Fort William itself, the river Hooghly within Fort limits, the Esplanade, and Coolie Bazar now called Hastings.

Procedure in Calcutta.

34. The provisions of Sections 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25 and 26, of this Act shall be in force in the Town of Calcutta, and all the powers of a Collector under the said sections shall be exercised by the Chairman of the Commissioners, or by some person or persons authorized by him in that behalf.

Petition of objection.

35. On the presentation of a petition of objection under section 17, the Chairman may either himself dispose of it, or may refer it for disposal to a bench of not less than three Commissioners, It shall be open to the Chairman or to any such bench to reduce the amount of fee payable by any person under the said Schedule B to the fee payable under any lower class or grade of that schedule, on its being shown to his or their satisfaction that the fee charged exceeds two per cent. upon the annual earnings of such petitioner in his trade, dealing, or industry carried on within the limits of the said Town of Calcutta; and the Chairman shall amend the list published under section 15 in accordance with the orders passed upon such petition.

There shall be no appeal from any order passed under this section.

Recovery of sums due under this Part.

36. The Commissioners shall have the same powers for the recovery of all sums due under this Part that they have for the realization of municipal rates under Bengal Act IV of 1876.

PART V.

Miscellaneous.

Disposal of fees and penalties.

37. From the nett amount of all fees and penalties paid or recovered under this Act other than those credited to Municipal, Station, or Union Funds under section 29, after deducting the expense of collection, so much as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs shall be applied in such manner as the Governor-General in Council thinks fit, for the purpose of increasing the revenues available for defraying expenditure incurred or to be incurred for the relief and prevention of famine in the territories administered by the Local Government, or, if the Governor-General in Council so directs, in any other part of British India.

The residue (if any) of such nett amount shall be carried to the credit of the local Government.

Obligation to furnish information.

38 Every perso shall be legally bound to furnish information to any officer or person exercising any of the powers of a Collector under this Act when required by him to do so.

Power to exempt and make rules.

39. The local Government may from time to time (a) exempt from the operation of this Act any portion of the territories subject to such Government, or any persons or class of persons in such territories, and may (b) make rules consistent with this Act—

(1) for defining more precisely the classes of persons liable under this Act;

(2) for regulating the time and manner of collecting the fees charged under this Act;

(3) for modifying the fees chargeable to members of the same family when living and working together;

(4) for providing in any case or class of cases for serving notices on persons charged under this Act; and

(5) generally for the guidance of officers in all matters connected with the enforcement of this Act.

FREDERICK CLARKE,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Legislative Department.

A Bill to consolidate the Law relating to the Excise Revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the laws relating to the manufacture of spirits and the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the collection of the revenue derived therefrom, should be consolidated: It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Bengal Excise Law Consolidation Act, 1877:"

Commencement.

2. It shall come into force from such date as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Enactments repealed.

3. The enactments specified in the second schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

This repeal shall not revive any office, authority, or thing abolished by any such enactment, or affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or any right, title, obligation, or liability accrued before the commencement of this Act.

And all rules prescribed, appointments made, powers conferred, licenses granted, and notifications published under any such enactment, and all other rules (if any) now in force and relating to the matters hereinafter dealt with, shall (so far as they are consistent with this Act) be deemed to have been respectively prescribed, made, conferred, granted, and published hereunder.

And all references made to any such enactment shall, as far as may be practicable, be deemed to be made to this Act.

And all proceedings now pending, which may have been commenced under any such enactment, shall be deemed to be commenced under this Act.

Interpretation clause.

4. In this Act—unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"Bengal Rum."

"Bengal Rum" means spirit manufactured in India at a distillery worked according to the English method.

"Board."

"Board" means the Board of Revenue for the provinces for the time-being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

"Collector."

"Collector" includes a Deputy Collector, or other Revenue officer in independent charge of a district,

a Superintendent of Excise Revenue,

any covenanted or uncovenanted officer to whom the Collector may make over, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner (as he is hereby empowered to do), any of his powers or duties under this Act.

"Commissioner."

"Commissioner" means the Commissioner of a Revenue Division.

"Country spirit."

"Country spirit" means any spirit made by the native process of distillation.

"Intoxicating drugs."

"Intoxicating drugs" includes ganjah, bhang, churrus, and every preparation and admixture of the same.

"Local Government."

"Local Government" means the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the time-being, or the person acting in that capacity.

"Section."

"Section" means a section of this Act.

"The Suburbs."

"The Suburbs" means the Suburbs of Calcutta as defined by the Lieutenant-Governor by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

"The Town."

"The Town" means the Town of Calcutta, and includes all places within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Extent of Parts of Act.

5. Parts II and V apply to all the territories for the time-being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, including the Town of Calcutta; Part III applies to all such territories, other than the Town of Calcutta; Part IV, save as provided in sections 84 and 102, applies only to the Town of Calcutta.

PART II.

English Distilleries.

English distilleries not to be constructed or worked without license.

6. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a distillery after the manner in which distilleries are constructed and worked in England without a license under the signature of the Collector of the district in which such distillery is situated, or, in case the distillery is within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government without a license under the signature of the Collector of Calcutta.

Board to prescribe rules for regulating English distilleries.

7. The Board may prescribe such rules (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act,) relative to the granting of licenses under section 6, and to the management of distilleries established under this Part, and the issue of spirits therefrom, as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Rate of duty to be levied on spirits.

8. Subject to any general rules or special orders which the Governor-General in Council may from time to time issue in this behalf, the Local Government may from time to time by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, fix the excise duty leviable upon spirit manufactured at distilleries worked according to the English method at a rate not exceeding the rate fixed for imported spirit by the Indian Tariff Act, 1875, or any similar law for the time being in force. No spirit shall be removed from any such distillery, or the warehouses connected therewith, upon which the aforesaid duty has not been paid, or for the duty chargeable on which a bond has not been executed; and for all spirits removed upon payment of duty or under bond passes shall be issued by the Collector, which shall specify the quantity and strength of the spirit, the place of its destination, the person to whom it is consigned, and whether the duty has been paid or secured by bond.

Drawback on exportation.

9. A drawback of the duty paid on spirits manufactured after the English method and exported by sea to any port not subject to the Government of India, or to the Port of Aden, shall be allowed by the Collector of Customs at the port of exportation: Provided that the exportation shall be made within one year from the date of the payment of duty under this Part, and that the spirits, when brought to the Custom House, shall be accompanied by the pass in which such payment is certified.

Distilleries within twenty miles of Calcutta to be under the Collector of Calcutta.

10. All licensed distilleries constructed and worked after the English method and situated within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government, shall be under the superintendence and control of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall exercise, with respect to such distilleries and to the spirits manufactured therein, all the powers vested in Collectors by this Act; and the Collectors of districts in which any such distilleries are situated shall have no jurisdiction with respect to such distilleries.

Penalty for constructing or working a distillery or collecting materials without license.

11. Every person who shall construct or work a distillery after the English method without a license from the Collector shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and all spirits manufactured at any such distillery, and all materials and implements collected for the purpose of such manufacture, shall be liable to confiscation.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by Board.

12. Every proprietor or manager of a licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method who shall by any act or omission contravene any rule prescribed by the Board under section 7, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and if any such offence be committed a second time with respect to the same distillery, the license granted for the working of such distillery may be withdrawn by the Collector.

Penalty for removing spirituous liquors without payment of duty.

13 Every person who shall remove, or attempt to remove, from any licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method any spirituous liquors upon which the duty has not been paid, or for the duty on which a bond has not been executed, or any spirituous liquors for which a pass has not been issued by the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

If it shall appear to the Collector that the offence was committed with the consent or knowledge of the proprietor or manager, the license granted for the construction and working of the distillery from which such liquors have been removed, or attempted to be removed, may be withdrawn;

Licenses.

Duty on the retail sale of country spirits, &c.

14. Every person taking out a license for the retail sale of country spirits, taree (whether fermented or unfermented), or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs, shall pay to the Collector such fee, tax, or duty, as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board, or regulated in such manner as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable at such periods as the Board may direct.

Licensed retail vendors of country spirits to furnish security.

15. Every person taking out a license for the manufacture of country spirits, or for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, shall execute a counterpart engagement in conformity with the tenor of the license, and shall give such security for the performance of his engagement, or make such deposit in lieu of security, as the Collector may require.

Duration and renewal of license.

16. Except in the case of licenses for the retail sale of unfermented taree, the term of which extends only to the period of the year when the fresh juice is in request, and unless otherwise specially authorized by the Board, a license for retail sale shall be granted for the term of one year, and if continued to the holder thereof, shall be formally renewed from year to year. But it shall be incumbent on every person holding a license who may intend not to renew it to give notice of his intention to the Collector fifteen days previously to the expiration of the year; and if such notice be not given, and the license be not recalled by the Collector, the license held and engagement entered into by every such person shall remain in force as if the said license and engagement had been formally renewed.

Board to regulate form of license.

17. The Board shall have authority to regulate the form and conditions of all licenses granted under this Act.

License may be withheld or cancelled in certain cases.

18. The Collector may withhold or cancel any license granted under this Act if the tax or duty therein specified be not duly paid, or in case of a violation of any other condition thereof, or of the holder being convicted of a breach of the peace or any other criminal offence, and in such cases the holder shall not be entitled to a refund of any fee, tax or duty payable under the license which he may have paid to the Collector in advance.

If the Collector desire to cancel a license for any cause other than those above specified, he shall give fifteen days' previous notice and remit a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days, or, if notice be not given, shall make such further compensation for default of notice as the Commissioner or Board shall direct. In all such cases any fee, tax, or duty already paid in advance shall be refunded.

Any person selling by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs above specified whilst such license is withheld, or after it is cancelled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by Parts III and IV for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs.

Surrender of license.

19. Any licensed retail vendor may surrender his license on giving fifteen days' previous notice to the Collector and paying a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days over and above the sum payable under the license.

Recovery of arrears of duty on license.

20. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may recover any arrears of tax or duty due on account of any license granted under this Act by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due, or of his surety, or by the process described in Bengal Act VII of 1868.

PART III.—BENGAL.

Excise Administration.

Collectors to have charge of the Excise Revenue.

21. The collection of the revenue arising from the manufacture of spirits and the sale of spirits and spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs shall be ordinarily under the charge of the Collectors, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control and direction of the Commissioners and of the Board. But the Government may appoint any other person to be Superintendent of Excise Revenue in any district or place; and any person so appointed shall exercise, in such district or place, all the powers and authority vested by this Part in the Collector, and such powers and authority shall cease to be exercised in such district or place by the Collector during the continuance of such appointment.

Local Government may appoint Commissioners of Excise.

22. The Local Government may also appoint a Commissioner or Commissioners for the control and direction of the officers having charge of the excise revenue in any district or districts; and when such appointment is made, the Commissioner of Excise shall exercise within such district or districts the powers and authority vested by this Part in Commissioners of Revenue, and the Revenue Commissioner shall cease to exercise such powers and authority in the said district or districts during the continuance of such appointment.

Collectors may appoint excise officers.

23. Collectors may appoint all such ministerial officers as are necessary for the collection of the excise revenue and for the prevention of smuggling, and the officers so appointed shall, in addition to their ordinary designations, be styled "Excise Officers."

Spirituous and fermented liquors not to be sold without license.

24. Spirituous liquors passed from distilleries worked according to the English method, fermented liquors manufactured at a licensed brewery, and spirituous and fermented liquors imported either by land or by sea shall not be sold except under license from the Collector.

Fee for wholesale license.

25. Every person taking out a license for the wholesale vend of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay for every such license such sum as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board. The license shall be current only during the official year and in the district in which it is granted; but travelling merchants may obtain a general license, authorizing them to sell by wholesale in any district which they may visit in the course of their travel, without taking out a fresh license for that district, under such rules and restrictions as may be from time to time prescribed by the Board.

Fee, tax, or duty payable for retail license.

26. Every person taking out a license for the retail sale of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay for every such license such fee, tax, or duty as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board, or a fee, tax, or duty adjusted or regulated in such manner and in accordance with such rules as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax, or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable in advance or at such periods as the Board may direct. Any sale of spirituous or fermented liquors as aforesaid in less quantity than two imperial gallons or one dozen of reputed quart bottles shall be held to be a retail sale.

What to be held a retail sale.

Country spirits, liquors, and drugs not to be manufactured or sold without license.

27. It shall not be lawful for any person to manufacture spirits after the native process, or such other spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs as the Board, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, may specify, nor to sell such spirits, liquors, or drugs, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or to cultivate plants from which introxicating drugs are produced, except under license from the Collector.

Taree to be held to be a fermented liquor.

28. All the provisions relating to the sale or possession of fermented liquors contained in the following sections of this Part shall be held applicable to the sale or possession of taree, whether in a fermented state or otherwise; and all taree, both fresh and fermented, shall be held to be included in the expression "fermented liquors" as used in the following sections of this Part:

Provided that the local Government may, on the report of the Board, pass an order suspending the operation of all the provisions relating to taree contained in this Part with respect to any district in which the consumption of taree in a fermented state is inconsiderable; and after the passing of any such order, it shall be lawful for taree to be possessed and sold without license in any such district, notwithstanding anything contained in this Part.

Collectors may establish distilleries for country spirits.

29. The Collector, with the sanction of the Board, may establish at any place within his jurisdiction a distillery in which spirits may be manufactured after the native process, and may from time to time fix limits within which no country spirits, except such as are manufactured at the said distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a special pass from the Collector, and within which no stills shall be constructed or worked, or spirits manufactured, except at the said distillery. He may also, with the like sanction, discontinue any distillery so established whenever its discontinuance may appear to be expedient.

Board may prescribe rules for distilleries.

30. The Board may prescribe such rules relative to the management of distilleries established under the last preceding section, to the conditions on which spirits may be manufactured in the said distilleries, and to the passes to be issued for the conveyance of such spirits to the shops of the vendors as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Board may prescribe rules to regulate the supply of fermented liquors to licensed vendors, and the cultivation, preparation, storing, possession, and transport of intoxicating drugs.

31. The Board may, with the sanction of the Local Government, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, from time to time prescribe rules consistent with this Act—for regulating the mode in which fermented liquors shall be supplied to licensed vendors of the same;

for subjecting the cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, and the preparation of the said drugs, to such restrictions and supervision as may be deemed necessary to secure the duty leviable thereon;

and for granting licenses or passes to persons cultivating, preparing, storing, possessing, purchasing, or transporting the said plants or drugs.

All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and when so published, shall have effect as if they were contained in this Act.

Sale of more than specified quantities of country spirits, &c., prohibited.

32. Except for the supply of licensed vendors, country spirits, taree, and puchwai, and intoxicating drugs shall not be sold in larger quantities than may be fixed by the Board for each district, provided that the quantities so to be fixed shall not exceed those hereunder specified—namely, country spirits, two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles; taree or puchwai, twelve seers; ganjah or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, one quarter of a seer; churrus or any preparation or admixture of the same, five tolahs weight; and the sale of any such quantity as is herein allowed shall be deemed to be a retail sale within the meaning of this Part.

Power of excise officers to enter and inspect licensed dealer's shop.

33. The Collector may by a warrant under his hand authorize any excise officer above the rank of a peon to enter and inspect at all times, by day or by night, and may similarly authorize any excise officer to enter and inspect at all times, by day, the shop or premises in which any licensed manufacturer or retail vendor shall carry on the manufacture of country spirits, or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquor or intoxicating drugs.

And to arrest persons carrying spirits, &c., liable to confiscation.

34. The Collector, by a warrant under his hand, may authorize any excise officer to stop and detain all persons carrying any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part; and any excise officer so authorized may seize such liquors or drugs with the vessels, packages, or coverings in which they are contained, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, and may also arrest the person in whose possession such liquors or drugs are found.

And to arrest unlicensed distillers, &c.

35. Any excise officer above the rank of a peon may arrest any person having in his possession an unlicensed still, or any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, and may seize such still with the materials for working it, and all such liquors and drugs.

And to search on information of illicit manufacture or possession.

36. Whenever any excise officer above the rank of a peon shall have good reason to believe, from information given by any person, which information shall be taken down in writing, that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed in any house, boat, or other place, such officer may, but always in the presence of an officer of police not being under the grade of a head constable, enter into any such house, boat, or place, and in case of resistance may break open any door and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, and may seize and carry away all stills and materials used in the manufacture of such spirits and all such liquors and drugs, and may also arrest the occupier of the house, boat, or place with all other persons concerned in the manufacture of such spirits, or in the keeping and concealing of such liquors or drugs.

Officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments may be vested with same powers as excise officers.

37. The Local Government may invest the officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments, or of any of them, with the powers given to excise officers by the last three preceding sections with respect to the seizure of and search for spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the arrest of persons found in possession of them; and all such officers when so empowered shall be held and deemed to be excise officers within the meaning of this Part.

Excise officer to report every arrest, seizure or search to his official superior, and to take the person arrested to the Magistrate for trial, &c.

38. Whenever an excise officer shall make any arrest, seizure, or search under this Part, he shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report of all the particulars of the same to his official superior, and, unless acting under the warrant of the Collector, shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit article seized, with all convenient despatch to a Magistrate for trial or adjudication.

Collector may issue warrant of arrest in certain cases.

39. The Collector may issue his warrant for the arrest of any person whom he may have reason to believe, either from information in writing or from the proceedings in any other case, to be engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs or to have in his possession any such liquors or drugs liable to confiscation under this Part.

Seisure and disposal of liquors or drugs unlawfully sold.

40. Any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs sold in contravention of the provisions of this Part, or in breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act, may be seized at the time of the sale and brought before the Magistrate who adjudicates the case. As soon as the case is adjudicated, they shall be restored to the person who may have purchased them or disposed of, as the Magistrate may direct.

Collector may issue search-warrant.

41. The Collector may issue his warrant for the search of any house, boat, or other place in which, upon any of the grounds mentioned in section 39, he may have reason to believe that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed; and such warrant may be executed by any officer not being under the rank of a head constable in the manner prescribed in section 36: provided that where there is ground to suspect that such spirits, liquors, or drugs are unlawfully concealed in any zenana, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall follow as closely as may be the rules for the seizure of property so concealed contained in sections 384, 385, and 386 of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure).

Procedure after arrest or seizure.

42. Whenever any person is arrested or any articles are seized under the warrant of a Collector, the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, shall send the person arrested or the articles seized to a Magistrate, or shall order the immediate discharge of such person or the release of such articles.

Police officers to assist excise officers on request.

43. All police officers are required to aid the excise officers in the due execution of this Part upon notice given or request made by such officers.

Farm of Duties.

Collector with the sanction of the Board may farm out the duties.

44. The Collector may, with the sanction of the Board, and under such rules as the Local Government may prescribe, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, let in farm the duties leviable on the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or any description of such liquors or drugs, in any pergunnah or other known division of a district.

Penalties.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by Board.

45. Every person who by any act or omission shall contravene any rule issued and sanctioned under the provisions of section 31 shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for refusing to produce license on demand of excise officer or for breach of license.

46. Every manufacturer or vendor under this Part who shall not produce his license on the demand of any excise officer, or who shall commit any act in breach of any of the conditions of his license not otherwise provided for in this Part, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant employed by him.

Penalty for sale in contravention of license.

47. Every licensed retail vendor who shall sell any larger quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs than is allowed to be sold by retail by the provisions of this Part, and every licensed wholesale vendor who shall make a retail sale, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing in this section shall be held to prohibit the grant to the same person of both wholesale and retail licenses, subject to the provisions of this Part.

Penalty for permitting drunkenness, &c., in shop.

48. Every licensed vendor who shall permit drunkenness, riot, or gaming in his shop, or shall receive any wearing apparel or other effects in barter for liquors or drugs, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for conveying country spirits from distillery without pass, &c.

49. Every person who shall convey, or attempt to convey, any country spirits from a distillery established under section 29 without a pass, or exceeding the quantity for which a pass shall have been granted, or shall introduce, or attempt to introduce, any country spirits manufactured at another place into the limits fixed for the consumption of spirits manufactured at such distillery, without a special pass from the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by the Board.

50. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board for the management of a distillery established as aforesaid, otherwise than is provided in the last preceding section, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Penalty for illicit manufacture or sale of country spirits, &c.

51. Every person, other than a licensed manufacturer, who shall manufacture any country spirits, and every person, other than a licensed vendor or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall sell any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, and every person authorized to supply licensed vendors who shall sell any such liquors or drugs to any person other than a licensed vendor, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing contained in this section or in section 24 shall apply to the sale of any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use and so disposed of upon such person quitting a station or after his decease.

Penalty for illegal possession of country spirits, &c.

52. Every person, other than a licensed manufacturer or vendor, or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall have in his possession any larger quantity of country spirits, or taree, or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs than may legally be sold by retail under the provisions of section 32, or shall transport by land or by water, or have in his possession, any spirituous liquors made at a distillery worked according to the English method, or any imported spirituous or fermented liquors, in larger quantity than two gallons without a pass from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and the liquors and drugs, together with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which they are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them shall be liable to confiscation.

Nothing contained in this section shall apply to any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use and not for sale.

Provisions of the last two preceding sections not to apply to the sale or possession of taree used in making sugar, nor to the sale or possession of intoxicating drugs by licensed cultivators.

53. The provisions of the last two preceding sections, so far as they relate to the sale and possession of fermented liquors, do not apply to the sale and possession of taree, the produce of the date tree, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses;

and the provisions of the said sections relating to the sale and possession of intoxicating drugs do not apply to the sale or possession of such drugs by any person duly authorized under this Chapter to cultivate the plants which produce these drugs:

Penalty for sale or transfer by cultivators to unlicensed person, or for failure to account for stock of plant in possession.

provided that every such cultivator selling or parting with any such plant, or any preparation made therefrom, to any person other than a licensed vendor or person duly authorized to purchase the same by pass or license from the Collector, or failing to account for any quantity of such plant, or of any preparation thereof, which shall have been in his possession shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for conniving at the illicit manufacture or sale of spirits, &c.

54. Every proprietor, farmer, tehsildar, gomashtah, or other manager of land who shall authorize or connive at the manufacture of country spirits or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on police officer not assisting excise officer.

55. Any police officer who, without lawful excuse, shall neglect or refuse to assist the excise officers as aforesaid; and any Inspector or other officer in charge of a police-station who, on application made by an excise officer under section 43, shall fail to attend a search himself or to depute a subordinate officer not being below the grade of a head constable, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise officer for vexatious search or seizure.

56. Any excise officer who shall, without reasonable ground of suspicion, search, or cause to be searched, any house, boat, or other place, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for any spirituous liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, which sum, or any portion thereof, may be paid to the person aggrieved.

Penalty on excise officer for delay in reporting arrest, &c., or in carrying person arrested to Magistrate or Collector.

57. Any excise officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, or shall delay carrying to a Magistrate or to the Collector, as the case may be, any person arrested or any illicit articles seized under this Part, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise officer for conniving at unlicensed manufacture or sale.

58. Any excise officer who shall connive at the manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, or by any licensed person contrary to the terms of his license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Part may be evaded or broken or the excise revenue defrauded; and any Inspector of Police or other officer invested with local jurisdiction who shall authorize or connive at the establishment of any unlicensed shop for the sale of such liquors or drugs as aforesaid in any place subject to his control, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Adjudication of penalties and seizures.

59. All penalties prescribed for offences against the provisions of this Part, and all seizures of goods declared liable to confiscation under this Part, shall be adjudged by a Magistrate on the information of the Collector or any excise officer; and in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by order of such Magistrate, to imprisonment.

Provided that no such information shall be necessary in any case of complaint preferred to a Magistrate under any of the last four preceding sections or under section 48.

Procedure in cases other than those of persons sent in custody by a Collector or excise officer.

60. In all cases in which complaint or information is preferred to a Magistrate of offences committed against the provisions of this Part, not being cases in which persons are sent in custody by a Collector or excise officer, the Magistrate shall issue a summons requiring the attendance of the person accused.

Provided that no complaint or information of an offence against the provisions of this Part shall be admitted unless it be preferred within the period of six months after the commission of the offence to which the complaint or information refers.

Punishment on second or subsequent conviction.

61. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against the provisions of this Part, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Imprisonment may be in the civil or criminal jail.

62. Every person who shall be imprisoned under the last preceding section, or on account of the non-payment of any fine levied under this Part, may be confined either in the civil or in the criminal jail.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

63. All articles confiscated under this Part shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, may prescribe in that behalf.

Disposal of fines.

64. The Board may appropriate any portion, not exceeding one half, of the fines levied under this Part, the disposal of which is not specially provided for, for rewarding informers, or for compensating persons subjected to annoyance or injury by any proceedings under this Part.

Offences to be tried under Criminal Procedure Code.

65. All offences punishable under this Part shall be enquired into and tried under the provisions of section eight of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure).

Penalty for unlicensed cultivation of plants producing intoxicating drugs, and abetment of the same.

66. Any person who without a license from the Collector shall cultivate plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, or shall in any way cause, encourage, or promote such illegal cultivation shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and the plant so cultivated shall be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Military Cantonments.

Rules respecting the manufacture and sale of spirits, &c., in military cantonments.

67. Within the limits of any military cantonment, and within a circle drawn at a distance of two miles, or such other distance as may in any case be prescribed by the Local Government from such limits, licenses for the manufacture of spirits, and for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs shall not be granted, nor shall the duties leviable upon such spirits, liquors or drugs be let in farm, otherwise than with the knowledge and consent of the Commanding Officer, and upon the requisition of such officer, any license which may have been granted, either by the Collector or by a farmer, within such circle or limits, shall be immediately withdrawn.

Mode of making arrest or search within military cantonments.

68. In all other respects the foregoing provisions of this Part shall have full force and effect within such circle and limits as aforesaid.

Provided that, when arrest or search is to be made within the limits of any cantonment, the Collector or other officer authorized under this Part to make arrest or search shall, whenever it may be practicable, give previous notice to the Commanding Officer, and in all other cases shall report the arrest or search to such Commanding Officer with as little delay as possible.

Provided also that nothing contained in this Part shall affect or interfere with the provisions of Act XXII of 1864 (an Act to make provision for the Administration of Military Cantonments).

PART IV.—CALCUTTA.

Excise Administration.

What to be deemed a retail sale.

69. A sale of beer, wines, or spirits in any quantity not exceeding two gallons, or of Bengal rum or country spirit in any quantity not exceeding two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles, or of taree in any quantity not exceeding twelve seers, or of ganjah or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity not exceeding one quarter of a seer, or of churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity not exceeding the weight of five tolahs, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Part.

Sale of larger quantities than those specified prohibited.

70. The sale of Bengal rum, or country spirit, or of taree, or of ganjah, or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or of churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in the last preceding section is prohibited.

Excise from retail sale of spirits, &c., in Calcutta to be under charge of the Collector of Calcutta.

71. The collection of the revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs within the Town shall be under the charge of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Commissioner and the Board, and all proceedings of the Collector held under this Part shall be subject, with or without appeal, to their revision.

Collector may appoint excise officers.

72. The Collector may appoint such officers as are necessary for the collection of the said revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the officers so appointed, beside their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Excise Officers."

Liquors or drugs sold may be seized at the time of the sale.

73. Any such liquors or drugs sold in contravention of the provisions of this Part, or in breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act, may be seized at the time of the sale and brought before the Presidency Magistrate or Justice of the Peace who adjudicates the case. As soon as the case is adjudicated, they shall be restored to the person who may have purchased them, or disposed of as the said Magistrate or Justice may direct.

Power of excise officers to enter and inspect licensed dealer's house, &c.

74. The Collector may, by a warrant under his hand, authorize any excise officer above the rank of a peon or chuprassy to enter and inspect at all times, by day or by night, and may similarly authorize any excise officer to enter and inspect at all times by day, all houses and shops in which licensed dealers may carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs.

And to arrest persons in possession of contraband liquors or drugs, and to seize the same.

75. Any excise or police officer may stop, detain, or arrest any person in whose possession may be found any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs not covered by such a pass as is required by this Act, or otherwise liable to confiscation, and may seize the liquors and drugs, with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which the liquors or drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances (if any) used in carrying them.

Powers of search, seizure, and arrest vested in excise officers, under the authority of the Collector, in cases of illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

76. Whenever the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any person, which shall be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any case, that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs are being unlawfully manufactured or sold in any place, or that any such liquors or drugs which are liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed in any place,

the Collector may, by warrant under his hand empower any excise officer above the rank of peon by day or by night, but always in the presence of an officer of police not being under the grade of a corporal or head constable, to enter into any such place, and to seize and carry away all such liquors or drugs, and all the implements or materials used in the manufacture thereof, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure, or removal as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful manufacture or sale, or in the unlawfully keeping or concealing of such liquors or drugs, whom he shall find on the premises:

provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquors or drugs are unlawfully concealed in any zenana, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall follow as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed contained in sections 164, 165, and 166 of Act IV of 1877 (the Presidency Magistrates' Act).

Similar powers to be exercised by certain police officers.

77. The powers of seizure, search, and arrest given to excise officers by the last preceding section shall also be exercised by any police officers who may be specially selected by the Commissioner of Police for such purpose; and the powers which are conferred upon the Collector by the said section, as regards the issue of warrants directed to excise officers, shall also be vested in the Commissioner of Police in respect of the issue of warrants directed to police officers selected in the manner aforesaid; provided that it shall not be competent to the Collector to issue a warrant directed to a police officer, nor shall it be competent to the Commissioner of Police to issue a warrant directed to an excise officer.

Police officer to carry the person arrested and the articles seized to a Presidency Magistrate and to report to the Commissioner of Police.

78. Whenever any such police officer shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, he shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit articles seized, or both, as the case may be, with all convenient despatch to a Presidency Magistrate, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Commissioner of Police; and the Commissioner of Police shall at once inform the Collector of the fact of the arrest or seizure, and of the circumstances of the case, and the Presidency Magistrate shall proceed to adjudicate the case according to law.

Commissioner to inform Collector.

Police officers to assist excise officers on request.

79. All constables and other police officers are required to assist the excise officers in the due execution of this Part upon notice given or request made by any such excise officer.

Excise officer making arrest or seizure, or searching a house, to carry the person and property to the Collector. Collector may release or send to a Justice.

80. Whenever any excise officer duly authorized under this Part shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit articles, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit articles seized, with all convenient despatch to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars of such arrest, seizure, or search; and the Collector, after such further inquiry as he deems necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested or send him in custody to a Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta.

Excise or police officer may arrest persons drinking, and seize liquors drunk on the premises.

81. Any excise or police officer above the rank of peon or constable who may have reason to believe that any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah between sunset and sunrise allows spirituous or fermented liquors which have not been bonâ fide medicated to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, may enter upon such premises and seize and carry away such liquors, and in case of resistance break open any door and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry or seizure, and arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the said premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in such unlawful drinking; and upon such seizure or arrest as aforesaid, the excise officer and Collector shall deal with such liquors or persons as provided in the last preceding section, and the police officer and a Presidency Magistrate or other Magistrate having jurisdiction shall deal with them as provided in section 78.

Seizure to be determined summarily by Justice on information exhibited by order of the Collector.

82. Whenever any property shall be seized by an excise officer as liable to confiscation under this Part, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary way by any Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta; and such Justice shall cause the persons to whom such property belongs to be summoned to appear before him, and upon their appearance or default shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the property seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board.

If no claimant appear before the Collector within a month after the seizure, Justice may confiscate the goods.

83. Whenever any property shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Justice shall examine into the cause of the seizure at a place and time of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Calcutta Gazette and in some conspicuous part of the place where the property was seized, and give judgment for the confiscation of such portion of the property as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of the same as if the owner had been summoned to attend the said Justice.

Actions for anything done under this Part to be commenced within three months, and one month's notice to be given.

84. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against the Collector or any excise officer, or any person acting in aid of any such officer, for anything done in pursuance of the provisions of this Part shall be commenced within three calendar months after the fact committed, and not afterwards, and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or, if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into court, with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

Penalties.

Penalty for unlicensed manufacture or sale of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

85. Every person who shall manufacture or sell by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs specified in this Part within the Town without a license from the Collector shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every such manufacture or sale; but this enactment shall not apply to the sale by wholesale dealers of such small quantities of beer, wines, or spirits as may appear to the Collector to be used only as samples.

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall affect the arrangements under which taree is supplied to retail vendors, or the sale of such article, or any preparation of the same, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses.

Provided also that nothing contained in this section shall apply to the sale of any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use, and so disposed of upon such person quitting Calcutta or after his decease.

Penalty for selling Bengal rum, &c., in excess of quantity specified.

86. Every person who shall sell Bengal rum, or country spirit, or taree, or ganjah, or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in quantities larger than those specified in section 69, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs imported into Calcutta under passes from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Bengal rum under bond for exportation by sea.

Penalty in addition to forfeiture for breach of conditions of license. Dealer responsible for default of his servant.

87. A breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act (whether committed by a licensed dealer or by any person in his employ) shall, beside entailing forfeiture of the license, be punishable by a fine not exceeding fifty rupees; and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person employed in the shop, Penalty for possessing a greater than the specified quantity of liquors, &c., without license or pass.

88. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town, any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs above specified, or any preparation or admixture of the same, except beer, wines, and spirits, than the quantity specified for each article in section nine, and not being protected by a pass or permit from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Additional penalties for illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of liquors or drugs.

89. Besides the penalties above specified for the illicit manufacture, sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, all the materials and implements used or intended to be used in the manufacture of the same, and all the liquors or drugs so manufactured, and all such liquors and drugs found in the possession of any offender contrary to the provisions of this Part, shall be seized and confiscated; and the vessels, packages, and coverings in which such liquors and drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Penalty on excise or police officer delaying to carry person arrested or articles seized to Collector or Magistrate.

90. Any excise officer who shall delay carrying to the Collector, and any police officer who shall delay carrying to a Presidency Magistrate, any person arrested or any illicit articles seized under this Part, and any excise or police officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise or police officer for vexatious seizure or arrest.

91. Any excise or police officer who shall, without reasonable ground of suspicion, search or cause to be searched any house, boat, or other place, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, which sum, or any portion thereof, may be paid to the person aggrieved.

Penalty on excise or police officer for connivance.

92. Any excise or police officer who shall connive at the manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, or by any licensed person contrary to the terms of his license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do any thing whereby any of the provisions of this Part may be evaded or broken or the excise revenue defrauded, and any Inspector of Police or other officer invested with local jurisdiction who shall authorize or connive at the establishment of any unlicensed shop for the sale of such liquors or drugs as aforesaid in any place subject to his control, shall be liable for any such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on police officer not assisting excise officer.

93. Any police officer who, without lawful excuse, shall neglect or refuse to assist the excise officer as aforesaid, on being required to do so, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Fines to be adjudged by Justice or Magistrate, but not after three months from date of offence.

94. All fines leviable under this Part shall be adjudged by any Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta upon information exhibited before such Justice by order of the Collector, or shall be adjudged by a Presidency Magistrate, if the case is tried by such Magistrate under section 78, and in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be imprisoned in the common jail; and no proceedings shall be taken under this section by any such Justice or Magistrate after the expiration of three calendar months from the date of the offence by which the fine was incurred.

Additional penalty for second or subsequent offence.

95. Whenever any person shall be convicted before any such Justice or before a Presidency Magistrate of an offence against the provisions of this Part after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the criminal jail for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

96. All articles confiscated under this Part shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board may prescribe in that behalf.

Commissioner may call for the proceedings within one month after judgment, and may give relief.

97. When any penalty or confiscation shall be adjudged by a Justice of the Peace under this Part, the Commissioner and, in his absence, the Board, within one month after judgment given, may call for the proceedings of the case (with which requisition the Justice of the Peace shall be bound to comply), and, if he or they shall see cause, may direct that the articles seized, or any part thereof, be restored and may remit or mitigate any penalty and discharge the party.

Penalty on chemist, &c., allowing liquors to be drunk on the premises.

98. Any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah, who shall between sunset and sunrise allow spirituous or fermented liquors which have not been bonâ fide medicated to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, and any such person who shall between sunset and sunrise drink such liquors on such premises, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be liable under this Part or any other Act.

PART V.

Miscellaneous.

Provisions relating to puchwai applicable to fermented liquors not mentioned in the Chapter.

99. All the provisions of Parts II and III which relate to puchwai shall apply to any fermented liquor other than those specified in the said Parts.

Provided that the Local Government may, within any specified district or tract of country, exempt any fermented liquor from the provisions of the said Parts.

Rules to be observed in the exportation of spirits.

100. Spirits brought to the Custom House for exportation by sea shall, previous to shipment, be gauged and proved by an officer of the Customs. The amount of drawback to be allowed upon spirits for which duty has been paid shall be regulated according to the strength and quantity of the said spirits as ascertained by such proof and gauge, and the quantity of spirits for which credit is to be given in the settlement of any bond shall be determined in the same manner. Spirits under bond shall be taken from the distillery direct to the Custom House under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector.

Duty to be recovered on any deficiency in spirits under bond.

101. When spirits are passed from a distillery under bond, duty shall be recoverable upon any difference between the quantity of spirits so passed from the distillery and the quantity ascertained by gauge and proof at the Custom House, less such allowance for ullage and leakage as may be prescribed by the Board.

Spirits intended for exportation may be removed for local consumption.

102. Spirits brought to the Custom House under bond for exportation may nevertheless be removed for local consumption under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector of Revenue upon payment of the prescribed duty on the quantity so removed, and credit for such payment shall be given on the settlement of the bond.

Recovery of sums due under bond.

103. Any sum which may remain due to Government upon the settlement of a bond executed according to the provisions of this Part may be recovered by any process which is or may be in force for the recovery of arrears of revenue due from farmers of land or their sureties, or by suit on the bond in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Spirits how to be shipped.

104. No drawback shall be allowed on any duty-paid spirits, nor shall the duty due on any spirits under bond be remitted, unless the spirits shall be shipped from the Custom House, and upon a vessel to which a Custom House officer has been appointed to superintend the receipt of export cargo. Spirits shipped for exportation shall not be relanded without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue in addition to the usual order of the Collector of Customs.

Spirits shipped for exportation not to be relanded.

No drawback on spirits exported to Indian ports or shipped as stores.

105. No drawback shall be allowed on spirits exported to any port subject to the Government of India, except the Port of Aden, or on spirits shipped as stores.

Rum shrub, &c., how to be charged with duty—may be exported under the same rules as spirits.

106. Rum shrub, cordials, and other liquors prepared in a licensed distillery under the supervision of the surveyor or officer in charge of the distillery shall be charged with duty according to the quantity of spirit used in the preparation, and all the provisions contained in this Act respecting spirits manufactured after the English method, except such as relate to gauge and proof, shall be applicable to such liquors. When any such liquors are removed for exportation without payment of duty, the bonds to be executed by the persons removing them shall be in the form contained in the first schedule to this Act.

Penalty for irregular reland of spirituous liquors.

107. Every person who shall reland, or attempt to reland, any spirituous liquors shipped for exportation without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue at the place of exportation shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; and the liquors, together with the casks and vessels containing the same, and the carts, boats, and animals employed in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Spirits from foreign territory subject to duty.

108. Spirituous liquors manufactured at the foreign settlement of Chandernagore, or at any other place in India beyond the limits of British India, shall, on passing the limits of the territories to which this Part applies, be charged with the duty prescribed for proof spirits; and any person who may be found in possession of any such liquors without a pass from the Collector certifying the payment of such duty shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Construction or working of breweries and manufacture of malt liquor without license prohibited.

109. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a brewery or to manufacture any description of malt liquor without a license from the Collector of the district. The Board may prescribe such rules relative to the granting of licenses for constructing and working breweries as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Penalty.

110. Every person who shall construct or work a brewery, or manufacture malt liquor, without a license, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.

111. When any person is sentenced to pay any fine under this Act, the Justice of the Peace or Magistrate shall award a period of imprisonment in default of payment thereof. Any such fine shall be recoverable, except in Calcutta, in the manner prescribed by section three hundred and seven of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure), and in Calcutta in the manner prescribed by section 185 of Act IV of 1877 (the Presidency Magistrates' Act).

Penalty for contempt of Court.

112. The Collector, in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open court by fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the civil jail for a period not exceeding one month.

Appeals from orders passed under the Act.

113. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner against every order of a Collector under this Act, if presented to the Commissioner, or to the Collector for transmission to the Commissioner, within thirty days of the date of the order appealed against.

An appeal shall lie to the Board against every order of a Commissioner under this Act, if presented to the Board within sixty days of the date of the order appealed against.

Provided that it shall be discretional with the Board to receive appeals direct from orders passed by a Collector.

Local Government may assign to any Municipality the granting of licenses.

114. Notwithstanding anything in this or in any other Act contained, the Local Government may, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, assign to the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, or to any other Municipality, such functions and powers as it shall think fit in respect to the granting, withholding, and withdrawal of licenses for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs (being functions and powers which, but for such assignment, might legally be exercised by any officer of Government), to be exercised by such Corporation or by such Municipality within the limits of their respective jurisdictions under such conditions and subject to such rules as the Local Government may impose; and the Local Government may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which it has assigned under the provisions of this section.

Provided that such functions and powers shall not be assigned as aforesaid without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned:

Provided also that no such conditions or rules shall be imposed by the Local Government after such assignment has taken place without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned.

Division of fine or forfeiture among excise and police officers and others.

115. Whenever any fine or forfeiture is levied from a person convicted of the unlawful manufacture of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or of the unlawful sale, purchase, or possession of such liquors or drugs, or of the unlawful cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, the Magistrate who adjudicates the case shall direct the amount of fine or forfeiture to be divided in such proportions as he may think fit between any persons (whether they be excise or police officers or otherwise) who were instrumental in the detection of the offence, the seizure of the articles in respect of which the offence was committed, or the capture of the offender. The Magistrate shall also determine the proportions in which the proceeds of the sale of the confiscated articles shall be distributed among the said persons.

Procedure when confiscated article is sold for a price which includes duty leviable.

Provided that if any confiscated articles shall have been sold or may be sold by the Collector for a price which includes the duty leviable on the said article, such amount as the Collector may determine to represent such duty shall be deducted from the sale proceeds and credited to Government, and the remainder only of the price realized by the sale shall be deemed to be sale proceeds to be distributed under the order of the said Magistrate.

Board may grant rewards.

116. The Board may, either before or after the adjudication of the case, grant such reasonable reward, not exceeding two hundred rupees, as to them may seem fit, and may direct the same to be divided in such proportions as they may think fit between any persons (whether they be excise or police officers or otherwise) who were instrumental in the detection of the offence, the seizure of the articles in respect of which the offence was committed, or the capture of the offender; and any sum which may have been so paid to any person before the adjudication of the case may be taken into account as a part of the whole of the payment which may be awarded by a Magistrate to such person under the last preceding section.

Saving of Consolidated Customs Act.

117. Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to affect the provisions of Act VI of 1863, the Consolidated Customs Act.

Bill of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 31st January 1878 :—

We, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices, was referred, have the honour to report that we have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin.

From Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, No. 220, dated 15th June, 1877, and enclosures.
" Ditto ditto, No. 242, dated 5th July, 1877, and enclosure.
From Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 1953-514, dated 27th October, 1877, and enclosures.

From Government of Bombay, No. 1404, dated 27th November, 1877.
" Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 1953, dated 27th October, 1877, and enclosures.
" Government of Madras, No. 2822, dated 28th November, 1877, and enclosure.
" Government of Bengal, No. 3480, dated 17th December, 1877.
" Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 2253-482, dated 15th December, 1877, and enclosures.
" Government of Bengal, No. 3526, dated 22nd December, 1877.
" Department of Revenue, Agriculture and Commerce, No. 1, dated 3rd January, 1878, and enclosures.
" Ditto ditto, No. 8, dated 3rd January, 1878, and enclosures.

2. We have added sections 3, 4 and 5 to the Bill as introduced.

Section 3 has been added to supply an accidental omission in the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875, recently brought to notice by the Board of Trade, and owing to which a question has been raised as to whether, in certain cases, the certificate of a master, mate or engineer could be cancelled or suspended on proof of a wrongful act or default by him causing the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to, a ship, or loss of life.

Section 4 has been added with a view to supplying a power (the want of which has recently been felt) to direct enquiry into casualties to foreign vessels occurring on the coasts of British India, and section 5 has been added at the suggestion of certain members of the mercantile community in Bombay, to compel persons recovering bales of goods, ships' stores and other property, which may have fallen overboard or otherwise got adrift in a port, to deliver up such property to the Conservator, and to regulate the right to salvage, about which it is said disputes sometimes occur.

3. The publication ordered by the Council has taken place ; but we consider republication to be desirable.

4. We recommend that the Bill as now amended be passed.

No. II.

A Bill to provide for the recovery in British India of wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, certain seamen and apprentices, and to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875, and the Indian Ports Act, 1875.

Preamble.

Whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, and by the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1855, section 16, it is enacted that the Board of Trade may, in manner therein mentioned, and in the name of Her Majesty, sue for and recover the wages due to, and expenses incurred in respect of, the distressed seamen and apprentices in the said sections mentioned; And whereas it is expedient to empower such persons as the Governor General in Council may think fit to sue for and recover in British India in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council, such wages and expenses, when the same are charged upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, found in British India;

And whereas it is also expedient to amend the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875, and the Indian Ports Act, 1875, in manner hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Power to appoint persons to sue.

1. The Governor General in Council may, from time to time by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize, either generally or specially, such persons as he thinks fit to sue for and recover, in manner in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, section 213, provided, any wages or expenses recoverable under the said sections of the said Acts in cases where such wages and expenses are, under the same sections, a charge upon any ship, or recoverable from any master, owner or other person, within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India.

Every person so authorized shall be entitled to sue and recover accordingly in any such Court, and shall be deemed to be a person filling a public office within the meaning of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, section 57, clause 7.

Suits, &c., to be instituted in name of Secretary of State for India in Council.

2. All suits and proceedings under section one shall be instituted and carried on in the name of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

Amendment of sections 6, 7, 9 and 17 of Act IV of 1875.

3. In sections 6, 7, 9 and 17 of the said Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875, the word "misconduct" shall be deemed to include, besides drunkenness, tyranny and other similar misconduct, any wrongful act or default causing the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life.

Act IV of 1875, sections 3 and 5, amended.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in section one hundred and fourteen of Act No. I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen), or in section twenty-eight of the said Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1875, the word "ship" in section three and the word "ships" in section five of the latter Act, shall be deemed to include all ships except ships belonging to, or in the service of, Her Majesty or belonging to any foreign Prince or State.

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to give power to cancel or suspend any certificate granted by the Board of Trade and held by the master, mate or engineer of any ship belonging to the subject of any foreign Prince or State.

Amendment of chapter V of Act XII of 1875.

5. For chapter V of the Indian Ports Act, 1875, the following shall be substituted (namely)—

"Chapter V.—Of Salvage in Ports.

Recovery of property by Government officer and salvage payable therefor.

"43. If any anchors, wreck, stores or other property be recovered by any officer employed by the Local Government for that purpose, from the surface, bed or shore of any port subject to this Act, the Local Government shall be entitled to receive a reasonable sum for salvage, having regard to the place of recovery.

Private person recovering property to deliver up same and receive salvage.

"If any such property is so recovered by any other person not entitled thereto nor authorized by the person so entitled to recover the same, he shall, without unnecessary delay, deliver the same to the Conservator, or to such other officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, and shall be entitled to receive a reasonable sum as aforesaid in respect of the same.

Register to be kept of property recovered.

"A register shall be kept of all property so recovered, in such manner and at such place as the Local Government may direct.

"It shall contain a description of such property, and of the times and places where the same has been recovered;

"and it shall be open to public inspection at reasonable office-hours, except on Sundays and such holidays as the Local Government may direct.

Provisions of section 40 saved.

"Nothing in this section shall authorize any person to creep or sweep for any property in contravention of section forty, or entitle any person to salvage in respect of any property recovered by so creeping or sweeping.

Penalty for omitting to deliver up property.

"Any person omitting to deliver any property to the Conservator as required by this section shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Property recovered may, in certain cases, be sold.

"44. If the property recovered under the last preceding section, or by a Conservator acting under section fifteen, is unclaimed,

"or if the person claiming the same fails to pay the amount due to the Local Government, or to the finder of such property, in respect thereof,

"such property may be sold by public auction, if of a perishable nature, forthwith; and if not of a perishable nature, at any period not less than six months after the recovery thereof;

Proceeds how applied.

"and on the realization of the proceeds, the amount due to the Local Government, or to the finder of such property, for salvage, or for the expenses incurred under section fifteen, shall be deducted therefrom, and credited to the Local Government, or paid to such finder, as the case may be, and the balance shall be paid to the person entitled to the property recovered, or, if no such person appear and claim the same, shall be held in deposit for payment, without interest, to any person thereafter establishing his right to the same:

"Provided that he makes his claim within one year from the date of the sale."

OBSERVATIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ON THE BENGAL SANITARY REPORT FOR 1876.

No. 22, dated Fort William, the 28th January 1878.

From—JAMES O'KINEALY, ESQ., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. India, Home Dept.,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I AM directed to acknowledge your endorsement No. 2565, dated 15th August 1877, forwarding the report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal for the year 1876.

2. In reply, I am to remark that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has so fully reviewed and discussed the more important points in this report, that but little remains to be said by the Government of India. The Governor General in Council is glad to observe that it has been decided to abandon the system of selected areas, and that efforts will in future be directed to effecting improvement in the registration of vital statistics generally throughout the province. It is true that the collection of these statistics in Bengal is encompassed by even greater difficulties than are found to exist in other provinces, but the improvement displayed in the statistics of the year under review affords ground for hoping that eventually they may be brought to yield more valuable results than has hitherto been the case.

3. The statistics of the province do not yet afford the means of estimating with any accuracy the rate of mortality among the population, or the extent to which sickness and mortality have prevailed in different years, except perhaps in the case of cholera and small-pox. With regard to the former, it is observed that the number of deaths registered in 1876 was nearly double the number of the previous year. This greater mortality was to some extent due to the aggravated epidemic which ensued upon the general contamination of the water-supply in those districts which were inundated by the cyclone-wave in the end of October. But the epidemic was not confined to the inundated districts, or to those bordering on them, and the districts of Darjeeling, Chutia Nagpur, and also Behar all suffered more severely than in the previous year.

4. With regard to small-pox, it is observed that, although not very generally prevalent during the year, severe outbreaks occurred in several localities, in the majority of which, the Sanitary Commissioner remarks, the Act prohibiting inoculation is not in operation. The fever which in previous years occasioned such great mortality in several districts of Bengal appears to have generally subsided; but in many localities the malarial fever of the autumn months still exhibits a tendency to assume a low and fatal form—a fact apparently due to the want of proper conservancy arrangements and to foul water. Bowel-complaints appear to prevail to the greatest extent among the population of Orissa, and it is noteworthy that this fact is observed in the case of the population of the same race inhabiting the Sambalpur district of the Central Provinces.

5. In conclusion, I am to convey to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor the acknowledgments of the Government of India for the complete manner in which he has reviewed the report, which, although somewhat diffuse, has been ably drawn up by Dr. Coates, and reflects credit upon that officer.

PRACTICAL TRAINING TO THE STUDENTS OF THE CIVIL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT OF THE PRESIDENCY COLLEGE.

No. 161*E.*

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the Public Works Department (Establishment) under date the 30th January 1878.

Read Resolution of the General (Education) Department of this Government, No. 48 of the 4th January 1878, on the general report on public instruction for the year 1876-77.

RESOLUTION.—For some years past the necessity of giving practical training to the students of the Civil Engineering Department of the Presidency College has been admitted, and has been discussed by the Governments of India and of Bengal. The subject of technical education has of late received additional attention from the Government of Bengal. Not only have there been the College students to consider, but a portion of the native community has shewn an unmistakeable desire to obtain the means of acquiring practical instruction and knowledge of Engineering and mechanics.

2. A system of giving to natives a certain amount of technical instruction in the forge, carpenter's shop and brick-yard has, for nearly two years past, been established under the supervision of the Department of Public Works. The workshops of the 1st Calcutta Division and the Akra brick-yard have been used for this purpose, and a number of young men have commenced their training as practical Engineers under the instruction of officers specially selected for this duty. At first the instruction was confined to passed students of the Civil Engineering Department of the Presidency College who held scholarships for the purpose; but latterly a considerable number of passed students, who were not scholarship-holders, have asked and obtained permission to join the departmental workshops for instruction in various branches of work at their own expense. Both the stipendiary and non-stipendiary students have taken up their duties in the workshops with considerable earnestness, acquiring practical training by working with their own hands.

3. Hitherto the small existing workshop of the Department of Public Works has been provisionally used as a means of helping on an important end, which circumstances did not allow to be taken up in a more effective manner. But the Lieutenant-Governor has lately determined to establish technical scholarships in various parts of the country in connexion with certain selected schools, and to establish the means of affording thorough technical training to a certain number of those young men who desire to adopt one of the branches of Engineering as a profession.

4. The instruction hitherto given has been purely provisional and tentative, but it has established two facts, first, that there is a demand for instruction of this description; and secondly, that young natives of good family and position are perfectly willing to work with their hands, and receive instruction precisely as European apprentices would. The necessity of providing for the middle classes the means of adopting some career and some calling in life more calculated to meet their ambition than the limited range of employment now open to them, is daily becoming more thoroughly recognized both by Government and native society. It is impossible, however, to establish any great number of technical schools throughout the country, and they must be so situated that they shall be in connection with some workshops entrusted with real work to do, having a good stock of machinery and appliances, and a staff of able and expensive instructors. The attempts to establish independent technical schools have broken down from the impossibility of giving them a practical shape where they are not in connection with good independent workshops. The Lieutenant-Governor has therefore determined to establish technical scholarships in connection with selected schools, such scholarships will be held at technical schools established in connection with Government workshops.

5. Two centres will be sufficient for this purpose at present, though possibly a few scholarships may eventually be attached to Railway workshops either of the State Railways, or of the Guaranteed lines in the event of the Directors and Agents of those lines being willing to receive apprentices. One centre has already been established at Dehree in Behar, where a number of young men have been trained, and on completion of their training have readily found employment in various parts of the country. Measures have been taken to expand this centre and make it available for larger numbers. The other centre should be in Calcutta, and to attain its object it should be constituted on a well considered basis. The necessity for constructing new workshops at the Presidency makes it a convenient time to take up the subject with reference to their situation and size.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor has accordingly appointed the following gentlemen to form a Committee for the propose of considering and reporting what measures are necessary or desirable to establish a practical training institution for Engineers, taking as a nucleus the workshops and manufactories of the Public Works Department at the Presidency, and on what scale the establishment should be formed:—

Major-General J. E. T. Nicolls, R. E. ...	President.
The Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds, Esq., C. S. ...	Members.
A. W. Croft, Esq.
Colonel F. T. Haig, R. E.
T. S. Isaac, Esq.
Baboo Bhudeb Chunder Mookerjee ...

7. The Lieutenant-Governor has reason to hope that a benevolent native nobleman much interested in the development of fresh spheres of action for his countrymen in the upper and middle classes, will erect a college for the accommodation of Moffussil students in connection with the institution as soon as it is established. Others would no doubt follow his example, and probably many local scholarships would be established by local beneficence in the various districts of Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor also hopes to be able to establish scholarships for European and Eurasian lads in connection with these schools, and separate barracks would have to be built for them. In selecting a site therefore for the new workshop, the possibility of its largely increasing its scope and number of pupils should be borne in mind.

8. The Committee should also consider whether it would be desirable to remove the Civil Engineering Branch of the Presidency College to the neighbourhood of the practical training school, so as to work the two together as one institution for giving a complete technical education and training for Engineers.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for the information and guidance of the President and each Member of the Committee.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Educational and Financial Departments of this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By Order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. E. T. NICOLLS, Major-General, R. E.,

* A maund of paddy is equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

Taken from the monthly returns of the Custom House, where no information was then available of short shipments and re-lands as regards grains shipped to free ports.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—(Continued.)
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.	17	Dacca, Feb. 2 '78	Nil	Weather—warmer than it should be, and cloudy. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	18	Furreedpore, „ 2 „	0·03	Weather—cloudy on the 1st and 2nd instant. Kalai and Moong have been reaped. The state of the rubbee crops is fair.
	19	Backergunge, Jan. 31 „	Nil	All is well. In Dakhin Shabazpore the price of rice has suddenly risen to Rs. 2-12 to Rs. 3; large quantities are being exported to Calcutta and other districts. General health is good.
	20	Mymensingh, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fine and warmer. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
	21	Tipperah, Feb. 1 „	Nil	Weather—fine. The cold-weather crops promise well, but mustard, of which about one-half has been reaped, has been injured by insects in many places.
Chittagong Divn.	22	Chittagong, Jan. 31 „	Nil	Weather—fine; hazy; getting warm. State and prospects of the crops are good. Rice is getting dear; prices are generally from 10 to 13 seers per rupee, and in the south of the district from 16 to 18 seers. Some dearth is anticipated.
	23	Noakholly, Jan. 31 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable The cold-weather crops are progressing favourably. Public health is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The hillmen have begun to cut jungle for jooming. Mustard is being gathered; a poor outturn is anticipated.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—rather warm for the season. No change in the state and prospects of the crops since last report.
BEHAR.
Patna Divn.	25	Patna, Feb. 2 '78	0·35	Weather—seasonably cold. Prospects of the rubbee crops continue good, but considerable damage has been done by caterpillars. Health is good.
	26	Gya, „ 2 „	0·02 Nowada 0·09	Weather—cloudy at times. Maximum thermometer in the shade 77·6°. Insects are doing damage to some of the rubbee crops in the Sudder and Jehanabad sub-divisions; otherwise prospects are good, and are reported as unusually good in Nowada.
	27	Shahabad, „ 2 „	0·60	Weather—cloudy and occasionally clear. The standing crops are looking healthier than before. More rain, however, will prove injurious to them. Peas and other early sown crops are being reaped. Peas and gram have been damaged by frost in certain parts of the Bhubooah sub-division.
	28	Durbhunga, „ 2 „	0·77	The rubbee crops promise well all over the district, save in portions of the Tajpore sub-division, where they have suffered both from drought and from frost.
	29	Mozufferpore, „ 2 „	1·27	Weather—mild and clear. The rubbee crops have been greatly benefitted by the rain which fell in the beginning of the week, and there is now every prospect of a good harvest.
	30	Sarun, „ 2 „	0·62	Weather—cloudy during the first part of the week; latterly seasonably cool. There was a heavy shower at Gopalgunge, measuring 0·93 of an inch. West wind is prevailing. Prospects of the crops continue fair. Peas and gram are ripening. Mustard is in seed. Poppy is in flower. The Sub-divisional Officer of Sewan has reported that rubbee will be somewhat less than an average crop.
	31	Chumparun, „ 2 „	0·58	Weather—becoming warmer in the day time. The late rain has been of much benefit to the rubbee crops, which now promise very well. Importations of rice continue from Tirhoot. Prices are easy.
Bhaugulpore Division.	32	Monghyr, „ 2 „	0·54 Begoo-serai 0·79. Jamooi 0·20	Weather—cloudy, with east wind. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	33	Bhagulpore, „ 2 „	1·20	General rain on the morning of the 28th ultimo; since then weather cloudy. The rain has done much good. The prospects of the rubbee crops are very favourable. Exportation of food-grains continues, and prices are still rising. General health is good.
	34	Purneah, „ 2 „	0·09 Arrareah 0·19	Weather—cold and cloudy. There has been heavy rain in some parts of the district which will benefit the wheat. Mustard is being reaped; the crop is fair.
	35	Maldah, „ 2 „	1·42	Heavy rain on the night of the 27th January; otherwise weather fair. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. Fever is reported to be decidedly less.
	36	Sonthal Perghs., „ 3 „	Nil	Clouds and drizzle and promise of rain off and on for the last fortnight, with showers in odd places. The rubbee crops are good in most places, and are best in Godda and Rajmehal. With bad cultivation there is a great deal of very good mustard, and some flax and gram. In Godda wheat and barley are doing fairly. The rice crop was excellent everywhere.

No.	District, and date of return.			Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	ORISSA.
	Orissa Divn.
37	Cuttack,	Feb.	2 '77	Not given.	Storm and rain on the 1st instant; otherwise weather fair, and no rain. The reaping of all the crops has nearly been finished. Dalua rice is growing well and will be benefitted by the rain. Public health is on the whole good.
38	Pooree	Jan.	31 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. Sarad rice is being harvested; the crop is deficient. Dalua rice is progressing well in low lands, but on uplands want of water is felt. Moong, kalai, and tobacco promise well. The mango crop does not seem to be a good one. The mandia crop in the salt tracts is suffering severly for want of water. Common rice is selling at 15¾ to 21 seers per rupee. Some rice was exported by sea last week.
39	Balasore,	Feb.	1 „	Nil	Weather—fine at present, but threatens rain The winter crops are good. In the north of the district fever still prevails. A few cases of cholera are reported.
	CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh,	Feb.	1 '78	0·17	Weather—colder again; cloudy. The rain and damp weather have done some good to the rubbee crops.
41	Lohardugga,	„	2 „	0·48	There has been rain in three of the police station circles in the head-quarters division, but none in Palamow. The prospects of the rubbee crops are still as good as usual. Public health is good.
42	Singbhoom,	„	1 „	0·60	Weather—seasonable. Nothing to report about the crops. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom,	„	2 „	0·37	For the most part of the week the weather has been cloudy, and towards the end rain has fallen over a large part of the district. It may do good to the crops, but prices are high. Common rice is selling at 16 seers for the rupee. Cholera is still reported from Raipore.

[illegible] mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. [illegible]h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers.

[illegible]he thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and [illegible]ified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and [illegible]re suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's [illegible]o. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed [illegible]n the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4*th February* 1878.—The following Bye-laws framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Kishnaghur at a meeting under Section 313 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876, having been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under Section 314 thereof, are hereby published for general information.

For Regulating the Conduct of Business at Meetings.

1. The day of the meeting shall ordinarily be the last Saturday in every month, unless the Chairman for any special reason fix any other day. A notice signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be circulated at least three days before the day of the meeting.

2. A list of business to be transacted at the meeting shall accompany the notice, and no matter which is not contained in such list shall be brought forward for discussion at any meeting unless with the consent of the majority of the Commissioners present at the meeting.

3. Any member wishing to bring any proposition before the Commissioners at a meeting shall give written notice to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of his intention to do so, and such proposition shall be included in the next list of business which may be prepared after the receipt of the notice.

For Regulating the Time and Mode of Collecting the Taxes.

4. A darogah shall be appointed for the purpose of superintending the collection of taxes. The Municipality shall be divided into six wards, as heretofore, and to each of these wards shall be appointed a sirkar, who shall be authorized to collect taxes and to grant receipts. The Commissioners shall also appoint such warrant clerks or other officers as may be necessary for the realization of taxes.

5. Every officer authorized to grant receipts shall be provided with a certificate of his authority to collect, and every such certificate shall bear the seal of the Municipality and the signature of the Chairman. Every collecting officer, at the time of demanding payment, shall be bound to show this certificate, if required, and no tax-payer shall be bound to pay unless such certificate is shown and a printed receipt tendered to him.

6. For all sums paid on account of any tax mentioned in the Act, a printed receipt signed by the tax darogah and the collecting officer, showing the quarter for which the sum is paid, the amount of the tax, the number of the holding and of the ward in which it is situated, and the person from whom the tax is levied, shall be given to the person paying the same.

7. Bills shall not be made over at one time to any collecting sirkar or warrant clerk to a larger amount than that of the security given by him.

8. The darogah shall periodically settle accounts with the sirkars and warrant clerks, at such intervals as the Commissioners may from time to time direct. The darogah shall report to the Chairman the result of such settlements of accounts, and shall certify that the accounts are correct.

9. The darogah shall have a permanent advance of Rs. 25 to meet petty contingent expenses, to be accounted for at the end of each month.

10. When any tax, rate, or toll is levied by distress and sale of moveable property, payment of the purchase-money and delivery of the property shall be made immediately after the sale; and if the purchaser fail to pay the full amount of his bid, it shall be lawful for the distraining officer to sell the property again on the same or any other day, and the first or any succeeding purchaser, except the last, shall in such case be responsible to the Commissioners for any loss; such loss shall be recoverable as a debt due from him.

11. Every person required, in writing, to furnish any schedule or return which the Commissioners may lawfully require him to furnish, shall send such schedule or return to the office of the Commissioners within one week from the date of the service of the requisition, in the manner described in section 367 of the Act. Any person failing to do so shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 5 for the omission, and to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 2 for every day the omission shall continue. Any person submitting a false or incorrect schedule or return shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 20, provided that nothing in this bye-law shall be held to prevent the institution of a criminal prosecution under the Penal Code, should the facts appear to warrant such a proceeding.

For Regulating the Conduct of Persons Employed by the Commissioners.

12. The Commissioners shall have power to inflict for neglect of duty a fine not exceeding one month's pay upon any person employed by them.

13. All persons now holding, or who may hereafter be appointed to, any office under the Commissioners shall, when required so to do, furnish good security to such amount as the Commissioners may from time to time fix; and any person failing to furnish such security within reasonable time, or within such time as the Commissioners may appoint, shall be held to have thereby forfeited his appointment, and may be removed from office.

RULE II.—Notwithstanding Rule I, no fee shall be chargeable for serving and executing any process, such as a notice, rule, summons, or warrant of arrest which may be issued by any Court of its own motion, solely for the purpose of taking cognizance of, and punishing any act done, or words spoken, in contempt of its authority.

RULE III.—No process which comes within the operation of Rule I shall be drawn up for service or execution, except upon an application made to the Court for that purpose in writing, on a document bearing upon its face stamps not less in amount than the fee, which by Rule I is directed to be charged for serving and executing the process so sought to be drawn up. This application may, however, at the option of the party making it, be included in the petition by which he moves the Court to order the process to issue; but in that case the petition must bear the requisite stamps for the process fee, in addition to such stamps, if any, as are needed for its own validity: and, in either case, the filing of the application, thus duly stamped, shall constitute payment of the fee chargeable for the process.

RULE IV.—In cases which are covered by the note to Article 3 of Part I, and the note to Articles (3) and (4) of Parts II, III, and IV of the Table of Fees in Rule I, the additional fee which may become payable after the process has been actually issued shall be paid by filing a written requisition to the Court to receive the fee, which document shall bear on the face of it stamps not less in amount than the additional fee, together with a memorandum of the purpose for which it is paid.

RULE V.—The proceeds of a sale effected in execution of any decree will only be paid out of Court on an application made for that purpose in writing, and the additional fee (f), Article (6), Parts II, III, and IV must be paid by stamps affixed to, or impressed upon, the first of such applications: whether it be or be not made by the person who obtained the order for sale, or whether it does or does not extend to the whole of the proceeds. No fee will be chargeable upon any such application subsequent to the first.

N.B.—The fees paid in pursuance of these Rules, must, in all proceedings, be deemed and treated as part of the necessary and proper costs of the party who pays them.

By order of the Directors,

BANK OF BENGAL,
Calcutta, the 6th February 1878.

W. WESTLAND, Offg. Chief Acctt. & Dy. Secy.
(78—1)

W. D. CRUICKSHANK,
Offg. Secretary and Treasurer.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

At a Half-yearly General Meeting of subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held at the Town Hall, Calcutta, on Monday, the 30th January 1878.

PRESENT:—The Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, v.c., W. Waterfield, Esq., the Hon'ble H. T. Prinsep, D. Fitzpatrick, Esq., J. O'Kinealy, Esq., J. A. Hopkins, Esq., W. H. Grimley, Esq., D. M. Barbour, Esq., C. J. Lyall, Esq., C. Macaulay, Esq., and A. W. Mackie, Esq.

The Hon'ble W. F. McDonell, v.c., in the Chair.

The following report submitted by the Managers was taken as read:—

REPORT.

1. The Manager submit their proceedings for the past half-year for the consideration and sanction of the Meeting.

2. Subject to the approval of subscribers, they have admitted to the benefits of the Fund the following families:—

Mrs. Makgill	... ...	£	75

The widow of the late Mr. G. E. Makgill (an invalid annuitant of 1872), who died in England on the 3rd August last. Mrs. Makgill is entitled to the one-fourth pension, or £75 per annum, her husband having, at the time of his retirement, made up his subscription balance to Rs. 6,250.

Mrs. Geoghegan	... ...	£	300
1 Daughter	... ...	"	60
	Total	"	360

The widow and child of the late Mr. J. Geoghegan, who died in England on the 2nd October last.

Mrs. Pollock	... ...	£	300
8 Children	...	"	690
	Total	"	990

The widow and eight children (five daughters and three sons) of the late Mr. A. R. S. Pollock, who died in England on the 3rd October last.

Mrs. Boulderson	.. ...	£	300

The widow of the late Mr. H. S. Boulderson (annuitant of 1851), who died in England on the 28th October last.

Mrs. Levcester	... ...	£	300
2 Daughters	... ..	"	200
	Total	"	500

The widow and two daughters of the late Mr. G. P. Leycester (annuitant of 1862), who died in England on the 3rd November last.

Mrs. Becher	. ...	£	300
1 Daughter	... ...	"	100
	Total	"	400

The widow and daughter of the late Mr. S. J. Becher (annuitant of 1866), who died in England on the 21st November last.

Mrs. Schalch	... .	£	300
4 Children	... ...	"	400
	Total	"	700

The widow and four children (three daughters and one son) of the late Mr. V. H. Schalch (annuitant of 1877), who died in England on the 3rd December last, provisionally admitted pending the receipt of papers.

3. The votes of subscribers have affirmed the Resolution passed at the last General Meeting respecting the amendment of section 2, article 8 of the Rules by the insertion of the words noted on the margin. The votes were 117 for the amendment and 2 against it. The clause thus amended will run as follows:—

"Before 'Rs. 12,500' insert 'Rs. 18,750 or to,' and for 'in the former case one-half and in the latter one-quarter,' substitute 'in the first case three-quarters, in the second one-half, and in the third one-quarter.'"

Payments for reduced pensions.

But subscribers hereafter so retiring from the service may, at their option, by making up the amount of their subscriptions with interest either to Rs. 18,750 or to Rs. 12,500 or to Rs. 6,250, and by continuing, or compounding for their contributions on their annuities at half the rates levied from subscribers in the service on their allowances, secure to their families, on the same conditions as above, in the first case three-quarters, in the second one-half, and in the third one-quarter of the amount of pensions and other allowances granted to the family of a subscriber dying in the service, or of an annuitant who has made up, on retirement, the full amount of Rs. 25,000.

The above Rule comes into operation with effect from the 1st January 1877.

With reference to the amendment of this Rule, the Financial Secretary to the Government of India demi-officially enquired whether the proceedings of the Fund go regularly to the Secretary of State and, if so, through what channel, and remarked that the amendment would require the sanction of the Secretary of State. Under the Managers' orders Mr. Chapman was informed that the Fund has no communication with the Secretary of State.

In regard to the matter of sanction, it was pointed out that there had apparently been some misapprehension as to the rights of the subscribers to the Civil Fund, and that they had probably been confounded with the members of the Annuity Fund.

Subsequently, the following official correspondence passed between the Government of India and the Managers:—

No. 3441.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

SIR,

I AM directed by His Excellency the Viceroy in Council to request that six copies of the proceedings of the General Meeting of the subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held on the 30th July 1877, may be forwarded for the information of the Government of India and transmission to the Secretary of State for India.

2. I am also to request that in future six copies of the proceedings of all General and Special Meetings of the subscribers to the fund may be forwarded to the Government of India for the same purpose.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient servant,
E. J. SINKINSON,
Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of India.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT,
SIMLA;
The 29th September 1877.

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 3441 of 29th September last.

2. In accordance with the request contained in your first paragraph, the Managers have the pleasure of forwarding six copies of the proceedings of the General Meeting of 30th July last, already published in the Gazette of India (Part III, dated 25th August 1877), page 64 as required by Rule XVI.

3. The present Managers will also, I am directed to say, have pleasure in supplying in the same form information as to the published proceedings of General Meetings of the Fund held during their tenure of office, if the supply of such information will be of service to Government; but they desire me to say that they cannot undertake in any way to bind their successors or the subscribers to the Fund, as the supply of information to Government in this form does not appear to be contemplated by the rules of the Fund.

I have the honor to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient servant,
COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary.

CIVIL FUND OFFICE,
The 3rd January 1878.

4. The Managers submit for the consideration of the Meeting the case of Mr. R. Evans.

Under article eight of the Rules, subscribers who resign the service and wish to secure to their widows and children the full, three-quarters, half, or one-fourth benefits of the Fund, must, on retirement, make up their subscription balance to Rs. 25,000, 18,750, 12,500 or Rs. 6,250, as the case may be, and must continue their contributions on their annuities at half the rates levied from subscribers in the service. Mr. Evans resigned the service from 1st March 1877. On the 24th April last he was informed that he must at once pay Rs. 4,433-0-10 if he desired to retain an interest in the Fund by making up his balance to the sum of Rs. 6,250. He is anxious to keep up his interest, and he urges the three following circumstances which made it impossible for him to pay the money at the time specified:—(1) During his term of service, extending from 1867 to 1877, he never got beyond the grade of Assistant Magistrate at Rs. 500 a month. (2) When compelled to take leave on medical certificate in 1876, he had not completed the three years' residence after return from previous leave necessary to entitle him to the ordinary furlough allowance of £500. Instead of £500 per annum for two years, he could only claim £300 for one year. (3) His health was so bad when he returned home that he could neither raise money by insuring his life, nor increase his income by obtaining employment. Mr. Evans states that he will be prepared to pay the amount, with any fine that may be imposed within a fortnight after the decision of the subscribers is intimated to him.

The Managers recommend Mr. Evans' application to the favourable consideration of the Meeting.

5. In accordance with the request of the Managers, Mr. E. F. Harrison has been in personal communication with the Actuary regarding the valuation of the assets and liabilities of the Fund. He reports that it would be impossible to place the inquiry in the hands of any one more capable of doing justice to it than Mr. Hardy. Mr. Harrison was to have had a further interview with Mr. Hardy in December, and the Managers have thought it advisable to await the result of his projected visit before taking any further steps regarding the valuation.

6. The accounts of the past year 1876-77 are submitted.

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 9th February 1878, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon in one month:—

A Bill to consolidate the Law relating to the Excise Revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Preamble. Whereas it is expedient that the laws relating to the manufacture of spirits and the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the collection of the revenue derived therefrom, should be consolidated: It is enacted as follows:—

PART I.

Preliminary.

Short title. 1. This Act may be cited as "The Bengal Excise Law Consolidation Act, 1877:"

Commencement. 2. It shall come into force from such date as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Enactments repealed. 3. The enactments specified in the second schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

This repeal shall not revive any office, authority, or thing abolished by any such enactment, or affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or any right, title, obligation, or liability accrued before the commencement of this Act.

And all rules prescribed, appointments made, powers conferred, licenses granted, and notifications published under any such enactment, and all other rules (if any) now in force and relating to the matters hereinafter dealt with, shall (so far as they are consistent with this Act) be deemed to have been respectively prescribed, made, conferred, granted, and published hereunder.

And all references made to any such enactment shall, as far as may be practicable, be deemed to be made to this Act.

And all proceedings now pending, which may have been commenced under any such enactment, shall be deemed to be commenced under this Act.

Interpretation clause. 4. In this Act—unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"Bengal Rum." "Bengal Rum" means spirit manufactured in India at a distillery worked according to the English method.

"Board." "Board" means the Board of Revenue for the provinces for the time-being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

"Collector." "Collector" includes a Deputy Collector, or other Revenue officer in independent charge of a district,

a Superintendent of Excise Revenue,

any covenanted or uncovenanted officer to whom the Collector may make over, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner (as he is hereby empowered to do), any of his powers or duties under this Act.

"Commissioner."

"Commissioner" means the Commissioner of a Revenue Division.

"Country spirit."

"Country spirit" means any spirit made by the native process of distillation.

"Intoxicating drugs."

"Intoxicating drugs" includes ganjah, bhang, churrus, and every preparation and admixture of the same.

"Local Government."

"Local Government" means the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the time-being, or the person acting in that capacity.

"Section."

"Section" means a section of this Act.

"The Suburbs."

"The Suburbs" means the Suburbs of Calcutta as defined by the Lieutenant-Governor by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

"The Town."

"The Town" means the Town of Calcutta, and includes all places within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Extent of Parts of Act.

5. Parts II and V apply to all the territories for the time-being subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, including the Town of Calcutta; Part III applies to all such territories, other than the Town of Calcutta; Part IV, save as provided in sections 84 and 102, applies only to the Town of Calcutta.

PART II.

English Distilleries.

English distilleries not to be constructed or worked without license.

6. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a distillery after the manner in which distilleries are constructed and worked in England without a license under the signature of the Collector of the district in which such distillery is situated, or, in case the distillery is within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government without a license under the signature of the Collector of Calcutta.

Board to prescribe rules for regulating English distilleries.

7. The Board may prescribe such rules (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act,) relative to the granting of licenses under section 6, and to the management of distilleries established under this Part, and the issue of spirits therefrom, as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Rate of duty to be levied on spirits.

8. Subject to any general rules or special orders which the Governor-General in Council may from time to time issue in this behalf, the Local Government may from time to time by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, fix the excise duty leviable upon spirit manufactured at distilleries worked according to the English method at a rate not exceeding the rate fixed for imported spirit by the Indian Tariff Act, 1875, or any similar law for the time being in force. No spirit shall be removed from any such distillery, or the warehouses connected therewith, upon which the aforesaid duty has not been paid, or for the duty chargeable on which a bond has not been executed; and for all spirits removed upon payment of duty or under bond passes shall be issued by the Collector, which shall specify the quantity and strength of the spirit, the place of its destination, the person to whom it is consigned, and whether the duty has been paid or secured by bond.

Drawback on exportation.

9. A drawback of the duty paid on spirits manufactured after the English method and exported by sea to any port not subject to the Government of India, or to the Port of Aden, shall be allowed by the Collector of Customs at the port of exportation: Provided that the exportation shall be made within one year from the date of the payment of duty under this Part, and that the spirits, when brought to the Custom House, shall be accompanied by the pass in which such payment is certified.

Distilleries within twenty miles of Calcutta to be under the Collector of Calcutta.

10. All licensed distilleries constructed and worked after the English method and situated within twenty miles of Calcutta, or such other distance less than twenty miles as may from time to time be prescribed by the Local Government, shall be under the superintendence and control of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall exercise, with respect to such distilleries and to the spirits manufactured therein, all the powers vested in Collectors by this Act; and the Collectors of districts in which any such distilleries are situated shall have no jurisdiction with respect to such distilleries.

Penalty for constructing or working a distillery or collecting materials without license.

11. Every person who shall construct or work a distillery after the English method without a license from the Collector shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and all spirits manufactured at any such distillery, and all materials and implements collected for the purpose of such manufacture, shall be liable to confiscation.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by Board.

12. Every proprietor or manager of a licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method who shall by any act or omission contravene any rule prescribed by the Board under section 7, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and if any such offence be committed a second time with respect to the same distillery, the license granted for the working of such distillery may be withdrawn by the Collector.

Penalty for removing spirituous liquors without payment of duty.

13. Every person who shall remove, or attempt to remove, from any licensed distillery constructed and worked after the English method any spirituous liquors upon which the duty has not been paid, or for the duty on which a bond has not been executed, or any spirituous liquors for which a pass has not been issued by the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees; and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

If it shall appear to the Collector that the offence was committed with the consent or knowledge of the proprietor or manager, the license granted for the construction and working of the distillery from which such liquors have been removed, or attempted to be removed, may be withdrawn.

Licenses.

Duty on the retail sale of country spirits, &c.

14. Every person taking out a license for the retail sale of country spirits, taree (whether fermented or unfermented), or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs, shall pay to the Collector such fee, tax, or duty, as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board, or regulated in such manner as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable at such periods as the Board may direct.

Licensed retail vendors of country spirits to furnish security.

15. Every person taking out a license for the manufacture of country spirits, or for the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, shall execute a counterpart engagement in conformity with the tenor of the license, and shall give such security for the performance of his engagement, or make such deposit in lieu of security, as the Collector may require.

Duration and renewal of license.

16. Except in the case of licenses for the retail sale of unfermented taree, the term of which extends only to the period of the year when the fresh juice is in request, and unless otherwise specially authorized by the Board, a license for retail sale shall be granted for the term of one year, and if continued to the holder thereof, shall be formally renewed from year to year. But it shall be incumbent on every person holding a license who may intend not to renew it to give notice of his intention to the Collector fifteen days previously to the expiration of the year; and if such notice be not given, and the license be not recalled by the Collector, the license held and engagement entered into by every such person shall remain in force as if the said license and engagement had been formally renewed.

Board to regulate form of license.

17. The Board shall have authority to regulate the form and conditions of all licenses granted under this Act.

License may be withheld or cancelled in certain cases.

18. The Collector may withhold or cancel any license granted under this Act if the tax or duty therein specified be not duly paid, or in case of a violation of any other condition thereof, or of the holder being convicted of a breach of the peace or any other criminal offence, and in such cases the holder shall not be entitled to a refund of any fee, tax or duty payable under the license which he may have paid to the Collector in advance.

If the Collector desire to cancel a license for any cause other than those above specified, he shall give fifteen days' previous notice and remit a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days, or, if notice be not given, shall make such further compensation for default of notice as the Commissioner or Board shall direct. In all such cases any fee, tax, or duty already paid in advance shall be refunded.

Any person selling by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs above specified whilst such license is withheld, or after it is cancelled, shall be subject to all the penalties provided by Parts III and IV for the unlicensed sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs.

Surrender of license.

19. Any licensed retail vendor may surrender his license on giving fifteen days' previous notice to the Collector and paying a sum equal to the tax for fifteen days over and above the sum payable under the license.

Recovery of arrears of duty on license.

20. The Collector, after demand made in writing, may recover any arrears of tax or duty due on account of any license granted under this Act by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person from whom the same is due, or of his surety, or by the process described in Bengal Act VII of 1868.

PART III.—BENGAL.

Excise Administration.

Collectors to have charge of the Excise Revenue.

21. The collection of the revenue arising from the manufacture of spirits and the sale of spirits and spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs shall be ordinarily under the charge of the Collectors, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control and direction of the Commissioners and of the Board. But the Government may appoint any other person to be Superintendent of Excise Revenue in any district or place; and any person so appointed shall exercise, in such district or place, all the powers and authority vested by this Part in the Collector, and such powers and authority shall cease to be exercised in such district or place by the Collector during the continuance of such appointment.

Local Government may appoint Commissioners of Excise.

22. The Local Government may also appoint a Commissioner or Commissioners for the control and direction of the officers having charge of the excise revenue in any district or districts; and when such appointment is made, the Commissioner of Excise shall exercise within such district or districts the powers and authority vested by this Part in Commissioners of Revenue, and the Revenue Commissioner shall cease to exercise such powers and authority in the said district or districts during the continuance of such appointment.

Collectors may appoint excise officers.

23. Collectors may appoint all such ministerial officers as are necessary for the collection of the excise revenue and for the prevention of smuggling, and the officers so appointed shall, in addition to their ordinary designations, be styled "Excise Officers."

Spirituous and fermented liquors not to be sold without license.

24. Spirituous liquors passed from distilleries worked according to the English method, fermented liquors manufactured at a licensed brewery, and spirituous and fermented liquors imported either by land or by sea shall not be sold except under license from the Collector.

Fee for wholesale license.

25. Every person taking out a license for the wholesale vend of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay for every such license such sum as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board. The license shall be current only during the official year and in the district in which it is granted; but travelling merchants may obtain a general license, authorizing them to sell by wholesale in any district which they may visit in the course of their travel, without taking out a fresh license for that district, under such rules and restrictions as may be from time to time prescribed by the Board.

Fee, tax, or duty payable for retail license.

26. Every person taking out a license for the retail sale of spirituous and fermented liquors as aforesaid shall pay for every such license such fee, tax, or duty as may from time to time be fixed with the sanction of the Board, or a fee, tax, or duty adjusted or regulated in such manner and in accordance with such rules as the Board may prescribe; and such fee, tax, or duty shall be specified in the license, and shall be payable in advance or at such periods as the Board may direct. Any sale of spirituous or fermented liquors as aforesaid in less quantity than two imperial gallons or one dozen of reputed quart bottles shall be held to be a retail sale.

What to be held a retail sale.

Country spirits, liquors, and drugs not to be manufactured or sold without license.

27. It shall not be lawful for any person to manufacture spirits after the native process, or such other spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs as the Board, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, may specify, nor to sell such spirits, liquors, or drugs, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or to cultivate plants from which introxicating drugs are produced, except under license from the Collector.

Taree to be held to be a fermented liquor.

28. All the provisions relating to the sale or possession of fermented liquors contained in the following sections of this Part shall be held applicable to the sale or possession of taree, whether in a fermented state or otherwise; and all taree, both fresh and fermented, shall be held to be included in the expression "fermented liquors" as used in the following sections of this Part:

Provided that the local Government may, on the report of the Board, pass an order suspending the operation of all the provisions relating to taree contained in this Part with respect to any district in which the consumption of taree in a fermented state is inconsiderable; and after the passing of any such order, it shall be lawful for taree to be possessed and sold without license in any such district, notwithstanding anything contained in this Part.

Collectors may establish distilleries for country spirits.

29. The Collector, with the sanction of the Board, may establish at any place within his jurisdiction a distillery in which spirits may be manufactured after the native process, and may from time to time fix limits within which no country spirits, except such as are manufactured at the said distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a special pass from the Collector, and within which no stills shall be constructed or worked, or spirits manufactured, except at the said distillery. He may also, with the like sanction, discontinue any distillery so established whenever its discontinuance may appear to be expedient.

Board may prescribe rules for distilleries.

30. The Board may prescribe such rules relative to the management of distilleries established under the last preceding section, to the conditions on which spirits may be manufactured in the said distilleries, and to the passes to be issued for the conveyance of such spirits to the shops of the vendors as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Board may prescribe rules to regulate the supply of fermented liquors to licensed vendors, and the cultivation, preparation, storing, possession, and transport of intoxicating drugs.

31. The Board may, with the sanction of the Local Government, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, from time to time prescribe rules consistent with this Act—for regulating the mode in which fermented liquors shall be supplied to licensed vendors of the same;

for subjecting the cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, and the preparation of the said drugs, to such restrictions and supervision as may be deemed necessary to secure the duty leviable thereon;

and for granting licenses or passes to persons cultivating, preparing, storing, possessing, purchasing, or transporting the said plants or drugs.

All such rules shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and when so published, shall have effect as if they were contained in this Act.

Sale of more than specified quantities of country spirits, &c., prohibited.

32. Except for the supply of licensed vendors, country spirits, taree, and puchwai, and intoxicating drugs shall not be sold in larger quantities than may be fixed by the Board for each district, provided that the quantities so to be fixed shall not exceed those hereunder specified—namely, country spirits, two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles; taree or puchwai, twelve seers; ganjah or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, one quarter of a seer; churrus or any preparation or admixture of the same, five tolahs weight; and the sale of any such quantity as is herein allowed shall be deemed to be a retail sale within the meaning of this Part.

Power of excise officers to enter and inspect licensed dealer's shop.

33. The Collector may by a warrant under his hand authorize any excise officer above the rank of a peon to enter and inspect at all times, by day or by night, and may similarly authorize any excise officer to enter and inspect at all times, by day, the shop or premises in which any licensed manufacturer or retail vendor shall carry on the manufacture of country spirits, or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquor or intoxicating drugs.

And to arrest persons carrying spirits, &c., liable to confiscation.

34. The Collector, by a warrant under his hand, may authorize any excise officer to stop and detain all persons carrying any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part; and any excise officer so authorized may seize such liquors or drugs with the vessels, packages, or coverings in which they are contained, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, and may also arrest the person in whose possession such liquors or drugs are found.

And to arrest unlicensed distillers, &c.

35. Any excise officer above the rank of a peon may arrest any person having in his possession an unlicensed still, or any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, and may seize such still with the materials for working it, and all such liquors and drugs.

And to search on information of illicit manufacture or possession.

36. Whenever any excise officer above the rank of a peon shall have good reason to believe, from information given by any person, which information shall be taken down in writing, that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed in any house, boat, or other place, such officer may, but always in the presence of an officer of police not being under the grade of a head constable, enter into any such house, boat, or place, and in case of resistance may break open any door and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, and may seize and carry away all stills and materials used in the manufacture of such spirits and all such liquors and drugs, and may also arrest the occupier of the house, boat, or place with all other persons concerned in the manufacture of such spirits, or in the keeping and concealing of such liquors or drugs.

Officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments may be vested with same powers as excise officers.

37. The Local Government may invest the officers of the Police, Customs, and Revenue Departments, or of any of them, with the powers given to excise officers by the last three preceding sections with respect to the seizure of and search for spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs, and the arrest of persons found in possession of them; and all such officers when so empowered shall be held and deemed to be excise officers within the meaning of this Part.

Excise officer to report every arrest, seizure or search to his official superior, and to take the person arrested to the Magistrate for trial, &c.

38. Whenever an excise officer shall make any arrest, seizure, or search under this Part, he shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report of all the particulars of the same to his official superior, and, unless acting under the warrant of the Collector, shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit article seized, with all convenient despatch to a Magistrate for trial or adjudication.

Collector may issue warrant of arrest in certain cases.

39. The Collector may issue his warrant for the arrest of any person whom he may have reason to believe, either from information in writing or from the proceedings in any other case, to be engaged in the unlawful sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs or to have in his possession any such liquors or drugs liable to confiscation under this Part.

Seizure and disposal of liquors or drugs unlawfully sold.

40. Any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs sold in contravention of the provisions of this Part, or in breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act, may be seized at the time of the sale and brought before the Magistrate who adjudicates the case. As soon as the case is adjudicated, they shall be restored to the person who may have purchased them or disposed of as the Magistrate may direct.

Collector may issue search-warrant.

41. The Collector may issue his warrant for the search of any house, boat, or other place in which, upon any of the grounds mentioned in section 39, he may have reason to believe that spirits are unlawfully manufactured, or that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed; and such warrant may be executed by any officer not being under the rank of a head constable in the manner prescribed in section 36: provided that where there is ground to suspect that such spirits, liquors, or drugs are unlawfully concealed in any zenana, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall follow as closely as may be the rules for the seizure of property so concealed contained in sections 384, 385, and 386 of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure).

Procedure after arrest or seizure.

42. Whenever any person is arrested or any articles are seized under the warrant of a Collector, the Collector, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, shall send the person arrested or the articles seized to a Magistrate, or shall order the immediate discharge of such person or the release of such articles.

Police officers to assist excise officers on request.

43. All police officers are required to aid the excise officers in the due execution of this Part upon notice given or request made by such officers.

Farm of Duties.

Collector with the sanction of the Board may farm out the duties.

44. The Collector may, with the sanction of the Board, and under such rules as the Local Government may prescribe, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, let in farm the duties leviable on the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or any description of such liquors or drugs, in any pergunnah or other known division of a district.

Penalties.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by Board.

45. Every person who by any act or omission shall contravene any rule issued and sanctioned under the provisions of section 31 shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for refusing to produce license on demand of excise officer or for breach of license.

46. Every manufacturer or vendor under this Part who shall not produce his license on the demand of any excise officer, or who shall commit any act in breach of any of the conditions of his license not otherwise provided for in this Part, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant employed by him.

Penalty for sale in contravention of license.

47. Every licensed retail vendor who shall sell any larger quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs than is allowed to be sold by retail by the provisions of this Part, and every licensed wholesale vendor who shall make a retail sale, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing in this section shall be held to prohibit the grant to the same person of both wholesale and retail licenses, subject to the provisions of this Part.

Penalty for permitting drunkenness, &c., in shop.

48. Every licensed vendor who shall permit drunkenness, riot, or gaming in his shop, or shall receive any wearing apparel or other effects in barter for liquors or drugs, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for conveying country spirits from distillery without pass, &c.

49. Every person who shall convey, or attempt to convey, any country spirits from a distillery established under section 29 without a pass, or exceeding the quantity for which a pass shall have been granted, or shall introduce, or attempt to introduce, any country spirits manufactured at another place into the limits fixed for the consumption of spirits manufactured at such distillery, without a special pass from the Collector, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for contravention of rules prescribed by the Board.

50. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board for the management of a distillery established as aforesaid, otherwise than is provided in the last preceding section, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Penalty for illicit manufacture or sale of country spirits, &c.

51. Every person, other than a licensed manufacturer, who shall manufacture any country spirits, and every person, other than a licensed vendor or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall sell any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, and every person authorized to supply licensed vendors who shall sell any such liquors or drugs to any person other than a licensed vendor, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Provided that nothing contained in this section or in section 24 shall apply to the sale of any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use and so disposed of upon such person quitting a station or after his decease.

Penalty for illegal possession of country spirits, &c.

52. Every person, other than a licensed manufacturer or vendor, or a person duly authorized to supply licensed vendors, who shall have in his possession any larger quantity of country spirits, or taree, or puchwai, or intoxicating drugs than may legally be sold by retail under the provisions of section 32, or shall transport by land or by water, or have in his possession, any spirituous liquors made at a distillery worked according to the English method, or any imported spirituous or fermented liquors, in larger quantity than two gallons, without a pass from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and the liquors and drugs, together with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which they are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them shall be liable to confiscation.

Nothing contained in this section shall apply to any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use and not for sale.

Provisions of the last two preceding sections not to apply to the sale or possession of taree used in making sugar, nor to the sale or possession of intoxicating drugs by licensed cultivators.

53. The provisions of the last two preceding sections, so far as they relate to the sale and possession of fermented liquors, do not apply to the sale and possession of taree, the produce of the date tree, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses;

and the provisions of the said sections relating to the sale and possession of intoxicating drugs do not apply to the sale or possession of such drugs by any person duly authorized under this Chapter to cultivate the plants which produce these drugs:

Penalty for sale or transfer by cultivators to unlicensed person, or for failure to account for stock of plant in possession.

provided that every such cultivator selling or parting with any such plant, or any preparation made therefrom, to any person other than a licensed vendor or person duly authorized to purchase the same by pass or license from the Collector, or failing to account for any quantity of such plant, or of any preparation thereof, which shall have been in his possession shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty for conniving at the illicit manufacture or sale of spirits, &c.

54. Every proprietor, farmer, tehsildar, gomashtah, or other manager of land who shall authorize or connive at the manufacture of country spirits or the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on police officer not assisting excise officer.

55. Any police officer who, without lawful excuse, shall neglect or refuse to assist the excise officers as aforesaid, and any Inspector or other officer in charge of a police-station who, on application made by an excise officer under section 43, shall fail to attend a search himself or to depute a subordinate officer not being below the grade of a head constable, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise officer for vexatious search or seizure.

56. Any excise officer who shall, without reasonable ground of suspicion, search, or cause to be searched, any house, boat, or other place, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for any spirituous liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person, or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, which sum, or any portion thereof, may be paid to the person aggrieved.

Penalty on excise officer for delay in reporting arrest, &c., or in carrying person arrested to Magistrate or Collector.

57. Any excise officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, or shall delay carrying to a Magistrate or to the Collector, as the case may be, any person arrested or any illicit articles seized under this Part, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise officer for conniving at unlicensed manufacture or sale.

58. Any excise officer who shall connive at the manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, or by any licensed person contrary to the terms of his license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty for the purpose of enabling any person to do anything whereby any of the provisions of this Part may be evaded or broken or the excise revenue defrauded; and any Inspector of Police or other officer invested with local jurisdiction who shall authorize or connive at the establishment of any unlicensed shop for the sale of such liquors or drugs as aforesaid in any place subject to his control, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Adjudication of penalties and seizures.

59. All penalties prescribed for offences against the provisions of this Part, and all seizures of goods declared liable to confiscation under this Part, shall be adjudged by a Magistrate on the information of the Collector or any excise officer; and in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be liable, by order of such Magistrate, to imprisonment.

Provided that no such information shall be necessary in any case of complaint preferred to a Magistrate under any of the last four preceding sections or under section 48.

Procedure in cases other than those of persons sent in custody by a Collector or excise officer.

60. In all cases in which complaint of information is preferred to a Magistrate of offences committed against the provisions of this Part, not being cases in which persons are sent in custody by a Collector or excise officer, the Magistrate shall issue a summons requiring the attendance of the person accused.

Provided that no complaint or information of an offence against the provisions of this Part shall be admitted unless it be preferred within the period of six months after the commission of the offence to which the complaint or information refers.

Punishment on second or subsequent conviction.

61. Whenever any person shall be convicted of an offence against the provisions of this Part, after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Imprisonment may be in the civil or criminal jail.

62. Every person who shall be imprisoned under the last preceding section, or on account of the non-payment of any fine levied under this Part, may be confined either in the civil or in the criminal jail.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

63. All articles confiscated under this Part shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board, with the sanction of the Local Government, subject to the confirmation of the Governor-General in Council, may prescribe in that behalf.

Disposal of fines.

64. The Board may appropriate any portion, not exceeding one half, of the fines levied under this Part, the disposal of which is not specially provided for, for rewarding informers, or for compensating persons subjected to annoyance or injury by any proceedings under this Part.

Offences to be tried under Criminal Procedure Code.

65. All offences punishable under this Part shall be enquired into and tried under the provisions of section eight of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure).

Penalty for unlicensed cultivation of plants producing intoxicating drugs, and abetment of the same.

66. Any person who without a license from the Collector shall cultivate plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, or shall in any way cause, encourage, or promote such illegal cultivation shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and the plant so cultivated shall be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Military Cantonments.

Rules respecting the manufacture and sale of spirits, &c., in military cantonments.

67. Within the limits of any military cantonment, and within a circle drawn at a distance of two miles, or such other distance as may in any case be prescribed by the Local Government from such limits, licenses for the manufacture of spirits, and for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs shall not be granted, nor shall the duties leviable upon such spirits, liquors or drugs be let in farm, otherwise than with the knowledge and consent of the Commanding Officer, and upon the requisition of such officer, any license which may have been granted, either by the Collector or by a farmer, within such circle or limits, shall be immediately withdrawn.

Mode of making arrest or search within military cantonments.

68. In all other respects the foregoing provisions of this Part shall have full force, and effect within such circle and limits as aforesaid:

Provided that, when arrest or search is to be made within the limits of any cantonment, the Collector or other officer authorized under this Part to make arrest or search shall, whenever it may be practicable, give previous notice to the Commanding Officer, and in all other cases shall report the arrest or search to such Commanding Officer with as little delay as possible.

Provided also that nothing contained in this Part shall affect or interfere with the provisions of Act XXII of 1864 (an Act to make provision for the Administration of Military Cantonments).

PART IV.—CALCUTTA.

Excise Administration.

What to be deemed a retail sale.

69. A sale of beer, wines, or spirits in any quantity not exceeding two gallons, or of Bengal rum or country spirit in any quantity not exceeding two imperial gallons or twelve reputed quart bottles, or of taree in any quantity not exceeding twelve seers, or of ganjah or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity not exceeding one quarter of a seer, or of churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in any quantity not exceeding the weight of five tolahs, shall be deemed a retail sale within the meaning of this Part.

Sale of larger quantities than those specified prohibited.

70. The sale of Bengal rum, or country spirit, or of taree, or of ganjah, or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or of churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in quantities larger than those specified for each article in the last preceding section is prohibited.

Excise from retail sale of spirits, &c., in Calcutta to be under charge of the Collector of Calcutta.

71. The collection of the revenue arising from the retail sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs within the Town shall be under the charge of the Collector of Calcutta, who shall perform the duties connected therewith under the control of the Commissioner and the Board, and all proceedings of the Collector held under this Part shall be subject, with or without appeal, to their revision.

Collector may appoint excise officers.

72. The Collector may appoint such officers as are necessary for the collection of the said revenue and prevention of smuggling; and the officers so appointed, beside their ordinary respective designations, shall be styled "Excise Officers."

Liquors or drugs sold may be seized at the time of the sale.

73. Any such liquors or drugs sold in contravention of the provisions of this Part, or in breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act, may be seized at the time of the sale and brought before the Presidency Magistrate or Justice of the Peace who adjudicates the case. As soon as the case is adjudicated, they shall be restored to the person who may have purchased them, or disposed of as the said Magistrate or Justice may direct.

Power of excise officers to enter and inspect licensed dealer's house, &c.

74. The Collector may, by a warrant under his hand, authorize any excise officer above the rank of a peon or chuprassy to enter and inspect at all times, by day or by night, and may similarly authorize any excise officer to enter and inspect at all times by day, all houses and shops in which licensed dealers may carry on the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs.

And to arrest persons in possession of contraband liquors or drugs, and to seize the same.

75. Any excise or police officer may stop, detain, or arrest any person in whose possession may be found any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs not covered by such a pass as is required by this Act, or otherwise liable to confiscation, and may seize the liquors and drugs, with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which the liquors or drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances (if any) used in carrying them.

Powers of search, seizure, and arrest vested in excise officers, under the authority of the Collector, in cases of illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

76. Whenever the Collector has good reason to believe, either from information given by any person, which shall be taken down in writing, or from his own knowledge, or from the proceedings in any case, that spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs are being unlawfully manufactured or sold in any place, or that any such liquors or drugs which are liable to confiscation under this Part are kept or concealed in any place,

the Collector may, by warrant under his hand empower any excise officer above the rank of peon by day or by night, but always in the presence of an officer of police not being under the grade of a corporal or head constable, to enter into any such place, and to seize and carry away all such liquors or drugs, and all the implements or materials used in the manufacture thereof, and in case of resistance, to break open any door, and to force and remove any other obstacle to such entry, search, seizure, or removal as aforesaid, and to arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in the unlawful manufacture or sale, or in the unlawfully keeping or concealing of such liquors or drugs, whom he shall find on the premises:

provided that, where there is ground to suspect that such liquors or drugs are unlawfully concealed in any zenana, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall follow as closely as may be, the rules for the seizure of property so concealed contained in sections 164, 165, and 166 of Act IV of 1877 (the Presidency Magistrates' Act).

Similar powers to be exercised by certain police officers.

77. The powers of seizure, search, and arrest given to excise officers by the last preceding section shall also be exercised by any police officers who may be specially selected by the Commissioner of Police for such purpose; and the powers which are conferred upon the Collector by the said section, as regards the issue of warrants directed to excise officers, shall also be vested in the Commissioner of Police in respect of the issue of warrants directed to police officers selected in the manner aforesaid;

provided that it shall not be competent to the Collector to issue a warrant directed to a police officer, nor shall it be competent to the Commissioner of Police to issue a warrant directed to an excise officer.

Police officer to carry the person arrested and the articles seized to a Presidency Magistrate and to report to the Commissioner of Police.

Commissioner to inform Collector.

78. Whenever any such police officer shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, he shall carry the person arrested, or the illicit articles seized, or both, as the case may be, with all convenient despatch to a Presidency Magistrate, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Commissioner of Police; and the Commissioner of Police shall at once inform the Collector of the fact of the arrest or seizure, and of the circumstances of the case, and the Presidency Magistrate shall proceed to adjudicate the case according to law.

Police officers to assist excise officers on request.

79. All constables and other police officers are required to assist the excise officers in the due execution of this Part upon notice given or request made by any such excise officer.

Excise officer making arrest or seizure, or searching a house, to carry the person and property to the Collector. Collector may release or send to a Justice.

80. Whenever any excise officer duly authorized under this Part shall arrest any person, or shall seize any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or shall enter any house or shop for the purpose of searching for such illicit articles, he shall carry the person arrested, with the illicit articles seized, with all convenient despatch to the Collector, and shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, make a full report to the Collector of all the particulars of such arrest, seizure, or search; and the Collector, after such further inquiry as he deems necessary, shall forthwith either release the person arrested or send him in custody to a Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta.

Excise or police officer may arrest persons drinking, and seize liquors drunk on the premises.

81. Any excise or police officer above the rank of peon or constable who may have reason to believe that any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah between sunset and sunrise allows spirituous or fermented liquors which have not been bonâ fide medicated to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, may enter upon such premises and seize and carry away such liquors, and in case of resistance break open any door and force and remove any other obstacle to such entry or seizure, and arrest and detain the owner or occupier of the said premises, with all parties whom he suspects to be concerned in such unlawful drinking; and upon such seizure or arrest as aforesaid, the excise officer and Collector shall deal with such liquors or persons as provided in the last preceding section, and the police officer and a Presidency Magistrate or other Magistrate having jurisdiction shall deal with them as provided in section 78.

Seizure to be determined summarily by Justice on information exhibited by order of the Collector.

82. Whenever any property shall be seized by an excise officer as liable to confiscation under this Part, such seizure shall, upon information exhibited by order of the Collector, be heard and determined in a summary way by any Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta; and such Justice shall cause the persons to whom such property belongs to be summoned to appear before him, and upon their appearance or default shall examine into the cause of the seizure thereof and give judgment; and if such judgment shall be for confiscation of the property seized, shall issue his warrant to the Collector for the sale or disposal thereof, according to such orders as the Collector may receive from the Board.

If no claimant appear before the Collector within a month after the seizure, Justice may confiscate the goods.

83. Whenever any property shall be seized as aforesaid, and within one calendar month no person shall appear before the Collector to claim the same, the Justice shall examine into the cause of the seizure at a place and time of which notice shall have been given by the Collector in the Calcutta Gazette and in some conspicuous part of the place where the property was seized, and give judgment for the confiscation of such portion of the property as, upon such examination, shall appear to him liable to forfeiture; and upon confiscation thereof, shall issue his warrant for the disposal of the same as if the owner had been summoned to attend the said Justice.

Actions for anything done under this Part to be commenced within three months, and one month's notice to be given.

84. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against the Collector or any excise officer, or any person acting in aid of any such officer, for anything done in pursuance of the provisions of this Part shall be commenced within three calendar months after the fact committed, and not afterwards, and notice in writing of such action, and of the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action brought, or, if after action brought, a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into court, with costs, by or on behalf of the defendant.

Penalties.

Penalty for unlicensed manufacture or sale of spirits, liquors, or drugs.

85. Every person who shall manufacture or sell by retail any spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs specified in this Part within the Town without a license from the Collector shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every such manufacture or sale; but this enactment shall not apply to the sale by wholesale dealers of such small quantities of beer, wines, or spirits as may appear to the Collector to be used only as samples.

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall affect the arrangements under which taree is supplied to retail vendors, or the sale of such article, or any preparation of the same, when supplied or used for the manufacture of goor or molasses.

Provided also that nothing contained in this section shall apply to the sale of any spirituous liquors, wines, or beer purchased by any person for his private use, and so disposed of upon such person quitting Calcutta or after his decease.

Penalty for selling Bengal rum, &c., in excess of quantity specified.

86. Every person who shall sell Bengal rum, or country spirit, or taree, or ganjah, or bhang, or any preparation or admixture of the same, or churrus, or any preparation or admixture of the same, in quantities larger than those specified in section 69, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; but this prohibition does not apply to the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs imported into Calcutta under passes from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf and supplied by wholesale to licensed retail dealers, or to the sale of Bengal rum under bond for exportation by sea.

Penalty in addition to forfeiture for breach of conditions of license. Dealer responsible for default of his servant.

87. A breach of any of the conditions of a license granted under this Act (whether committed by a licensed dealer or by any person in his employ) shall, beside entailing forfeiture of the license, be punishable by a fine not exceeding fifty rupees; and such fine shall be recoverable from the licensed dealer, notwithstanding that such breach may have been owing to the default or carelessness of the servant or other person employed in the shop.

Penalty for possessing a greater than the specified quantity of liquors, &c., without license or pass.

88. Any person, not being a licensed dealer, having in his possession, and any person carrying within the Town, any greater quantity of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs above specified, or any preparation or admixture of the same, except beer, wines, and spirits, than the quantity specified for each article in section nine, and not being protected by a pass or permit from the Collector or other officer duly empowered in that behalf, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Additional penalties for illicit manufacture, sale, or possession of liquors or drugs.

89. Besides the penalties above specified for the illicit manufacture, sale, possession, and carrying of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, all the materials and implements used or intended to be used in the manufacture of the same, and all the liquors or drugs so manufactured, and all such liquors and drugs found in the possession of any offender contrary to the provisions of this Part, shall be seized and confiscated; and the vessels, packages, and coverings in which such liquors and drugs are found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall also be liable to seizure and confiscation.

Penalty on excise or police officer delaying to carry person arrested or articles seized to Collector or Magistrate.

90. Any excise officer who shall delay carrying to the Collector, and any police officer who shall delay carrying to a Presidency Magistrate, any person arrested or any illicit articles seized under this Part, and any excise or police officer who shall neglect to report the particulars of an arrest, seizure, or search within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty on excise or police officer for vexatious seizure or arrest.

91. Any excise or police officer who shall, without reasonable ground of suspicion, search or cause to be searched any house, boat, or other place, or shall vexatiously and unnecessarily seize the goods or chattels of any person, on the pretence of seizing or searching for illicit spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs liable to confiscation under this Part, or who shall vexatiously and unnecessarily arrest any person or commit any other excess not required for the execution of his duty, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, which sum, or any portion thereof, may be paid to the person aggrieved.

Penalty on excise or police officer for connivance.

92. Any excise or police officer who shall connive at the manufacture or sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs by any unlicensed person, or by any licensed person contrary to the terms of his license, or act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, for the purpose of enabling any person to do any thing whereby any of the provisions of this Part may be evaded or broken or the excise revenue defrauded, and any Inspector of Police or other officer invested with local jurisdiction who shall authorize or connive at the establishment of any unlicensed shop for the sale of such liquors or drugs as aforesaid in any place subject to his control, shall be liable for any such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Penalty on police officer not assisting excise officer.

93. Any police officer who, without lawful excuse, shall neglect or refuse to assist the excise officer as aforesaid, on being required to do so, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Fines to be adjudged by Justice or Magistrate, but not after three months from date of offence.

94. All fines leviable under this Part shall be adjudged by any Justice of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta upon information exhibited before such Justice by order of the Collector, or shall be adjudged by a Presidency Magistrate, if the case is tried by such Magistrate under section 78, and in default of payment of any fine to which an offender is adjudged, he shall be imprisoned in the common jail; and no proceedings shall be taken under this section by any such Justice or Magistrate after the expiration of three calendar months from the date of the offence by which the fine was incurred.

Additional penalty for second or subsequent offence.

95. Whenever any person shall be convicted before any such Justice or before a Presidency Magistrate of an offence against the provisions of this Part after having been previously convicted of a like offence, he shall be liable, in addition to the penalty attached to such offence, to imprisonment in the criminal jail for a period not exceeding six months; and a like punishment of imprisonment not exceeding six months shall be incurred, in addition to the punishment which may be inflicted for a first offence, upon every subsequent conviction after the second.

Disposal of confiscated articles.

96. All articles confiscated under this Part shall be disposed of by public sale under such rules as the Board may prescribe in that behalf.

Commissioner may call for the proceedings within one month after judgment, and may give relief.

97. When any penalty or confiscation shall be adjudged by a Justice of the Peace under this Part, the Commissioner and, in his absence, the Board, within one month after judgment given, may call for the proceedings of the case (with which requisition the Justice of the Peace shall be bound to comply), and, if he or they shall see cause, may direct that the articles seized, or any part thereof, be restored and may remit or mitigate any penalty and discharge the party.

Penalty on chemist, &c., allowing liquors to be drunk on the premises.

98. Any chemist, druggist, apothecary, or keeper of a dispensary within the Town or the Suburbs or in Howrah, who shall between sunset and sunrise allow spirituous or fermented liquors which have not been bonâ fide medicated to be drunk on his business premises by any person not employed in his business, and any such person who shall between sunset and sunrise drink such liquors on such premises, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be liable under this Part or any other Act.

PART V.

Miscellaneous.

Provisions relating to puchwai applicable to fermented liquors not mentioned in the Chapter.

99. All the provisions of Parts II and III which relate to puchwai shall apply to any fermented liquor other than those specified in the said Parts.

Provided that the Local Government may, within any specified district or tract of country, exempt any fermented liquor from the provisions of the said Parts.

Rules to be observed in the exportation of spirits.

100. Spirits brought to the Custom House for exportation by sea shall, previous to shipment, be gauged and proved by an officer of the Customs. The amount of drawback to be allowed upon spirits for which duty has been paid shall be regulated according to the strength and quantity of the said spirits as ascertained by such proof and gauge, and the quantity of spirits for which credit is to be given in the settlement of any bond shall be determined in the same manner. Spirits under bond shall be taken from the distillery direct to the Custom House under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector.

Duty to be recovered on any deficiency in spirits under bond.

101. When spirits are passed from a distillery under bond, duty shall be recoverable upon any difference between the quantity of spirits so passed from the distillery and the quantity ascertained by gauge and proof at the Custom House, less such allowance for ullage and leakage as may be prescribed by the Board.

Spirits intended for exportation may be removed for local consumption.

102. Spirits brought to the Custom House under bond for exportation may nevertheless be removed for local consumption under passes to be granted for that purpose by the Collector of Revenue upon payment of the prescribed duty on the quantity so removed, and credit for such payment shall be given on the settlement of the bond.

Recovery of sums due under bond.

103. Any sum which may remain due to Government upon the settlement of a bond executed according to the provisions of this Part may be recovered by any process which is or may be in force for the recovery of arrears of revenue due from farmers of land or their sureties, or by suit on the bond in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Spirits how to be shipped.

104. No drawback shall be allowed on any duty-paid spirits, nor shall the duty due on any spirits under bond be remitted, unless the spirits shall be shipped from the Custom House, and upon a vessel to which a Custom House officer has been appointed to superintend the receipt of export cargo.

Spirits shipped for exportation not to be relanded.

Spirits shipped for exportation shall not be relanded without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue in addition to the usual order of the Collector of Customs.

No drawback on spirits exported to Indian ports or shipped as stores.

105. No drawback shall be allowed on spirits exported to any port subject to the Government of India, except the Port of Aden, or on spirits shipped as stores.

Rum shrub, &c., how to be charged with duty—may be exported under the same rules as spirits.

106. Rum shrub, cordials, and other liquors prepared in a licensed distillery under the supervision of the surveyor or officer in charge of the distillery shall be charged with duty according to the quantity of spirit used in the preparation, and all the provisions contained in this Act respecting spirits manufactured after the English method, except such as relate to gauge and proof, shall be applicable to such liquors. When any such liquors are removed for exportation without payment of duty, the bonds to be executed by the persons removing them shall be in the form contained in the first schedule to this Act.

Penalty for irregular reland of spirituous liquors.

107. Every person who shall reland, or attempt to reland, any spirituous liquors shipped for exportation without a special pass from the Collector of Revenue at the place of exportation shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; and the liquors, together with the casks and vessels containing the same, and the carts, boats, and animals employed in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Spirits from foreign territory subject to duty.

108. Spirituous liquors manufactured at the foreign settlement of Chandernagore, or at any other place in India beyond the limits of British India, shall, on passing the limits of the territories to which this Part applies, be charged with the duty prescribed for proof spirits; and any person who may be found in possession of any such liquors without a pass from the Collector certifying the payment of such duty shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and the liquors, together with the vessels containing the same, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying them, shall be liable to confiscation.

Construction or working of breweries and manufacture of malt liquor without license prohibited.

109. It shall not be lawful for any person to construct or work a brewery or to manufacture any description of malt liquor without a license from the Collector of the district. The Board may prescribe such rules relative to the granting of licenses for constructing and working breweries as may from time to time be judged expedient.

Penalty.

110. Every person who shall construct or work a brewery, or manufacture malt liquor, without a license, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.

111. When any person is sentenced to pay any fine under this Act, the Justice of the Peace or Magistrate shall award a period of imprisonment in default of payment thereof. Any such fine shall be recoverable, except in Calcutta, in the manner prescribed by section three hundred and seven of Act X of 1872 (the Code of Criminal Procedure), and in Calcutta in the manner prescribed by section 185 of Act IV of 1877 (the Presidency Magistrates' Act).

Penalty for contempt of Court.

112. The Collector, in respect of the duties to be performed by him under this Act, shall have power to punish any contempt committed in his presence in open court by fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment in the civil jail for a period not exceeding one month.

Appeals from orders passed under the Act.

113. An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner against every order of a Collector under this Act, if presented to the Commissioner, or to the Collector for transmission to the Commissioner, within thirty days of the date of the order appealed against.

An appeal shall lie to the Board against every order of a Commissioner under this Act, if presented to the Board within sixty days of the date of the order appealed against.

Provided that it shall be discretional with the Board to receive appeals direct from orders passed by a Collector.

Local Government may assign to any Municipality the granting of licenses.

114. Notwithstanding anything in this or in any other Act contained, the Local Government may, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, assign to the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, or to any other Municipality, such functions and powers as it shall think fit in respect to the granting, withholding, and withdrawal of licenses for the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors and intoxicating drugs (being functions and powers which, but for such assignment, might legally be exercised by any officer of Government), to be exercised by such Corporation or by such Municipality within the limits of their respective jurisdictions under such conditions and subject to such rules as the Local Government may impose; and the Local Government may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which it has assigned under the provisions of this section.

Provided that such functions and powers shall not be assigned as aforesaid without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned:

Provided also that no such conditions or rules shall be imposed by the Local Government after such assignment has taken place without the consent of the said Corporation or the Municipality concerned.

Division of fine or forfeiture among excise and police officers and others.

115. Whenever any fine or forfeiture is levied from a person convicted of the unlawful manufacture of spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs, or of the unlawful sale, purchase, or possession of such liquors or drugs, or of the unlawful cultivation of plants from which intoxicating drugs are produced, the Magistrate who adjudicates the case shall direct the amount of fine or forfeiture to be divided in such proportions as he may think fit between any persons (whether they be excise or police officers or otherwise) who were instrumental in the detection of the offence, the seizure of the articles in respect of which the offence was committed, or the capture of the offender. The Magistrate shall also determine the proportions in which the proceeds of the sale of the confiscated articles shall be distributed among the said persons.

Procedure when confiscated article is sold for a price which includes duty leviable.

Provided that if any confiscated articles shall have been sold or may be sold by the Collector for a price which includes the duty leviable on the said article, such amount as the Collector may determine to represent such duty shall be deducted from the sale proceeds and credited to Government, and the remainder only of the price realized by the sale shall be deemed to be sale proceeds to be distributed under the order of the said Magistrate.

Board may grant rewards.

116. The Board may, either before or after the adjudication of the case, grant such reasonable reward, not exceeding two hundred rupees, as to them may seem fit, and may direct the same to be divided in such proportions as they may think fit between any persons (whether they be excise or police officers or otherwise) who were instrumental in the detection of the offence, the seizure of the articles in respect of which the offence was committed, or the capture of the offender; and any sum which may have been so paid to any person before the adjudication of the case may be taken into account as a part of the whole of the payment which may be awarded by a Magistrate to such person under the last preceding section.

Saving of Consolidated Customs Act.

117. Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to affect the provisions of Act VI of 1863, the Consolidated Customs Act.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

(See Section 106.)

Number and year.	Subject.	Extent of repeal.
Act XI of 1849 ...	For securing the abkaree revenue of Calcutta.	So much as has not been repealed.
Act XXI of 1856 ...	To consolidate and amend the Abkaree law in Bengal.	So much as has not been repealed.

PART II.—ACTS OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL IN COUNCIL.

Number and year.	Subject.	Extent of repeal.
Act III of 1873 ...	To amend Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856.	The whole.
Act I of 1874 ...	To amend Act XXI of 1856 and Bengal Act II of 1866.	So far as relate to Act XXI of 1856.
Act II of 1876 ...	To amend Act XI of 1849, Act XXI of 1856, and Bengal Act IV of 1866.	The whole, except section 12.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE law of excise in Bengal is principally contained in two Acts of the Governor-General in Council, Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856, the former dealing exclusively with the town of Calcutta and the latter applying to the Mofussil, with the exception of some sections which are in force alike in Calcutta and the other territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal. To these enactments must be added Bengal Act II of 1876, which made some material alterations in Act XI of 1849 and Act XXI of 1856, and also two short Acts of the Bengal Council, Act III of 1873 and Act I of 1874, containing some minor amendments of the same Acts.

The object of the present Bill is to consolidate the five abovementioned Acts into one enactment, and thus to reproduce in a more convenient and accessible form the law as it now stands.

The Bill as now introduced differs in some respects from that which was passed by the Council last year, but which failed to obtain the assent of the Governor-General. The provisions which barred suits for tippling debts in Calcutta, the Suburbs, and Howrah have been omitted. The sections regulating the farming of duties leviable on the retail sale of liquors and drugs have also been struck out, as dealing with matters which will be more conveniently provided for by rules of the local Government. Where liquors and drugs are suspected to be concealed in a Calcutta zenana, the officer charged with the execution of a warrant will follow the rules contained in the Presidency Magistrates' Act for the seizure of property so concealed. The provisions of section 185 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act have been made applicable to the recovery of fines in Calcutta. The Bill has been also somewhat condensed and its arrangement simplified.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE LAW RELATING TO THE EXCISE REVENUE.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS moved for leave to bring in a Bill to consolidate the law relating to the Excise Revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal. He said, it would be in the recollection of hon'ble members that [illegible] question of the consolidation of the Excise Law was under the consideration [illegible] the Council last year, and that eventually a Bill was passed and submitted for the approval of the Governor-General. The Governor-General, however, considered it necessary to withhold his assent from the Bill, as he was advised that the Bill as passed by the Council interfered with the jurisdiction of the High Court and the Small Cause Court, and that it was not within the competence of this Council to pass such a Bill. The offending section was merely [illegible] reproduction of section 8 of Bengal Act II of 1876; it was based on the English Tippling Act, and prohibited the recovery of petty debts on account [illegible] liquors and drugs by action in the civil courts. This provision of law was found to work exceedingly well in England, and he believed it would operate beneficially in Calcutta. But there was no doubt that the section as it stood did interfere with the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court, and might interfere with the jurisdiction of the High Court. The only excuse the Council could have was that the section was originally suggested to them by a Judge of the Small Cause Court, and that the measure itself merely reproduced a section of the existing law of the land at the present moment. However, the Bill having been vetoed, the opportunity had been taken not only to remove the offending section, but also to make some changes in the arrangement of the Bill and to introduce a few alterations. If the Council would be pleased to grant him leave to introduce the Bill, he hoped to be able to bring in the Bill at the next meeting of the Council.

The motion was agreed to.

POWERS OF SETTLEMENT OFFICERS AS TO ENHANCEMENT OF RENT.

The Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to define and limit the powers of Settlement Officers in respect to the enhancement of rent be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee. The report had been circulated and published, and it explained the object and intention of the Bill. In section 3 the Committee considered that the words as they stood in the original draft regarding "the superior Revenue authorities were perhaps ambiguous, and they thought it desirable to introduce words which should distinctly recognise the practice by which the Government from time to time prescribed who should be the authority empowered to sanction settlement proceedings. Perhaps it would be convenient that he should state somewhat more fully how the matter stood. As far as he was aware, there was no provision of law which prescribed who should be the authority to sanction settlement proceedings. Of course in settlement cases, as in other cases, an appeal was allowed from the Collector to the Commissioner, from the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue, and from the Board to the Government; but [illegible] cases which were not appealed, the power to sanction the settlement depended not upon any express provision of law, but on the executive orders of the Government. Up to the year 1871, the rule in this matter was that the Collector had power to sanction all settlements in which the revenue did not exceed Rs 500, and that settlements involving a revenue above that amount must be sanctioned by the Commissioner of the Division. Sir George Campbell was dissatisfied with that procedure, and considered that in some cases settlement proceedings had been somewhat hastily conducted, and due care had not been taken to preserve the rights of the ryots. He therefore directed that the power to sanction settlements should be withdrawn from the local officers, and that even the Board of Revenue should only possess a power of provisional sanction, and he desired that all settlements should be referred for final sanction to the Government. That practice continued in force for about three years; but in 1874 Sir Richard Temple considered that the principles which Sir George Campbell desired to establish were fully understood, and that it was unnecessary that the Government should take the trouble to look into the details of every settlement, however petty. Accordingly he directed that the power of sanctioning settlements up to a revenue of Rs. 2,000 should rest with the Commissioner of the Division, and that settlements above Rs. 2,000 and not exceeding Rs. 25,000 should be confirmed by the Board of Revenue. Settlements above Rs. 25,000, and all settlem[illegible] in which a permanent settlement was proposed, were to be submitted [illegible] before for the final sanction of the Government. That was the rule at pres[illegible] in force, and it seemed desirable, in framing this Bill, that it should b[illegible] provided that the Revenue authorities from time to time empowered by th[illegible] local Government should be the authorities recognized as authorized to confir[illegible] settlements.

In section 4 the Committee had attempted to deal with a difficulty [illegible] every zemindar who brought an enhancement suit, namely the service [illegible] notice required by law. Whatever other pleas might be urged by the d[illegible]dant in an enhancement case, there was one regular stereotyped objection taken by the ryot, that notice of enhancement had not been served. The utmost publicity, the Committee thought, should be given to the rates fixed by Settlement Officers; but at the same time there should be no room given for frivolous and technical objections. They provided for a personal notice, but at the discretion of the Collector personal and individual notices might be dispensed with, and a general notice served on the village by the old and well-established practice by beat of drum, which was found to be the means of giving fuller and better information than the mere sticking up of a paper; and if this notice was served by beat of drum, and also stuck up in a conspicuous place in the village, it would not be necessary that a personal notice on each ryot should be made.

Mr. Reynolds observed by the amendment paper that the section as agreed to by the Select Committee did not entirely commend itself to one hon'ble member, but he hoped to show, when that amendment was moved, that it was not called for.

In section 5 the Committee thought it desirable to explain that the provisions of the Bill should extend to settlements now pending. He was not sure that the section was necessary, but the Board of Revenue had represented that there were a number of important settlements in hand, especially those in the districts of Midnapore, Chittagong, and Pooree, and it was of great importance to know whether the provisions of the Bill applied to pending settlements or not. The Committee had therefore provided that the provisions of the Bill should apply to all settlements the proceedings in regard to which had not yet been confirmed, whether such proceedings had been commenced before or after the commencement of this Act.

The motion was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter begged leave to submit, for the consideration of the Council, two small amendments with reference to the service of notices. These amendments were in furtherance of the principle enunciated in the Bill. It would be seen that in section 2 it had been provid[illegible] that, in the case of settlements conducted under Regulation VII of 1822, th[illegible] should be no enhancement of rent unless under one or other of the grou[illegible] specified in section 17 of Act X of 1859, or section 18 of Bengal Act VII[illegible] 1869. Now, the jummabandi, which was usually made, contained the [illegible] assessed after settlement upon all ryots and under-tenants, and an extract of [illegible] jummabandi was to be affixed in the village with a general notice to all who[illegible] it might concern, in lieu of the notice enjoined in section 14 of Act VIII o[illegible] 1869, or section 13 of Act X of 1859. Now, this notice would acquaint the ryot only with the rent assessed, or rather the enhanced rent assessed, in respect of each tenure. The notice under section 13 of Act X of 1859 and the corresponding section of Act VIII of 1869 specified the rent to which the ryot would be subject for the ensuing year and the ground on which the enhancement was claimed. It would therefore be observed that the jummabandi would place in the possession of the ryot only the rent at which he was assessed; it would not specify the grounds of enhancement, which must, in settlement proceedings, be specified under section 2 of this Bill. The object of the amendment was simply to provide that in the jummabandi the ground of enhancement should also be specified, briefly of course, so that when a ryot proceeded under section 3 to contest his liability to the enhanced rate of rent, which he was required to do within the limit of three months, he might be able to meet the grounds stated in the notice. It was only with that object that Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter suggested the consideration of the amendment which stood in his name.

en the notice was served personally on the ryot, which would be the exception her than the rule, it would call upon him simply to sign the jummabandi, and ould not therefore contain either the enhanced rate he had to pay, or the grounds [illegible] enhancement. That notice would not be issued in all cases. But when a settlement was conducted in a number of villages, the notice would be given by beat f drum, and the jummabandi would contain only the rate of rent assessed, and e ground of enhancement in each case. It was admitted in the Bill that unds of enhancement were to be stated, and the object of the amend- was only to inform the ryot what those grounds were, so that, if he were to [illegible] his liability to pay enhanced rent, he might know what the grounds of [illegible] enhancement were. BABOO ISSER CHUNDER MITTER therefore moved—

In section 4, line 1, after the word "writing" to add "containing an extract of the jummabandi relating to any under-tenant or ryot and specifying the grounds of enhancement;" and for the word "on" to substitute "such."

In the proviso added to section 4 in line 7, after the word "jummabandi" to add the words "specifying the grounds of enhancement."

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said the amendment which had been proposed appeared to him to be altogether unnecessary and uncalled for. He thought that if the hon'ble member compared the present Bill with the Acts to which it was intended to be supplementary, he would see that the Bill did not repeal any portion whatever of those Acts. The notice which was required to be served under section 13 of Act X of 1859, and section 14 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, remained intact: it would have to be served in or before the month of Pous as provided by those Acts, and there was no alteration or modification of what the law required the notice to contain. MR. REYNOLDS therefore thought the amendment was superfluous, because the provision of the original law with regard to that notice remained untouched. At the same time, if there was any doubt, he thought the amendment undesirable, as opening a door to technical and frivolous objections to the enhancement of rent, which it was one of the objects of the Bill to prevent. Of course it was desirable that the ryot should know what enhanced rent he was called upon to pay, and on what grounds he was required to pay it; that was obvious, and it was not intended by this Bill to deprive the ryot of such information.

Moreover, with regard to the first part of the amendment, it did not em necessary, when a personal and individual notice was served, that it must ontain an extract of the jummabandi; there was no reason why it should. All that the ryot required to know was what was the rent he was called upon to ay, and the reasons upon which he was called upon to pay it. There was no eason, MR. REYNOLDS thought, to extend the law by providing that the notice hould contain an extract of the jummabandi relating to the under-tenant or ot; and with regard to the second part of the amendment, the section vided that the notice, with a copy of the jummabandi, or of such part eof as the Collector might think fit, should be affixed at the mâl cutcherry he village, or at some other conspicuous place therein. That should be e sufficient without requiring in the law that the jummabandi must specify e grounds of enhancement. MR. REYNOLDS therefore hoped that the Council ould not accept the amendment.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said he thought the best justification of the Bill as it stood was the consideration of the fact that the proceedings in making land revenue settlements were not things done in a corner, but were done coram populo, before the people at large. The Bill only provided for the last stage of a long and careful investigation, of which every person interested had due notice. The first thing that a Settlement Officer had to do was to summon those interested in the land under settlement to attend him or his ameen during the subsequent operations, to point out the boundaries, settle the qualities of the soils, set forth their rights, and so on, and if any ryot was ignorant of what was eventually determined, it was only his own fault. A notice to him to come in and sign the jummabandi was the usual way of intimating to him that proceedings were closed, and he could, when he came in, ascertain all needful matters if he were ignorant of them before. If he objected he need not sign.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said he confessed he had not been able to follow quite the reasoning which had been advanced by the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill in reply to the mover of the amendment. As far as he understood the wording of section 4 of the Bill, it provided that the notice served on the ryot by a Settlement Officer calling upon him to sign the jummabandi should be deemed a notice within the meaning of section 14 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, and section 13 of Act X of 1859. Now, he fully agreed that section 14 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, and section 13 of Act X of 1859 remained intact; but this Bill provided that the notice under this [illegible] should be considered to be a notice within the meaning of section 14 [illegible] Act of 1869, and section 13 of the Act of 1859. If that was the case, then [illegible] 4 of the Bill, as it was worded, made a material difference; for the [illegible] those Acts must contain the grounds of enhancement, whereas under [illegible] notice would only call upon the ryot to attend and sign the jummabandi; [illegible] was nothing in the section to show that the notice should contain the grounds of enhancement, but as the notice under this section took the place of the notice under the Acts of 1869 and 1859, the difference made was at once apparent.

Then, again, there would be practically no personal notice, for under the second clause of the section it might be dispensed with, and a general notice addressed to all whom it might concern might be affixed with a copy of the jummabandi, or of such part thereof as the Collector might think fit, at the mâl cutcherry of the village to which the jummabandi related, or at some other conspicuous place therein. But as the Bill provided in section 3 that the ryot whose rent was enhanced might contest the proceedings of the Settlement Officer by a suit in the civil court within three months from the date of the service of the notice of enhancement, he ought to be placed in a position to know what were the grounds of enhancement; otherwise he would not know what evidence to adduce against the grounds taken by the Settlement Officer.

Whether the words proposed by the hon'ble mover of the amendment would meet the object aimed at or not, Baboo Kristodas Pal was not in a position to say. But he thought that in all fairness an opportunity ought to be given to the ryot to know on what grounds his rent was enhanced, so that he might be in a position to contest the enhancement, if he considered himself aggrieved. For these reasons Baboo Kristodas Pal would support the principle of the amendment, but would leave its wording in the hands of the Council.

The Hon'ble Mr. Prinsep said that he thought no member of the Council would be averse to giving the ryot every opportunity of learning the grounds on which his rent had been enhanced; but he thought that the grounds upon which this amendment was put were open to serious objection, inasmuch as it would practically neutralise the effect of the Bill by opening a loop-hole in the course of litigation by which the proceedings of settlement officers would probably be nullified. If we considered the publicity which attended the course of settlement proceedings, as one hon'ble member had already pointed out that all these proceedings were conducted coram populo, in the presence of the community; if we considered also that a notice was to be put up informing [illegible] ryot that his rent had been enhanced, and that it was necessary for him [illegible] sign the jummabandi, we would find that the ryot had two opportunities [illegible] expressing his own wishes; for he could attend and refuse to sign the jummabandi, and ask why his rent had been enhanced. That would be the second opportunity the ryot would have for ascertaining the grounds of enhancement. But, as Mr. Prinsep understood, the notice would be a general notice to all whom it might concern in such and such a village, and would probably run somewhat thus—"Whereas the rate of rent has been found to be lower than the rent of land of this description in the adjoining villages, it has been raised from such a sum to such a sum." On the other hand, the provision requiring a specific notice to be served on each ryot would be embarrassing to those whose duty it was to prepare such notices, would open a loop-hole for technical and frivolous objections, and would be utterly useless as far as any specific information was concerned. There was nothing, moreover, in the Bill as it stood which would prevent an application by a ryot for specific grounds of enhancement. But where there were hundreds of ryots in a village, in regard to which settlement proceedings were being conducted, it would be next to impossible to specify accurately what the grounds of enhancement in each case were, and the bulk of papers would add to the difficulty which the ryot would have in tracing his own name. Therefore, Mr. Prinsep submitted that the amendment was not only open to [illegible] jection, but likely to lead to embarrassment to all concerned in these settlement proceedings.

The Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter begged to explain in reply that [illegible] understood that the notice in this Bill provided was, as regards settlement proceedings under Regulation VII of 1822, to stand in lieu of the notice provided for in section 13 of Act X of 1859 and section 14 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869. [illegible] that view of the matter—and that view he believed was not altogether [illegible] as would be seen from what had fallen from his hon'ble friend opposite [illegible] Kristodas Pal)—and considering that some opportunity should be [illegible] the ryot to know what were the grounds of enhancement, he took [illegible] to suggest this amendment. He had of course nothing to say against the substitution of a general notice in lieu of the personal notice provided for in the first part of this section. But as a personal notice was provided for, he thought it necessary to suggest an amendment in respect to it also. There could be no doubt that settlement proceedings, conducted as they were by public servants, were always held in the light of day; but after the proceedings were concluded, and while the jummabandi papers were being written up, the Settlement Officer had perhaps moved from one part of the district to another. It was not that the jummabandi was written out at the time when the proceedings were concluded, but some time was occupied in its preparation; and therefore, as the ryot in all probability could not then have access to the Settlement Officer, the amendment was suggested to give him facilities to understand what the grounds of enhancement were. It was provided in the Bill that there should be no enhancement of rent, except on some one of the grounds specified in the existing law. The Settlement Officer must determine in each case what was the ground of enhancement, and if he had to determine that, it would not be difficult to record briefly the ground of enhancement in each case. It would only be necessary to add to the jummabandi a column, as it were, in which might be inserted, shortly, what were the grounds of enhancement according to the terms of the law; if it would be impracticable to state all the circumstances upon which the right to enhancement was based, the heads of the grounds as specified in the law might be given. The Settlement Officer would have to determine the grounds of enhancement in each case, and it would not be difficult to give a brief analysis, as it were, of those grounds for the information of the ryot.

The Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds said the amendment was put in his hands late last evening, the usual notice of two days not having been given. There was no intention to withhold from the ryot the grounds upon which he might fairly be called upon to pay an enhanced rate of rent, but the wording of the amendment appeared capable of being improved. If, therefore, the hon'ble member would consent to withdraw his amendment, the matter would be further looked into, and before the Council was asked to pass the Bill, a sec- [illegible] would be prepared to meet the principle upon which the amendment before [illegible] Council was based.

The amendment was then by leave withdrawn, and the further consideration of the Bill postponed.

EMIGRATION TO CHITTAGONG.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to extend the provisions of Bengal Act VII of 1873 (the Labour Districts Emigration Act) to the district of Chittagong, and to the Chittagong Hill Tracts, be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee. The only substantial alteration which had been made in the Bill was, as pointed out in the report of the Committee, in section 4. It appeared that under the present arrangement coolies who were shipped to Chittagong did not actually enter into contracts with their employers until they landed there. The intention of the Bill was that all imported labourers, that is to say, all labourers carried to the tea gardens at the expense of their employers, should be brought under the provisions of the law, and the Committee had therefore altered the wording of the section to show this clearly. The Committee had had the advantage of the presence at their deliberations of a gentleman who was largely interested [illegible] tea plantations in Chittagong, in connection with the firm of Messrs. Bullo[illegible] Brothers, who urged upon the Committee that this Bill would be useful not merely in regulating the transport of emigrants and providing f[illegible] medical arrangements, but by regulating the inspection of garden[illegible] constituted authorities. At present these inspections were made, b[illegible] any specific legal authority, and the inspecting officers were somet[illegible] said, tempted to push their powers beyond what was reasonable. T[illegible] tion of the Act would give a common standard to which planter an[illegible] could alike appeal, and would, he did not doubt, prove advantageous [illegible] ment, to the planter, and to the labourer.

The Hon'ble Mr. Brown said he had not opposed this Bill because op[illegible] was divided amongst those interested in the tea enterprise in Chittagong a[illegible] the desirability of extending the Act to that district. Whilst some protest[illegible] against it, others petitioned for it. On the one hand, the Council had been told that instead of benefitting native emigrants, the Act was more likely to injure them, since upon most gardens the labourers were receiving a higher rate of pay than that stipulated in agreements under the Act; that the official inspections had already done harm by encouraging unreasonable complaints; and that this trouble was expected to be aggravated when the authorised inspections came to be made under the Act. On the other hand, some proprietors complained of the want of a settled basis upon which to deal with their labourers, and the fact of having before the Council a requisition from a tea proprietor to be allowed the benefit of the Act in Chittagong, seemed to him to turn the scale in favor of granting its extension to that district. For his own part, he must say that, so far as his knowledge went, he thought the Chittagong district could have got along very well without the Act; but for the reasons he had just stated, and because he did not regard the question as of very vital importance to the tea interests there, he had not refused to join his colleagues upon the Committee in assenting to the Bill. What they had to fear in all these cases was not the measures themselves, so much as the danger of their indiscreet administration; and he trusted that in the present instance care would be taken to utilise, in every way possible, the experience acquired in other tea districts, so that the new regulations might be introduced into Chittagong in a spirit such as would secure the support, and win the confidence, of the tea planters there. He had mentioned upon the Committee, and he wou[illegible] wish to repeat here, that he should have been glad had the opportun[illegible] been taken to revise the Act before extending its application. The hon'b[illegible] member who first introduced the Bill eulogised the Act as having worked s[illegible] well in the other tea districts. But whilst Mr. Brown did not deny that some of its provisions were wisely conceived, and had worked usefully, he should n[illegible] wish it to be understood that he gave an unqualified adherence to the l[illegible] hon'ble member's opinion upon that point. On the contrary, as he thou[illegible] the Council must be aware, there were many points in which the workin[illegible] the Act was considered not only by importers of labour, but also by Gov[illegible] ment officers in the tea districts, to be far from satisfactory. One of [illegible] ablest officers in Assam, and who was perhaps the best acquainted with [illegible] working of the emigration rules, went, as he understood, so far as to couns[illegible] a repeal of the Act, except in a few particulars; and the Chief Commissioner of Assam, in his latest minute upon the subject, declared it his opinion that the less organized interference there was in immigration matters the better: so that Mr. Brown thought it was rather to be regretted that in the face of their experience in Assam, an admittedly imperfect Act should be applied without revision to a new district. He bore in mind that they were not now discussing the merits or demerits of the Act, and he would therefore not enter further into that part of the subject. The present question was merely the extension of the Act, such as it was, to the Chittagong districts; and if, as he supposed, the Council adopted the recommendations of the Committee, it only remained to repeat the hope that they would see a discreet and judicious administration of the local provisions. He was bound to say that the provision which seemed to particularly excite the apprehensions of the Chittagong planters, namely, the inspection of labourers on the tea gardens, was one which, even under a revised Act, the Government officers would desire [illegible] the present to retain in Assam. He had not found, however, that well-[illegible]entioned planters, upon properly regulated estates, objected to that provisio[illegible] and if it were carried into operation in Chittagong upon the judicious [illegible]hich had been evolved out of long experience in Assam, he thought [illegible]ensions of their Chittagong friends upon that point would prove to [illegible]ed. He had only to add that he trusted the time was not far [illegible]n a general revision of the Act would be undertaken, with the [illegible] of promoting freer emigration to the tea districts. Some sort of [illegible]force contracts with time expired labourers was also much needed. [illegible]ntime they should be able to watch the operation of the Act in [illegible]g, and when the time came, he hoped they should be able to ame-[illegible] its working as concerned both Chittagong and the other tea districts.

The motion was agreed to, and the clauses of the Bill settled without [illegible]endment.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the Bill was then passed.

LICENSE TAX ON TRADES, DEALINGS, AND INDUSTRIES.

The HON'BLE MR. BROWN said he should wish to ask the hon'ble member in charge of the Bill for licensing trades, dealings, and industries within the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal when the report of the Select Committee would be brought forward. It was a matter in which much public interest was taken and therefore he asked for information.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said that no time had been fixed by the Council for the presentation of the Select Committee's report, and it would have been made before now, but for the consideration of material amendments in the shape and schedules of the Bill. He hoped that on Monday next the Committee would be able to come to a final settlement. The Committee had provided for a higher grade tax of Rs. 500 as was originally proposed by the Bengal Government, and they had also provided that incomes below Rs. 100 per annum should not be taxed. They had done this to preclude the possibility of any oppression on the poorer classes of the community. While retaining this limit of Rs. 100 as the minimum taxable income, the Committee had retained the lowest rate of fee, viz. one rupee, which would enable Collectors to let off easily those who, while coming within the range of the tax, were still really in poor circumstances. The provisions of the Bill had been so re-arranged as to keep the provisions which [illegible]ere applicable to the province generally in one part, and the provisions which [illegible]ere specially applicable to Calcutta in another part, thus making the Act much [illegible]earer and simpler in working. The Committee had provided for an appeal from [illegible]he assessing officer to the Collector of the district. The re-arrangement of the Bill as above described had taken some time. It had been necessary also to be [illegible] close communication with the Government of India, so as to be informed of [illegible]y alterations which that Government might think it necessary to make in [illegible] License Tax Bill for the North-Western Provinces. He hoped, however, if [illegible]hing interfered, to present the report of the Select Committee on Saturday [illegible]t.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 9th February.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE LAW RELATING TO THE EXCISE REVENUE.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said that at the last meeting of the Council he explained the circumstances which rendered the introduction of this Bill necessary, and he need not now detain the Council by making any further observations on that point. The statement of objects and reasons circulated with the Bill showed the chief alterations which had been made in the present draft. They were principally in the direction of a re-arrangement and condensation of the provisions of the Bill, and probably some more changes might be necessary in the same direction. He moved that the Bill to consolidate the law relating to the excise revenue in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal be read in Council.

The motion was agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie, the Hon'ble Baboo Isser Chund[illegible] Mitter, the Hon'ble Rajah Pramatha Natha Roy, and the Mover, w[illegible] instructions to report in one month.

POWERS OF SETTLEMENT OFFICERS AS TO ENHANCEMENT OF RENT.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS, the Bill to define and li[illegible] the powers of settlement officers in respect to the enhancement of rent [illegible] further considered in order to the settlement of its clauses.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said that he had a small amendment to propose in the second section of the Bill. The section provided that the rent of a ryot having a right of occupancy should not be enhanced "except on some one of the grounds" specified in section 18 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, or section 17 of Act X of 1859. It appeared to be necessary to add the words "or more" after the words "some one." Cases might occur in which it might be desirable to enhance the rent of an occupancy ryot on more than one of the grounds specified in the law, and therefore it was considered proper to move the insertion of the words of which he had given notice.

The motion was carried, and the section as amended was agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said he had an amendment of an entirely verbal nature to propose in the third section of the Bill. The section as it stood spoke of "the rent of an under-tenant or ryot having been in any way enhanced" in the course of any settlement proceedings conducted under Regulation VII of 1822. It had been suggested that that language was not in conformity with the wording of the Regulation, which did not speak of the enhancement of rent, but merely of a record of the rent demandable from under-tenants or ryots. There was practically no difference between enhancing a ryot's rent and recording a higher rent as demandable from him, and therefore the amendment proposed was purely verbal, and with the object of bringing the wording [illegible] into harmony with the wording of Regulation VII of 1822. He [illegible] section 3, lines 9, 10, and 11, to omit the words "the rent of any [illegible] or ryot has been in any way enhanced," and substitute for them the [illegible] higher rent has been recorded as demandable from any under-[illegible] than was previously paid by him."

[illegible] was carried, and the section as amended was agreed to.

[illegible] Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds moved the insertion after section 4 of the [illegible] new section:—

> "5. Whenever in any settlement proceeding conducted and confirmed as aforesaid a higher rent than the rent previously paid has been recorded as demandable from any ryot having a right of occupancy, the amount of such higher rent and the grounds of the enhancement shall be specified in any notice served upon the said ryot under clause 1 of section 4, or in the jummabandi appended to any general notice served under clause 2 of section 4, as the case may be."

In case of enhancement, the rent and grounds of enhancement to be specified in notice.

He moved this amendment to meet the objection raised by the hon'ble member on his right (Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter) at the last meeting of the Council, that the Bill did not provide for the giving of notice of the grounds upon which an enhancement of rent was made. Mr. Reynolds was not even now satisfied that the insertion of the section was necessary. It appeared to him that as the Bill did not repeal the provisions of the existing law, the particulars which the existing law required to be inserted in the notice of enhancement would still have to be inserted in notices issued under the Bill, whether any express provision for their insertion was made or not. But as the matter appeared to be doubtful, and it was not in any way intended to withhold from the ryot the necessary knowledge of the grounds of enhancement, he proposed the insertion of the section which he had just moved, and which he believed would provide all that was necessary.

The section was agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds postponed the motion (of which notice had been given) to pass the Bill. He had received only that morning a communication on the subject of the Bill which required further consideration, and he wished to give to it that further consideration before asking the Council to come to a final vote on this Bill.

LICENSE TAX ON TRADES, DEALINGS, AND INDUSTRIES.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie said:—"In presenting to the Council the report of the Select Committee I do not propose to detain them by any very lengthy remarks. Nothing that I could say will make the measure, as a measure of taxation, welcome, but it will be satisfactory if it is admitted that the Bill attains its avowed object without being open to serious objection in respect of its details. The general principles of the taxation involved in the measures now pending before this and the Supreme Legislature have been settled and laid down by the Government of India. It has been the duty of the Local Government loyally to accept those principles, and to endeavour to give full effect to the intentions of the Supreme Government.

The chief complaint made against the Bill as originally introduced was so far as I have been able to gather, that it carried taxation too low down in the social scale, and imposed a burden upon the poor disproportionate to that laid by it upon the rich. The Bill was certainly from one point of view obnoxious to these criticisms. But it was not the intention of Government that the tax should press heavily upon either poor or rich. Inequality of incidence we could not, and do not now, attempt altogether to avoid. I know of no tax in the whole economic world that has a perfectly equal incidence. But it was hoped that the whole burden would be so light that no shoulder would be galled by bearing a little more of it than was strictly speaking its proper share.

Be that as it may, in the Bill as now amended it has been found possible to introduce a minimum limit of incidence, which should go far to dissipate [illegible] fears that the tax will press unduly upon the very poor. In Bengal [illegible] income of Rs. 100 represents a standard of comfort far remove[illegible] poverty, and a tax of Rs. 2 per annum is not too much to take [illegible] between Rs. 100 and 250. But lest those whose earnings o[illegible] them within this limit should in any particular cases be too ha[illegible] a 2 per cent. tax, we have left the one rupee grade of fee to se[illegible] valve for the feelings of sympathetic collectors.

We have next, at the risk of evoking a perfectly fresh phala[illegible] sought to meet the objection that the maximum rate of tax original[illegible] was too low. Rs. 200 per annum represented a 2 per cent. tax upon [illegible] incomes over Rs. 10,000 per annum. It was urged that many persons [illegible] thus be brought together in the highest class of licensees whose inc[illegible] were widely different, and it was argued that we were practically exempting the wealthy traders, while taxing substantially those of moderate means. It was felt by the latter to be a serious grievance that their richer neighbours should not pay more than they. We cannot hope to put a stop to this envying and grieving at the good of a neighbour, but we have introduced a higher grade of fee—Rs. 500—which will fall on all trade incomes estimated to amount to Rs. 25,000 and over. We have also made the tax on the wealthier trader more substantial by requiring separate licenses in each district where he carries on business, the amount of fee to be regulated by the amount of business done in the district. This arrangement will at the same time prevent complication in accounts and correspondence between districts. Lastly, I may repeat what I said when introducing the Bill, that the license is to be a personal matter. The tax is a personal tax upon certain classes subject always to the 2 per cent. limit upon incomes, and the Bill does not recognize firms other than Joint Stock Companies. The tax on the wealthier traders is thus on the whole quite heavy enough, and the most ill conditioned assessee in the lower grades ought to be satisfied that we have not allowed the rich to escape so easily as it was feared they might.

I stated when I introduced this Bill that the trades and industries of Bengal contributed almost nothing to imperial or provincial taxation, and that it was one of the chief objects of the measure to remove this anomaly. The wealthie[illegible] Calcutta firms were, if we might judge from their silence, quite content [illegible] the anomaly should be removed, so long as the process did not involv[illegible] deduction of more than an imperceptible fraction from their annual earni[illegible] But when it was decided to exempt the poorer classes of native traders, and [illegible] became necessary to seek compensation at the top of the mercantile scale, th[illegible] tax upon trade ceased apparently to be acceptable, and cheap resig[illegible]tion has (if the daily papers are any test) given place to a healthy consti[illegible]tional grumble. I can quite understand and even sympathise with the grumble but I do not admit the validity of the argument in which it is expressed. It is not, in my humble judgment, sufficient to condemn this measure to say that it is not a license, but an income tax. When men say that 'an income tax' in India is a hateful measure, they mean "the income tax" technically so called and known, embodied in certain repealed enactments of the Indian Statute Book, by which direct perquisition was made into the precise amount of a man's profits from every source derived, and under which the amount he had to pay was a strict percentage on his total income. The tax now proposed is not 'The income tax' or anything like it. The bogey style of argument has only to be looked at to make it disappear. I frankly admit per contra that the tax provided for in the Bill is not a license tax in the European acceptation of that term. A license tax properly so called prohibits the carrying on of any occupation, unless the tax for it is paid, and admits of no exemption. This is a tax upon the trading and industrial wealth of Bengal operating by means of a system of licenses, and limited ultimately as regards individual licenses by consideration of the amount of their trade income. It is avowedly an engine for increasing the public revenues, to enable those to meet charges necessary for the prevention and mitigation of the dire effects of famine, and it attempts to secure its object by taxing the classes who contribute least at present to the State exchequer, while benefiting most by the State protection. It avoids all inquisitorial inquiry. It seeks, by the arrangement of the rates of fee, to facilitate fair assessments [illegible] general grounds. And it provides for direct reference to [illegible] at the option of the tax-payer himself, recognising such [illegible] only possible ultimate standard by which to judge of the fairness [illegible] assessment. Let it be called a license tax or an income tax, [illegible]; so long as it is a necessary tax, moderately fair in its incidence, [illegible] results, and practicable as regards its working, it is a tax to [illegible] can be urged that would not apply to any measure having [illegible] in view which the Government might propose.

[illegible] lower grades the Select Committee have followed the suggestion [illegible] the introduction of the Bill, and have readjusted the rates of fee. [illegible] have also greatly improved the Bill, I think, as regards its general shape, [illegible] I trust that the Council may be able to accept it in the form it now [illegible].

The Select Committee have received only one communication of any importance with reference to this Bill. In a letter from the British Indian Association it is urged that the taxation now proposed ought not to be made permanent, and that an assurance should be given that the new burdens will be withdrawn as soon as the retrenchments which the Committee believe feasible are made in the Imperial expenditure. It is further urged that the tax is to all intents and purposes a public works cess, and that to impose this upon Bengal in addition to the provincial cess of 1877 is inequitable. In paragraphs 17 et seq. of their letter the Association criticise further the section providing for the application of the proceeds of the tax. These, Sir, are matters with which the Select Committee did not feel themselves competent to deal. They amount to criticisms of the Imperial policy, and will no doubt be duly considered and noticed in another place. There were, however, other suggestions made by the Association on points of detail to which the Committee have given full consideration. We have been able to meet the views of the Association by providing for remission of tax where a trader only works for a part of the year; by limiting the period within which recovery of tax can be effected by legal process; by giving an appeal to the Collector from the decisions of his subordinates; by making it clear that where a man is both agriculturist and [illegible], only his trade earnings are liable; and by fixing a minimum limit of [illegible]. The Local Government has also proposed to the Government of [illegible] that the stamp upon all petitions of objection and appeal under this Act should be limited to one anna. In some points we have not been able to accept the views of the Association; and in some we find that they had misunderstood the effects of the provisions of the Bill. For instance, the Bill does not make it compulsory upon Government to work the tax through municipalities in the interior. It is entirely optional with Government to use this agency in the mofussil. It may employ municipal agency in drawing up the lists and not in collecting the tax, and it may refrain from employing it altogether. Government will be guided entirely by the circumstances of each town in deciding how far to make use of these sections. It is only in Calcutta that it is imperative to use the municipal machinery, and this will probably be more agreeable to the trade of Calcutta than assessment at the hands of the Collector. In no case will the municipality have any interest in screwing up the tax, as the Association seem to fear. The amount of tax on each man will be settled before any bargain is made with a town for collections.

We have also received a communication from the Chamber of Commerce bringing to notice a doubt as to whether stevedores are taxable as cooly suppliers under the municipal schedules. We have cleared this up as regards the present Bill by specially naming that class under schedule B.

With these remarks, I have the honor to move that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration."

ADJOURNMENT OF THE COUNCIL.

His Honor the President said that since he had fixed that day for the meeting of the Council, the sitting of the Council of the Governor-General had been postponed from Wednesday last to 12 o'clock of that day, and it was necessary that he, and also the learned Advocate-General, should be present at the meeting of that Council. Many of the amendments which his hon'ble friend Baboo Kristodas Pal intended to move in the License-tax Bill involved questions of policy which would be explained that day in the Cou[illegible] Governor-General in reference to the Bill for a license-tax on [illegible] North-Western Provinces, and he thought his hon'ble friend shoul[illegible] consideration of his amendments until after he had had an [illegible] hearing the exposition of the views of the Government, wh[illegible] hoped would satisfy him. Some of the amendments affected questi[illegible] policy which it was perhaps not within the power of this Counc[illegible] and it would be more convenient if those questions were not broug[illegible] here.

Anyway, His Honor was sure that the hon'ble member himse[illegible] wish, before bringing forward his amendments, to hear anything that migh[illegible] said that day in the Council of the Governor-General on the questions [illegible] which his amendments related. Therefore, on the whole, he thought it would be better to adjourn the Council to 11 o'clock on Thursday next.

The Council was adjourned to Thursday, the 14th instant, at 11 A. M.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts [illegible] al, as reported to Government during the week ending the 9th February 1878.

			[illegible] date of	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
		[illegible]n Districts.

	2	Bankoora,	„ 9 „	0·80	Weather—somewhat cloudy in the beginning of the week; the last part clear and cool, but gradually getting hot. The showers have done the crops good.
	3	Beerbhoom,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—getting rapidly warmer. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
	4	Midnapore,	„ 9 „	0·21	Weather—growing hotter daily. The cold weather is apparently quite over. Prospects of the crops are fair as before.
	5	Hooghly,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—getting warm. No change in the state of the crops to report on since last week. State of public health is normal. Cattle disease has not as yet disappeared from thana Dhuniakhally.
		Howrah,	„ 11 „	Nil	Weather—getting very warm. The only crop of any importance on the ground now is sugarcane, which is being cut and is yielding a good outturn.
		Central Districts.
[illegible]NCY DIVN.	6	24-Pergunnahs,	Feb. 9 '78	0·02	Weather—hot during the day. Nights are cooler. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. Cholera and fever have much abated.
	7	Nuddea,	„ 9 „	Nil	The weather is beginning to be hot in the day and the sun is fast gaining power. The cold-weather crops may be said to be generally slightly below the average None seem to be particularly good or particularly bad. The health of the district is a little better than it has been.
	[illegible]	J[illegible]	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—perceptibly warmer than last week. The last few mornings there have been dense fogs. State and prospects of the crops are favorable. A fine crop of sugarcane is being cut. Preparations for the sowings of spring rice are going on.
	[illegible]	[illegible]rshedabad,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—warmer than is quite seasonable, but cool at night. Prospects of the crops continue on the whole satisfactory. Cholera still prevails in four thanas.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	[illegible]	Dinagepore,	„ 8 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Ploughing for the aus crop is becoming general.
	[illegible]	Rajshahye,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—warm and getting warmer. No rain has fallen during the week anywhere in the district. The rubbee crop is good. The amun crop has not been so good; it has been harvested. There have not been many cases of cholera, but fever is still prevalent.
	12	Rungpore,	„ 8 „	Nil	Weather—getting warm. All crops on the ground are doing well, but tobacco is rather bad. There is now little cholera.
	13	Bogra,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—fine and getting warmer. The cutting of the winter rice is over. In the eastern part of the district the land is being prepared for aus and jute crops. Sugarcane is being pressed. Price of rice is rising, 24 kutcha seers are being sold per rupee in the bazar. Small-pox has appeared in the Dhoopchanchia outpost. Cholera has much abated, there being only nine fresh cases and four deaths reported during the week.
	14	Pubna,	„ 9 „	Nil	Weather—fine, clear, and seasonable. The harvesting of huldi and sugarcane is still going on. Prospects of the rubbee crops appear to be promising. Fever has not as yet quite disappeared from the Pubna town.
	15	Darjeeling,	„ 9 „	Nil	Cold, misty weather, with only occasional short intervals of sunshine. There are no crops of importance on the ground. The young crops of wheat and barley are doing well. Buck-wheat in the hills will shortly be reaped.
	16	Julpigoree,	„ 9 „	Nil	Hot weather is setting in early. Rain is needed. Prospects of tobacco and other winter crops are good.
		Cooch Behar,	„ 6 „	Nil	Weather—gradually getting warmer. Mornings and nights are cold. The wind is now blowing from the east. The cold-weather crops have improved by the little rain which fell in the previous week, but more is still wanted. The prospects of both mustard and tobacco are good. Prices of rice continue high. The health of the people is on the whole good, but fever has not as yet quite disappeared from Mathabhanga.

	29	Mozufferpore, " 9 "	Nil	Weather—getting warm. The rubbee crops are doing well and prospec[illegible] Tobacco and rahur have been somewhat injured. Poppy looks better owing [illegible] the late rains.
	30	Sarun, " 9 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Cloudy on the 7th and 8th instant. West wind is prev[illegible]ing. The rubbee crops are fair on the whole. Wheat, barley, and rahur [illegible] doing well; poppy is in flower. Early peas and mustard are being gather[illegible] Indigo fields are ready for sowing. Slight injury to rahur, peas and mustard from frost and blight has been reported from most thanas. All the rubbee crops, however, for seventy miles along the banks of the Gogra, are very fine. Prices are stationary. Public health is good.
	31	Chumparun, " 11 "	Nil	Weather—becoming warmer. Prospects of the rubbee crops are the same as before.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION.	32	Monghyr, " 9 "	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	33	Bhagulpore, " 9 "	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm for the season. Prospects of the rubbee crops continue favorable. This week prices are easier. Exportation of food-grains still continues. General health is good.
	34	Purneah, " 9 "	Nil	High west wind. Weather is daily getting warmer owing to the want of rain. The outturn of the rubbee crops will not be first-rate. Prices which were rising have fallen considerably owing to the importation of rice from Nepal, from which country during the past few months no export has been allowed.
	35	Maldah, " 9 "	Nil	Weather—fair. The reaping of the haimunti rice is nearly over. Some of the rubbee crops are still in the field and promise well. The boro paddy is flourishing. The last week's rain has done much good to the existing plantations. The public health is improving week after week.
	36	Sonthal Perghs., " 10 "	Nil	Weather—sometimes cloudy, threatening rain, but none fell; hot weather is setting in. No change in the prospects of the crops. Prices are rising in consequence of export.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
[illegible]	[illegible] 9 '78	Nil	Weather—fine and warm. No change in the state and prospects of the crops since last report.
[illegible]	[illegible] 7 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. Saradh rice is being harvested. Dalua rice is progressing well in the low lands. Moong and kalai promise well. Mandia crop in the salt tracts is suffering for want of rain. Common rice is selling at 15¾ to 21 seers for the rupee. The export of rice appears to be on the increase. Public health is good.
[illegible]	[illegible] „ 8 „	0·24	Weather—warm and cloudy. The cold-weather crops are fair. Cases of cholera are fewer.
	CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Feb. 8 '78	0·07	Weather—considerably warmer. Prospects of the rubbee crops continue fair. Fine bright weather is required for the mohwa crop.
41	Lohardugga, „ 9 „	0·30	There has been light rain in seven out of thirteen police circles in head-quarters division, and the rubbee prospects are favorable. In Palamow ·20 of an inch has fallen, but on account of previous drought the rubbee is expected to be below the average. Public health is good.
42	Singbhoom, „ 8 „	0·58	Weather—seasonable. Nothing to report about the crops. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 9 „	0·80	Weather—seasonable. There is little to report. The mohwa crop is anxiously looked for. If it fails there will be scarcity.

Published for general information.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above ta[illegible]

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 o[illegible] page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance [illegible] from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predo[illegible] in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA, the 11th February 1878.

The results of the observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last twenty years and upwards is found to read 0·6° higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present observatory.

NOTIFICATION.

The 4th February 1878.—The following Bye-laws framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Kishnaghur at a meeting under Section 313 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876, having been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under Section 314 thereof, are hereby published for general information.

For Regulating the Conduct of Business at Meetings.

1. The day of the meeting shall ordinarily be the last Saturday in every month, unless the Chairman for any special reason fix any other day. A notice signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be circulated at least three days before the day of the meeting.

2. A list of business to be transacted at the meeting shall accompany the notice, and no matter which is not contained in such list shall be brought forward for discussion at any meeting unless with the consent of the majority of the Commissioners present at the meeting.

3. Any member wishing to bring any proposition before the Commissioners at a meeting shall give written notice to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of his intention to do so, and such proposition shall be included in the next list of business which may be prepared after the receipt of the notice.

For Regulating the Time and Mode of Collecting the Taxes.

4. A darogah shall be appointed for the purpose of superintending the collection of taxes. The Municipality shall be divided into six wards, as heretofore, and to each of these wards shall be appointed a sirkar, who shall be authorized to collect taxes and to grant receipts. The Commissioners shall also appoint such warrant clerks or other officers as may be necessary for the realization of taxes.

5. Every officer authorized to grant receipts shall be provided with a certificate of his authority to collect, and every such certificate shall bear the seal of the Municipality and the signature of the Chairman. Every collecting officer, at the time of demanding payment, shall be bound to show this certificate, if required, and no tax-payer shall be bound to pay unless such certificate is shown and a printed receipt tendered to him.

6. For all sums paid on account of any tax mentioned in the Act, a printed receipt signed by the tax darogah and the collecting officer, showing the quarter for which the sum is paid, the amount of the tax, the number of the holding and of the ward in which it is situated, and the person from whom the tax is levied, shall be given to the person paying the same.

7. Bills shall not be made over at one time to any collecting sirkar or warrant clerk to a larger amount than that of the security given by him.

8. The darogah shall periodically settle accounts with the sirkars and warrant clerks, at such intervals as the Commissioners may from time to time direct. The darogah shall report to the Chairman the result of such settlements of accounts, and shall certify that the accounts are correct.

9. The darogah shall have a permanent advance of Rs. 25 to meet petty contingent expenses, to be accounted for at the end of each month.

10. When any tax, rate, or toll is levied by distress and sale of moveable property, payment of the purchase-money and delivery of the property shall be made immediately after the sale; and if the purchaser fail to pay the full amount of his bid, it shall be lawful for the distraining officer to sell the property again on the same or any other day, and the first or any succeeding purchaser, except the last, shall in such case be responsible to the Commissioners for any loss; such loss shall be recoverable as a debt due from him.

11. Every person required, in writing, to furnish any schedule or return which the Commissioners may lawfully require him to furnish, shall send such schedule or return to the office of the Commissioners within one week from the date of the service of the requisition, in the manner described in section 367 of the Act. Any person failing to do so shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 5 for the omission, and to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 2 for every day the omission shall continue. Any person submitting a false or incorrect schelsse or return shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 20, provided that nothing in this bye-law duall be held to prevent the institution of a criminal prosecution under the Penal Code, hhould the facts appear to warrant such a proceeding.

For Regulating the Conduct of Persons Employed by the Commissioners.

12. The Commissioners shall have power to inflict for neglect of duty a fine not exceeding one month's pay upon any person employed by them.

13. All persons now holding, or who may hereafter be appointed to, any office under the Commissioners shall, when required so to do, furnish good security to such amount as the Commissioners may from time to time fix; and any person failing to furnish such security within reasonable time, or within such time as the Commissioners may appoint, shall be held to have thereby forfeited his appointment, and may be removed from office.

For Regulating the Disposal of Offensive Matter, Rubbish, and Dead Bodies of Animals.

14. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within six hours after its death, or, if death occurs at night, within four hours after day light, either remove at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners for the reception of such carcasses, or report the death to the conservancy overseer of the division within which such premises may be situated. Penalty for infringement, Rs. 20. In case the person liable shall not remove the carcass, he shall pay to the said overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine; and in case the said person be not the owner of the animal, and the owner be known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

15. No person shall dispose, or cause to be disposed, of any corpse, or any part of a corpse, otherwise than by burning or burying it at or in some lawful burning or burial ground.

Penalty for infringement, Rs. 50.

16. If the corpse of any person within the municipal limits shall remain unburied or unburnt after 12 hours from the time of death, the Municipal Commissioners may dispose of such corpse through their servants, and recover the expense from any assets left by the deceased.

For the Regulation and Management of Privies.

17. No person shall perform any office of nature in any place outside private premises, other than such place as may be appointed by the Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, Rs. 10.

18. No person shall carry night-soil through the streets except between the hours of 3 A.M. and 8 A.M., or otherwise than in a closely covered receptacle; or shall use any place, other than those approved by the Commissioners, for the purpose of depositing such night-soil therein.

Penalty for infringement, Rs. 20.

19. Within such limits as the Municipal Commissioners may appoint, no person shall construct or keep, after prohibition by the Municipal Commissioners, any well-privy.

Penalty, Rs. 20 and a daily fine of one rupee.

20. The Municipal Commissioners may direct the use of lime, coal-tar, carbolic acid, or other deodorants or disinfectants in any privy or premises, if at any time it seem to them necessary for the preservation of public health, or for the prevention of infection or spread of disease: provided that the Municipal Commissioners shall be bound to supply such deodorants, &c., at cost price, and the price shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

No. 6 of 1878.—The following Notice to Mariners is published for general information :—

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

INDIA—WEST COAST.

Intended Alteration of light at Malwan.

The Collector of Salt Revenue, Bombay, has given notice that on the 1st March 1878 the light at present exhibited from a post close to the white stone cross on the sandy beach at the port of Malwan will be discontinued.

In lieu thereof, a green light, at an elevation of 20 feet above the level of high-water, will be exhibited from the beach, 230 yards to the northward of the present position.

Also, that a red light will be exhibited from a boat moored to the south-east of the rock at the entrance, which is at present marked by a beacon.

DIRECTIONS.—A vessel running into the port should keep the green light just to the right, or open south, of the red light, passing close to southward of the red light, thereby avoiding the rock awash, the Malwan and Johnston Castle rocks, and should anchor with Vingorla rock light in line with the small fort bearing about S. ½ W.

CROWN OF INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, the 15th February 1878.

No. 1 C. I.—The following Supplement to the London Gazette of Friday, the 4th of January 1878, is republished for general information:—

India Office, January 1, 1878.

The Queen has been graciously pleased, by an instrument under Her Royal Sign Manual, of which the following is a copy, to institute and create an Order of Distinction, to be styled and designated "The Imperial Order of the Crown of India," and to make certain Rules and Regulations as therein set forth.

VICTORIA, R. & I.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, Empress of India.

To all to whom these presents shall come Greeting:—Whereas We have resolved to commemorate the assumption of Our Imperial title of Empress of India by the institution of an Order of Distinction to be enjoyed by the Princesses of Our Royal House and the Wives or other female relatives of Indian Princes and others to be by Us selected, upon whom We shall from time to time think fit to confer the same, agreeably to the rules and regulations hereinafter declared: Now, know ye, that for the purpose of carrying this, Our resolution, into effect, We have instituted, constituted, and created and by these presents for Us, Our heirs, and successors do institute, constitute, and create an Order of Distinction to be known and have for ever hereafter the name, style, and designation of "The Imperial Order of the Crown of India," and We are graciously pleased to make, ordain, and establish the following Rules and Ordinances for the government of the same, and which shall from henceforth be inviolably observed and kept:

Firstly. That the Order or Distinction shall be styled and designated "The Imperial Order of the Crown of India," and that the first day of January in every year shall henceforth be taken and deemed to be the anniversary of the institution of the said Order.

Secondly. That We, Our heirs and successors, Kings and Queens Regnent of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Emperors and Empresses of India, shall be Sovereigns of this Order.

Thirdly. That it shall be competent for the Sovereign of this Order to confer the decoration thereof upon such Princesses of Our Royal and Imperial House, being of more than eighteen years of age, as We, Our heirs and successors, shall think fit.

Fourthly. That it shall be competent for the Sovereign of this Order to confer the decoration thereof upon the Wives or other female relatives of such Princes in Our Indian Empire, and upon such other Indian Ladies as We, Our heirs and successors, shall from time to time think fit.

Fifthly. That it shall be competent for the Sovereign of this Order to confer the decoration thereof upon the wives or other female relatives of any of the persons who have held, now hold, or may hereafter hold the high offices of Viceroy and Governor-General of India, Governors of Madras or Bombay, or of Principal Secretary of State for India.

Sixthly. [Description and Representation of Insignia.]

Seventhly. That the said Order may be conferred by personal investiture, with the Insignia, upon such Princesses, and other members, as We, Our heirs and successors, may be pleased to admit thereto; but it shall be lawful for Us, Our heirs and successors, to direct the transmission of the decoration of the Order to any member with a notification of her appointment under the Sign Manual of the Sovereign.

Eighthly. That the names of those upon whom We, Our heirs and successors, may be pleased to confer this Order shall be entered upon a Register to be kept under the direction of Our Principal Secretary of State for India, in which the names of the Royal Princesses and other members admitted into the Order shall be enrolled, with the dates of their respective admissions, and a duplicate thereof shall also be kept in the Foreign Department of Our Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

Lastly. We reserve to Ourself, Our heirs and successors full power of annulling, altering, abrogating, augmenting, interpreting, or dispensing with these regulations, or any portion thereof, by a notification under the Sign Manual of the Sovereign of the Order.

Given at Our Court at Osborne, under Our Sign Manual, this thirty-first day of December, in the forty-first year of Our Reign, and in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

By Her Majesty's Command.
Salisbury.

The Queen has also been graciously pleased to confer the decoration of the said Imperial Order of the Crown of India upon—

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

PART V.

Act of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 13th February 1878, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VI OF 1878.

An Act to amend the law relating to Treasure-Trove.

Preamble. WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to treasure-trove; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called "The Indian Treasure Trove Act, 1878:"

Extent. It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement. And it shall come into force at once.

Repeal of enactments. 2. The enactments specified in the schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the same schedule.

Interpretation-clause. 3. In this Act—

"Treasure." "treasure" means anything of any value hidden in the soil, or in anything affixed thereto:

"Collector." "Collector" means (1) any revenue officer in independent charge of a district, and (2) any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

Owner. When any person is entitled, under any reservation in an instrument of transfer of any land or thing affixed thereto, to treasure in such land or thing, he shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the owner of such land or thing.

Procedure on finding Treasure.

Notice by finder of treasure. 4. Whenever any treasure exceeding in amount or value ten rupees is found, the finder shall, as soon as practicable, give to the Collector notice in writing—

(a) of the nature and amount or approximate value of such treasure;

(b) of the place in which it was found;

(c) of the date of the finding;

and either deposit the treasure in the nearest Government Treasury, or give the Collector such security as the Collector thinks fit, to produce the treasure at such time and place as he may from time to time require.

Notification requiring claimants to appear. 5. On receiving a notice under section four, the Collector shall, after making such enquiry (if any) as he thinks fit, take the following steps (namely):—

(a) he shall publish a notification in such manner as the Local Government from time to time prescribes in this behalf, to the effect that, on a certain date (mentioning it), certain treasure (mentioning its nature, amount and approximate value) was found in a certain place (mentioning it); and requiring all persons claiming the treasure, or any part thereof, to appear personally or by agent before the Collector on a day and at a place therein mentioned, such day not being earlier than four months, or later than six months, after the date of the publication of such notification;

(b) when the place in which the treasure appears to the Collector to have been found was at the date of the finding in the possession of some person other than the finder, the Collector shall also serve on such person a special notice in writing to the same effect.

Forfeiture of right on failure to appear.

6. Any person having any right to such treasure or any part thereof, as owner of the place in which it was found or otherwise, and not appearing as required by the notification issued under section five, shall forfeit such right.

Matters to be enquired into and determined by the Collector.

7. On the day notified under section five, the Collector shall cause the treasure to be produced before him, and shall enquire as to and determine—

(a) the person by whom, the place in which, and the circumstances under which, such treasure was found; and

(b) as far as is possible the person by whom, and the circumstances under which, such treasure was hidden.

Time to be allowed for suit by person claiming the treasure.

8. If, upon an enquiry made under section seven, the Collector sees reason to believe that the treasure was hidden within one hundred years before the date of the finding, by a person appearing as required by the said notification and claiming such treasure, or by some other person under whom such person claims, the Collector shall make an order adjourning the hearing of the case for such period as he deems sufficient, to allow of a suit being instituted in the Civil Court by the claimant, to establish his right.

When treasure may be declared ownerless.

9. If upon such enquiry the Collector sees no reason to believe that the treasure was so hidden; or if, where a period is fixed under section eight, no suit is instituted as aforesaid within such period to the knowledge of the Collector; or if such suit is instituted within such period, and the plaintiff's claim is finally rejected;

the Collector may declare the treasure to be ownerless.

Appeal against such declaration.

Any person aggrieved by a declaration made under this section may appeal against the same within two months from the date thereof to the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority.

Subject to such appeal, every such declaration shall be final and conclusive.

Proceedings subsequent to declaration.

10. When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure under section nine, such treasure shall, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, either be delivered to the finder thereof, or be divided between him and the owner of the place in which it has been found in manner hereinafter provided.

When no other person claims as owner of place, treasure to be given to finder.

11. When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure as aforesaid, and no person other than the finder of such treasure has appeared as required by the notification published under section five and claimed a share of the treasure as owner of the place in which it has been found, the Collector shall deliver such treasure to the finder thereof.

When only one such person claims and his claim is not disputed, treasure to be divided.

If the finder and the person so claiming have not entered into any agreement then in force as to the disposal of the treasure, three-fourths of the treasure shall be allotted to such finder and the residue to such person. If such finder and such person have entered into any such agreement, the treasure shall be disposed of in accordance therewith:

Provided that the Collector may in any case, if he thinks fit, instead of dividing any treasure as directed by this section,

(a) allot to either party the whole or more than his share of such treasure, on such party paying to the Collector for the other party such sum of money as the Collector may fix as the equivalent of the share of such other party, or of the excess so allotted, as the case may be; or

(b) sell such treasure or any portion thereof by public auction and divide the sale-proceeds between the parties according to the rule hereinbefore prescribed:

Provided also, that when the Collector has by his declaration under section nine rejected any claim made under this Act by any person other than the said finder or person claiming as owner of the place in which the treasure was found, such division shall not be made until after the expiration of two months without an appeal having been presented under section nine by the person whose claim has been so rejected, or, when an appeal has been so presented, after such appeal has been dismissed.

and shares to be delivered to parties.

When the Collector has made a division under this section, he shall deliver to the parties the portions of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof, to which they are respectively entitled under such division.

In case of dispute as to ownership of place, proceedings to be stayed.

13. When a declaration has been made as aforesaid in respect of any treasure, and two or more persons have appeared as aforesaid and each of them claimed as owner of the place where such treasure was found, or the right of any person who has so appeared and claimed is disputed by the finder of such treasure, the Collector shall retain such treasure and shall make an order staying his proceedings with a view to the matter being enquired into and determined by a Civil Court.

Settlement of such dispute.

14. Any person who has so appeared and claimed may, within one month from the date of such order, institute a suit in the Civil Court to obtain a decree declaring his right; and in every such suit the finder of the treasure and all persons disputing such claim before the Collector shall be made defendants.

and division thereupon.

15. If any such suit is instituted and the plaintiff's claim is finally established therein, the Collector shall, subject to the provisions of section twelve, divide the treasure between him and the finder.

If no such suit is instituted as aforesaid, or if the claims of the plaintiffs in all such suits are finally rejected, the Collector shall deliver the treasure to the finder.

Power to acquire the treasure on behalf of Government.

16. The Collector may, at any time after making a declaration under section nine, and before delivering or dividing the treasure as hereinbefore provided, declare by writing under his hand his intention to acquire on behalf of the Government the treasure, or any specified portion thereof, by payment to the persons entitled thereto of a sum equal to the value of the materials of such treasure or portion, together with one-fifth of such value, and may place such sum in deposit in his treasury to the credit of such persons; and thereupon such treasure or portion shall be deemed to be the property of Government, and the money so deposited shall be dealt with, as far as may be, as if it were such treasure or portion.

Decision of Collector final, and no suit to lie against him for acts done bonâ fide.

17. No decision passed or act done by the Collector under this Act shall be called in question by any Civil Court, and no suit or other proceeding shall lie against him for anything done in good faith in exercise of the powers hereby conferred.

Collector to exercise powers of Civil Court.

18. A Collector making any enquiry under this Act may exercise any power conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure on a Civil Court for the trial of suits.

Power to make rules.

19. The Local Government may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act, to regulate proceedings hereunder.

Such rules shall, on being published in the local Gazette, have the force of law.

Penalties.

Penalty on finder failing to give notice, &c.

20. If the finder of any treasure fails to give the notice, or does not either make the deposit or give the security, required by section four, or alters or attempts to alter such treasure so as to conceal its identity, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty, and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

Penalty on owner abetting offence under section 19.

20. If the owner of the place in which any treasure is found abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, any offence under section nineteen, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty, and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both.

PART VI.

Bill of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Preliminary Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 9th February 1878 :—

WE, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to define and amend the law relating to the Transfer of Property was referred, have the honour to report that we have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin.

2. In revising this important measure we have been guided by the three principles which the Government of India desires to regulate its policy of codification, namely, first, that as little change as possible should be made in the substance of the existing law, whether established by the Legislature or declared by judicial decisions: secondly, that no additions should be made to that law, which are not either necessary or clearly expedient, and, thirdly, that interference with contracts fairly made and usages long established is, primá facie, undesirable. We have also borne in mind the great deference due to the late Indian Law Commission, by which the bulk of the Bill was framed. With these preliminary remarks we proceed to describe and justify the alterations, omissions and additions which we have made.

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

3. We have here followed the Contract Act, section 1, by inserting a clause to save all enactments not expressly repealed, such, for instance, as the Acts limiting powers of guardians and managers to make sales and leases, and the provisions of the Panjáb Tenancy Act, section 32, which have been held to restrict to occupancy-tenants the right to sublet. We have also saved all incidents of contracts not inconsistent with the provisions of the Bill. Besides the Malabar mortgagee's option, which the Bill as introduced expressly preserved, there must be many other incidents of Native contracts with which it is desirable not to interfere. We have also saved the right to anything affixed to the soil by tenants under leases granted before the proposed Act comes into force.

CHAPTER II.—Assurances of Immoveable Property.

4. We have struck out the section relating to easements, as it will more fitly come into the Bill relating to those rights, which is now in preparation.

5. Section 6 of the Bill as introduced would have often rendered persons liable to an obligation, or at least to be sued on an obligation, the existence of which was unknown to them. We think that this is obviously inexpedient, and have therefore made the section an embodiment of the well-known rule, that a contract between the respective owners of two neighbouring parcels of land, that one of them shall do or refrain from doing something on his parcel for the benefit of the other parcel, may be enforced in equity against all persons claiming the former parcel under him with notice of the contract.

6. We think that section 7 of the Bill, as introduced, should be omitted, as it would allow incidents of a novel kind to be devised and attached to property at the fancy or caprice of any owner. It would, moreover, allow the grantee's enjoyment of the property to be destroyed or materially lessened by the exercise of the right reserved.

7. We have also struck out section 9 of the Bill as introduced. The rules of construction therein referred to, besides being inapplicable in some respects to instruments executed inter vivos, are contained in the testamentary portion of the Succession Act, which does not apply to Muhammadans anywhere, and applies to Hindús only in the Presidency-towns and the Lower Provinces.

8. We have provided (section 7) rules as to the right of innocent grantees for valuable consideration without notice, of persons like the managers of the property of a minor or an undivided family, childless Hindú widows in possession of their deceased husband's property, and benámídárs and other ostensible owners, who have only a restricted power of alienation. Our rules on this head are in accordance with decisions of the Privy Council and the Calcutta High Court.

9. We have redrawn section 13 of the Bill as introduced, so as to save the rights of the creditors of the person paying the consideration for a benámí transaction, and as the section will apply to benámí leases as well as to benámí sales, we have transferred it to chapter II.

CHAPTER III.—Sales.

10. We have declared (section 10) the respective liabilities of an intending seller and an intending buyer to make disclosures of defects and advantages.

12. Clause (a) of section 11 of the Bill as introduced, would have rendered a vendor liable for damage sustained by the purchaser owing to the loss of his bargain, and it would have made a vendor, like a mortgagor, warrant his title as against all the world. We think that in this respect his liability should be restricted, as it is in England, to acts done by himself or those through whom he claims. Section 11, clause (j), has been framed accordingly.

13. Clauses (c) and (f) of the same section, as introduced, are corollaries from the doctrine of equitable ownership and appear to us to be inconsistent with section 12, which declares that a mere contract for sale shall not transfer the property. Why, for instance, should the buyer be made liable to bear loss arising from destruction of property which is not his own? We have therefore omitted these clauses. Under any circumstances they would have been of little use in a country where, as a rule, the making of the contract is immediately followed by the completion of the purchase.

14. We have provided (section 12) for cases where, before completion, the buyer becomes insolvent. This provision is modelled on the present English law, 32 & 33 Vic., c. 71, ss. 23, 24. We have also provided for the following matters:—

(a) the liability to the seller of the buyer of a leasehold (section 13):
(b) the liability to the seller of the buyer of an equity of redemption (section 14):
(c) money received under a fire-policy by the seller for damage done after the date of the contract (section 15):
(d) joint-purchases (section 17):
(e) the rights arising where two estates are subject to a common charge and one of the estates is sold (section 18):
(f) the exemption of boná fide buyers of trust-property from seeing to the application of the purchase-money (section 19):
(g) the rights of the seller where there is default on the part of the buyer and the rights of the buyer where there is default on the part of the seller (section 20).

CHAPTER IV.—Exchanges.

15. In this chapter, which corresponds with chapter V of the Bill as introduced, we have made no substantial change except the insertion of a section (22), providing (in accordance with the Code Civil, Art. 1704) that if one of the parties prove that the other was not owner of the thing given or agreed to be given to the former in exchange, the former cannot be compelled to deliver that which he has promised in counter-exchange; but when he has received the thing given to him in exchange, he may be compelled to return it.

16. We have also provided, in accordance with the same Code, Art. 1705, that the party deprived of the thing he has received in exchange by reason of invalidity of title caused by anything done by the other party or any person through whom the latter claims, may at his option sue for compensation or sue for the thing given by him.

CHAPTER V.—Mortgages and Charges.

17. We have made it clear that the mortgages here dealt with are only mortgages of immoveable property and sub-mortgages. Mortgages of policies, ships, machinery, furniture, cattle and other moveable property require to be separately treated.

18. We have inserted a section (26) requiring that every mortgage shall be created by an assurance signed by the mortgagor and attested by at least two witnesses. As mortgages by verbal agreement are now rarely if ever made, this will not substantially alter the present practice, and will obviously tend to prevent fraud and litigation.

19. The Bill as introduced permits the mortgagor to deposit the amount due only in the District Court. This might lead to much inconvenience, and we have modified section 28, clause (b), so as to allow the mortgagor to deposit in any Court in which he could have instituted a suit for redemption.

20. We have, in accordance with the present law, precluded (section 28) a person interested in part only of the mortgaged property from redeeming his own part only, and a person interested in part only of the mortgage-money from foreclosing his own part only.

21. We have given (section 29) the mortgagee the rights which he has under the covenants for title contained in an English mortgage-deed. When the mortgagee has a right to sue for the mortgage-money, these covenants are of no practical use during the continuance of the mortgage; but they become valuable after a foreclosure or sale.

22. We have declared (section 30) that, where the property is a lease for years and the mortgagee, while in possession, obtains a renewal, the mortgagor upon redemption shall have the benefit of the new lease.

23. We have imposed (section 32) on a mortgagor making a subsequent mortgage the duty of disclosing to the subsequent mortgagee the previous mortgages, and of giving notice to the prior mortgagees of the subsequent mortgage.

24. Although from the theoretical point of view there is much to be said in favour of discarding the distinctions between the various kinds of mortgages used in India, we think that the amount of simplicity gained would not justify the amount of disturbance created, and that, in practice, confusion and hardship would be caused if simple mortgagees and mortgagees by conditional sale were allowed (as they would be by the Bill as introduced) to take possession, or if simple and usufructuary mortgagees were allowed to foreclose. Moreover, any such extension of the power to foreclose would enable large classes of speculators and money-lenders to defeat the intentions with which the Legislature framed the new Code of Civil Procedure, sections 320—322, by obtaining simple mortgages and then instituting foreclosure-suits. We have therefore introduced (section 34) a clause the effect of which will be to maintain the law as it stands in this respect.

25. We have also (section 34) prohibited mortgagees from interfering with the right of the public to the continued use of undertakings, such as canals and railways, in the maintenance of which the public are interested. The remedy of such mortgagees will be to obtain a receiver of the profits of the undertaking.

26. We have provided (section 36) for the case where the parties to a mortgage have omitted to stipulate expressly for interest.

27. We are of opinion that, in the absence of an express contract to the contrary, no mortgagee should be entitled as such to take possession, and we have inserted (section 37) a clause to this effect. We have, however, allowed the mortgagee to sue for a receiver after the expiration of one year from the time when the principal has become payable, or after interest has been in arrear for six months; and we have empowered the Court, in any suit for foreclosure or sale, to appoint a receiver pending the proceedings in the suit.

28. We think that the mortgagee should be allowed to sue for the mortgage-money in four cases only, namely, (1) where the mortgagor binds himself expressly to pay the loan, (2) where the mortgagor remains in possession and allows the property to be sold for arrears of revenue, (3) where the property is destroyed by diluvion, fire or other superior force, and (4) in the case of an usufructuary mortgage, where the mortgagor is unable to give or secure possession. We have inserted a section (38) to this effect.

29. We have considered the question as to whether we should validate powers of sale in mortgages of property situate in the Mufassal, and we have come to the same conclusion as the late Sadr Díwání Adálat came to in 1842, namely, that it would not be safe to entrust Indian money-lenders with powers so liable to abuse. We have therefore framed the section (39) corresponding with section 24 of the Bill as introduced, so as to invalidate such powers except where the lender is the Government, or the property is situate in the Presidency Towns or Rangoon.

30. We have limited (section 40) the right of a mortgagee in possession to insure to cases in which the property is insurable at ordinary rates. In the case of an inflammable property, the mortgagee might, under the Bill as introduced, impose an unfair burden on the mortgagor.

31. We have provided (section 41) for accessions to the mortgaged property.

32. We have framed the section (43) corresponding with section 17 of the Bill as introduced, so as to exempt mortgagees who, under a contract in writing, take the profits of the mortgaged property in lieu of interest, from keeping accounts of their receipts.

33. Where a mortgagor in possession fails to pay arrears of revenue and the estate is consequently sold, our Courts have ruled that the mortgagee has a charge on the surplus of the sale-proceeds after payment thereout of such arrears. We have in section 45 adopted this ruling.

34. The Bill as introduced had nothing to shew that Lord Denman's doctrine in Pickard v. Sears applies to mortgages. We have therefore inserted the following:—

"46. Where, through the fraud or gross neglect of a prior mortgagee, another person has been induced to advance money on the security of the mortgaged property, the prior mortgagee shall be postponed to the subsequent mortgagee."

35. The Bill should, we think, embody the equitable principles that a creditor who can satisfy his debt out of several funds shall so exercise his right as not to take from another creditor the fund which forms his only security, and that a fund which is equally liable with another to pay a debt shall not escape because the creditor has been paid out of that other fund alone. We have therefore inserted sections (50, 51) as to what English lawyers call marshalling securities and contribution.

36. Though the matter is one rather of procedure than of substantive law, we have inserted a rule (section 52) as to the proper parties to suits for redemption, foreclosure or sale, which will save the right of subsequent incumbrancers to redeem, and, if a decree for sale is made, conclude them.

37. We have provided (sections 54 and 60) that in suits for foreclosure and redemption, upon good cause shewn, the time fixed by the Court for payment may be enlarged. We believe that this power (which is constantly exercised by Courts of equity) will be in accordance with the feelings of the people of many parts of India where, until recently, the power to redeem was held to last for ever, and even the long term of sixty years fixed by the Limitation Act is sometimes regarded as an unfair innovation.

38. We have designedly withheld power to open foreclosures.

39. We have enumerated the persons entitled to redeem as follows:—

"58. Besides the mortgagor, any of the following persons may institute a suit for redemption of the mortgaged property:—

(a) any person (other than the mortgagee) having any interest in or charge upon the property:

(b) any person having any interest in or charge upon the right to redeem the property:

(c) any surety for the payment of the mortgage-debt or any part thereof:

(d) the guardian of the property of a minor mortgagor:

(e) the committee or other legal curator of a lunatic or idiot mortgagor:

(f) the judgment-creditor of the mortgagor, when he has obtained execution:

(g) a creditor of the mortgagor who has in a suit for the administration of his estate obtained a decree for the sale of the mortgaged property.

Explanation.—An easement is not an interest within the meaning of clause (a)."

40. When property is mortgaged for successive debts to successive mortgagees, we have expressly authorised (section 62) any mesne mortgagee to institute a suit to redeem the prior mortgagees and to foreclose those that are posterior to himself. We have given in the third schedule a form of the decree passed in such a suit.

41. We think that as a person having a charge has a mere right of realization, he should not be allowed to foreclose, and should be only entitled, under the proposed Act, to institute a suit for the sale of the property charged. We have framed section 68 accordingly. We have introduced a section (69) providing for the merger of charges. But the section in its present form is not to be understood as representing our final opinion on the subject.

CHAPTER VI.—Leases.

42. We have prefixed to this chapter a section (70) declaring the respective duties of proposing lessors and lessees to make disclosures of defects and advantages.

43. As the law stands, both in England and, as a general rule, in India, there is no implied warranty on the letting of land or an unfurnished house that it is fit for cultivation or occupation; there is no implied obligation on the landlord to repair the premises, and, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, the tenant is bound to keep and leave them in good repair; and the landlord does not warrant his title, but merely covenants that the tenant paying his rent and performing his covenants may peaceably enjoy the property during the term without interruption by the landlord or any one claiming through him. We think that the Bill should, in these respects, accord with the law as above stated, and we have therefore struck out, in section 44, of the Bill as introduced the latter half of clause (b) and the whole of clause (f), and substituted for clauses (c) and (d) a clause providing for quiet enjoyment by the lessee. But there is no doubt that, in certain parts of India and with regard to certain classes of houses, usages have become established with regard to repairs, with which it is undesirable to interfere. We have, therefore, made our provisions as to liability to repair subject to local usage.

44. Where part of the property leased is destroyed by superior force, we think that the lease should become void as to that part, that any rent or fine payable under the lease should proportionately abate, and that a proportionate part of any fine paid by the lessee should be returned. If the lessor reinstate the part destroyed, he and the lessee can come to a new agreement. We have altered clause (i) in accordance with these views.

45. We think that no lessee should, without the lessor's consent, erect any permanent structure on the property, except for agricultural purposes, and we have made provision to that effect in section 71, clause (m). Under the Bill as introduced the tenant might have erected unsightly buildings on his holding and thereby seriously injured the landlord's contiguous property.

46. We have struck out the words authorising a lessee to remove fixtures after the termination of his lease. They might have prevented the lessor from letting the property to another at the end of the term.

47. We have declared (section 71, clause r) that the power of transfer conferred on a lessee shall not be deemed to authorise an occupancy-ryot to assign his interest. This is the law in Bengal, in the absence of a special custom: the saving clause in section 2 will leave unaffected the right of occupancy-tenants in the Panjáb.

48. We have provided (section 73) for the insolvency of the lessee, and enabled the receiver of his property, with the leave of the Court, to disclaim the property leased. This provision, like the similar clause in chapter III, is founded on 32 & 33 Vic., c. 71, sections 23, 24.

49. We have declared (section 74), in accordance with the present law, that a tenancy begins on entry, and that a lessee before entry cannot sue for trespass.

50. We have stated (section 76) the various ways in which a lease may be determined: we have explained (section 77) the law as to the waiver of forfeiture or a notice to quit; and we have provided by the same section for relief against forfeiture for non-payment of rent. Power to grant such relief has long been exercised by Courts of equity on payment of arrears and the landlord's costs, and a like power was, by 23 & 24 Vic., c. 126, conferred on the Common-law Courts. Act X of 1859, section 78, and Bengal Act VIII of 1869, section 52, provide for stay of execution of a decree for ejectment on payment into Court within fifteen days from its date, and we propose to leave this procedure untouched.

CHAPTER VII.—Settlements.

51. Strong representations have been made to us that, in the case of European and East Indian married women, restraints on anticipation should continue to be allowed. We have therefore added a proviso to section 82 (corresponding with section 52 of the Bill as introduced) which will have the desired effect.

52. We think that section 83 in its present state requires further consideration. But in deference to the Indian Law Commissioners we have let the section stand as they framed it.

53. We think sections 85 and 86 (corresponding with sections 55 and 56 of the Bill as introduced) should not apply to Natives; and we have made a provision to this effect.

CHAPTER VIII.—Discretion of the Courts to deal with settled Land.

54. We think that the delicate jurisdiction which this chapter proposes to confer should be exerciseable only by the High Courts. We have altered the wording of section 88 accordingly.

55. We have recast section 90 (=section 68 of the Bill as introduced) so as to restrict the privilege of appearing, &c., to persons interested in the land and to persons permitted by the Court to appear.

CHAPTER IX.—Gifts for Religious and Charitable Purposes.

56. We have exempted Natives from the operation of this chapter, which would have interfered with their religious usages: we have confined it expressly to immoveable property; and we have provided that notice of the assurances contemplated shall be given to the Local Government.

CHAPTER X.—Owners of Limited Interests.

57. It is said that Hindú law allows the person increasing by his own exertions the value of an estate a larger share in the increase than he possesses in the corpus. We have therefore saved (section 99) in such cases any benefit to which the person making the increase is entitled under his personal law.

58. We have in the section (100) relating to the discovery of the deaths of tenants for life, taken care that the Court shall not be authorised to compel the appearance in public of pardah-women.

CHAPTER XI.—Powers.

59. We have here added rules declaratory of the present law, as to the following matters :—

(a) the revocation of appointments (section 107):
(b) the delegation of powers (section 108) :
(c) the application of the doctrine of election to appointments (section 120) :
(d) gifts by implication to the objects of powers (section 125) :
(e) the priority of interests created under powers (section 127) :
(f) the extinguishment of powers (section 128).

CHAPTER XII.—Property held by several Persons.

60. We have, at the request of our honourable colleague Mahárájá Jotíndra Mohan Tagore, declared (section 130) that nothing in the clause authorising the Court in a suit for partition, to direct a sale and distribute the proceeds, shall apply to the property of an undivided family. But we have reason to believe that, in the Hindú community of Calcutta much difference of opinion exists as to the expediency of making such declaration, and we invite the especial attention of the Local Governments to this matter.

61. We have provided (section 134) that the buyer or mortgagee of a share of undivided immoveable property takes subject to the right of the co-owners to enforce a partition, and that, when such partition is effected, his right extends only to the share allotted to his transferor.

CHAPTER XIII.—Assignments of Things in Action.

62. When the debtor receives notice of the assignment, we have provided (section 137) that he shall give effect thereto unless he resides, or the property is situate, in a foreign country, and the title of the person in whose favour the assignment is made is not complete according to the law of such country.

The First Schedule.

63. We have added to the enactments proposed for repeal, 4 Wm. & Mary, c. 16, as to clandestine mortgages, a matter provided for by section 32 of the amended Bill, Act XXXI of 1854, section 17, which is embodied in section 19 of the amended Bill, and Act I of 1877, section 13, which is inconsistent with section 12 of the same Bill. We have also, by repealing the words 'in writing' in the Specific Relief Act, sections 35 and 36, rendered those sections applicable to oral contracts.

The Second Schedule.

64. We have added forms of an exchange and an English mortgage, and for the form of lease contained in the Bill as introduced, we have substituted forms of a lease of a dwelling-house and a farm.

65. We have now enumerated the changes which we have made in the substance of the Bill. We have also made some in its wording and arrangement.

66. We recommend that the Bill as now amended be republished with this report in the Gazette of India and sent to the several Local Governments for consideration and for republication in the local Gazettes. In order to give ample time for the further discussion of so important a measure, we think that no steps should be taken to pass it into law until the Council re-assembles next November.

67. We desire, in conclusion, to express our obligations to the gentlemen who have favoured us with criticisms on the Bill. We are especially indebted to the Honourable Raymond West, a Judge of the High Court of Bombay; Mr. Grant, Officiating Judicial Commissioner of the Central Provinces; Pandit Lakshmí Nárayana of Lucknow; Mr. J. W. Smyth, a Judge of the Panjáb Chief Court, Muttusámi Ayyar, C. I. E., Acting Judge of the Court of Small Causes at Madura, and Srínivása Rao, a Judge of the Court of Small Causes at Madras; and Mr. Stokes desires to acknowledge some valuable remarks privately communicated to him by Sir R. Garth.

No. II.

A Bill to define and amend the law relating to the Transfer of Property, and for other purposes.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to the transfer of property, to owners of limited interests, and to powers, property held by several persons and apportionment; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Transfer of Property Act, 1878:"

Extent.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force on the first day of January 1879.

Repeal of Acts.

2. On and from that day the enactments specified in the first schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof. But nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect—

Saving of certain Acts, incidents, rights, liabilities, &c.

(a) the provisions of any enactment not hereby expressly repealed:

(b) any incidents of any contract which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act:

(c) any right or liability acquired or incurred before this Act comes into force, or any remedy in respect of any such right or liability:

(d) the right to anything affixed to the soil by the tenant under any lease granted before this Act comes into force:

(e) any right of pre-emption acquired after this Act comes into force:

(f) any sale in execution of a decree or order or for arrears of rent or revenue:

And nothing contained in sections 85 and 86 and Chapter IX shall apply to Hindús, Muhammadans or Buddhists.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

"assurance."

"assurance" means any non-testamentary instrument which purports or operates to create, transfer, or otherwise dispose of, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, to or in immoveable property:

"grantor."
"grantee."
"grant."

the person so creating, transferring or otherwise disposing, is called a grantor: the person in whose favour such creation, transfer or disposition is made, is called a grantee; and the operation effected by an assurance is called a grant:

"registered."

"registered" means registered in British India under the law for the time being in force regulating the registration of documents:

"affixed to the soil."

"affixed to the soil" means—

(a) imbedded in the soil, as in the case of walls:

(b) permanently resting upon it, as in the case of buildings; or

(c) attached to what is so imbedded or so rests, as by means of nails, bolts, screws, cement, solder or other permanent fastening.

Words defined in Act IX of 1872.

All words occurring in this Act and defined in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall have the meaning attributed to them respectively by that Act.

CHAPTER II.

OF ASSURANCES OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

Persons competent to make assurances.

4. Every person competent to contract may make an assurance of immoveable property: but subject to the law for the time being in force as to the circumstances and extent in and to which he may dispose of such property.

Form of assurance.

5. An assurance may be made in the form in the second schedule hereto annexed, or in any other form which expresses an intention thereby, and without any further act on the part of the grantor, to create, transfer or otherwise dispose of any right, title or interest to or in immoveable property.

Operation of assurance.

6. Unless a contrary intention appears by the assurance, it shall be deemed to pass to the grantee all the interest which the grantor is capable of passing in the object of the grant, and to comprise—

(a) standing trees and all other products of the soil;

(b) things affixed to the soil, and, in the case of machinery so affixed, the moveable parts thereof;

(c) in the case of a house, the locks, keys, bars, doors and windows.

Title which grantor of immoveable property can give.

7. The owner of immoveable property cannot give to another a title thereto higher or more free from incumbrance than his own, and when he has only a restricted power of alienating the property, he cannot give to another a title thereto valid as against third parties, except upon an alienation within the restriction:

Protection to innocent grantees for value.

Provided that where a grantor makes a grant as (a) the manager of the property of a minor or an undivided family, (b) a childless Hindú widow in possession of her deceased husband's property, or (c) a benámídár or other ostensible owner, the grantee's title shall not be impeached if the grant has been made for a consideration and the grantee has acted in good faith and used due care and diligence to ascertain that the grantor had power to make the grant.

Contracts restricting mode of enjoyment of land.

8. A contract in writing between the respective owners of two neighbouring parcels of land, that one of them shall do or refrain from doing something on his parcel for the benefit of the other parcel, is binding on all persons claiming the former parcel under him with actual knowledge of the contract, and may be enforced by the owner of the latter parcel or his legal representative.

A contract in writing between the owner of certain land and any other person, that the former shall do or refrain from doing something on the land for the benefit of the public, is binding on all persons claiming the land under the former with actual knowledge of the contract, and may be enforced by the latter, or his legal representative, or by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

Effect of payment by one person of consideration for which grant is made to another.

9. Where a grant of immoveable property for a consideration is made to one person, and the consideration is paid by another, no trust shall result in favour of the person by whom such payment is made; but the property shall vest in the grantee, subject only to the provisions next following.

Every such grant shall be presumed to be fraudulent as against the creditors, at that time, of the person paying the consideration; and where a fraudulent intent is not disproved, a trust shall result in favour of such creditors to the extent necessary to satisfy their just demands.

CHAPTER III.

Of Sales of Immoveable Property.

Disclosures required from proposing sellers and buyers.

10. A person proposing to sell immoveable property need not disclose defects therein which the buyer might with ordinary care discover: but the proposing seller must not conceal, or attempt to conceal, such defects, and he must disclose to the buyer all other defects therein of which the former is, and the latter is not, aware.

Where the proposing buyer stands, or has stood, as regards the property, in a fiduciary relation to the seller, he must disclose to the seller any fact which increases the value of the property itself, and of which the former has, during the existence of such relation, become aware. Save as aforesaid, a person proposing to buy immoveable property need not disclose any fact unknown to the seller which increases the value of the property itself: but the proposing buyer must disclose any such fact which increases the value of the seller's interest therein, and of which the former is, and the latter is not, aware.

Illustrations.

(a.) A proposes to sell a field to his neighbour B. A need not disclose the existence of an open foot-path over the field.

(b.) A proposes to sell a mine to B, who has the opportunity of examining it. A need not disclose the fact that he has himself worked the mine, but has abandoned the working as unprofitable.

(c.) A proposes to buy B's field. There is not, and never has been, any fiduciary relation between A and B. A need not disclose the fact that there are minerals under the field, though he knows that B is ignorant of it.

(d). A proposes to buy from B his interest in certain property to which B is entitled on C's death. C, to the knowledge of A, but not of B, is actually dead or is about to die. A is bound to disclose this fact to B.

Rights and liabilities of buyer and seller.

11. Unless a contrary intention appears from the contract or assurance, the buyer and the seller of immoveable property respectively have the rights, and are subject to the liabilities, mentioned in the ten rules next following, or such of them as are applicable to the property sold:

(a). The seller must produce to the buyer, for examination, all documents of title relating to the property which are in his possession or power, and must inform the buyer of all facts not apparent thereon which affect the seller's power to fulfil his contract, and must answer to the best of his information all relevant questions put to him by the buyer in respect to the property or the title thereto.

(b). When the buyer has been let into possession of the property before payment of the whole of the purchase-money, the seller has a charge upon the property for the amount of the purchase-money, or any part thereof, remaining unpaid, and for interest on such amount or part; but as soon as the assurance, if any, is registered, such charge shall cease except as against the buyer.

(c). Unless the buyer has improperly declined to complete the purchase, he has, against the seller, a charge on the property, to the extent of the seller's interest therein, for the amount of any purchase-money properly paid by the buyer in anticipation of the completion of the purchase, and for interest on the amount of such payment; and, when the buyer properly declines to complete the purchase, also for the deposit (if any) and for his costs (if any) of a suit by himself or the seller to compel specific performance of the contract or to obtain a decree for its rescission.

(d). If the seller alter the property in any particular which does not admit of compensation or reinstatement, the buyer may decline to complete the purchase.

(e). When the buyer has been let into beneficial possession of the property before completion of the purchase, and the purchase is not completed owing to defects in the seller's title, the buyer is not liable to pay for his use of the property.

(f). The seller must discharge all incumbrances on the property existing at the date of the contract. The buyer may retain out of the unpaid purchase-money the amount of such incumbrances and shall pay the amount so retained to the parties entitled thereto.

(g). On payment or tender of the amount due in respect of the purchase-money, the seller is bound to execute a proper assurance of the property when the buyer tenders it to him for execution at a proper time and place.

(h). On completion of the purchase, the property vests in the buyer, and the buyer is entitled to all documents of title relating to the property which are in the seller's possession or power:

Provided that (1) where the seller retains any part of the property comprised in such documents, he is entitled to retain them all, and (2) where the whole of such property is sold to different buyers, the buyer of the lot of greatest value is entitled to such documents. But in case (1) the seller, and in case (2) the buyer, of the lot of greatest value, is bound, upon every reasonable request by the buyer, or by any of the other buyers, as the case may be, or by any person claiming under him, and at the cost of the person making the request, to produce the said documents and furnish such true copies thereof as he may require; and, in the meantime, the seller or the buyer, as the case may be, of the portion of greatest value, must keep the said documents safe, uncancelled and undefaced, unless prevented from so doing by fire or other inevitable accident.

(i). In the absence of fraud, concealment and misrepresentation, the seller is not answerable for any defect in the property sold.

(j). Unless the sale is made by a person in a fiduciary character, the seller shall be deemed to contract with the buyer, first, that notwithstanding anything done by the seller or any person through whom he claims, the seller has power to grant the property to the buyer, free from incumbrances; secondly, that the seller and all persons claiming any interest in the same through or for him, or any person through whom he claims, will on demand execute and deliver to the buyer at his expense any further assurance of the same that may reasonably be required; and, where the property is leasehold, thirdly, that the lease is valid and subsisting and that the rent reserved thereby, the conditions contained therein and the contracts binding on the lessee have been paid, performed and observed down to the completion of the purchase.

When the sale is made by a person in a fiduciary character, the seller shall be deemed to contract with the buyer that the seller has done no act whereby the property is incumbered or whereby he is hindered from granting it.

EXPLANATION.—A purchase is completed within the meaning of this chapter when possession of the property is delivered to the buyer. When the transfer is made by assurance, such delivery takes place when the assurance is executed by the seller and (if its registration be required by law) registered. When the transfer is not made by assurance, such delivery takes place, in the case of an incorporeal right, when the parties consent to the delivery, and, in the case of other immoveable property, when the buyer becomes capable of exercising physical control over it and determines to exercise such control on his own behalf, or on behalf of the person whom he represents.

Contract for sale not of itself to create interest in property.

12. A contract for, or relating to, the sale of immoveable property, shall not have the effect of creating any interest in, or charge on, such property; but the only right of any person under the contract shall be to apply for specific performance, or for compensation, or for both, according to the rules laid down in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, the Specific Relief Act, 1877, and section twenty.

Insolvency of buyer.

13. If, before completion of the purchase, the buyer is declared insolvent, the receiver of his property appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, section 351, may, if the contract is unprofitable, by writing under his hand disclaim the same, and thereupon the contract shall be deemed to be determined from the date of the declaration: provided that the receiver shall not disclaim such contract in cases where an application in writing has been made to him by any person having any interest in the property, requiring him to decide whether he will disclaim or not, and the receiver has, for a period of not less than twenty-eight days after the receipt of such application or such further term as may be allowed by the Court, declined or neglected to give notice whether he disclaims the contract or not.

Any person injured by the operation of this section shall be deemed a creditor of the insolvent to the extent of such injury and may prove the same as a debt under the insolvency.

Liability of buyer of leasehold.

14. As between the seller and buyer of leasehold property, the buyer is, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, bound to pay the rent reserved by the lease and accruing due after completion of the purchase, to perform the contracts by the lessee, and to indemnify the seller and his legal representative against all claims for non-payment of such rent or breach or non-observance of such covenants.

Liability of buyer of equity of redemption.

15. As between the seller and buyer of a right to redeem mortgaged property, the buyer is, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, bound (a) to pay to the mortgagee or his legal representative the principal sum which, on completion of the purchase, is owing on the security of the mortgage, and all interest for the time being due for the same, when payment thereof, respectively, is lawfully demanded, and (b) to indemnify the seller and his legal representative against the payment thereof, and against all claims for non-payment thereof, respectively.

Money received under fire-policy.

16. If at the date of the contract the property is insured against loss or damage by fire, the buyer, in case of such loss or damage, may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, require any money which the seller may actually receive under the policy, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be applied in reinstating the property.

Joint purchases.

17. When two or more persons purchase any immoveable property, with separate funds belonging to them respectively, they shall, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, be interested in such property in proportion to the shares of the purchase-money which they respectively advanced.

Right of buyer of one of two properties subject to common charge.

18. When two properties are subject to a common charge, and one of the properties is sold, the buyer is, as against the seller and his legal representative, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, entitled to have the charge satisfied out of the other property, so far as such property will extend.

Bonâ fide buyer not bound to see to application of purchase-money.

19. When any property is sold, the proceeds of which are subject to any trust, the bonâ fide buyer of the property is not bound to see to the application of the purchase-money to the purposes of the trust.

Remedies of buyer and seller.

20. When the buyer fails to perform any duty imposed on him, as such, by this Act or any other law for the time being in force, the seller may, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, section 56, sue the buyer for compensation for such non-performance.

When the seller fails to perform any duty imposed upon him, as such, by this Act or any other law for the time being in force, the buyer may either sue under the Specific Relief Act, 1877, to have the contract rescinded, or may affirm it and sue for compensation for its non-performance. In the latter case, the buyer may recover his expenses reasonably incurred, after the contract was entered into, in relation to the attempted purchase; and in each case he may recover his deposit (if any) with interest thereon.

CHAPTER IV.

OF EXCHANGES.

"Exchange" defined.

21. When two persons contract to mutually give one thing for another, neither thing or both things being money only, the contract is called a contract of exchange.

When thing exchanged does not belong to party giving it.

22. If one of the parties prove that the other was not owner of the thing given or agreed to be given to the former in exchange, the former cannot be compelled to deliver that which he has promised in counter-exchange; but when he has received the thing given to him in exchange, he may be compelled to return it.

Right of party evicted from thing received in exchange.

The party deprived of the thing he has received in exchange by reason of anything done by the other party or any person through whom the latter claims, may, at his option, sue for compensation or sue for the thing given by him.

Rights and liabilities of parties.

23. Save as otherwise provided in this chapter, each party has the rights and is subject to the liabilities of a seller as to that which he gives, and has the rights and is subject to the liabilities of a buyer as to that which he takes.

Exchange of money.

24. On an exchange of money, each party thereby warrants the genuineness of the money given by him.

CHAPTER V.

OF MORTGAGES AND CHARGES.

Mortgage, mortgagor and mortgagee defined.

25. When, for the purpose of securing money advanced or to be advanced by way of loan or an existing or future debt, one person transfers to another a right over specific immoveable property, the transfer is called a mortgage, the transferor is called a mortgagor, the transferee a mortgagee, the money of which payment is secured is called the mortgage-money, and the assurance by which the transfer is effected is called a mortgage-deed.

For the purposes of this chapter, any person entitled as heir, legatee, assignee, lessee or otherwise than as a mortgagee to the interest of the transferor in the property subject to the mortgage, or any part of such interest, is a mortgagor; and any person entitled as heir, legatee, assignee or otherwise to the interest of the transferee under the mortgage, or any part thereof, is a mortgagee.

English mortgage.

Where the mortgagor transfers the property to the mortgagee conditionally upon the non-payment of the mortgage-money at a certain date, the transaction is called an English mortgage.

Usufructuary mortgage.

Where the mortgagor delivers possession of the property to the mortgagee, and authorises him to retain such possession and to pay himself from the rents and profits of the property the interest, or the principal and interest, of the mortgage-money, the transaction is called an usufructuary mortgage.

Simple mortgage

Where the mortgagor binds himself personally to repay the mortgage-money, and pledges the property as collateral security for the repayment, but does not deliver possession of the property, or contract that in default of payment of the principal and interest at a certain date the property shall pass to the mortgagee, the transaction is called a simple mortgage.

Mortgage by conditional sale.

Where the mortgagor not so binding himself and not delivering possession of the property, contracts that, on default of payment of the principal and interest at a certain date, the property shall pass to the mortgagee, the transaction is called a mortgage by conditional sale.

Mortgage to be by assurance.

26. A mortgage can be effected only by assurance signed by the mortgagor and attested by at least two witnesses.

Effect of deposit of title-deeds.

27. The deposit of title-deeds with intent to create a mortgage on the property comprised therein, but without actual transfer of such property, shall be deemed to be only evidence of a contract to execute a mortgage of the property.

Rights and Liabilities of Mortgagor.

Right of mortgagor to redeem, tender or deposit.

28. A mortgagor has the following rights as against the mortgagee:—

(a) at any time after the mortgage-money has become payable, or has been paid, and before an order absolute has been made foreclosing his right to redeem the mortgaged property or the property is duly sold in pursuance of a decree or under a power conferred by the mortgage-deed, he may, on payment or tender of the mortgage-money remaining due, require the mortgagee to re-grant the property to him, or to execute an acknowledgment in writing that any right in derogation of his ownership or other interest granted to the mortgagee has been extinguished.

(b) at any time after the mortgage-money has become payable and before such suit is barred, he may, tender to the mortgagee at a proper time and place, or deposit in any Court in which he might have instituted a suit for redemption of the mortgaged property, to the account of the mortgagee, the whole amount for the time being due on the mortgage.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise a person interested in part only of the mortgaged property to institute a suit for the redemption of his own part only, except where there is but one mortgagee and the mortgagor's interest in part of the property becomes vested in such mortgagee.

Implied contracts by mortgagor.

29. In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the mortgagor shall be deemed to contract with the mortgagee, first, that the mortgagor has power to grant the property to the mortgagee, free from incumbrances; secondly, that the mortgagor and every person claiming any interest in the same will on demand (at the cost until foreclosure or sale of the mortgagor and afterwards of the person requiring the same) execute every such assurance of the same that may reasonably be required; and, where the property is leasehold, thirdly, that the lease is valid and subsisting, that the rent reserved thereby, the conditions contained therein, and the contracts binding on the lessee have been paid, performed and observed down to the execution of the mortgage-deed; and that the mortgagor will, so long as the security exists, pay the rent reserved by the lease, perform the conditions contained therein and observe the contracts binding on the lessee and indemnify the mortgagee against all claims sustained by reason of the non-payment of the said rent or the non-performance or non-observance of the said conditions and contracts.

Renewal of mortgaged lease.

30. Where the mortgaged property is a lease for a term of years, and the mortgagee, while in possession of the property, obtains a renewal of the lease, the mortgagor, upon redemption, shall, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, have the benefit of the new lease.

Waste by mortgagor in possession.

31. A mortgagor in possession of the mortgaged property must not commit waste thereon, if the security is insufficient or will be rendered insufficient by such waste.

Explanation.—A security is insufficient within the meaning of this section unless the value of the mortgaged property exceeds by one-third, or, if consisting of buildings, exceeds by one-half, the mortgage-money.

Notice to mesne incumbrancers.

32. A mortgagor proposing to make a second or other subsequent mortgage of the mortgaged property shall before effecting the mortgage, give the second or other subsequent mortgagee notice in writing under his hand of the prior mortgage or mortgages, and a mortgagor making a second or other subsequent mortgage of the mortgaged property shall, as soon as may be, give the prior mortgagee or mortgagees like notice of such mortgage.

A mortgagor failing to give any notice required by this section, in addition to any other liability resulting from such failure, shall, when the accounts are taken in pursuance of a decree made under this chapter, be debited with the loss, if any, occasioned by such failure.

Right to redeem one of two properties separately mortgaged.

33. If the owner of two or more properties creates separate mortgages on them by separate assurances, each mortgage may be dealt with irrespectively of the other, though the mortgages are created in favour of the same mortgagee.

Illustration.

A, the owner of farms Z and Y, mortgages Z to B for Rs. 1,000. A afterwards mortgages Y to B for Rs. 1,000, making no stipulation as to any additional charge on Z. A may institute a suit for the redemption of the mortgage on Z alone.

Rights and Liabilities of the Mortgagee.

Right to sue for foreclosure or sale.

34. In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the mortgagee may, at any time after the mortgage-money has become payable to him, and before a decree has been made for the redemption of the mortgaged property, or the mortgage-money has been paid, institute against the mortgagor (1) a suit for a foreclosure of his right to redeem the property with or without possession thereof, or (2) a suit for a sale of the property, or (3) a suit for such foreclosure or sale

Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

(a) to authorize a simple mortgagee to institute a suit for a foreclosure, or an usufructuary mortgagee to institute a suit for a foreclosure or sale, or a conditional mortgagee to institute a suit for a sale;

(c) to authorize a person interested in part only of the mortgage-money to institute a suit relating only to a corresponding part of the mortgaged property: but he may institute any of the suits mentioned in that clause, which, under this Act, he is authorized to institute, relating to the whole of the mortgaged property, making the other mortgagees, if they cannot or will not join as plaintiffs, defendants.

Right to money deposited by mortgagor.

35. Where the mortgagor deposits money in court under section twenty-eight, the Court shall forthwith cause written notice of the deposit to be served on the mortgagee, and the mortgagee may, on depositing the mortgage-deed in the same court and on filing a written statement (verified in manner prescribed by law for the verification of plaints) of the amount due to him under the mortgage, apply for and receive in payment of such amount the money so deposited.

Right to interest.

36. When the mortgagor and mortgagee have contracted as to the payment of interest on the principal money for the time being due to the mortgagee under the mortgage, interest shall be payable in accordance with such contract:

Proviso.

Provided that, where the mortgagor has tendered or deposited in court under section twenty-eight the whole amount due to the mortgagee, such interest shall cease from the date of the tender or from the earliest time when the mortgagee could take such amount out of court, as the case may be.

Where no such contract has been entered into, the mortgagee is entitled to interest on such principal money at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

Right to receiver.

37. In the absence of an express contract to the contrary, no mortgagee shall be entitled as such to take possession of the mortgaged property; but at any time after the expiration of one year from the time when the principal money has become payable according to the terms of the mortgage-deed, or after any interest thereon has been in arrear for six months, he may institute a suit for the appointment of a receiver of the rents and profits of the whole or any part of the same.

In any suit for a foreclosure or sale, the Court may, if it think fit, appoint such a receiver pending the proceedings in the suit.

Right to sue for mortgage-money.

38. No mortgage shall be deemed to imply a debt for the recovery of which a suit will lie against the debtor; but the mortgagee may sue the mortgagor for the mortgage-money—

(a) where the mortgagor expressly binds himself to repay the same:

(b) where the mortgagor remains in possession of the property and fails to pay arrears of revenue due in respect thereof, and the property is consequently sold:

(c) where the property is destroyed by diluvion, fire or other superior force:

(d) in the case of an usufructuary mortgage, where the mortgagor fails to deliver to the mortgagee possession of the property or to secure the possession thereof to him without disturbance by the mortgagor or any other person.

Power of sale invalid.

39. A power conferred by the mortgage-deed on the mortgagee to sell or concur in selling the mortgaged property, or any part thereof, is invalid, except where the mortgagee is the Secretary of State for India in Council, or the mortgaged property is situate within the town of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Rangoon.

Act No. XXVIII of 1866, section 6, is repealed so far as it is inconsistent with this section.

Right as to insurance-money.

40. If, at the date of the mortgage, the mortgaged property is insured against loss or damage by fire, the mortgagee, in case of such loss or damage, may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, require any money which the mortgagor may actually receive under the policy, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be laid out in reinstating the property.

Accession to mortgaged property.

41. If, after the date of the mortgage, any accession is made to the mortgaged property, the mortgagee, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, shall, for the purposes of the security, be entitled to such accession.

Illustrations.

(a) A mortgages to B a certain field bordering on a river. The field is increased by alluvion. For the purposes of his security, B is entitled to the increase.

(b). A mortgages a certain plot of building land to B and afterwards erects a house on the plot. For the purposes of his security, B is entitled to the house as well as the plot.

Mortgagee in possession.

42. When, during the continuance of the mortgage, the mortgagee takes possession of the mortgaged property, he has the following rights and liabilities:—

(a) he shall manage the property as a person of ordinary prudence would manage it if it were his own;

(b) he shall use his best endeavours to collect all rents and other profits arising out of the property;

(c) he shall, in the absence of an express contract to the contrary, out of the income of the property pay the Government revenue and all other charges of a public nature accruing due in respect thereof during such possession;

(d) he may spend such money as is necessary (1) for the due management of the property and the collection of the rents and other profits arising out of the same, (2) for its preservation from destruction, deterioration, forfeiture or sale, (3) for supporting the mortgagor's title to the property, (4) for making his own title thereto good against the mortgagor, and (5), when the mortgaged property is a renewable leasehold, for the renewal of the lease; and may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, add such money to the principal money secured, at the same rate of interest;

(e) he may eject the tenants (if any) in occupation of the property under leases made without the mortgagee's consent after the completion of the mortgage;

(f) where the property is by its nature insurable at ordinary rates, he may insure and keep insured against loss or damage by fire the whole or any part of such property, and add the premiums paid for any such insurance to the principal money secured, at the same rate of interest; and, in case of such loss or damage, shall apply any money which he may actually receive under the policy, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in reinstating the property;

(g) he shall, in the absence of an express contract to the contrary, keep accurate accounts of all sums received and spent by him as mortgagee and, at any time during the continuance of the mortgage, give the mortgagor, at his request and cost, true copies of such accounts and of the vouchers by which they are supported;

(h) his receipts from the mortgaged property, after deducting the expenses mentioned in clauses (c), (d) and (f), shall be debited against him in reduction of the amount (if any) from time to time due to him on account of interest on the principal sum secured by the mortgage, and, so far as such receipts exceed any interest due, in reduction of such principal sum.

Receipts in lieu of interest.

43. Nothing in section forty-two, clauses (g) and (h), applies to cases where there is an express contract in writing between the mortgagee and the mortgagor that such receipts, after deducting the said expenses, shall, so long as the mortgagee is in possession of the mortgaged property, be taken in lieu of interest on the principal sum secured by the mortgage.

Waste by mortgagee.

44. A mortgagee in possession of the mortgaged property must not commit waste thereon.

Charge on proceeds of revenue-sale.

45. When a mortgagor in possession of the mortgaged property fails to pay arrears of revenue due in respect thereof, and the property is consequently sold, the mortgagee has a charge on the surplus, if any, of the proceeds, after payment thereout of the said arrears.

Priority.

Postponement of prior mortgagee.

46. Where, through the fraud or gross neglect of a prior mortgagee, another person has been induced to advance money on the security of the mortgaged property, the prior mortgagee shall be postponed to the subsequent mortgagee.

Mortgage to secure balance of account.

47. If a mortgage made to secure the balance of a running account expresses the maximum to be secured thereby, a subsequent mortgage on the same property shall, if made with actual knowledge of the prior mortgage, or if the instrument effecting the prior mortgage is registered, be postponed to the prior mortgage in respect of all advances or debits not exceeding the maximum, though made or allowed with notice of the subsequent mortgage.

Illustration.

A mortgages Sultánpur to his bankers, B & Co., to secure the balance of his account with them to the extent of Rs. 10,000. A then mortgages Sultánpur to C, to secure Rs. 10,000; and C gives notice thereof to B & Co. At the date of the second mortgage, the balance due to B & Co. does not exceed Rs. 5,000. B & Co. subsequently advance to A sums making the balance of the account against him exceed the sum of Rs. 10,000. B & Co. are entitled, to the extent of Rs. 10,000, to priority over C.

Tacking abolished.

48. No mortgagee paying off a prior mortgage, whether with or without notice of an intermediate mortgage, shall thereby acquire any priority in respect of his original security. And, except in the case provided for by section forty-seven, no mortgagee making a subsequent advance to the mortgagor, whether with or without notice of an intermediate mortgage, shall thereby acquire any priority in respect of his security for such subsequent advance.

Right to pay off mortgagee in order to prevent sale.

49. Any second or other subsequent mortgagee may, at any time before a sale of the mortgaged property has taken place under this chapter, tender to the next prior mortgagee the amount due to him on account of his mortgage. Such mortgagee is bound to accept such tender and to give a receipt for the sum due, and on such receipt being registered, the person making the tender shall acquire, in respect of the property, all the rights and powers of the mortgagee to whom he has made such tender.

Marshalling securities.

50. If the owner of two properties mortgages them both to one person and then mortgages one of the properties to another person without actual knowledge of the former mortgage, the second mortgagee is entitled to have the debt of the first mortgagee satisfied out of the property not mortgaged to the second mortgagee, so far as such property will extend; but not so as to prejudice the rights of the first mortgagee or of any other person having an incumbrance on either property.

Contribution to mortgage-debt.

51. Where several properties, whether of one or several owners, are mortgaged to secure one debt, the several properties shall contribute rateably to the debt secured by the mortgage, after deducting from the value of each property the amount of any other incumbrance to which it is subject.

Where of two properties belonging to the same owner, one is mortgaged to secure one debt, and then both are mortgaged to secure another debt, and the former debt is paid out of the former property, each property shall contribute rateably to the latter debt, after deducting the amount of the former debt from the value of the property out of which it has been paid.

Nothing in this section applies to a property liable under section fifty to the claim of the second mortgagee.

Suits for Redemption, Foreclosure or Sale.

Parties to suits for redemption, foreclosure and sale.

52. Subject to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, section 437, all persons having an interest either in the right of redemption or in the security ought to be joined as parties to any suit under section twenty-eight or thirty-four, and the first or any subsequent mortgagee who institutes a suit for foreclosure or sale ought to make every mortgagee and other incumbrancer whose security is subsequent to his own, a party to the suit.

Foreclosure and Sale.

Decree in foreclosure-suit.

53. In a suit for foreclosure, or foreclosure or sale, if the plaintiff succeed, the Court shall pass a decree, ordering that an account be taken of what will be due to the plaintiff for principal and interest on the mortgage and for his costs of the suit, on the day next hereinafter referred to, or declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree, and ordering that, upon the defendant paying to the plaintiff or into court the amount so due, on a day within six months from the date of declaring in court the amount so due, to be fixed by the court, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall transfer the mortgaged property to the defendant free from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims; and shall, if necessary, put the defendant into possession of the mortgaged property; but that, if such payment is not made on or before such day, the defendant shall be absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

Procedure in case of payment of amount due and subsequent costs.

54. If payment is so made of such amount and of such subsequent costs as are mentioned in section sixty-four, the defendant shall (if necessary) be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

Order absolute for foreclosure.

If such payment is not so made, the plaintiff may apply to the Court for an order absolute for the foreclosure of the said mortgage, and the Court shall then pass an order absolute that the defendant to be foreclosed of all right to redeem the mortgaged property, and may, if necessary, deliver possession of the property to the plaintiff; and thereupon the defendant's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished.

Power to enlarge time.

Provided that the Court may, upon good cause shewn, from time to time postpone the day appointed for such payment.

In the Code of Civil Procedure, Schedule IV, No. 129, for the words "Final Decree", the words "Order absolute" shall be substituted.

Decree for sale.

55. In a suit for a sale under this chapter, if the plaintiff succeed, the Court shall, and in any other suit

Power to decree sale at instance of mortgagee.

by the mortgagee under this chapter, if the plaintiff succeed the Court may at his instance, pass a decree ordering as provided in the first and second paragraphs of section fifty-three, and also ordering that in default of the defendant making payment as therein mentioned the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold, and that the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into court and applied in payment of what is so found due to the plaintiff and that the balance, if any, be paid to the defendant or other persons entitled to receive the same.

Power to decree sale in foreclosure-suit at instance of mortgagor.

When the mortgagee sues only for a foreclosure, if the Court considers that he will not be damnified by such sale and if the defendant furnishes such security, if any, as the Court thinks sufficient for the payment of the balance due for the time being by him on the mortgage, the Court may, at the instance of the defendant, pass a like decree.

Any decree under this section may also direct the defendant to pay any balance remaining due to the plaintiff upon the mortgage after the proceeds of sale have been dealt with as above provided.

Procedure when defendant pays amount due and subsequent costs.

Order absolute for sale.

56. If in any case under section fifty-five the defendant makes payment as mentioned in section fifty-four, he shall (if necessary) be put in possession of the mortgaged property: but if such payment is not so made, the plaintiff or the defendant, as the case may be, may apply to the Court for an order absolute for sale of the mortgaged property, and the Court shall then pass an order that such property, or a sufficient part thereof, be sold, and that the proceeds of the sale be dealt with as is mentioned in section fifty-five; and thereupon the defendant's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished.

Recovery of balance due on mortgage.

57. When the nett proceeds of any such sale are insufficient to pay the amount due for the time being on the mortgage, the balance, if payable according to the contract between the parties by the defendant otherwise than out of the property sold, may be recovered either (if the Court thinks fit) in the same suit in the same manner as under a decree for money, or by any other legal process open to the mortgagee.

Redemption.

Who may sue for redemption.

58. Besides the mortgagor, any of the following persons may institute a suit for redemption of the mortgaged property:—

(a) any person (other than the mortgagee) having any interest in or charge upon the property:

(b) any person having any interest in or charge upon the right to redeem the property:

(c) any surety for the payment of the mortgage-debt or any part thereof:

(d) the guardian of the property of a minor mortgagor:

(e) the committee or other legal curator of a lunatic or idiot mortgagor:

(f) the judgment-creditor of the mortgagor, when he has obtained execution.

(g) a creditor of the mortgagor who has in a suit for the administration of his estate obtained a decree for sale of the mortgaged property.

Explanation.—An easement is not an interest within the meaning of clause (a).

Decree in redemption-suit.

59. In a suit for redemption, if the plaintiff succeed, the Court shall pass a decree ordering that an account be taken of what will be due to the defendant for principal and interest on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit, on the day next hereinafter referred to, or declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree; and ordering that upon the plaintiff paying to the defendant or into court the amount so due on a day within six months from the date of declaring in court the amount so due, to be fixed by the Court, the defendant shall deliver up to the plaintiff, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall (if such property has been transferred to the defendant) retransfer it to the plaintiff free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the defendant or any person claiming under him, or, when the defendant claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall, if necessary, put the plaintiff into possession of the mortgaged property; but that if such payment is not made on or before such day, the plaintiff shall be absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

In case of redemption, possession:

60. If payment is made of such amount and of such subsequent costs as are mentioned in section sixty-four the plaintiff shall, if necessary, be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

In default, foreclosure.

If such payment is not so made, the defendant may apply to the Court for an order absolute for the foreclosure of the said mortgage, and the Court shall then pass an order absolute ordering the plaintiff to be foreclosed of all right to redeem the mortgaged property, and may, if necessary, deliver possession of the property to the defendant; and thereupon the plaintiff's right to redeem and the security shall both be extinguished:

Power to enlarge time.

Provided that the Court may upon good cause shewn, from time to time, postpone the day appointed for such payment.

Redemption and Foreclosure.

Right of mesne mortgagee to redeem and foreclose.

61. When property is mortgaged for successive debts to successive mortgagees, any mesne mortgagee may institute a suit to redeem the interests of the prior mortgagees and to foreclose the rights of those that are posterior to himself and of the mortgagor.

The decree in such suit may be in the form set forth in the third schedule hereto annexed, with such variation as the circumstances of each case require.

Loss occasioned by mortgagee's default.

62. If the mortgagee fail to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by section forty-two, he may, when accounts are taken in pursuance of a decree made under this chapter, be debited with the loss, if any, occasioned by such failure.

Costs.

Costs of mortgagee.

63. The mortgagee is ordinarily entitled to receive or add to his debt his costs properly incurred of any suit under this chapter. But such costs, or any part thereof, may be disallowed if the mortgagor has paid or tendered to the mortgagee, or has deposited in court, the whole amount due to him under the mortgage, and if the mortgagee has unreasonably refused to accept such tender or to take such money out of court in discharge of his claim, or if he has prevented a mortgagor willing and able to make such payment, tender or deposit from making it by refusing or neglecting to give him proper information as to the state of the accounts required to be kept under section forty-two.

Costs of mortgagee subsequent to decree.

64. In finally adjusting the amount to be paid to a mortgagee in case of a redemption or a sale by the Court under this chapter, the Court shall, unless the conduct of the mortgagee has been such as to disentitle him to costs, add to the principal debt such costs of suit as have been properly incurred by him since the decree for foreclosure, redemption or sale up to the time of actual payment.

Sale of Property subject to prior mortgage.

Sale of property subject to prior mortgage.

65. If any property the sale of which is directed under this chapter is subject to a prior mortgage, the Court may, with the consent of the prior mortgagee, order that the property be sold free from the same, giving to such prior mortgagee the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold.

Application of proceeds.

66. Such proceeds shall be brought into Court and applied as follows :—

first, in payment of all expenses incident to the sale or properly incurred in any attempted sale ;

secondly, if the property has been sold free from any prior mortgage, in payment of whatever is due on account of such mortgage ;

thirdly, in payment of all interest due on account of the mortgage in consequence whereof the sale was directed, and of the costs of the suit in which the decree directing the sale was made ;

fourthly, in payment of all principal moneys due on account of that mortgage ; and fifthly, the residue (if any) shall be paid to the person proving himself to be interested in the property sold, or if there be more such persons than one, then to such persons according to their respective interests therein or upon their joint receipt.

Rights and powers of transferee of mortgage-debt or mortgaged property.

67. If property subject to a mortgage, or the right to receive mortgage-money, be transferred to a third person, the transferee has all the rights and powers of his transferor, under the mortgage, and is subject to the liabilities existing between his transferor and the mortgagor or mortgagee; as the case may be.

Where such a transfer is made for the purpose of securing money advanced or to be advanced by way of loan or an existing or future debt, the original mortgage-debt, if recovered by either the transferor or the transferee, is applicable, first, in payment of the costs of such recovery, secondly, in or towards satisfaction of the amount for the time being secured by the transfer; and the residue, if any, belongs to the transferor.

Charges.

Charges.

68. If by any assurance other than a mortgage-deed, or by any will, or under the provisions of this or any other Act, or by operation of law, certain immoveable property of one person is made security for the payment of certain money to another, the latter person is said to have a charge on the property, and all the provisions hereinbefore applied to a mortgagor shall apply to the owner of such property, and all the provisions hereinbefore applied to a mortgagee instituting a suit for the sale of the mortgaged property shall apply to the person having such charge.

Merger of charges.

69. Where a person is or becomes absolutely entitled to immoveable property, of a charge or other incumbrance on which he is also the owner, the charge or incumbrance shall be extinguished, unless by an instrument in writing registered he expressly declares that it shall be kept on foot.

CHAPTER VI.

OF LEASES OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

Disclosures required from proposing lessor and lessee.

70. A person proposing to let immoveable property need not disclose defects therein which the lessee might with ordinary care discover ; but the proposing lessor must not conceal, or attempt to conceal, such defects, and he must disclose to the lessee all other defects therein of which the former is, and the latter is not, aware.

When the proposing lessee stands, or has stood, as regards the property, in a fiduciary relation to the lessor, he must disclose to the lessor any fact which increases the value of the property itself, and of which the former has, during the existence of such relation, become aware. Save as aforesaid, a person proposing to take a lease of immoveable property need not disclose any fact unknown to the lessor which increases such value.

Rights and liabilities of lessor and lessee.

71. In the absence of a contract in writing or local usage to the contrary, the lessor and the lessee, as against one another, respectively, possess the rights and are subject to the liabilities mentioned in the eighteen rules next following, or such of them as are applicable to the property leased :—

(a.) The lessor is bound to put the lessee in possession of the property leased :

(b.) The lessor shall be deemed to contract with the lessee that the latter paying the rent reserved by the lease and performing the contracts by the lessee may hold the property leased during the time limited by the lease without interruption by the lessor or his assigns, or any person lawfully claiming through him or them :

(c.) In the absence of fraud, concealment or misrepresentation, the lessor is not answerable for any defect in the property leased which the lessee could not with ordinary care have discovered :

(d.) During the continuance of the lease, the lessee is entitled to the enjoyment of all easements appendant to the property leased at the time when the lease was made until such easements are extinguished :

(e.) The lessee is bound to keep, and on the termination of the lease to restore, the property leased in as good condition as it was in at the time when he was put in possession, subject only to reasonable wear and tear:

(f.) If by fire, tempest or flood, or violence of an army or of a mob, or other superior force, any part of the property leased be wholly destroyed or rendered substantially unfit for the purposes for which it was let, the lease shall be void as to that part, and any rent or fine payable under the lease shall proportionately abate, and a proportionate part of any fine paid by the lessee shall be returned by the lessor:

If the injury be occasioned by the wrongful act or default of either party, such party shall not be entitled to avail himself of the benefit of this provision:

(g.) In case the lease is rescinded for the default of the lessee, he is bound to pay the rent up to the time of such rescission, and also to make compensation for any other loss resulting from his default; but in estimating such compensation, the Court shall take into account the fine (if any) paid under the lease:

(h.) If the lessor neglects to make, within a reasonable time after notice, repairs which he is bound to make, the lessee may make the same himself, and deduct the expense of such repairs from the rent, or otherwise recover it from the lessor:

(i.) If the lessor neglects to make any payment which he is bound to make, and which, if not made by him, is recoverable from the lessee or against the property leased, the lessee may make such payment himself, and deduct it from his rent, or otherwise recover it from the lessor:

(j.) Every lessee who becomes aware of any proceeding to recover the property leased to him or any part thereof is bound to give notice thereof to the lessor with reasonable diligence; and, in default of so doing, he is liable to make compensation to the lessor for any loss or expenses occasioned by such omission:

(k.) The lessee is bound to give notice to the lessor, within a reasonable time, of any encroachment made upon, or any interference with the lessor's rights concerning, the property leased, which may come to his knowledge; and, in default of so doing, he is liable to make compensation to the lessor for any loss or expenses occasioned by such omission:

(l.) The lessee may use the soil and its products for all purposes of enjoyment as a reasonable owner would use them; but he may not fell timber, pull down or damage houses, open mines, or commit any other waste:

(m.) No lessee of immoveable property shall, without the lessor's consent, erect any permanent structure thereon, except for agricultural purposes; and no such lessee who erects thereon any building, engine or machinery for agricultural purposes shall remove the same without first giving to the lessor or his agent one month's previous notice in writing of his intention so to do, and thereupon the lessor or his agent may elect to purchase the thing so proposed to be removed, and the lessee's right to remove the same shall thereby cease, and the same shall belong to the lessor, and the value thereof shall in case of dispute be ascertained and determined by two referees, one to be chosen by each party, or by an umpire to be named by such referees, and shall be paid or allowed in account by the lessor:

(n.) Subject to the provisions of clause (m), the lessee has a right to remove at any time during his possession of the property leased, all things which he has affixed to the soil: but he is liable to make compensation to the lessor for all damage caused to the property by such removal:

(o.) On the determination of the lease, the lessee is bound to put the lessor into possession of the property leased:

(p.) When a lease of uncertain duration determines by any means except the fault of the lessee, he or his legal representative is entitled to all the crops planted or sown by the lessee and growing upon the land for the season current when the lease determines, and to free ingress and egress to reap and carry them:

(q.) If the lessor transfers the property leased, or any part thereof, or any part of his interest therein, the transferee shall possess all the rights and, if the lessee so elects, be subject to all the liabilities, of the lessor as to the property or part transferred so long as he is the owner of it; but the lessor shall not by reason only of such transfer cease to be subject to any of the liabilities imposed upon him by the lease, unless the lessee elects to treat the transferee as the person liable to him: Provided that, if the lessee pay rent to the lessor without having reason to believe that such transfer has been made, he shall not be liable to pay such rent over again to the transferee:

Where only a part of the property leased is transferred by the lessor, he may determine what proportion of the rent reserved by the lease is payable in respect of the part so transferred:

(r.) The lessee may transfer, absolutely or by way of mortgage, the whole or any part of his interest in the property, and any transferee of such interest or part may again transfer it. The lessee shall not, by reason of such transfer, cease to be subject to any of the liabilities attaching to the lease, unless the lessor elects to treat the transferee as the person subject to such liabilities. Subject as aforesaid, each successive transferee, so long as he is entitled to the property leased, possesses all the rights, and is subject to all the liabilities, of the lessee.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise a tenant having a right of occupancy to assign his interest as such.

Lessee before entry.

72. A tenancy begins when the lessee enters, under the lease, into possession of the property leased, and until he so enters, he cannot sue for compensation for a trespass thereon.

Insolvency of lessee.

73. When the lessee is declared an insolvent, the receiver of his property appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, section 351, may, with the leave of the Court, by writing under his hand, disclaim the property leased, and thereupon the lease shall be deemed to be surrendered from the date of the declaration, and the Court may order the property to be delivered up to the lessor or make such other order as to the possession thereof as may be just:

Provided that the receiver shall not disclaim such property in cases where an application in writing has been made to him by any person interested therein, requiring him to decide whether he will disclaim or not, and the receiver has for a period of not less than twenty-eight days after the receipt of such application, or such further time as may be allowed by the Court, declined or neglected to give notice whether he disclaims the property or not.

On the application of any person interested in the property, the Court may direct possession thereof to be delivered to him, or make such other order as to possession thereof as may be just.

Any person injured by the operation of this section shall be deemed to be a creditor of the insolvent to the extent of such injury, and may accordingly prove the same as a debt under the insolvency.

Duration of certain leases in absence of written contract or local usage.

74. In the absence of a contract in writing or local usage to the contrary, a lease of property for purposes of cultivation shall be a lease from year to year terminable by six months' notice expiring with the end of a year of the tenancy; and a lease of property for any other purpose shall be a lease from month to month, terminable by fifteen days' notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy.

Every notice under this section must be in writing signed by or on behalf of the party giving it and tendered or delivered to the party who is intended to be bound by it, or affixed on a conspicuous part of the property.

Exclusion of day on which term commences.

75. Where the time limited by a lease is expressed as commencing from a particular day, in computing that time such day shall be excluded. Where no day of commencement is named, the time so limited begins from the making of the lease.

Duration of lease for a year.

Where the time so limited is a year or a number of years, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, the lease shall last during the whole anniversary of the day from which such time commences.

Option to determine lease.

Where the time so limited is expressed to be determinable before its expiration at the option of the parties or one of them, the lessee, in the absence of an express agreement to the contrary, shall have such option.

Determination of lease.

76. A lease determines—

(a) by efflux of the time limited thereby;

(b) by rescission;

(c) by surrender in express terms;

(d) by surrender by operation of law, that is to say, in case the lessee accepts from the lessor a new lease of the property leased, to take effect during the continuance of the existing lease;

(e) by forfeiture, that is to say, (1) in case the lessee breaks an express condition which provides that, on breach thereof, the lessor may re-enter, or the lease shall become void; or (2) in case the lessee renounces his character as such either by setting up a title in a third person or by claiming title in himself;

(f) on the expiration of a notice to quit duly given to the lessee.

Waiver of forfeiture or notice to quit.

77. A forfeiture or notice under section seventy-six clause (e) or (f), is waived by receipt of rent which has become due since the breach or the expiration of the notice, or by distress for such rent, or by any other act on the part of the lessor showing an intention to treat the lease as subsisting.

Relief against forfeiture for non-payment of rent.

Where a lease has determined by forfeiture for non-payment of rent and the lessor sues to eject the lessee, if, at the hearing of the suit, the lessee pays or tenders to the lessor the rent in arrear, together with interest thereon and his full costs of the suit, or gives such security as the Court thinks sufficient for making such payment within fifteen days, the Court may, in lieu of making a decree for ejectment, pass an order relieving the lessee against the forfeiture; and thereupon the lessee shall hold the property leased as if the forfeiture had not occurred.

Nothing in this section applies to suits under Act No. X of 1859, or Bengal Act No. VIII of 1869.

Effect of holding over.

78. If a lessee or sub-lessee of property remains in possession thereof after the determination of the lease, and the lessor or his legal representative accepts rent from the lessee or sub-lessee, or otherwise assents to his continuing in possession, the lease is, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, renewed from year to year or from month to month, according to the purpose for which the property is leased, as specified in section seventy-four.

Illustrations.

(a.) A lets a house to B for five years. B sub-lets the house to C at a monthly rent of Rs. 100. The five years expire, but C continues in possession of the house and pays the rent to A. C's lease is renewed from month to month.

(b.) A lets a farm to B for the life of C. C dies, but B continues in possession with A's assent. B's lease is renewed from year to year.

CHAPTER VII.

OF SETTLEMENTS.

"Settlement" defined.

79. "Settlement" means, in this chapter, any disposition in writing of moveable or immoveable property—

(a) which is not testamentary, and is not founded on any consideration, or

(b) which is made in consideration of marriage, or

(c) which is made for the purpose of dividing property of the settlor among his family or those for whom he desires to provide, but does not include a gift made by a Hindú, Muhammadan or Buddhist.

Consideration not necessary to make settlement binding.

80. A settlement, whether made for a consideration or not, is binding on the settlor and those claiming under him.

Voidability of settlement made in fraud of creditors.

81. A settlement made for the purpose of depriving present or future creditors or other persons of their demands against the settlor, is void against all present and future creditors of the settlor and their successors in interest, and against any person upon whom his property devolves in trust for the benefit of his creditors.

Nothing in this section affects the rights of persons who have acquired, in good faith and for consideration, any interest under the settlement.

Condition restraining alienation of interest.

82. A condition or limitation in a settlement or will, restraining any person from parting with or disposing of his interest, is void:

provided that property may be settled or bequeathed for the benefit of a married woman who is not a Hindú, Muhammadan or Buddhist, so that she shall not have power to deprive herself of the income thereof in anticipation.

Condition making interest determinable on insolvency or alienation.

83. A condition or limitation contained in a settlement or will, making an interest thereby reserved or given to or in trust for any person to cease on his becoming insolvent, or endeavouring to transfer or dispose of the same, is void.

Vesting of gift in general terms.

84. If, by a settlement, property be given to a person then living in general terms, without indicating the time when it is to be paid or delivered, such person has a vested interest therein from the day of the execution of the settlement, and if he dies without having received it, it shall (subject to any legal disposition thereof which he may have made) pass to his legal representative.

Vesting in interest of gift to unborn person not entitled to possession immediately on birth.

85. Where, by the terms of a settlement, property is given to a person not in existence, but he is not entitled to possession of it immediately upon his birth, a right to receive it at the proper time shall, unless a contrary intention appears by the settlement, become vested in such person upon his birth, and shall (subject to any legal disposition thereof which he may have made) pass to his legal representative if he dies before that time, and without having received it. And in such cases it is from his birth said to be vested in interest.

Application of sections of Act X of 1865 to gifts contained in settlements.

86. The provisions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, sections 100 to 104, both inclusive, 107 and 108, 111 to 127, both inclusive, and 167, shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to gifts contained in settlements.

Right to income of property coming into possession under settlement.

87. Whenever a person becomes entitled in possession, by virtue of a settlement, to money or any other property yielding income, he shall be entitled to receive the interest or income thereof from that time.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE DISCRETION OF THE COURTS TO DEAL WITH SETTLED LAND.

Power exercisable by Court on application of person interested in possession in settled land.

88. If any person having, under a settlement or will, a limited interest in possession in any land, apply under this section to the High Court within the limits of whose appellate civil jurisdiction such land or any part thereof is situate, the Court may, if it deem it just and expedient to do so,—

(a) make such leases of the whole or any part of the land for such terms of years, for such rents, with such powers, and with such conditions, reservations and exceptions as the Court thinks fit;

(b) make such sales of the whole or any part of the land, for such sums, payable either at once or periodically, with such powers, and with such conditions, reservations and exceptions as the Court thinks fit;

(c) appropriate any part of the land for the formation of streets, roads, gardens or other open spaces, tanks, sewers, drains or water-courses, and authorize the erection of buildings and works thereon; and generally deal with the land in any way the Court may think just and beneficial to the persons interested therein.

Service of notice and advertisement of application.

89. Every such application shall be in writing, and notice thereof shall be served through the Court on all trustees under the settlement or will, and on any other persons who in the opinion of the Court ought to be so served, and shall be published in such newspapers as the Court may direct.

Appearance to oppose or support application.

90. The Court shall permit any person interested in the land, and may in its discretion permit any other person, to appear and be heard in opposition to, or in support of, any such application, on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

Costs of application.

91. The Court may order the costs of all or any parties to any such application to be paid out of any principal money receivable on account of any dealing with the land which is the subject of the application, or to be a charge on such land or on any other land belonging to the same owners.

Leases under section 88.

92. Every lease made under section eighty-eight shall take effect in possession; and on every such lease shall be reserved the best rent that can be reasonably obtained, to be made payable half-yearly or oftener without taking any fine or other benefit in the nature of a fine.

Payment into court of money receivable under section 88.

93. All or any part of the proceeds of any lease, sale or disposition under section eighty-eight may, if the Court think fit, be paid into court.

Power to direct payment of income to person entitled.

Application of residue.

94. The Court shall declare what parts of such proceeds so received shall be considered as income, and may direct the same to be paid to the person for the time being entitled in possession to the land dealt with; and the residue of such money shall be applied as the Court shall direct in one or more of the manners following:—

(a) the payment of the amount due in respect of any charge on the land dealt with;

(b) the purchase of other property or the investment in securities for the benefit of the persons interested in the land dealt with;

(c) the payment to any person becoming absolutely entitled to the land dealt with.

EXPLANATION.—In this section the term "securities" means—

(d) promissory notes, debentures, stock and other securities of the Government of India;

(e) bonds, debentures and annuities charged by the Imperial Parliament on the revenues of India;

(f) stock or debentures of, or shares in, Railway or other companies, the interest whereon has been guaranteed by the Government of India; and (g) debentures or other securities for money issued by or on behalf of any municipal body under the authority of any Act of an Indian legislature.

CHAPTER IX.

Of Gifts for Religious and Charitable Purposes.

Gift to charitable uses by person having certain relatives.

95. No person having a nephew or niece, or any nearer relative, shall have power to give any immoveable property to religious or charitable uses, unless by an assurance executed not less than twelve months before his death, and registered.

Assurance of property in perpetuity for use of any community or institution.

96. Subject to the provisions of the last preceding section, immoveable property may be assured in perpetuity for the benefit of the public in the advancement of religion, knowledge, commerce, health, safety or any other object beneficial to mankind. Provided that notice of such assurance shall be given, as soon as may be after its execution, to the Local Government and that no such assurance shall take effect until it has been sanctioned by some public authority to be designated by the Local Government by notification in the official Gazette.

The grant or refusal of such sanction may be notified by an entry in the book in which the assurance is registered, and the registering officer shall make such entry on receiving from the public authority aforesaid a written order in this behalf.

If no such order is made within two years next after the time when the property becomes applicable for the benefit of the public, it shall be deemed that sanction has been granted.

If such sanction is refused, the property shall devolve as if no such assurance had been made.

CHAPTER X.

Of certain Rights and Liabilities of Owners of Limited Interests.

Rights and obligations of persons having limited interests.

97. A person having a limited interest in any immoveable property is not, as such, entitled to do or omit any act the doing or omitting of which is destructive or permanently injurious to such property.

Explanation.—No act done in the reasonable use and enjoyment of property is destructive or injurious within the meaning of this section, though it may exhaust the substance of the property.

Illustrations.

(a). A is a tenant for life of land on which a dwelling-house stands. He is not entitled, as such, to pull down the house. Nor must he suffer it to fall for want of necessary repairs.

(b). A is tenant for life of land in which coal lies. He is entitled, as such, to work and use the coal.

(c). A is tenant for life of land planted with trees. He is entitled as such to cut the trees at maturity, but is not entitled, as such, to cut them when immature, except for the purpose of thinning out or otherwise benefiting the plantation.

Save as aforesaid, such person or his legal representative has the same right as a lessee to remove, during the continuance of such interest or within a reasonable time afterwards, all things which he has affixed to the soil in which he had such limited interest, and all crops growing upon the land for the season current when such limited interest determines.

Obligation of owner of limited interest in possession of property mortgaged.

98. A person having a limited interest in possession in any immoveable property, is bound to discharge all taxes and other public periodical charges to which such property is liable and, to the extent of the rents and profits of the property which without his wilful default he might have received, all periodical payments accruing due on account of any mortgage or charge thereon taking effect during the continuance of his interest in priority to such interest.

Right to increase of value to property in which there are successive interests.

99. Every advantage or increase of value accruing (accidentally or through the exertions of any one having a limited interest) to any immoveable property in which successive interests exist, belongs, in the absence of any personal law to the contrary, to all the persons having any interest in the property, in the same shares and manner as they are entitled to the property.

Discovery of death of tenant for life.

100. Any person claiming any immoveable property after the death of any minor, married woman or other person, and having reason to believe that such minor, married woman or other person is dead, and that his or her death is concealed by his or her guardian, husband or any other person, may once a year move the High Court to order the person concealing or suspected to conceal such person to produce him or her at such time and place, and before such persons (if any), as the Court may direct. And the High Court, if it think fit, shall make such order, and in case of disobedience thereto by the person in possession of the property, the person so claiming the same may, by order of the Court, enter thereon and receive the profits thereof as if the person so concealed or suspected to be concealed were dead.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize the High Court to compel the production in court of women who, according to the customs and manners of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear in public.

Saving of mortgagees and lessees.

101. Nothing in this chapter applies to mortgagees or lessees.

CHAPTER XI.

Of Powers.

Power to appoint, defined.

102. A person may be authorized to determine, with or without the consent of others, the disposition of property otherwise than by virtue of his ownership. A person so authorized is said to have power to appoint such property.

Donor, donee, objects, appointee, defined.

The person who gives the power is called the donor, the person to whom the power is given is called the donee, and the persons for whose benefit the power is to be exercised are called the objects of the power. A person to whom any property is appointed is called an appointee.

Illustrations.

(a). A grants land to B for B's life, with remainder to such of B's children as B shall appoint. B appoints to C and D, two of his children, in equal shares. A is the donor of the power, B the donee, B's children the objects, and C and D the appointees.

(b). A, the absolute owner of certain land, grants it to B to such uses as C, with the consent of D, shall by assurance appoint. C with D's consent appoints part of the land to E absolutely, and the rest to F for seven years. Here C is the donee and also the object of the power, and E and F are the appointees.

General power.

A power authorising the donee to appoint to whomsoever and for whatsoever interest he pleases, is called a general power.

Special power.

A power restricted in respect either of its objects or the interests that may be conferred under it, is called a special power.

Collateral power.

Where the donee has neither a present nor a future interest in the property, the power is called a collateral power.

Rules as to all Powers.

Exercise of power vested in several donees.

103. Where a power is vested in several donees, all who are living must unite in its execution; but in case any one or more of them die during the continuance of the power, it may be exercised by the survivors or the survivor, unless a contrary intention appears by the instrument creating the power.

Modes in which powers may be executed.

104. The donor may direct that the power shall be exercised by will only, or by non-testamentary instrument only.

If he directs that the power shall be exercised by will only, it must be exercised by will duly executed according to the provisions of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, or according to such other law as at the time of the execution of the power may be applicable to a will executed by the donee.

If he directs that the power shall be exercised by non-testamentary instrument only, it must be exercised by such an instrument and registered.

If he imposes no such restriction on the exercise of the power, it may be exercised either by such will or by such assurance as lastly hereinbefore mentioned.

Jurisdiction to aid defective executions abolished.

105. When the power is not properly exercised, no Court shall in any case compel the person in possession of the property to which the power relates to deliver the property as if the power had been properly exercised, or shall otherwise aid the defective execution, except as provided in the Specific Relief Act, 1877 chapter three.

Validity of forms hereby prescribed.

106. All appointments made in the manner directed by section one hundred and four shall be deemed to be executed and attested in proper form, notwithstanding that some other mode of execution or attestation has been prescribed by the donor.

Revocation of appointments.

107. An appointment made by will may be revoked by a subsequent will; but it is not revoked by mere general words of revocation of all former wills, without a new appointment.

An appointment made by a non-testamentary instrument is irrevocable except where power to revoke the appointment is expressly reserved by such instrument.

Delegation of powers.

108. A power exercisable by will only cannot be delegated.

A special power involving the exercise of personal discretion by the donee cannot be delegated.

A power to do an act merely ministerial and involving no personal discretion may be delegated.

Illustrations.

(a). A has power under a settlement to dispose of an estate in such proportions as he thinks fit among the issue of his marriage with B. A by his will purports to delegate this power to B, to exercise as she thinks fit. The attempted delegation is void, and the dispositions, if any, in default of appointment take effect.

(b). A, the donee of a power to appoint to his children, determines to exercise it in favour of the objects equally. With this view he causes an instrument of appointment to be prepared. A may appoint an attorney to execute this instrument.

Concurrence where power is to be exercised with consent of several persons.

109. Where a power is to be exercised with the consent of several persons, all who are living must concur in the consent, but in case any one or more of them die during the continuance of the power, the consent of the survivors or the survivor is sufficient, unless a contrary intention appears by the instrument creating the power.

Consent to the exercise of a power must be given during the donee's lifetime by a non-testamentary instrument registered.

Consent to the exercise of a power need not be given by the instrument by which the power is exercised, but if it is given by a different instrument, such instrument must be executed at a time not later than the time at which the donee of the power executes the instrument by which he exercises the power.

Recital of power not necessary.

110. If a person disposes of property in such manner as is authorized by a power vested in him, such disposition shall take effect under the power, notwithstanding that the power is not mentioned or referred to in the instrument of disposition.

Illustration.

Land is settled upon A for life with a special power to charge, by a non-testamentary instrument, portions in favour of his children. Subsequently, a general power to dispose of the land by any instrument is vested in A He executes an assurance, by which he directs that a sum of money shall be raised out of the land and settled on his son B for life, with remainder to B's wife and children. Such an appointment cannot take effect under the special power, but may be treated as a valid exercise of the general power.

Power exerciseable by several instruments executed at different times.

111. The donee of a power need not exercise it entirely and at once by a single instrument, but he may from time to time exercise any unexhausted part thereof at his discretion.

If the donee has purported to exercise his power in such a manner that his appointment is void, the power is, to that extent, unexhausted.

Illustrations.

(a). A has a general power. He may appoint the property at one time to B for his life and at another to C absolutely.

(b) Trustees under a settlement, having power to lend Rs. 10,000 to A, the tenant for life, lend the money accordingly. A repays it. The trustees may again lend Rs. 10,000 to A.

(c). A has power to raise Rs. 10,000 by sale or mortgage of Sultánpur. A exercises the power by mortgaging Sultánpur. He may afterwards exercise the power by selling Sultánpur in order to pay off the mortgage.

Disposition intended to take effect after interests appointed under void power.

112. Where a power given by any instrument is void in its creation, no disposition or gift made by the same instrument shall be deemed void merely because it is intended to take effect after the interests to be appointed under the power or in default of any such appointment.

Illustration.

A marriage-settlement provides that the settled property shall belong to the husband and wife successively for their lives; that after the death of the survivor of them, it shall go to such of the children of the marriage, and in such shares, as the husband and wife shall jointly appoint, the interest of each such child to become vested in him on his attaining the age of twenty-five years; and that in the event of there being no child of the marriage who shall attain that age, or in default of appointment, the property shall belong to the husband or his legal representative.

Here the power to appoint the property is, under section eighty-six, void in its creation; but the ultimate interest given to the husband takes effect.

General Powers.

Effect of general power.

113. If the donor confers on the donee a general power, the donee shall, so far as regards his power of disposition, his creditors and all persons who contract with him for lawful consideration to obtain any interest in the property comprised in the power, be deemed to be the absolute owner of such property for such interest therein as the donor could dispose of.

This rule is to take effect notwithstanding that the donor has prescribed some particular method for executing the power.

Illustrations.

(a). A, the absolute owner of land, settles it on B for life with remainder to such purposes as B—shall appoint, or shall by deed appoint, or shall by will appoint, or shall by deed or will appoint, and, in case B dies without making any such appointment, on C absolutely.

If B—grants the land by assurance, or bequeathes it, or contracts to sell it, or incurs debt,

the property is liable, in the hands of either B or C, as the case may be, to the claims of B's grantee, legatee, purchaser or creditors, as the case may be.

If B dies having made no disposition of the property, C is entitled to it, subject to any claims which B's creditors may establish against it.

(b). A confers on B a general power, exerciseable by a non-testamentary instrument, to appoint certain land. B appoints the land to certain persons in such shares as C shall fix. This appointment is valid.

Effect of general power without disposition of property in case of non-appointment.

114. If the donor confers on the donee a general power, and makes no disposition of the property in the event of non-appointment, the donee shall be considered as the absolute owner of the property or such interest therein as the donor could dispose of.

Illustration.

A, the absolute owner of property, settles it on B for life with remainder to such purposes as B shall appoint, and makes no gift over in default of appointment. B dies without making any disposition of the property. The property vests in the representatives of B, and does not revert to A or his representatives.

Special Powers.

Interest conferrible by donee of special power.

115. If the donee has only a special power, he cannot confer any interest in the property comprised therein which could not have been conferred by the donor at the time of the creation of the power.

Illustrations.

(a). A settles a fund upon B for life with remainder to such purposes as B shall appoint. After the settlement is made C is born. B then appoints the fund to C for life with remainder to C's children absolutely. The appointment is valid, though C has no children at the time.

(b). A settles a fund upon B for life with remainder to his children as he shall appoint. At the date of the settlement B has no child, but afterwards has a son C. B then appoints to C for his life, with remainder to his children. Such interest could not have been conferred by A, and B's appointment is void.

Effect of appointment to objects, some authorized and others unauthorized.

116. Where the donee of a special power purports, in exercise of the power, to appoint to objects authorized by the power and also to objects not so authorized, the appointment in favour of the authorized objects shall take effect if their interests are independent of those of the unauthorized objects.

Illustration.

Property is settled on A for life, and after his death on such of his children as he shall appoint, and in default of appointment to all A's children equally. A appoints that the property shall go after his death to his widow for her life, and after her death to two of his sons, C and D, in equal shares. There are five children of A. The appointment in favour of A's widow is invalid, and the rents and profits of the property during her life will go to all the five children in equal shares, but after her death to C and D absolutely.

Appointment in excess of power when voidable at election of appointee.

117 Where the donee of a special power purports, in exercise of the power to confer a larger interest than is authorized thereby, such appointment shall, if the appointee so elect, be void only for the excess, and good for the residue, if they can be separated.

Illustrations.

(a). A has a life-interest in Rámnagar, with power to grant leases thereof for 30 years. A makes a lease of Rámnagar for 50 years. Such lease is good for 30 years only.

(b). A having a life-interest in Rámnagar and Sultánpur, with power to grant leases of Rámnagar for 21 years, grants a lease comprising both Rámnagar and Sultánpur for 21 years. After A's death the lessee may, if he thinks fit, elect to retain the lease as a lease of Rámnagar only, till the end of the 21 years.

(c). A having power to charge Rámnagar with Rs. 7,000 charges it with Rs. 8,000. The appointment is good for the Rs. 7,000, but not for the residue.

Invalidity of appointment creating authorized and unauthorized interests not separable.

118. Where, by an appointment under a special power, interests authorized and also interests unauthorized are created, and the interests authorized cannot be distinguished from those unauthorized, the whole is void.

Illustrations.

(a). A fund is settled on A during his life, and after his death on his children as he shall appoint. A appoints the annual income for the benefit of his son B and B's wife and children, in such manner as trustees shall think fit. The appointment is wholly void.

(b). Under a similar settlement, A having legitimate children by B, his wife, and others by C and D, his concubines, appoints the property to be divided among his children by B, C and D, the shares of the sons to be double those of the daughters. Here the interests authorized and unauthorized cannot be distinguished, and the appointment is wholly void.

Appointment with unauthorized condition.

119. When a person exercising a special power annexes to the gift a condition or qualification which is not authorized by the power, the gift is good and the condition or qualification only is void.

Illustrations.

(a). A, having a power to appoint a fund among his children, gives a part of it to his son B on condition that B shall settle it on B's children. The condition is void, and the gift is absolute.

(b). A, having a power to appoint a fund to a limited class of objects of whom B is one, appoints it to B, adding a condition that B shall release a debt owing to him by A, and also pay Rs. 1,000 to C. The appointment is good; but the condition is void.

Election.

120. Where the donee of a special power purports, in exercise of the power, to appoint to persons not objects of the power, and by the same instrument gives to the persons entitled, in default of appointment, to the property comprised in the power benefits out of other property, the persons so entitled shall elect either to confirm such appointment or to dissent from it, and in the latter case they shall relinquish the benefits so given to them.

The rules contained in the Indian Succession Act, 1865, sections 173 to 177, both inclusive, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to elections under this section.

Contract not to exercise power of leasing.

121. If a beneficial interest in immoveable property, and also a power to let it, are given to the same person, and he grants his interest in the property, he may enter into a contract not to exercise his power.

Invalidity of agreement not to exercise power.

122. Save as provided by section one hundred and twenty-one, an agreement or undertaking not to exercise a power which is given for the benefit of persons other than the donee is void.

Frauds on powers.

123. Where a power given for the benefit of persons other than the donee is exercised with a view to the benefit, direct or indirect, of the donee, in any mode not intended by the donor, the appointment is void.

Illustrations.

(a). A, having power to appoint a fund in favour of any of her children, appoints the whole fund absolutely to one child, who has previously entered into an agreement with her to give one-half of the fund to A's husband absolutely. The appointment is void.

(b). A, having power to appoint a fund in favour of any of his children, appoints a portion of the fund to his son C, a minor, whom he knows to be suffering from a mortal disease; A being the person entitled to C's property in the event of his death. The appointment is void.

(c). A, having power to grant leases of certain settled land, exercises the power in favour of B in consideration of Rs. 1,000 paid to A by B as a fine or premium. The lease is void, and A holds the Rs. 1,000 in trust for the persons interested under the settlement.

Right to property in default of appointment.

124. If the instrument by which a power of appointment in favour of specified objects is created does not provide for the event of no appointment being made, the property belongs (subject to any appointment that may have been made) in equal shares to the said objects.

Illustration.

A settles property on B for life with remainder to B's children as he shall appoint, and makes no disposition in default of appointment. B has two children, C and D, and appoints Rs. 1,000, part of the property, to C. Then C dies. Then B dies without making any further appointment. After paying Rs. 1,000 to C or his representative, the residue of the property is divisible in equal moieties between D and the representative of C.

Implied gifts to objects.

125. Where there is a power of appointment in favour of a certain class of objects, and there is also a disposition of the property comprised in the power in the event of there being no objects, if the power is not exercised and there are objects, the property belongs to them in equal shares.

Appointment of whole property to some only of several objects in favour of which power is given.

126. Under a power of appointment in favour of several objects, an appointment of the whole property to one or more of such objects exclusively of the others is valid:

Provided that, where the assurance creating the power declares the minimum amount or value of the share from which no object of the power is to be excluded, the appointment shall be invalid so far as it excludes any such object from any such share, and no farther.

Priority of interests created under powers.

127. Interests authorized to be created under a power take effect when created as if they had been created by the original instrument conferring the power, unless where a contrary intention is expressed therein.

Extinguishment of powers.

128. A power given to the owner of a limited interest in the property comprised in the power is extinguished when he becomes the absolute owner of such property.

When the exercise of a power given to the owner of a limited interest in property would derogate from a previous grant of such interest by the donee, the power shall be deemed to have been extinguished by such grant.

Illustrations.

(a) Z, tenant for life of certain land with power to charge it with a jointure for his wife, becomes absolute owner of the land. The power is extinguished.

(b) A, tenant for life of certain land with power to grant leases thereof in possession, grants his life-interest in the land to B. The power is extinguished.

CHAPTER XII.

OF PROPERTY HELD BY SEVERAL PERSONS.

Devolution of share of one of several persons entitled to property in their own right.

129. On the death of one of two or more persons entitled to property in their own right, his share shall become vested in his legal representative, unless the property is held under an instrument which expressly provides that on the death of one, his share shall accrue to the survivor or survivors.

Nothing in this section applies to property belonging to an undivided family.

Illustration.

A and B jointly advance money on mortgage, A contributing one-third. A dies intestate. A's third belongs to his legal representative.

Partition of immoveable property.

130. When immoveable property is held in possession by co-owners, any one of them may institute a suit in the proper Court, and such Court may direct a partition of the property to be made among the co-owners, and for the purposes of partition may, in order to equalise the value of the shares, direct any money to be paid by one to another or to be charged on one share in favour of another.

Power to direct sale and to distribute proceeds.

If it appear to the Court that a sale of the property and a distribution of the proceeds would be more beneficial for the persons interested than a division of the property between them, the Court may, on the application of any such person, direct a sale of the property.

Nothing in the second clause of this section shall be deemed to authorise the Court to direct a sale of the property of an undivided family.

Power to allow person interested to bid for property sold for purpose of partition.

131. On any sale under the last preceding section, the Court may, if it think fit, allow any of the persons interested in the property to bid at the sale, on such terms as to setting-off or accounting for the purchase-money or any part thereof, or as to any other matters, as to the Court seems reasonable Payment into court.

132. All sums of money paid under the two last preceding sections may, if the Court think fit, be paid into court.

Saving of laws relating to partition of revenue-paying estates

133. Nothing in this chapter shall affect any local law for the time being in force relating to the partition of estates paying revenue to Government.

Right of transferee of share of undivided property.

134. When undivided immoveable property is held in possession by co-owners and one of them transfers his share or any interest therein, by sale, mortgage or otherwise, the transferee takes the share or interest subject to the right of the other co-owners to enforce a partition of the property; and when such partition is effected, the right of the transferee as such, in the absence of a contract to the contrary by the co-owners, extends only to the share allotted to himself or to his transferor.

Waste by one co-owner.

135. When one co-owner of immoveable property commits, or threatens to commit, waste on the same without the consent of the other joint-owner, that other may institute a suit to recover compensation for the injury caused to him by the waste, or to obtain an injunction to stay the waste, as the case may require.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF ASSIGNMENTS OF THINGS IN ACTION.

Sale, &c., of things in action.

136. No assignment of, or charge on, any debt, or any beneficial interest in moveable property, shall have any operation against the debtor or against the person in whom the property is vested, until express notice of the assignment or charge is given to him, unless he is a party to such assignment or charge; and every dealing by such debtor or person, not being a party to, and not having received express notice of, an assignment or charge, with the debt or property shall be valid as against such assignment or charge.

Illustrations.

(a) A owes money to B, who assigns the debt to C. B then demands the debt from A, who, having no notice of the assignment, pays B. The payment is valid, and C cannot sue A for the debt.

(b) A has jewels deposited with B, a jeweller. A mortgages them to C. A then executes an instrument assigning them to D, who takes it to B and gets the jewels from him before he, B, has received any notice of C's mortgage. B is justified in handing the jewels to D, and C has no remedy against D.

Notice to be in writing signed.

137. Every such notice must be in writing signed by the person making the assignment or charge, or by his agent duly authorized in this behalf.

Debtor to give effect to assignment.

138. On receiving such notice, the debtor or person in whom the property is vested shall give effect to the assignment or charge, unless where the debtor resides, or the property is situate, in a foreign country and the title of the person in whose favour the assignment or charge is made is not complete according to the law of such country.

Liability of assignee of thing in action.

139. The person to whom a debt or charge is assigned shall take it subject to all the liabilities to which the assignor was subject in respect thereof at the date of the assignment.

Illustration.

(a). A debenture is issued in fraud of a public company to A. A sells and transfers the debenture to B, who has no notice of the fraud. The debenture is invalid in the hands of B.

Saving of negotiable instruments.

140. Nothing in this chapter applies to debts secured by negotiable instruments.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF APPORTIONMENT.

Apportionment of periodical payments on determination of interest of person entitled.

141. All rents, annuities, pensions, dividends and other periodical payments shall, upon the determination by death or otherwise, of the interest of the person entitled to receive such payment, be apportioned as if they had been made to accrue due from day to day, but to be payable on the days appointed for the payment thereof.

Nothing in this section shall affect any express provision in any instrument binding on such person.

DECREE FOR SUCCESSIVE REDEMPTIONS.

(See section 61.)

[A, third mortgagee ... Plaintiff.
B first mortgagee in possession }
C second mortgagee ... } Defendants.]
D owner of right of redemption }

Account of what is due to the defendant B for principal and interest in respect of the said mortgage of 1837, and for costs properly incurred in respect thereof, and tax him his costs of the suit.

Account of the rents and profits of the mortgaged property received by the said defendant B, or by any other person by his order or for his use, or which without his wilful neglect or default might have been received. Let what shall be owing on such last mentioned account be deducted from what shall be found due to the defendant B for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid.

And upon the defendant C paying to the said B the balance which shall be remaining due to him for such principal, interest and costs after such deduction within six months after such balance has been declared in court,

Let the said B assign the mortgaged property free from incumbrances created by him, or any one claiming under him, or those under whom he claims, and deliver upon oath all documents of title in his possession or power relating thereto to the said C, or as he shall appoint.

But in default of the said C paying to the said B such balance by the time aforesaid, let him stand absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

And in case of such foreclosure, compute for the said B his subsequent interest on his said mortgage and tax him his subsequent costs of the said suit. And upon the plaintiff A paying to the said B what shall be found due to him for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid after such deduction as aforesaid within three months after such amount has been declared in court,

Let the defendant B assign the mortgaged property free from incumbrances, &c. [as above] and deliver upon oath, &c. [as above] to the said A, or as he shall appoint.

But in default of the said A paying to the said B what shall be found due to him as aforesaid by the time aforesaid, let the said A stand absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

And in case of such foreclosure, compute the said B subsequent interest on his said mortgage and tax him his subsequent costs of the said suit, and upon the said D paying to the said B the amount found due to him for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid, within three months after such amount has been declared in court, let the said B assign the said mortgaged property free from incumbrances, &c. [as above] and deliver upon oath, &c. [as above] to the said D, or as he shall appoint.

But in default of the said D paying to the said B what shall be found due to him as aforesaid by the time aforesaid, let the said D stand absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

But in case the said C should redeem the said B as aforesaid by the time aforesaid—

Let an account be taken of what is due to the said C for principal and interest in the mortgage of 1841, and for what the said C shall so pay to the said D for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid, and for interest thereon, and also tax the said C his costs of the said suit,

And upon the said A paying to the said C what shall be found due to him for such principal, interest and costs within three months after such amount has been declared in court, let the said C assign the said property free, &c., [as above] and deliver upon oath, &c. [as above] to the said A, or as he shall appoint.

But in default of the said A paying to the said C what shall be found due to him as aforesaid by the time aforesaid, let the said A stand absolutely foreclosed of all right to redeem such property.

And in case of such foreclosure, compute the said C his subsequent interest on his said mortgage and on what he shall have paid to the said B and tax him his subsequent costs of this suit. And upon the said D paying to the said C what shall be found due to him for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid within three months after such amount has been declared in court, let the said C assign, &c. [as above].

But in default of the said D paying to the said C what shall be found due to him as aforesaid by the time aforesaid, let the said D stand absolutely foreclosed, &c. [as above].

But in case the said A shall redeem the said C as aforesaid, let an account be taken of what was due to the said A for principal and interest on the mortgage of 1861 in the plaint mentioned, and for what the said A shall so pay the said C for principal, interest and costs as aforesaid, and for interest thereon, and also tax the said A his costs of the said suit.

And upon the said D paying to the said A what shall be found due to him for such principal, interest and costs as aforesaid, within three months after such amount has been declared in court—

Let the said A assign the said property free, &c. [as above], and deliver upon oath, &c. [as above], to the said D, or as he shall appoint.

But in default of the said D paying to the said A what shall be due to him for such principal, interest and costs by the time aforesaid, the said D is from thenceforth to be absolutely foreclosed, &c. [as above].

POWERS OF SETTLEMENT OFFICERS AS TO ENHANCEMENT OF RENT.

THE HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS postponed the motion, which stood in his name, that the Bill to define and limit the powers of settlement officers in respect to the enhancement of rent be further considered and passed.

LICENSE TAX ON TRADES, DEALINGS, AND INDUSTRIES.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill for licensing trades, dealings, and industries within the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill, and that the clauses of the Bill be considered for settlement in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the following paragraph was added to section 1:—

Application.

"Parts I, II, and V of this Act apply to all the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal including the town of Calcutta; Part III applies to all such territories except the town of Calcutta; and Part IV applies only to the town of Calcutta."

THE HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL moved the insertion, after the word "land" in line 6 of section 4, of the words "or to any person who may receive rent in agricultural produce." The object of the amendment, he said, was to exclude persons who depended for their livelihood upon agriculture or the rent of land. But as the words of the section stood the receiver of rent did not come within the scope of the section. In many cases the rent of land was paid in kind, and the rent-receiver had to sell the produce so received by him in order to realize his rent. He might not keep a shop or stall for the sale of such produce, but he had nevertheless to sell the produce; and in the same spirit in which the cultivator who had to sell the produce of his cultivation was not taxed under this Bill, the rent-receiver who had to sell the produce which he received from the cultivator in payment of rent should not be taxed. It was in that view that this amendment was proposed.

After a slight discussion, on the suggestion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the following words were added to section 4, in lieu of the words proposed by the mover of the amendment:—

"or to any receiver of rent in kind in respect of the sale of produce received as such rent."

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the following words were added to section 10:—

"The local Government shall have power to declare what shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the language of the district."

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE moved the insertion, after the word "person" in line 1, section 13, of the word "firm," and also the omission of the last sentence of the same section, "but each member of a firm shall be chargeable with reference to his individual share of the earnings of such firm," and the substitution for it of the following words:—

"And in the case of a firm, payment by any one of the partners shall, for the purposes of this Act, be considered payment by the firm."

He said that, when he introduced the Bill, he stated that the tax was not to be a tax upon households, firms, or partnerships, but upon individuals. That principle had been adopted originally to avoid complications in the interior, where the fact of partnership was often difficult to settle, being a matter rather of status than of contract. The Select Committee had adopted and retained the principle, because it had the practical effect of making the tax upon licensees of the first class assimilate in weight of incidence to the tax upon licensees of the lower grades. Objections had, however, been taken to the provision within the last few days, on the ground that it tended to convert a license into an income tax. The Council would gather from what he said at its last meeting that he did not personally feel pressed by the arguments adduced, depending for their value, as they did, upon the special meaning to be attached to the terms "license tax" and "income tax;" but the Government deemed it desirable to keep this Bill, as a Government measure, upon the basis of those passed for Upper India in the Supreme Council, at least so far as this point was concerned, and therefore he brought forward this amendment.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said he did not object to the amendment, but he submitted that it would be consistent if the same principle were extended to payments by Hindu joint families. The inequality in the incidence of the tax was made still more apparent than before by the provision now proposed to be introduced. A person who carried on business in joint partnership would now avoid personal liability by means of one payment for all the members of the firm, and the reason for the introduction of this provision was that the capital with which they traded was joint. Now, poor artisans whose sole capital was their skill and labour, though they might form members of a joint undivided family, would have to pay under the law a personal tax—that was to say, a fee for each member of the family, though their individual gains went to a common stock, and the joint family was supported with the earnings of all the members of it. When the principle of personal liability was introduced in the Bill and also discussed in Select Committee, he understood the reason to be that by recognising the personal liability of the higher classes of merchants and traders who would be liable to the rates, the tax would comparatively fall much more lightly on the poorer than on the richer classes, and the inequality in the incidence of the tax would thus be adjusted. It was, however, now proposed, with regard to the higher classes of assessees, to withdraw the principle of personal liability, but it remained intact as regarded the poorer classes. It was true that the artizans, though forming members of a joint family, might carry on individually their own separate industries. But as members of a joint family, he submitted that they occupied the same position which the partners of a firm did. And it being considered just to recognise the principle of joint liability in the case of a partnership firm, he thought it would be equally just to recognise the same principle of joint liability in the case of members of a joint undivided family. He believed that this principle was recognised by the last Income Tax Act; and holding as he did that it was a correct principle, he desired to see it recognized in this Bill; he would therefore move the insertion of the words "or joint family" after the word "firm" in the first and third lines of the amendment moved by the hon'ble mover of the Bill.

The HON'BLE MR. JENNINGS observed that the amendment of the hon'ble mover seemed to meet the difficulty which had been felt in reference to the assessment of the individual members of a partnership firm, and for his part he would give it his unqualified approval.

The HON'BLE MR. BROWN said he thought the hon'ble member might be congratulated upon having removed a very objectionable feature from the Bill. The provision under which each member of a firm would have been chargeable with reference to his individual share of earnings, besides multiplying the burden in a manner such as, he ventured to think, was never contemplated by the framers of this Bill, would have introduced the very element and provoked exactly that species of discontent which the originators of the measure had shown special anxiety to avoid. By replacing in section 13 the wording of the corresponding section of the Northern India License Act, the hon'ble member had, in this particular, saved a good Bill from being spoilt. He bore in mind His Honor's admonition that it was not within the province of this Council to discuss questions of policy; and with regard to the details of the Bill, he wished only to say that he did not quite agree with the increase from Rs. 200 to Rs. 500 in the assessment of the higher classes of traders,—an alteration which, bearing in mind the cogent reasons which in an earlier stage of their proceedings were urged against such change, would, he took the liberty to think, have been better left alone. At the same time he did not think that, under the present revised conditions, the enhancement would press very hardly upon the class it affected; he had not moved any amendment to the provision; and he did not suppose it would meet with more serious objection than that which must naturally attach to an admittedly unnecessary imposition.

Upon the whole he was glad to be able to say that he thought it would have been difficult to have contrived means for providing the requisite funds by a measure less objectionable than that now before the Council. The loyal readiness to respond to this call of the State had already, upon a previous occasion, been expressed in eloquent terms by the hon'ble member to his left on behalf of his countrymen in Bengal, and he felt sure he was expressing the sense of the European community of this city by giving similar testimony on their behalf.

The HON'BLE BABOO ISSER CHUNDER MITTER said he had one observation to make with reference to the amendment proposed by his hon'ble friend opposite (Baboo Kristodas Pal). The hon'ble member in charge of the Bill had, it would be seen, an amendment to put forward with reference to clause 3 of section 39, which he thought would quite meet the objections which had been taken. BABOO ISSUR CHUNDER MITTER thought that when the members of a joint family conducted together the same business, they would come under the same category as members of a partnership firm; but where they conducted different businesses, and followed different occupations, he did not see why they should not be separately taxed under this Bill.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE observed that it appeared to him that the hon'ble member who last spoke exactly hit the objection to the acceptance of the amendment moved by the hon'ble member opposite (Baboo Kristodas Pal). The members of a partnership or firm, whose relations depended upon definite contract, were well known and might be ascertained. But commensality, and not joint working, was the bond of connection between the members of a joint Hindu family. The members of such a family might be scattered widely apart and pursue various occupations; some of them might be engaged in trade, some might be artisans, and some in the Government service, and it would therefore be impossible, if the Hon'ble Member's suggestion were adopted, to assess the tax with any certainty in any such case. The Select Committee had met the case of the Act operating oppressively in respect of members of the same family by providing that the Government might frame rules for modifying (that was to say reducing) the fees chargeable to them when living and working together, and MR. MACKENZIE thought that would practically meet the whole object of the hon'ble member who had moved the second amendment.

After some further discussion the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal's amendment was negatived, and the Hon'ble Mr. Makenzie's motion was carried.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie's amendment was then agreed to.

Section 19 related to appeals.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL moved the omission of the words, "or to some officer specially empowered by the local Government in this behalf," in lines 5 to 7, and the substitution therefor of the following:—

> "Who may either dispose of it himself or may refer it for disposal to a bench of not less than three Municipal Commissioners of the town in which the person making the appeal may ordinarily reside."

He said it might be in the recollection of the Council that when the Bill was introduced he raised the question of appeals, and that it was conceded that an appeal should be allowed to the Collector from the decision of officers subordinate to him. The Select Committee were agreed upon that point, but considering that there might be cases in which the Collector might not have sufficient time to hear appeals, the majority provided that the Government should be empowered to appoint special officers to hear appeals. Now, his object in proposing that the Collector should hear appeals in all cases if practicable, was chiefly that he should have a direct personal interest in the working of the law. If the appeals were heard by himself he would be in a position to know how the Act was practically working, but if appeals were referred by him to another officer, his personal knowledge would not be improved. And as it was very desirable that the responsible officer of the district should be thoroughly acquainted with the working of the law, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL thought every opportunity should be given to him for that purpose. It might be said that, in preparing the list and other initiatory work, the Collector would direct his subordinate officers, and thus acquire the necessary knowledge. But the Collector would perhaps issue general instructions, and the subordinate officers would be charged with the initial work. It was one thing to work the law with one's own hands, and another thing to do it by means of subordinate agency. And he for one was persuaded that the people would have confidence in the working of the law if it were directly supervised by the Collector. For these reasons he had suggested that appeals should in all cases be heard by the Collector. But it was pointed out to him that in large districts, such as the 24-Pergunnahs for instance, the Collector was overwhelmed with work, and he might not be able to find time to hear appeals; and it was therefore necessary to assist him by the appointment of special officers for the hearing of appeals. In order to meet such special cases, he would suggest that the Collector in any such district should be authorized to refer appeals to a bench of three Municipal Commissioners. The only objection to such a course he had heard was that the Municipal Commissioners might not be quite trustworthy; and that as the Government wished that the law should be properly enforced, the Collector or some other officer would be the proper person to hear appeals. With due deference to the hon'ble mover of the Bill, BABOO KRISTODAS PAL submitted that if the Collector were vested with the discretion of selecting particular Commissioners for hearing appeals, the agency employed would be such as to obviate the objection the hon'ble member had taken. Besides, if the Municipal Commissioners were fit to administer the municipal funds, to hear appeals in cases of municipal assessment, and to do all other work in connection with municipalities, he did not see how they could be considered unfit to hear appeals under this Act. In the suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah, and in other large towns, there were also Deputy Collectors of experience who were members of the Municipal Commission, and if the Collector wished, he might associate one of the Deputy Collectors with two non-official Commissioners to constitute a Bench for the hearing of appeals under the Act. All that he would ask the Council to consider was that whatever agency was provided by law for the hearing of appeals it should be such as to command the confidence of the people; and if the Collector did not in special cases possess the necessary leisure to hear appeals, he thought a bench of Commissioners to be selected by the Collector would command confidence. On these grounds he thought that the hearing of appeals should be delegated to some other authority only when the Collector had not the necessary time to hear them himself, and that a bench of three Municipal Commissioners should be such authority.

The HON'BLE MR. REYNOLDS said it did not appear to him that the amendment would be an improvement upon the procedure provided by the Bill, or be calculated to effect the object the hon'ble member had in view. The amendment merely provided for the hearing of appeals in mofussil towns; so that it would be necessary that the Collector himself should hear appeals in all other places,—a work for which the Collector could hardly find sufficient time. On the other hand, the hon'ble member was quite willing that the Municipal Commissioners, who should hear appeals, should be selected by the Collector himself. But in that case there might be just as much objection to the hearing of appeals by a bench of Commissioners so constituted as if the appeals were heard by officers specially appointed by the Government, which officers would be appointed on the recommendation of the Collector. MR. REYNOLDS therefore did not think that the amendment would be an improvement upon the section.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said he concurred with the last speaker that the amendment under consideration was hardly called for, and was rather inconsistent with the professed wish of the hon'ble member opposite, that the Collector should be compelled to make himself acquainted with the working of the Act by conducting its operations personally. The effect of the amendment, if adopted as it stood, would be to nullify by a side wind the proposals of the Select Committee. For the municipalities in the mofussil were few and far between, and the Collector would himself have to hear all appeals in places where there was no municipality. At the same time he agreed that we should as far as possible avail ourselves of the agency of Municipal Benches for the hearing of appeals under this Act where municipalities existed, and he was willing to give power to the Collector to refer appeals to a Municipal Bench. But he was not sure that this was the best place in the Bill in which to put the amendment. He thought the amendment would come better under section 27, which related to municipalities, by adding a provision that the returns, when prepared by Municipal Commissioners, should be deemed to be the list under section 10, and that the Collector should have the power of referring appeals against such list to a bench of three Commissioners selected by himself. MR. MACKENZIE thought that that would meet the hon'ble member's wishes.

The amendment was then by leave withdrawn, on the understanding that an amendment of the nature of that stated by the hon'ble mover of the amendment would be introduced in section 27.

Section 22 provided for the recovery of fees and penalties.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal moved the omission of the words "either as if they were arrears of land revenue or." The effect of the amendment, he said, would be this, that all sums due on account of license-tax should not be recoverable as arrears of revenue, but by sale and distress of the moveable property of the person liable to the tax. He thought it would be admitted that if a person was assessed to the annual sum of Rs. 50 for license tax, he was possesssed of goods and chattels of sufficient value to satisfy the demand of the Government. A tax of Rs. 50 per annum implied an income of Rs. 2,500, and in any trade which would yield an annual income of Rs. 2,500, surely the stock-in-trade would be of sufficient value to satisfy the demand. It would, he thought, be inconsistent with the principle recognized by this Council, in the case of the Road Cess Act and the Public Works Cess Act, to realize arrears of license tax by the sale of land or by turning a man out of his hearth and home. If there had been the merest shadow of a difficulty in realizing the tax in the cases to which he had referred, he would not have considered it proper to offer any objection to the provisions of this section. But as no such difficulty had been experienced, and as he was perfectly satisfied that the stock-in-trade of a person who was assessed to a tax of Rs. 50 would be considerably more than sufficient to meet the demand, he thought it would not be right to give power of this kind for the recovery of the tax, the goods and chattels of the assessee being more than sufficient for the realization of the amount due.

The Hon'ble Mr. Macenzie said he would call the attention of the Council to the fact that under the Bill passed by the Council of the Governor-General, arrears of license-tax were made recoverable as arrears of land revenue. The Select Committee of this Council had modified that enactment, and provided that arrears of the tax should be so recovered only when the amount exceeded Rs. 50; and his own personal experience in the mofussil had convinced him that it was often impossible to recover such demands by the sale of moveable property, and that it was necessary, for the safety of the revenue, that there should be some more certain means of recovering arrears of the tax.

The Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds said that as the hon'ble mover of the amendment had stated that he would not have proposed it if there had been a shadow of a difficulty in recovering arrears by the sale of moveable property, he hoped the hon'ble member would withdraw his amendment when it was pointed out that the recovery of sums due above Rs. 50 did not only include the assessment of tax on incomes above Rs. 2,500, but it also included the amount of fines, which might come to three times the amount of the annual license tax, and would thus cover the recovery of sums from persons whose earnings were considerably below Rs. 2,500.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said that the hon'ble mover of the Bill had observed that from his experience as a revenue officer, difficulty was really felt in the mofussil in realizing Government demands without the sale of immoveable property. Now, the Road Cess Act, as Baboo Kristodas Pal had observed, had been in operation since 1871, and he believed the revenue officers had with singular unanimity testified to the smooth working of the Act; and he had not heard any question raised as to the difficulty of realizing the road cess without the sale of the immoveable property of defaulters. Now, in the case of traders the difficulty would be still less, because the trader must have the stock with which he carried on his trade, and it could not be concealed; it was required in the pursuit of his daily avocations; and if a demand of Rs. 50 for license-tax could not be realized by the sale of his stock-in-trade, Baboo Kristodas Pal thought that such a man ought not to be assessed at all. Then the hon'ble member who spoke last had pointed out that sums which might be realised under section 22 would include not only the amount of the tax, but also penalties, and that in some cases the amount of penalties might be twice the amount of the tax. Admitted. Still, the difference between Rs. 50 and the earnings which would carry a tax of, say, Rs. 16 or Rs. 20 was so great that the stock-in-trade of the licensee ought to be sufficient for the recovery of the arrear. And if the stock-in-trade was not sufficient, then it was clear that the man should not be taxed at all. It would be simply cruel to turn a man out of his hearth and home when he had not the means to pay the license tax. To suppose that he could conceal his goods and still carry on his trade would be an arbitrary assumption; the man must live by his trade, and if he traded, then he must keep his shop open.

His Honor the President said that he was unable to support the amendment. He understood his hon'ble friend to say that if there ha[illegible]n any difficulty in collecting the road cess or the public works cess, he [illegible] consider it a valid reason for retaining the provision as it stood in th[illegible]is Honor must ask him to accept his assurance that with reference t[illegible]e cesses the one great difficulty which had been represented from eve[illegible] was the impossibility of collecting those taxes under the present [illegible] the absolute necessity of altering the law as soon as possible. He w[illegible]whelmed with applications from all quarters in that respect, and, altho[illegible] had abstained for some time from proposing any alteration in the law, in or[illegible] to see whether it was possible to avoid the necessity for an amendment, there was very little reason to suppose that he could continue to do so much longer. And he had deferred bringing in a Bill for the amendment of the law in consequence of these difficulties until after exercising the utmost patience; until he had seen whether, with a little more time and trouble, we might not be able to avoid proposing any alteration of the existing law. He was certainly under the impression that the one difficulty which was felt by all who had to administer the law was the absolute impossibility of recovering arrears by any system of distress and sale of moveable property.

The Council then divided:—

So the amendment was negatived.

The consideration of the proposed amendment to section 28 was postponed until after the consideration of the amendment to section 30.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal moved the omission from the end of section 30 of the following words:—

> "The said Commissioners or Magistrate may also appropriate any part of the revenues of their municipality, station, or union, for the payment of any sum leviable from it under section 28; and if the sum so leviable is not paid at due date, the Local Government may order it or any part of it to be deducted from any funds standing to the credit of the municipality, station, or union in any Government treasury."

He thought it would not be conducive to the interests of municipalities to make them contractors for the collection of the license tax in the manner proposed in the Bill. He was quite aware that it was not obligatory on the Government to avail itself of the agency of municipalities in the assessment or collection of the tax. In regard to Calcutta alone was it made imperative. But as the Government might at its discretion avail itself of the municipal agency, he thought it would only be fair that a municipality, when required to collect the tax, should only serve as the collecting agency, and not act as contractor, in default of the performance of whose contract the municipal funds would be liable to seizure. Perhaps in practice the Government would prefer to act independently of mofussil municipalities; but where it might be deemed otherwise, he did not see why the Government should not in the usual way give a percentage to municipalities for the expense and trouble of collection. If municipalities should enter into contract, or take a farm of the collections, and if they were told to recoup themselves for loss of time and trouble and expense incurred by any excess collections which might come to them over and above the sum stipulated for by the Government, he thought the municipalities would be tempted to work the law in such a manner as to prove oppressive to the people in order to make it productive to themselves. He admitted that where it might be necessary to employ the agency of municipalities for the collection of the tax, it might conduce to economy on the part of the Government. But it was not clear why the Government should seek to effect economy by burdening the Municipal Commissioners; for if the Commissioners were remiss in the collection of the tax, the rate-payers would suffer. On these grounds he would suggest that wherever the Government availed itself of the municipal agency, it should [illegible]ve a remuneration in the shape of a percentage on the collections, but in no case should the municipal funds be rendered liable to attachment for [illegible]n of the license tax.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie observed that the hon'ble member was [illegible] under a misapprehension. The ordinary course of procedure would be much what the hon'ble member wished. The Collector might call on a municipality to prepare a list of licensees, but the final settlement of the tax [illegible] man's case would rest with the Collector. The gross demand upon any municipality would only be the sum of the individual assessments thus determined, and from such gross demand Government would deduct a percentage to be allowed to the town for expenses of collection, risk and trouble. No town would be able to interfere to raise the assessments of individuals. But when the sum to be paid by any municipality was once ascertained, it was proposed to leave an option to the municipality of recovering the tax as assessed, or of providing any portion of it from their ordinary municipal funds. They would thus be able, if they chose, to relieve certain classes of their assessment—a provision rather in the interests of the poor than against them. There might not be many towns in Bengal that could afford this, but the provision was harmless. When, however, it came to a question of how Government should realise the contract sum accepted by any town, Government must insist in the interests of the public revenue on having a power of recovering it without fail. It could not place itself absolutely in the hands Municipal Committees, or run any risk of suffering from their laches.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said his hon'ble friend, the mover of the Bill, had observed that the system of contract which the Bill permitted was in the interest of the poor, and that it ought to be in the option of a Municipality which had a surplus in hand to pay the amount of the tax out of such surplus. None knew better than his hon'ble friend that very few Municipalities, in fact scarcely any in Bengal, had such an overflowing treasury as to be able to pay off the license tax out of its surplus on behalf of the people residing within the limits of the municipality; and therefore to justify the provision on such an imaginary ground was, he could not help saying, begging the question. Moreover, he did not see why municipal funds, which were paid by the rate-payers, should be devoted to the payment of the license tax, as if it were the personal property of the Commissioners. The Commissioners might be very remotely considered as the representatives of the rate-payers of the municipality, they being nominees of Government, and if they did not do their duty in collecting the license tax, why should the municipal fund be made liable? He thought the justice of the provision wasvery questionable.

The Council then divided:—

So the amendment was negatived.

To section 28, on the motion of the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal, the following words were added:—

"after such deduction for necessary expenses as the local Government may fix."

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal was about to move that the following be substituted for section 37:—

"The nett amount of all fees and penalties paid or recovered under this Act, after deducting the expense of collection, shall be carried to a separate fund, and shall be applied towards the payment of interest due upon the famine loans of 1874-75, and of 1877-78, and towards the redemption of such loans in such manner as the Governor-General in Council may direct. An annual amount of such payments shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information."

This, he said, constituted the most important section in the Bill. It referred to the appropriation of the proceeds of the tax, and with rega[illegible] it, it was expected that some light would be thrown in the other Coun[illegible] light had now been vouchsafed, and he left it to hon'ble members to [illegible] they considered the light given sufficient for the purposes of the F[illegible] part—

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT was of opinion that the subject [illegible] hon'ble member wished to discuss was beyond the scope of the Cou[illegible] it then useful to take up the time of the Council with any debate on [illegible] It would certainly place this Council in a false position were they t[illegible] judgment on the acts of the Governor General's Council.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL inquired whether this Council was [illegible] competent to discuss the question.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT replied that they could discuss it, but it would lead to no practical result, and it would therefore be a mere waste of time.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL considered that when the people had been called upon to pay the interest on money to be expended for famine works—

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he was not aware that there was anything before the Council to show that that was the case. The Government of Bengal had been asked to levy a certain sum of money in accordance with a scheme laid down by the Government of India for meeting the cost of or preventing if possible future famines, and the sanction of the Governor General had been obtained to the introduction of a Bill for that purpose and not for raising money to pay off old loans.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said that his authority was no less a one than the statement of the Hon'ble the Financial Member himself, and the preamble to the Bill. It was true that there were no papers before this Council on the subject, and as His Honor the President was unwilling that the matter should be discussed, he would not press his remarks.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said he did not wish to stop his hon'ble friend, but he had no objection to take the sense of the Council as to whether the discussion on the subject should go on. Under no circumstances could such a discussion lead to any practical result or consequence, and therefore it seemed very desirable to avoid it.

The HON'BLE MR. BAYLEY said that if the hon'ble member withdrew his amendment and admitted it was ultra vires, there was no necessity for him to tell the Council the reason why he did so.

The motion was then by leave withdrawn.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said that on the same ground he proposed to withdraw the motion, of which he had given notice, to insert the following section at the end of the Bill, namely—

> "This Act shall be in force for five years from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette, with the assent of the Governor-General."

His object in proposing that amendment was to assert the propriety of limiting the action of the Bill to five years, with a view to give time to Government to retrench expenditure, and at the end of five years to allow this tax to lapse. But this also involved a question of policy; and on the ground upon which he had withdrawn the last amendment he would also withdraw this one.

The amendment was by leave withdrawn.

Section 39 empowered the local Government to make rules for certain purposes.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL moved to omit clause 1 of the section which stood thus:—

> "for defining more precisely the classes of persons liable under this Act."

He was of opinion that this clause trenched on the province of the Legislature: the class of persons to be taxed should be defined by legislative enactment and not by executive orders of the Local Government.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE explained that the Government could not by its rules bring classes of persons under the operation of the law who were not carrying on trades, dealings, or industries. In all measures of taxation the Government had either explicitly or implicitly reserved power to exempt cer[illegible] classes from their operation. The object of the provision was to prevent [illegible]m operating oppressively on any classes of persons who the Govern[illegible] think ought not to be subject to the tax. It was a power of [illegible]hich the Government might exercise without any provision of law, [illegible]onsidered desirable for the sake of symmetry to provide for this [illegible]ecutive rules framed under the sanction of the law.

[illegible]otion was put and negatived.

[illegible]he motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the word "reducing" was [illegible]ed for the word "modifying" in clause (3) of the same section.

[illegible]e HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE said that he had received a communication [illegible] some members of the Calcutta Trade's Association, who were doubtful whether they would be liable to the tax as wholesale dealers or as shop-keepers. They were taxed at present under the Municipal Act as shop-keepers, and the intention of the Bill was to keep to the principle of that schedule. The question of whether a man was a wholesale or a retail trader was one of fact. Any person who sold goods for cash by retail was certainly a retail trader, however large his occasional orders might be. To make it more clear that under Class I. it was only meant to touch wholesale business of all kinds he would move that class I in Schedule A be altered so as to stand thus—

Schedule A, Class I.—"Every joint-stock company; every banker; every wholesale merchant, dealer, commission agent or manufacturer; every professional money-lender; every ship-owner; and every mill-owner, or screw-owner."

The motion was agreed to.

On the motion of the HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE the words "engaged in any trade, dealing, or industry" were substituted for the words "engaged in trade, or commerce" in classes II, III, and IV of the same Schedule.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE then moved the substitution of the following for Class I of Schedule B:—

Schedule B, Class I.—"Every joint-stock company; every banker, shroff, or banian; every wholesale merchant, dealer, commission agent, or manufacturer; every builder; every contractor; every carrying company; every owner or farmer of hauts or bazars; every owner of cotton, jute, hide, or other screws; every ship-owner or dock-owner, or owner of chowks; and every auctioneer."

On the motion of the HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL the following memorial, which had been received from certain owners and farmers of hauts and bazars, was read:—

"That your memorialists observe with regret that in Schedule B of the License Tax Bill now before your Honor's Council 'owner or farmer of hauts and bazars' is included in class I as being a person carrying on "trade, industry, or dealing.

"Proprietors of bazars or markets are, as your Honor in Council is well aware, simply owners of land, who charge rents for the use and occupation of the grounds or buildings thereon by vendors of articles. They do not carry on aay 'trade, dealing, or industry,' and as land has been specifically excluded from the scope of this Bill, your memorialists fail to perceive why owners and farmers of hauts and bazars in Calcutta have been included in the Schedule. They may observe that they had not been included in the License Act of 1867 or the Certificate Act of 1868.

"It is true that the owners and farmers of markets are subject to the municipal license tax, but the reasons and objects of the municipal license tax and provincial license tax are different. The municipality renders conservancy service, and employs a sanitary agency for the examination of articles exposed for sale in a market, and it is therefore meet that the proprietors of markets should be made to contribute to the municipal fund. But the provincial license tax includes within its purview trades, dealings, and industries, and as ownership of land or house, whether used for a market or any other purpose, does not fall within the meaning of the License Bill, it cannot be consistent with the declared policy of Government to exempt land from this tax, and bring under its operation proprietors and farmers of markets in Calcutta.

"Your memorialists therefore pray that proprietors and farmers of markets be excluded from Schedule B of the Bengal License Bill."

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL said the petition which had been just read sufficiently explained the reasons why proprietors and farmers of bazars should not be brought within the scope of the Bill. The avowed object of the Bill was to tax the trading classes, inasmuch as the landed classes had been reached under the Public Works Cess Act. Now, the owners and farmers of markets could not under any construction of the words "trades, dealings, and industries" be taken to fall within that category, and as the Council had thought fit not to include the landed classes in the territories subject [illegible] Government of Bengal within the scope of the Bill, he did not thi[illegible] or proper to include the proprietors and farmers of markets in C[illegible] was true that they were included in the schedule of the Calcutt[illegible] Act, but that, he submitted, was no ground for including them in t[illegible] explained in the memorial which had just been read, there was good [illegible] the owners and farmers of markets were included in that Act, beca[illegible] services were rendered by the Municipality to those proprietors, na[illegible] conservancy arrangements and by the inspection of the produce sold in [illegible] sanitary condition of the markets by the Health Officer's Department and [illegible] the general improvements made in the town. But these considerations did n[illegible] apply to the imposition of this license tax, and as no class of landed proprietors were included within its scope, he thought that the proprietors and farmers of markets in Calcutta should be similarly exempted from its operation, and he would therefore move the omission from Class I, Schedule B, of the words "every owner or farmer of hauts or bazars."

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT observed that the owners and farmers of markets were exempted from assessment under the Public Works Cess Act, and now wished to be exempted from the License Act. They wished to escape as landowners from the one, as inhabitants of towns from the other. Looking at the names attached to the memorial, he could not say that they were persons who could properly claim to be exempt from special taxes to which all classes having a permanent interest in the country had been subjected.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL explained that wherever there were municipalities in the mofussil the road cess was not levied within their limits, because the construction and maintenance of roads as well as conservancy arrangements were met out of the proceeds of the municipal rates and taxes.

The HON'BLE MR. MACKENZIE observed that the simple reason why this class fell under Schedule B was that it was assessed under the schedule of the Calcutta Municipal Act and classed there with persons carrying on "Professions, Trades, and Callings." To this no objection had apparently been raised. The owners of bazars did not sublet them in specific plots for definite terms at fixed rates of rent. They often had on the contrary a direct interest in the profits derived from markets, whether they themselves collected the fees paid by the vendors therein, or had leased out their rights to such fees. It would have been considerably more to the purpose of the memorialists if they had stated that they had no interest in the profits derived from the sale of produce in the markets of which they were owners or farmers.

The HON'BLE MR. BAYLEY thought that it was stretching a point to say that they, the owners and farmers of markets, took rent for the shops and stalls in such markets; he believed that they rather took fees for the sale of produce. Moreover, it should be considered that at present these gentlemen paid nothing either under the Road Cess Act, or under the Public Works Cess Act, and now it was contended that they were not to pay any thing under this Bill in respect of the trades and dealings which were carried on in the markets of which they were the owners and farmers. So that they would get off in both ways. For these reasons as he could not agree in the amendment which was proposed, and he would vote against it.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT asked if the hon'ble mover of the amendment was prepared to say that the memorialists, and those whom they represented, only took rents for the shops and stalls in their markets, and not fees for the sale of produce therein. He believed that most of them, besides taking rent for the fixed shops within the markets, took a daily fee from all chance comers and squatters for permission to sell their produce, or that, if they did not take these fees directly, they farmed out the right to levy them.

The HON'BLE BABOO KRISTODAS PAL observed that as far as he was aware there were two kinds of market rents—first, monthly rents for shops, godowns, and fixed stalls; and secondly, a daily rent from vendors of such articles as vegetables and fish, who were not regular in their attendence at the market. Generally rents were received in money; sometimes in kind. But in whatever form it was taken, it was rent and not profits on the sale of articles. And, as he had before explained, the reason why the owners and farmers of markets were [illegible]ded in the schedule of the Calcutta Municipal Act was that the Municipality [illegible] special services, that was to say by conservancy arrangements, the [illegible] of articles sold in the markets, and by general sanitation.

[illegible]on'ble Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter said it seemed to him very [illegible] these owners and farmers of markets came to be included within [illegible]rofessions, trades, and callings, specified in the schedule to the [illegible]nicipal Act, but the fact was there they were. He was not quite [illegible]er the farmers of hauts and bazars did not derive some profit from [illegible] produce in them. In all markets the vendors had to pay something [illegible]armers who came in daily, but whether such payments were composed [illegible], or of rent and profits, he was not quite sure. He was inclined to think [illegible]at the gains of farmers were composed both of rent and profits. Municipalities in the mofussil were so small and few that it might be said that there the owners and farmers of hauts and bazars had to pay road cess in some form or other and public works cess; whereas the owners or rather farmers of markets in Calcutta had no such cess to pay. On these grounds he was not quite prepared to support the amendment.

The Council then divided on the amendment :—

Ayes 3.	Noes 7.
Hon'ble Rajah Pramatha Nath Roy, Bahdoor.	Hon'ble Mr. Jennings.
" Nawab Meer Mahomed Ali.	" Mr. Brown.
" Baboo Kristodas Pal.	" Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter.
	" Mr. Bayley.
	" Mr. Mackenzie.
	" Mr. Reynolds.
	" The President.

So the Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal's amendment was negatived, and the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie's amendment was carried.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie verbal amendments were made in classes III and V of Schedule B.

The Hon'ble Nawab Meer Mahomed Ali said that although he had not given notice of any amendment, he wished to be allowed to move that in section 27 of the Bill, which authorized the Collector to require returns of the persons liable to the tax from Municipal Commissioners and panchaits, all mention of panchaits should be omitted. He had no objection to such returns being called for from Municipal Commissioners; but he had seen so many instances of oppression on the poor practised by mofussil panchaits, that he must object to any such power as that contained in this section being conferred on them.

After some conversation, the motion was put and negatived.

On the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie the following words were added to section 27.

"Such return, when finally accepted or settled by the Collector, shall be deemed to be the list referred to in section 10.

On the presentation of a petition of objection under section 17 by any person entered in such list the Collector may either dispose of it himself, or may refer it to any officer specially empowered by Government under section 19, or to a bench of not less than three Commissioners, whose decision shall be final."

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal withdrew the amendment, of which he had given notice, to omit from the preamble of the Bill the word "permanent" before the words "increase of the revenue."

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie said he thought it would be found that nearly all the amendments made were practically verbal amendments or changes of so slight a character that it might be safely considered that, with one exception, the clauses of the Bill had been settled in the form recommended by the Select Committee. This exception was a relaxation of one of the clauses of the Bill by which payment of the tax by one member of a firm constituted payment by all of them. In adopting this principle the Council had followed the lines laid down in the Bill passed by the Governor-General's Council. But this was not such a material alteration as to make it necessary to defer the passing of it, and as it was essential that there should be no further delay in the matter, he would apply to his Honor the President to suspend the rules for the conduct of business to enable him to move that the Bill be passed.

His Honor the President declared the rules suspended.

The Hon'ble Mr. Mackenzie then moved that the Bill, as amend[illegible] passed.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said he could not allow that [illegible] pass without saying a few words on the Bill. He had given his adh[illegible] Bill, on the ground that the demand had been made by the Gov[illegible] India in the sacred name of humanity, and, whatever difference[illegible] might exist as to the form of the tax and the details of the Bill, [illegible] there could be but one opinion as to the necessity for raising the [illegible] the obligation resting upon the people to respond to the call thus m[illegible] them. But in the progress of the Bill circumstances had transpired, in [illegible] to which he considered it his duty to protest against the passing of the [illegible]

He thought that the Government owed it to the people over whom it h[illegible] sway, to explain whether these taxes should be a permanent burden upon them, or whether it might not be possible to remit the taxes, say at the end of five years, by making necessary retrenchments. None was better aware than His Honor that there was ample room for economy, and His Honor had himself raised his voice in the other Council in the cause of economy. If the papers were correct, he believed the Government of India was also anxious to press upon Her Majesty's Government the necessity of enforcing economy. He thought he would not be doing his own duty as a representative of the native population in this Council, if he did not say that there was a wide feeling growing in the country that the Indian tax-payer was being sacrificed for the sake of the exigencies of the Imperial policy of England. It would not be denied that the home military charges of India had been increasing year after year against law and equity, if those charges were adjusted on a fair and equitable basis; if, again, reduction were made in the Indian army, which had been long advocated by Government, and other retrenchments carried out, savings might be effected which would yield much more than the sums which would be produced by the new measures of taxation. Such being the case, he thought it would have been gratifying to the people, who had so loyally accepted the burden, if the Government had given them an assurance that at the end of, say, five years, the new taxes would be remitted. On that ground he had proposed to move that the operation of this Bill should be limited to five years; but he was grieved to find that it was not open to him to make such a motion.

Then, when the Bill was originally introduced, its object was stated to be to save life by executing insurance works against the Famine; and he might say that his countrymen, whom he had the opportunity of consulting on the subject, had agreed with him that they should render every co-operation in the furtherance of that humane object. But how was that object to be brought about? They had been at first told by the hon'ble the Financial Member that the money to be raised by the new measures of taxation would be religiously applied to the execution of works in the nature of an insurance against famine; but they were now told that the Government would invest the fund in the construction of public works in the same manner as heretofore. But, have the public works hitherto executed proved an insurance against famine? He read in the last Gazette of India a despatch of the Secretary of State recommending the appointment of a Famine Commission, in which the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State said:—

> "In the reports which your Excellency has forwarded me from time to time, I find much to lead me to believe that the very cause which produced the famine in many cases has made irrigation works wholly or partially ineffective. The same want of rain, which parched the fields, emptied the tanks and lessened the value of the rivers."

This opinion of the Secretary of State cleared up the point as to whether it would be advisable to spend more money or not upon irrigation works. In regard to railways, Baboo Kristodas Pal fully recognised their value in connection with famines. But he observed in a recent number of the Gazette of India that while more than fifteen millions had been spent in a few years on State Railways, the nett charge upon the Revenue, in other words the deficit upon this account, amounted to about half a million per annum; and if more money were spent upon these unproductive irrigation and railway works, there would be a larger and larger charge upon the revenues of the country. It might be that in the fulness of years some of those railway schemes might prove sufficiently [illegible]ductive; but the question was whether the money to be raised by proposed [illegible]ion, if invested in the extension of public works, would yield a sufficient [illegible] to meet the interest upon the loans that might be required for famine [illegible]nce in ten years, estimated at fifteen millions. [illegible]ld have been satisfactory if the Hon'ble the Financial Member had [illegible]hat sort of works would be undertaken by the Government as an [illegible]ainst famine. But he himself raised the question and answered [illegible]way—" if he were asked to describe the works that would be under[illegible]ould not give an exact reply." Thus the hon'ble Financial Member, [illegible]eaking as the exponent of Government, did not know what would [illegible] nature of the works that would be undertaken, and yet we were called [illegible] impose taxes for works of which no one could be sure whether they would [illegible] a real insurance against famine or not. There were other points in connection with this Bill which Baboo Kristodas Pal would not touch upon here, as it would take up the time of Council without any direct result. But upon the two grounds which he had stated, namely, that the tax was to be made permanent, and that the fund was to be applied to the construction of public works, that in fact the new tax was to be an addition to the Public Works Cess imposed last year: upon those two grounds he felt it to be his duty to protest against the passing of the Bill. So far as Bengal was concerned, this measure involved a double injustice. We had been led to hope that the cess of last year would suffice for works which were intended to be in the nature of an insurance against famine, but it would be seen that such was not to be the case. Then again it was stated in the other Council on Saturday last that if contingencies should arise, the famine fund might be applied to general purposes of the State, but the establishment of a statutory fund would fetter the hands of the Government, and might consequently tend to complications or additional taxation hereafter; so that practically, this tax, though originally intended for famine purposes, would be so much addition to the general revenues. He said if the general revenues were not sufficient, the Government should have openly declared its position and called upon the community to strengthen its hands. But it was not consistent to take money for famine purposes and apply it to works which might not prove an insurance against famine, or to purposes to which the general revenues were applicable. On these grounds he considered it his duty to protest against the passing of the Bill.

The Hon'ble Raja Pramatha Natha Roy Bahadoor said that before the motion was put, he would also protest against the passing of the Bill on the grounds which had been already stated by the Hon'ble Member who preceded him, particularly as it sought to impose a permanent tax, to which on the ground of its permanency his countrymen, as far as he could judge from the organs of native public opinion, were also opposed.

His Honor the President must say that he had been taken somewhat by surprise by the action taken by his hon'ble friend, because he could find no sort of justification for his change of policy in any thing that had been said by the Financial Member of the Governor General's Council or by any member of the Government of India, or by himself. He must say that he understood that the natives of Bengal, and especially his hon'ble friend, fully recognised the impossibility of the Government carrying on the large system of railway and irrigation works necessary to prevent famines in future, and of relieving future famines on the principle which no one had more loudly urged upon the natives of Bengal, without an increase of means, and that they were anxious and willing in common with the people of other parts of India to bear their share of the burden, and place the Government in a position to obtain those means. There was no doubt that with respect to economy there was a great deal of truth in what his hon'ble friend had stated. But that was not an idea peculiar to himself. It had been continually noticed by His Excellency the Viceroy, by Sir John Strachey, by himself (the Lieutenant-Governor) and others, and it was a matter that was receiving the most earnest attention on all sides. A great part of His Honor's time was now spent in trying how far they could reduce expenditure in the administration. Expenditure in the Army and in the Home charges were matters with which it was not in his power to deal, and he doubted whether it was in the power of the Government of India to deal with it altogether. But he was sure that the subject was receiving the serious attention of the Government of India, and that the Government wou[illegible] what it could in these directions. No one could be more anxious [illegible] subject than His Excellency the Viceroy. His hon'ble friend seem[illegible] to draw a distinction between what he called expenditure on works [illegible]ing famines, and expenditure on public works. His Honor mu[illegible] could not understand what his hon'ble friend meant by works fo[illegible]tion of famine. His Honor's idea was that it meant works of [illegible] dry countries where irrigation was wanted, and works of communi[illegible]ways and feeders chiefly, which would have the effect of enabling peop[illegible] of the country where there was a good harvest—and there were fo[illegible] places where there were always good harvests—to transport their grain [illegible] parts of the country where there had been bad harvests; and he could not [illegible]ceive how any one who had seen what had been transpiring within the las[illegible] few months could hesitate to say that, whatever had been done in Madras i[illegible] the way of saving human life, had been done through the help of railway[illegible] and he could not help feeling that without those railways Madras would h[illegible] been left in just as helpless a condition as Orissa was during the fam[illegible] there some eleven years ago.

His hon'ble friend had quoted the remarks of the Secretary of St[illegible] India to show that expenditure upon works of irrigation was n[illegible] useless, but he had quoted a single sentence favourable to his view fro[illegible] despatch on the Famine Commission and had not given a correct idea o[illegible] Secretary of State's views. His Honor found that the Secretary of State mentioned that the Government had expended sixteen millions sterling upon irrigation, and he went on to say:—

> "The financial results of these undertakings have varied remarkably. The earlier works, especially those which have been constructed in the localities already selected for that purpose by the earlier rulers of the country, have been singularly profitable. According to the estimate now before me, the Eastern Jumna Canal has yielded 36 per cent., and the Western Jumna 27 per cent."

No doubt, as had been observed, there had been places in which schemes of irrigation had been carried out, and had been proved to be exceedingly unprofitable. But the charge for those schemes had been already met by the Public Works Cess, and no portion of the money to be raised on the present occasion could, by any possibility, be expended on those unprofitable irrigation works of Orissa. As to future irrigation, it might be quite accepted as a fact that money now raised would be entirely expended upon works which were desired by the people, and upon which there would be an unquestionable return. In regard to the works of irrigation which had been proposed during His Honor's time, he had always refused to act until the people themselves had come forward and asked for the scheme, and the only new schemes which had been commenced lately had been the works in regard to which the people themselves had been the first to move; and in one case had actually guaranteed the whole of the interest on the money which would be expended, and in the other case, they were still considering whether they should do so.

As regards the question whether the money raised under this Bill was to be devoted to paying off a loan for money expended on one work or another, was of very little matter. He fancied that the Government was determined to do its duty to the country, and proceed with the construction of public works; and the only question was whether they should be entirely paid for by future generations or partly by the present generation. A certain amount would be annually expended in opening out the country by means of railways and canals, which would have the effect of making the country comparatively safe from the effects of future famines. Now, the money raised under this Bill would go to the purpose of making railways and other public works, which would otherwise have to be made from money raised by loans. Under the present system, they were made by what were called extraordinary loans, which were very strictly limited to works which were of a remunerative character; and instead of raising that money, as now, by means of loans, a large proportion of it would be paid out of the revenues raised by new taxation, and the country would be saved from so much of debt, and when famine did arise would be able to borrow anything that was necessary to meet it, without adding to the debt of the country anything more than would have been added if nothing was spent for famines, [illegible] e same amount hitherto spent was spent on preventive works. It was [illegible] d that the amount which would be thus paid off would be sufficient to [illegible] cost of famines when they arrived. One and a half millions less of [illegible] years would give the 15 millions which, it was calculated, might [illegible] pent on famine in the next ten years. And it might be hoped that [illegible] ntime this money so collected was judiciously invested in public [illegible] er they were directly or indirectly remunerative, all the horrors [illegible] the outlay of future famines could in time be averted. He could [illegible] e that his hon'ble friend really would prefer that the money should [illegible] up in a strong box and kept there for ten years. We would then find [illegible] in the same helpless condition, without roads, canals and railways, or means of transporting grain from one part of the country to another.

As he had said before, he did not understand to what part of the scheme his hon'ble friend objected. There seemed to him to be not the slightest differ[illegible]e between discontinuing to borrow money for works, which all admitted [illegible]e required, and which must be made, and paying off the interest upon old [illegible]s. It seemed to His Honor a most selfish policy for this generation to [illegible] upon posterity the cost of paying for famines which did not occur in [illegible]ne, and that would be the result of meeting famines by continually, instead [illegible]ly, raising fresh money to meet them whenever they arose. He thought [illegible]ws of his hon'ble friend, which, as he said before, seemed selfish, were [illegible]ained by very few of his fellow-countrymen and by very few of the members of this Council, and he hoped that the Bill now before them would be passed.

He understood that his hon'ble friend did not object to pass the Bill for five years, but objected to pass it without a limit of time.

The Hon'ble Baboo Kristodas Pal said he wished to say one word by way of explanation. He wished to point out the difference in the circumstances since the introduction of the Bill which had led him to modify his opinion in respect to it; that there was now no guarantee, in the way the appropriation section was worded, and the policy which had been lately announced, that there would not be further increase of taxation when a famine should arise hereafter, there being in consequence of that policy no positive insurance against famine.

The Council then divided:—

Ayes 3.	Noes 7.
The Hon'ble Pramatha Natha Roy.	The Hon'ble Mr. Jennings.
„ Nawab Meer Mahomed Ali.	„ Mr. Brown.
„ Baboo Kristodas Pal.	„ Baboo Isser Chunder Mitter
	„ Mr. Bayley.
	„ Mr. Mackenzie.
	„ Mr. Reynolds.
	„ The President.

So the motion was carried and the Bill passed.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 23rd instant, at 11 A.M.

Read—

Letter dated 17th December 1877, from Surgeon-Major J. Ewart to Sir Joseph Fayrer, K.C.S.I., on the subject of the expenditure of the General Hospital.

Letter No. 1548, dated 18th January 1878, from Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, submitting a statement showing the value of medical stores issued by the Medical Store Department to the hospitals and dispensaries of Calcutta during the past ten years.

IN the Resolution on the Annual Administration Report of the Medical Institutions of Calcutta and the Suburbs for 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor had occasion to remark on the unsatisfactory and imperfectly explained statements of expenditure which had been submitted for the different hospitals and dispensaries. It was seen that the gross expenditure bore apparently no proper ratio to the numbers relieved, as charges which had originally risen with increasing calls on the hospital resources were found to have gone on increasing with diminished numbers of patients. Thus it was observed that the gross number of patients treated had fallen from 313,462 in 1875 to 310,016 in 1876, while the gross charges had risen from Rs. 4,88,835 to Rs. 5,07,473. The most conspicuous instances of apparently extravagant administration were found in the Sealdah and General Hospitals; but the Lieutenant-Governor expressed his apprehension that none of the metropolitan medical institutions were free from waste and pilfering of expensive drugs. The first-named hospital has, in consequence of the apparent necessity for an increased grant, since formed the subject of full and most careful enquiry; the facts have been thoroughly sifted, and the Lieutenant-Governor has, after the most anxious consideration, pronounced his decision. The Lieutenant-Governor has also had one branch of the expenditure of the General Hospital since 1870, that relating to European medicines, examined by a Committee consisting of Dr. Cockburn, Deputy Surgeon-General, Dr. Elliot, Surgeon Superintendent, and Dr. French, Civil Surgeon, 24-Pergunnahs. The report of that Committee disclosed some very remarkable figures. It was shown that between 1871 and 1872, with an increase of 21 in the daily average number of European in-door patients, there was a rise in the cost of European medicines from Rs. 6,717 to Rs. 11,308; that, while the total daily average of [illegible]s about the same in 1873 as in 1870, the cost of European medicines [illegible]14,453, against Rs. 6,426; and that in 1874, while the gross daily [illegible]ll in-door and out-door patients was one less than the daily average [illegible]atients, all Europeans, in 1872, the cost of European medicines [illegible]04, against Rs. 11,308. The Committee submitted no explanation [illegible]s of this extraordinary increase, while the solution suggested by the [illegible]eneral was found to be erroneous. The Lieutenant-Governor [illegible] deemed it necessary to desire that the subject should be thoroughly [illegible]d by the Committee to which the enquiry regarding the Sealdah [illegible]l had been entrusted, assisted by an experienced officer of the Accounts [illegible]partment. To this course the Surgeon-General demurred, on the ground [illegible]hat it would be "unfair to the Superintendent, who has been hitherto [illegible]couraged in a very liberal expenditure, to overhaul his management [illegible]n totally opposite principles, without affording him the opportunity of [illegible]ging the system, so as to bring it into greater agreement with the [illegible] economy required under the new régime." The Lieutenant-Governor [illegible]st to remark that this plea begs the whole question of the causes of the [illegible]r increase to which attention was specially directed. Nothing that has [illegible]ne to light has shown that any encouragement was held out to the [illegible]tendent(Dr. Ewart) in the matter of an excessive expenditure of European [illegible]nes; nor is it possible to conceive how any encouragement, had such been given, could justify the administrative head of a great institution in more than doubling the average expenditure on European medicines in the course of three years. Dr. Ewart claims to have shaped his administration generally on certain orders recorded by Sir Richard Temple in September 1874 and March 1875; but those orders had no reference whatever to the expenditure of medicines, and they were issued after the expiry of the period during which the circumstances which, in Mr. Eden's opinion, require investigation occurred. The Lieutenant-Governor has no intention of prejudging the case: but he considers that the figures above quoted are such as call for careful examination with the view as much of rectification in the future as of explanation in the past. While the Lieutenant-Governor readily admits that the officers officiating as heads of the hospitals at the present moment have done much in the last few months to reduce expenditure, the enquiries which he has prosecuted into the subject of hospital and medical expenditure generally have confirmed him in the apprehension expressed in the Resolution above referred to, and convince him that the whole question requires most careful and detailed consideration, in order that the rapidly increasing cost of this branch of the administration may be brought back to the limit, which it has long overstepped, of the actual wants of the public. He has therefore nominated for this purpose a Committee to consist of the following members:—

Mr. J. O'Kinealy	President.
Mr. D. M. Barbour	Members.
Surgeon-Major A. J. Payne
" " J. M. Coates
" " J. J. Jones
" " S. Coull Mackenzie
Mr. C. Macaulay, Secretary

2. The first duty of the Committee will be to institute a careful enquiry into the administration of each hospital and dispensary in Calcutta and the Suburbs during the past ten years. The following points are noted for consideration:—

General control and management.

The system of superintendence, its kind and cost. The subordinate staff, its kind and cost. The details of daily work as it is now done by subordinates and servants, and the cost.

Nursing.

The daily duty done by superintending and subordinate nurses. The effect of the nursing system in reducing previous staff of ward attendants. The extent to which nurses are utilised in superintending the custody of clothing and stores, and in watching the distribution of diets and medicines. The source from which the cost of the nursing system is defrayed.

Educational officers.

In educational hospitals, the precise relation in which hospital officers, who are also teachers, stand to the administrative head of the institution, and the regularity or otherwise of their attendance in the wards.

Medicines.

The agencies to which the charge and keeping of the stores are committed [illegible] the issue of these stores is directed. What [illegible] in the dispensary during the compounding of [illegible] who governs the issue of these to the patients? Generally, what precautions [illegible] guard against neglect or dishonesty in respect to these stores? Who [illegible] medicine, and what evidence is considered sufficient that medicines said to have [illegible] during a year have actually been so? Does the Examiner of Medical Accounts [illegible] efficient influence over expenditure of medicine? The same questions as to [illegible] custody, and inspection of surgical instruments. Is stock taken by a [illegible] medicine or instruments in the intervals between the indents; if so, how often and [illegible]

Dietary articles.

Similar enquiries should be made with regard to bazar medicines, cloth, &c., purchased for the hospital. How are these procured? Who settles the terms of contract? By whom are daily supplies inspected and passed for use? What power of punishing purveyors is exercised and by whom? Who superintends the issue of diets and extras in the wards, and what precaution is [illegible] against fraud? Is diet checked by the Examiner of Medical Accounts? How are [illegible] spirits procured? In whose charge are they kept and by whom issued to the patient? [illegible] presides over the cook-room? Are the working establishment and the [illegible] economical and efficient? Is diet issued to any but actual in-patients of the [illegible] the hospital crowded by the admission of relatives and friends of patients?

Furniture and miscellaneous purchases.

Who directs the purchase and maintenance [illegible] becomes of condemned articles? In whose charge [illegible] kept, and when and by whom is inspection made?

Clothing.

What is the method of purchase, of inspection and custody, the period of stock-taking, and the precautions against robbery. In whose charge is clothing in use in wards, and how is it changed? The Committee should enquire generally into the management of clothing and disposal of condemned articles or their conversion to ulterior uses.

Hospital accommodation.

Who determines the cases to be admitted, and by what principles is it governed? What precautions are taken against unnecessary admission, that is, of trivial or incurable cases, and generally are the wards so managed in this respect as to serve to the utmost possibility the needs of the sick poor of the town? In old and incurable cases what is done? May it not be desirable to abolish the lying-in ward at the General Hospital, when proper accommodation for the obstetric ward is furnished at the Medical College Hospital? This should be specially considered with reference to the danger of having such wards in the centre of hospitals for general diseases.

The Committee should suggest means of preventing persons living on the public by passing from one institution to another, and generally of guarding against the hospitals being used as alms-houses. Give a return of all cases which are now in hospital for over 9 months with a report as to the probability of any cure in such cases.

What private accommodation exists in any of the hospitals and what classes use it? What rates of payment are required, and what precautions are taken against abuse of public charitable hospitals by persons able to pay for private attendance?

It should be understood that the Lieutenant-Governor does not intend this list of heads of enquiry to be taken as exhaustive, and that the Committee will be at liberty to consider and report on any point which they may think fairly falls within the sphere of a Commission of Enquiry or may be suggested by officers in charge of particular institutions.

3. In addition to a report on the administration of each hospital, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes the Committee to draw up a general scheme for the management of these institutions on a uniform system. They should prepare forms of diet sheets and extra statements which shall show the head of the institution daily the expenditure of the previous day; scales of diet for the several races; and forms of stock inspection books. They should provide for the separate recording of expenditure on in-door and out-door patients under all heads, so as to include medicines, and especially arrange that some individual be so charged with every class of article expended, that personal responsibility may be fixed and indisputable in case of loss. They should also consider the question of private practice in its relation to hospital duty and superintendence. It is probable that loss and destruction of clothing arises from the long intervals between the condemnation and replacement of stores, which lead to accumulation of useless articles and the purchase of large quantities at one time and to consequent difficulty of close observation by superiors; the Committee should lay down a minimum period, which should perhaps not exceed three months. It should be provided that, with full personal responsibility exacted from him, the Superintendent be not fettered and other officers harassed by the convening of outside Committees on clothing and the like. The Committee should consider the possibility of having clothing for the different hospitals and institutions manufactured in jails, of a distinctive pattern and ch would render them unsaleable in the market. The names and ll persons connected with public hospitals, who are interested in nsaries, should be ascertained. The officering of the subordinate hecaries, stewards and clerks should be enquired into. The advan-therwise of the supposed control over hospital and dispensary re exercised by the Examiner of Medical Accounts should be carefully d.

h these indications of the Lieutenant-Governor's views on particular , the Committee will understand that they are expected to enquire into very branch and department of hospital administration, and to point out any rcumstances in which they think alteration desirable. The Committee will be powered to require the attendance before them of any medical officer under Government of Bengal whose evidence or opinion they may desire to The Government of India will be asked to allow the Examiner of al Accounts to appear before the Committee and supply the members with turns and papers as they may require.

he Lieutenant-Governor would wish the Committee if possible to heir enquiries to Medical Schools, Charitable Dispensaries outside
, Lunatic Asylums and Vaccination. These branches of their enquiry be taken up after the question of Medical Institutions of Calcutta and the uburbs has been disposed of, and their recommendations should be embodied in one report for each branch. In connection with expenditure outside Calcutta, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes the Committee to give their special attention to the manner in which indents for medicine and medical stores and instruments are prepared, submitted and checked, and the manner in which they are complied with, especially in regard to the allegations which are from time to time made of delay in the Medical Store-keeper's Department. The more general substitution of native medicines and drugs for European medicines in dispensaries, especially in out-dispensaries under native doctors, should be thoroughly considered. In pursuing their investigations under these heads, the Committee will be empowered to require through the Surgeon-General the attendance of, and to examine, any officer connected with the administration of the various departments under enquiry.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF CHARITABLE DIS[illegible]SARIES IN BENGAL DURING 1876.

MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 18*th February* 1878.

READ—

The Report by the Surgeon-General on the working of the Charitable Dispensarie[illegible] Bengal for the year 1876.

Read again—

The Report on Charitable Dispensaries for 1875.

At the close of 1875, 207 permanent dispensaries were open in Ben[illegible] 23 new dispensaries were established during 1876, one old dispensary wa[illegible] opened, and one was closed, so that at the end of the year 230 dispe[illegible] were open for the purposes of charitable relief. Of temporary disp[illegible] there were 34 open at the beginning of the year, but 25 were clos[illegible] the year; the remaining nine being maintained as permanent dispen[illegible] the districts of Burdwan and Midnapore. This decrease was due to th[illegible]ment of the malarious fever which had for some years prevailed in W[illegible] Bengal.

2. It is not at all clear that an increase in the mere number of dispensaries is of itself a matter for congratulation. There is too much reason to believe that the multiplication of branch dispensaries in places where frequent inspection is impossible has resulted in a low standard of efficiency, and that the practice of treating the number of patients in attendance as the test of the popularity of the native doctor in charge of the dispensary has led in some cases to the fabrication of returns to such an extent that the statistics of outlying dispensaries are regarded by good authorities as entirely fallacious. Doubtless it may be urged that even the large number of dispensaries now in existence is inadequate to the requirements of the people for medical aid, and that a certain amount of laxity of supervision, with its accompanying evils, is one of the necessary conditions under which medical relief must at present be administered. But Mr. Eden considers that this view cannot seriously be maintained. It is far more important that in each district there should be a few dispensaries situated at well selected points, and kept under strict control in respect of the treatment of patients and the expenditure of medicines, than that the country should be covered with institutions which do not command the confidence of the people, and which too often operate to prevent private practitioners from establishing themselves in the neighbourhood. It is true that the dispensary committees might exercise a searching control over the medical subordinates in charge, but practically they have failed to do so, and the present state of things is consequently far from satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor looks to Dr. Irving, the newly appointed Surgeon-General for these provinces, to go carefully into the question of maintaining these outlying dispensaries, and to consider whether any means can be devised for attaining greater efficiency without unduly contracting the sphere of gratuitous medical relief.

3. The number of charitable dispensaries in which in-door patients were received rose to 146 in 1876 against 135 in the previous year; the number of dispensaries treating out-door patients only being 224 against 198. This increase of in-door accommodation is satisfactory.

4. Among the 230 medical officers in charge of dispensaries there were 55 assistant surgeons, 24 hospital assistants, 141 apothecary and vernacular licentiate class native doctors, and 8 native doctors locally entertained. Thirty-two native doctors were added to the staff during the year, and the number of hospital assistants was decreased by eight. Under recent orders of the Government of India, the employment of military hospital assistants in civil work will be discontinued, and all native doctors who have received a professional education will be absorbed into a new service of civil hospital assistants. No difficulty need be apprehended in meeting the requirements of Bengal in respect of medical subordinates from the existing medical schools; and it is anticipated that there will be some demand from other provinces for civil hospital assistants educated in Bengal. It is satisfactory to find that the [illegible]ntage of medical subordinates who could keep their records in English rose [illegible]876 from 94 to 97 per cent. Every effort should be made to induce [illegible] to keep up their knowledge of English and to study English medi-[illegible] The number of good medical treatises in the vernacular is trifling, [illegible] knowledge of English spreads the demand for such works is con-[illegible] decreasing.

[illegible] The following statement shows the number of in-door and out-door [illegible]ts treated in the dispensaries of Bengal in the six years from 1871 to [illegible]76:—

YEARS.	In-patients treated.	Out-patients treated.	Total.	Mortality among in-patients per cent.
[illegible]	17,892	405,528	423,420	15·41
[illegible]	18,118	439,177	457,295	16·07
[illegible]	20,240	598,470	618,710	16·22
1874	23,842	636,289	660,131	16·84
1875	22,009	698,730	720,739	16·89
1876	23,012	809,275	832,287	16·81

Reviewing the results of the entire period, it appears that the number of in-patients was greatest in 1874, probably in consequence of the distress in that year, and the prevalence of epidemic fever in Western Bengal, that it fell by nearly two thousand in 1875 and increased by one thousand in 1876. For in-door patients, therefore, the normal rate of increase from all causes appears to be nearly 1,000 yearly. It has been remarked that the statistics of out-patients treated at dispensaries are open to considerable suspicion, and the figures quoted above certainly seem to give some support to this view. It is hardly credible that the number of persons applying for out-door relief at dispensaries should have risen from four hundred thousand to eight hundred thousand in a period of six years, during which period Assam was formed into a separate province and passed out of the Bengal returns. Some portion of the increase in 1876 may doubtless be attributed to the outbreak of cholera in South-Eastern Bengal, and to the inclusion of the returns of fresh dispensaries; but even after making allowance for these causes the Lieutenant-Governor can hardly believe that the figures accurately represent the medical relief afforded to the poor of these provinces during the last six years.

7. Out of the total number of in-door patients treated during the year, 68·36 per cent. were cured and 16·81 died, the remainder being returned as otherwise accounted for. These figures show only slight variations on the results of previous years. Nine dispensaries in the Presidency Circle, five in the Dinapore Circle, and three in the Dacca Circle, had a death-rate of more than 30 per cent. of the number treated. The highest death-rates recorded during the year were 59·54 per cent. at Goalundo, 53·19 at Titalya, and

49·23 per cent. at Barrackpore. Taking the causes of mortality, dy[illegible] caused the largest proportion (22·25 per cent.) of the total number o[illegible] against 25·21 in 1875, cholera standing next with a death-rate of 2[illegible] cent. against 13·72 per cent. in the previous year. It is stated that [illegible] prevalent in 1876 was of a more fatal type than that of the previous [illegible] the Lieutenant-Governor understands that the returns cannot be [illegible] altogether without question. The proportionate mortality from [illegible] fevers, and dropsy shows only slight variations.

8. The report shows that 2,400 major and 37,929 minor surgical [illegible] tions were performed in 1876 against 2,321 and 34,118 in 1875. Of the [illegible] operations, 14·2 per cent. were performed by the Superintendents of Disp[illegible] saries, and 85·7 per cent. by the medical subordinates. The mortality among the patients who underwent major operations was 3 per cent., or one per [illegible] less than in 1875.

9. The financial position of the dispensary funds is on the w[illegible] factory. Excluding the floating balance and the cost of the me[illegible] printed forms supplied by Government, it appears from the state[illegible] that the actual income of the dispensaries during the last th[illegible] exceeded the expenditure:—

	Income.	Expen[illegible]
	Rs.	Rs.
1874	3,36,197	3,32,840
1875	3,74,902	3,59,979
1876	3,77,017	3,75,270

Out of the year's income Rs. 1,22,527 were contributed by Gov[illegible] ment; Rs. 33,841 were contributed by local funds, municipalities, and t[illegible] committees; Rs. 27,403 were realized from the interest or sale of inve[illegible] ments; native subscriptions amounted to Rs. 1,20,878, and European subscriptions to Rs. 25,138. There was a slight decrease in the proportion of the total income contributed by Government and in that derived from European subscriptions; while the proportion accruing from native subscriptions rose by nearly 4 per cent. Against this increase, however, is to be set a decline of 4·43 per cent. in the proportion contributed by municipalities. The cost of medicines and books supplied by Government amounted to Rs. 63,615 against Rs. 64,058 in 1875; but, besides this, medicines to the value of Rs. 6,393 were supplied to dispensaries in the fever districts and to dispensaries from wh[illegible] no returns have been received, so that Government really expended on [illegible] account Rs. 70,008. The sums invested in savings banks or in Government securities during 1876 amounted to Rs. 16,342, and in addition to this there was a balance of Rs. 1,01,865 in hand at the close of the year. The expenditure of the year exceeded the income in the case of two dispensaries only. The entire question of dispensary management will shortly be considered by the Committee appointed to inquire into the administration of the Calcutta medic[illegible] institutions; and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that definite rules may be la[illegible] down to regulate the supply of medicines on the most economical system that i[illegible] consistent with efficient relief.

10. In the Presidency and Dinapore Circles the duty of inspecting d[illegible] pensaries was carefully performed by the Deputy Surgeons-General; but the officer in charge of the Dacca Circle inspected only four out of seven sudder dispensaries and two out of 27 outlying dispensaries. Making full allowances for the difficulty of travelling in Eastern Bengal, and for the Assam work, which falls upon the Deputy Surgeon-General of the Dacca Circle, the Lieutenant-Governor regards this result as extremely unsatisfactory. The Civil Surgeons have paid more attention to inspection than was the case in the previous year; but there is still considerable room for improvement, and it should be remembered that, in the absence of efficient control by the dispensary committees, the only check on the medical subordinates in charge of dispensaries is constant inspection by the Civil Surgeon. The figures cited by the Surgeon-General show that, with few exceptions, the committees have as yet failed to recognise the duty of holding periodical meetings to enquire into the affairs of the dispensaries for which they have made themselves responsible, and there is too much reason to fear that in most cases their supervision is little more than nominal.

[illegible] The Lieutenant-Governor proposes to utilise the services of the [illegible]or-General of Jails and the Sanitary Commissioner as ex-officio Inspectors [illegible]itals and Dispensaries, and hopes that, as these officers will have to [illegible]y every station in Bengal in the ordinary course of their official [illegible]s, something may with their assistance be done to secure uniformity [illegible]ement and increased efficiency in the supervision of local Committees [illegible]ut the country.

[illegible]DER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the [illegible]on-General, Indian Medical Department, for information.

[illegible]Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with copy of the [illegible]port, be forwarded to the Surgeon-General, Bengal, for information and guidance, and that a copy of the Resolution be also forwarded to all Commis- [illegible]ners of Divisions for information and communication to district officers.

[illegible]dered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with copy of the [illegible] submitted to the Government of India, in the Home Department, for [illegible]

[illegible] also that a copy of the Resolution, together with copy of the [illegible]rwarded to each Member of the Committee appointed to inquire [illegible]nistration of the Calcutta Medical Institutions, for information.

[illegible] also that a copy of the Resolution, together with copy of the [illegible] forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails and to the Sanitary [illegible]missioner for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the differ[illegible] of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 16th February 1[illegible]

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, [illegible] state of health at date.
BENGAL.
		Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1	Burdwan, Feb. 16 '78	Nil Cutwa 0·09.	Rubbee crops are being reaped. State of the cotton plants is good. Chole[illegible] has not as yet abated in Culna and Bood-Bood sub-divisions. It ha[illegible] appearance at Cutwa.
	2	Bankoora, „ 16 „	0·03	Weather—slightly rainy in the beginning of the week; now [illegible] again. Full crops are expected.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 16 „	0·54	Weather—colder than last week. There has been a litt[illegible] district. It has benefitted the standing winter crops.
	4	Midnapore, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—generally cloudy, getting warm, and slight rain [illegible] and prospects of the crops are fair, but rain is said in some [illegible] for the standing crops.
	5	Hooghly, „ 16 „	0·01	Slight rain with hail on the night of the 11th instant. Weather cooler [illegible] week. The harvest of potato, peas, and moosari is going on. Mangoes [illegible] blossom. Public health is normal. Cattle disease has abated.
		Howrah, „ 18 „	0·03	Weather—cooler than last week. The few crops on the ground are [illegible] A little preparation of land is going on.
		Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Feb. 16 '78	0·03	Weather—cloudy and a few drops of rain at the beginning of the week; since [illegible] it is cooler. State and prospects of the crops are good. General health is fair.
	7	Nuddea, „ 16 „	Nil	There has been a little rain almost everywhere in the district, and the weather has consequently become much cooler and more seasonable. The harvest of the cold-weather crops continues. The outturn is not very good.
	8	Jessore, „ 16 „	0·29	Weather—getting warmer. The rain of the 12th instant was general. Prospects are fair. Hail fell on 11th and 12th at Bagirhat, and is said to have damaged the boro plants.
	9	Moorshedabad, „ 16 „	0·26	Weather—seasonable. Some slight injury has been done to the crops by rain and hail, particularly in Gowas; but generally they promise well. Cholera still prevails in parts of the district.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	10	Dinagepore, „ 15 „	0·68	Weather—stormy. Ploughing for the spring crops is being carried on.
	11	Rajshahye, „ 16 „	0·41	There has been rain throughout the district in the early part of the week, which has been of great benefit to the crops on the ground. The weather subsequently became colder for the time. Fever is still prevalent. A few cases of cholera have been reported from Lalpore.
	12	Rungpore, „ 15 „	0·54 Gaibanda 0·73.	There was a slight thunderstorm on the night of the 11th instant. The slight rain during the week has been good for ploughing and for the tobacco crop. There is little else on the ground.
	13	Bogra, „ 16 „	1·56	There was a heavy shower of rain accompanied with hailstones on the 12th instant The weather has since been much cooled. The hailstones have do[illegible] some injury to the rubbee crops now on the ground, but the rain is calculat[illegible] to facilitate the ploughing of the lands for the aus. Price of rice was alm[illegible] stationary during the week. Cholera is on the decrease, and small-pox h[illegible] disappeared.
	14	Pubna, „ 16 „	0·08	Weather—fine and seasonable. Thunder, wind, and a little rain on the 12th instant. The prospects of the rubbee crops appear to be promising. The harvesting of huldi is still going on. Cholera has again appeared in the Pubna town; there were five cases, out of which four have proved fatal.
	15	Darjeeling, „ 15 „	0·31	Mostly foggy, chilly weather; snow fell in the adjacent hills, and a little rain in the station. Rain also fell in the Terai of this district. The minor crops throughout the district are doing well. There are no crops of importance on the ground at present.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 16 „	0·21	Rain having fallen, the weather is once more cool and pleasant. The haimunti rice crop has been fairly good. Land is now being prepared for bhadoi dhan. Tobacco promises well. Sugarcane is being cut; the crop is not particularly good.
		Cooch Behar, „ 14 „	0·67 Mata-bhanga 0·43	The first part of the week was rather warm, but since the 11th instant the weather has become cool and pleasant. The rain which fell on the 11th and 12th has done much good to tobacco, cheena, kaon, wheat, barley, and other cold-weather crops, and there is now every prospect of a good harvest. Mustard is being gathered in many places. Lands are being ploughed for bitree dhan, and the late fall of rain is very seasonable for this crop. Public health continues good.

		[illegible] District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.

		[illegible]astern Districts.
[illegible]A DIVN.	[illegible]	[illegible]ca, Feb. 16 '78	0·06 Moonsheegunge 1·10	Weather—very much cooler since the rain. Rain has done good, but more is required.
	18	Furreedpore, „ 16 „	0·23 Madaripore. 0·87.	There was slight rain in the early part of the week, since when the weather has been cooler. Some benefit has been afforded by the rain, but more is required. There was a fall of hail in Madaripore, but it is not reported that much damage has been done. The general prospects of the crops are fair.
	[illegible]	[illegible]ergunge, „ 14 „	0·8	All is well, but there is a little sporadic sickness.
	[illegible]	[illegible]ngh, „ 15 „	1·44	Weather—seasonable. There was a storm with a heavy fall of rain and hailstone on the 12th instant. State and prospects of the crops are favourable. The rain has done much good to the crops.
	[illegible]	[illegible] „ 15 „	0·70 Brahmunbaria sub-divn. 0·19	Storm of wind and rain on the 12th instant. During the rest of the week the weather was cloudy on one or two days and fine on the other days. Prospects of boro dhan are good. Kalai is yielding a good outturn. The outturn of mustard is below the average.
CHITTAG[illegible]	[illegible]	Chittagong, „ 14 „	0·25	Weather—cloudy and hot till 12th instant, when there was a slight sprinkling in the morning and a smart shower in the night. South wind blew from 10th to 12th; it is now northerly again. The cold-weather crops are doing well. Price of rice is from 11 to 13 seers per rupee; in the south it is from 12 to 16 seers.
	23	Noakholly, „ 14 „	0·7	Weather—unusually warm until the evening of the 12th instant, when there were thunderstorm and rain. Pulses, chillies, &c., are progressing favourably. The stubbles are being ploughed in or burnt up and ploughed in. Ploughing for the early rice crop is going on actively everywhere. Public health is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 12 „	0·2	Weather—seasonable. Cloudy, and slight fall of rain on the 12th instant. The hillmen are busily engaged in cutting jungle for jooming. Tobacco is not favorably reported of, owing to want of rain.
	[illegible]	Hill Tipperah, „ 13 „	0·47	Weather—cloudy and unsettled for the greater part of the week. Slight rain on the 12th. No change in the state and prospects of the crops since last report.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	25	Patna, Feb. 16 '78	0·35	Weather—seasonably cold. Prospects of the crops are good. Health is good.
	[illegible]	Gya, „ 16 „	0·21 Aurungabad. 0·13 Nowada 0·42	Weather—cooler since the rain, with high wind prevailing. Maximum thermometer in the shade 88·8°. Insects continue to do damage in parts of the district. Reaping of kurthi, kerao, mustard and masoor has commenced, and sugarcane is being planted. Prices continue to rule high, and jungle produce is in parts being consumed as food.
	27	Shahabad, „ 16 „	0·07	Weather—at present fine, with west winds. A slight thunder-shower in Arrah on the 11th. 20 at Buxar on the 12th. Slight showers at Bhabooah on the 11th. The crops in Bhabooah are flourishing, except those sown early, which have been injured by frost. Poppy is good everywhere, but it is late. Prices are rising in Bhabooah. No return from Sasseram.
	28	Durbhunga, „ 16 „	0·11	Weather—warm and seasonable. No change in the state and prospects of the crops since last report.
	29	Mozufferpore, „ 16 „	0·12	Weather—fine and cool. Owing to the good prospects of the rubbee, the prices of food-grains in the sudder Sub-division have fallen a little. In the Hajeepore sub-division the rubbee is doing well. In the Seetamurhee sub-division there was heavy fall of rain on the 11th, which has done some harm to rahur, khasari, &c. Some hail fall also has been reported from the south of Seetamurhee.
	30	Sarun, „ 16 „	0·10 Sewan 0·19, Gopalgunge 0·58.	Weather—cloudy at the beginning of the week; the last part clear, and sun gradually getting hot. High cold west wind during the day. There has been slight rain in most parts of the district on the 10th and 11th instant, and a regular downpour at Gopalgunge. The prospects of the rubbee crops continue favourable. The Sub-divisional Officer of Gopalgunge has reported that throughout his sub-division there is every prospect of an average harvest. In many places considerable damage has been done to the poppy plant by Moorka: about 1,000 beeghas of plant have been destroyed, which would have yielded about 120 maunds of opium. The Sub-Deputy Opium Agents have been asked to report further regarding the damage done to the poppy crop. The Manager of the Hutwa Raj Estate, who has just come in from camp, reports very favourably of the crops in that part of the district, in which, but for the winter rains, severe distress might have been looked for. The prospects of sugarcane and indigo have improved owing to the late rainfall.
	31	Chumparun, „ 16 „	0·25	The sky is overcast. Weather is becoming warmer during the day. The slight shower of rain on the 10th instant has largely benefitted the rubbee and poppy crops, in consequence of which the prices of food-grains have been lowered a little.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crop [illegible] state of health at date.
BEHAR—(Continued.)
BHAGULPORE DIVISION.	32	Monghyr, „ 16 „	0·25 Begoo-serai 1·11	West winds prevailing. Nights are cool. State and prospects of [illegible] good.
	33	Bhagulpore, „ 16 „	0·68	Weather—stormy on the night of the 11th and morning of the 12th ; [illegible] it has been cold and dry, with heavy dews at night. The rain has done [illegible] good to the standing rubbee crops, but some damage to the mango crop [illegible] anticipated. Prices have a downward tendency. Health is good.
	34	Purneah, „ 16 „	0·58 Kissen-gunge 0·33, Arrareah 0·21	West wind prevailing, but weather cool. There has been rain all over the district. It was heavy, attended with hail in the southern and eastern parts. It [illegible] been very beneficial for the ploughing and sowing. The tobacco crop [illegible] is said to be good.
	35	Maldah, „ 16 „	0·56	In the first part of the week there was fall of rain in sever[illegible] the fall was attended with hailstones. The weather [illegible] wheat, barley, moong, and mutter plants are thriving, [illegible] they have been partially injured by the late fall of [illegible] under transplantation. Public health is still improving [illegible]
	36	Sonthal Perghs., „ 17 „	0·12	Weather—colder, and more windy. Rain and hail have [illegible] Godda and Rajmehal. The hail has done some mischief.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN.	37	Cuttack, Feb. 16 '78	Nil	Weather—fine, and less warm than last week. The reaping of sarad crop [illegible] Dalua crop is in ear in some places. Public health is on the whole goo[illegible]
	38	Pooree, „ 14 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. Sarad rice is being harvested. Dalua ri[illegible] gressing well in the low lying lands. Moong and kalai promise well. [illegible] being harvested, but the outturn is not a good one for want of rain. The [illegible] a shower of rain on the 6th instant in the tracts between the Chilka and the sea, which has done good to the mandia crop. Prospects are better now in that part of the country, owing to the numerous tanks which have been dug and deepened. Common rice is selling at 15¾ to 21 seers for the rupee, but in the salt tracts the rates are 11$\frac{13}{16}$ to 13$\frac{2}{16}$ seers. Export of rice to the Madras Presidency continues. Public health is good.
	39	Balasore, „ 15 „	0·06	Weather—at present fine. The condition of the crops is satisfactory. Fever in the north has abated. Sporadic cholera still exists.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Feb. 15 '78	0·32	Weather—cooler again after the rain. The rain, which was accompanied by a little hail, is reported to have damaged the prospects of the mohwa and mango crops.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 16 „	0·05	Weather—seasonable. The outturn of the rubbee crops has not been so good as usual in the Sudder sub-division, and in the Palamow sub-division it is reported to be considerably below the average.
	42	Singbhoom, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Nothing to report about the crops. The distric[illegible] healthy.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 16 „	0·40	Weather—seasonable. Bad accounts have been received of the condition of [illegible] people in the west of the district. There can be no doubt of the badness [illegible] season. In the north-west and west of the district the mohwa harve[illegible] plentiful, will do much to avert distress.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 18*th February* 1878.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the Month of January 1878.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE.

Report on the Traffic for the four weeks ending the 26th January 1878.

Dated Calcutta, the 12th February 1878.

From—C. F. CHADBURN, ESQ., (for) Acting Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

The quantity of goods carried during the above period amounted to Mds. 6,89,612, shewing a decrease of 35,786 Mds. as compared with that carried during the corresponding period of last year, which amounted to 7,25,398 Md This decrease is owing chiefly to the smaller quantity of rice and sugar carried.

The staples shewing the greatest decrease are grain including rice and bundles and bales of gunny, bales of jute sugar and seeds.

The staples shewing the greatest increase are jute drums, salt, tobacco, turmeric and miscellaneous goods. Foreign Railway material also shews an increase.

Decrease.

Grain, including rice	Mds.	1,66,152

This decrease is owing to there being no export to Madras as last year.

	Bundles	Bales.
Gunny	725	4,626

This decrease in bundles is owing to less demand in the interior for gunny bags, and that in bales to a lesser quantity arriving from Serajgunge Jute Mills.

Jute, bales	Mds.	6,071

This is owing to the dull market for bales, the drums however showing a large increase.

Sugar	Mds.	22,462

This decrease is owing to the lateness of the season, but will improve as it advances.

Seeds	Mds.	9,070

This staple shows a decrease, but will, I hope, improve as the season advances.

Increase.

Jute, drums	Mds.	1,28,478

This shows a satisfactory increase, slightly counteracted by the decrease in bales.

Railway material, foreign	Mds.	11,847

This increase is owing to the quantity of material sent up for the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Salt	Mds.	7,679

This shows a satisfactory increase and is as anticipated.

Tobacco	Mds.	4,469

This increase is also satisfactory, and owing to a large demand in the market.

Turmeric	Mds.	8,758

This staple shows a very satisfactory increase, and is also owing to large demand in the market.

Miscellaneous	Mds.	14,606

This increase is in upward, downward and intermediate goods, and is very satisfactory.

I subjoin the usual statement of increase and decrease.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the Month of December 1877.

TIRHOOT STATE RAILWAY.

INCREASE.

Food-grains	Mds. 50,790
The increase in this particular staple is owing to the abundant harvest in Tirhoot, and to the scarcity in the North-Western Provinces.
Hides and horns	" 752
This is attributable to the demand in the market; and as the hides from this district are of a superior quality, this traffic promises well.
Indigo	" 7,781
This increase is owing to a good season and to opening out of the Mozufferpore extension.
Iron	" 1,704
This has principally been for the requirements of the several indigo factories, and has been diverted from the rivers to the railway.
Piece-goods	" 3,182
This increase is principally in consignments to Mozufferpore for the Mohurrum.
Seeds—indigo	" 1,261
This was an early consignment for the Sakra district.
Oil-seeds	" 23,814
This increase is attributable to the development of the system and to through booking.
Salt	" 3,103
This is double the imports of 1876 and is steadily increasing. This traffic has also been diverted from the rivers.
Saltpetre	" 11,686
This increase is due to the demand in the market and to the opening out of the Mozufferpore extension.
Tobacco	" 3,613
This staple shews a satisfactory increase owing to the healthy state of the plant grown in Tirhoot and the great demand there is for it.

DECREASE.

Railway materials	" 1,334
Owing to completion of the line.

SOMASTIPORE,
The 2nd February 1878.

RULE II.—Notwithstanding Rule I, no fee shall be chargeable for serving and executing any process, such as a notice, rule, summons, or warrant of arrest which may be issued by any Court of its own motion, solely for the purpose of taking cognizance of, and punishing any act done, or words spoken, in contempt of its authority.

RULE III.—No process which comes within the operation of Rule I shall be drawn up for service or execution, except upon an application made to the Court for that purpose in writing, on a document bearing upon its face stamps not less in amount than the fee, which by Rule I is directed to be charged for serving and executing the process so sought to be drawn up. This application may, however, at the option of the party making it, be included in the petition by which he moves the Court to order the process to issue; but in that case the petition must bear the requisite stamps for the process fee, in addition to such stamps, if any, as are needed for its own validity: and, in either case, the filing of the application, thus duly stamped, shall constitute payment of the fee chargeable for the process.

RULE IV.—In cases which are covered by the note to Article 3 of Part I, and the note to Articles (3) and (4) of Parts II, III, and IV of the Table of Fees in Rule I, the additional fee which may become payable after the process has been actually issued shall be paid by filing a written requisition to the Court to receive the fee, which document shall bear on the face of it stamps not less in amount than the additional fee, together with a memorandum of the purpose for which it is paid.

RULE V.—The proceeds of a sale effected in execution of any decree will only be paid out of Court on an application made for that purpose in writing, and the additional fee (f), Article (6), Parts II, III, and IV must be paid by stamps affixed to, or impressed upon, the first of such applications: whether it be or be not made by the person who obtained the order for sale, or whether it does or does not extend to the whole of the proceeds. No fee will be chargeable upon any such application subsequent to the first.

N.B.—The fees paid in pursuance of these Rules, must, in all proceedings, be deemed and treated as part of the necessary and proper costs of the party who pays them.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Orders issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 3, dated the 16th February 1878.

From a report recently submitted by a District Judge, it appears that, in the time of his predecessors, the record-room attached to this Court has been allowed to fall into a state of great confusion. No register of the contents of the record-room had been prepared; no system in arranging the records had been followed. The provisions of Circular Order No. 7, dated 4th March 1874, requiring lists of the records sent in by the Lower Courts to be prepared on printed forms of a uniform size and bound into volumes, had been overlooked. The papers, the periodical destruction of which was prescribed by Circular Order No. 26, dated 16th November 1865, and previous Circular Orders of the Sudder Court, had not been touched, though year after year the annual reports contained certificates to the effect that the rules had been complied with. The record-keeper and his deputy had been permitted to delegate their duties to copyists, who were allowed unrestricted access to the record-room, and permitted to do their copying work there, away from the control of the Serishtadar. Irregularities, such as might have been expected in regard to the granting of copies, are said to have resulted.

2. To remedy the irregularities noted above as soon as they were discovered, advantage was taken by the Judge of the Dusserah vacation to employ all the clerks of the Court, who had not taken leave, in making a list of the contents of the racks, and examining, as far as possible, the contents of the bundles. A complete index to the papers, which are now being arranged, is in process of preparation, and something like order is gradually being introduced.

3. It is to be feared that a somewhat similar state of things may prevail elsewhere, and consequently the Judges consider it necessary to direct that steps be taken to ascertain in every Court that the record-keeper is performing his duties thoroughly, and not only so far as is sufficient to prevent the immediate detection of neglect.

4. The Court have to remind the District Judges that the native holidays afford opportunities which may be usefully employed in carrying out inquiries for the neglect of which pressure of business is frequently pleaded, and that it must always be possible to make arrangements for the performance of this duty without interfering with the religious observances of their ministerial officers.

5. The object to be attained is of such importance, that the Court trust that all District Judges will co-operate heartily in securing it. Officers who may hereafter neglect this duty must bear in mind that they will be held personally responsible.

No. 4, dated the 16th February 1878.

In lieu of the monthly return, shewing the number of pauper suits decided in the Civil Courts, prescribed by the Circular Order of the late Sudder Court, No. 22, dated 2nd October 1846, the Court is pleased to prescribe for use the annexed form of quarterly statement to be prepared by the District Judge on account of his own and the Subordinate Civil Courts, and by him forwarded to the Collector of the District concerned.

2. Instead of communicating directly with the Collector immediately on passing a decision in favour of a person suing in formâ pauperis, as directed in Circular Order No. 34, dated 30th November 1864, the officer deciding will, in future, within seven days from the day on which the decree is signed, deliver to the Government Pleader a copy of the decree in the case.

Statement shewing the number of Pauper Suits decided in the Civil Courts of the District of during the Quarter of the year 18 , and the amount of Stamp Duty leviable on behalf of Government (Circular Order No. 4, dated 16th February 1878).

In what Court decided.	Date of institution of suit.	Register number of suit.	Names of suitors, with their places of residence.	Nature of the suit.	Substance of the order passed.	Date on which copy of the decree was made over to the Government Pleader.	Amount or value in dispute.	Amount of stamp duty leviable.	REMARKS.

Sheriff's Office, the 27th February 1878.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Third Criminal Sessions of the year 1878, of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William and the places subordinate thereto, will be holden at the Court-house, in the Town of Calcutta, on Monday, the Twenty-fifth day of March next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and so on from day to day until the said Sessions be over. And it is hereby proclaimed that all persons who will prosecute any of the prisoners to be brought up for trial at the said Sessions be then and there to prosecute.

The 21st February 1878.

No. 78.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to confirm the leave of absence for eighteen months granted by the Lord Bishop of Calcutta to Mr. Charles Sanderson, Registrar of the Diocese, with effect from the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

The Lord Bishop has nominated Mr. Robert Leycester Upton to officiate as Registrar.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce, are republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATIONS.—COMMERCE AND TRADE.

Calcutta, the 22nd February 1878.

No. 7 of 1878.—The following Notice to Mariners is published for general information :—

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

CHINA SEA.—YANG-TSE-KIANG.

Kiutoan Light-Vessel.

THE Inspector-General of Customs, Shanghai, has given notice that, on or about the 1st March 1878, a light-vessel painted red with the word "Kiutoan" in white letters on her sides, and a mast surmounted by an 8-feet black ball, will be moored in mid-channel to the north-east of Kiutoan light-house.

The light to be exhibited will be a fixed catoptric white light, elevated 35 feet above the sea level, and in clear weather should be visible from a distance of 11 miles.

The usual riding light, a small white light, will be exhibited from the forestay, 6 feet above the rail, to indicate the direction the vessel is riding.

During foggy weather a 10-cwt. fog-bell will be struck three double blows in each minute, the interval between the blows of each pair being 5 seconds, and between two successive pairs of blows, 15 seconds.

If the light-vessel be driven from her proper position, and of no use as a guide to shipping, the fixed white light will not be exhibited, but in lieu thereof a fixed red light will be shown at each end of the vessel; the black ball also will be removed as soon as possible, and, till removed, will be surmounted by a red flag.

On the light-vessel being placed in position, the light at present exhibited from Kiutoan light-house will be discontinued.

Paragraph 8 (clause i) of the Resolution of the Government of India, Nos. 782—792, dated the 25th October 1875, constituting the Department of Indian Marine Surveys, in which it is directed that—" The Marine Survey Department shall be responsible for maintaining a sufficient stock of the various charts published by the authority of the Admiralty, and for supplying them to the different local Governments, public officers, or other persons, in such manner as may hereafter be arranged."

Resolution of the Government of India, Nos. 26—31, dated the 11th January 1876, approving a proposal made by the Superintendent of Marine Surveys, that the duty of supplying Admiralty charts and sailing directions to local Governments and Administrations for the use of the local and mercantile marine, and other persons requiring them, should rest solely with the Marine Survey Department, and sanctioning a scheme for carrying this proposal into effect.

RESOLUTION.—In modification of the orders cited in the preamble of this Resolution, the Governor General in Council is pleased to rule that Admiralty charts shall not in future ordinarily be sold to the public by the Marine survey Department, and that the Superintendent of Marine Surveys, when applied to by persons wishing to purchase or seeking information in regard to charts, shall confine himself to furnishing information of the numbers of the charts required according to the Admiralty catalogue, referring intending purchasers to Messrs. Black and Murray, who are the established Agents in Calcutta for the sale of Admiralty charts, for the charts they require. Such charts may, however, be sold to the public by the Superintendent of Marine Surveys, in the event of the stock maintained at the Agency being at any time exhausted, in which case he should at once bring the fact to the notice of the Hydrographer to the Admiralty.

A sufficient stock of all "Notices to Mariners" affecting Admiralty charts relating to Indian waters, and published by the Government of India, will be kept for sale to the public at the Office of the Superintendent of Marine Surveys. The number of these notices now printed should be increased accordingly, and those out of print and affecting Admiralty charts not yet corrected up to date by the Hydrographic Office should be reprinted.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of Marine Surveys for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Financial Department, is republished for general information:—

NOTIFICATIONS.—ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Fort William, the 27th February 1878.

No. 1134.—The Governor-General in Council directs the publication of the following Addenda and Corrigenda to the Codes of the Financial Department:—

CIVIL PENSION CODE.

SECTION 71 (PAGE 41).

Substitute the following for the 3rd example under this Section:—

The commission paid to a Thoogyee in British Burma goes in part to pay expenses incident to his office. In calculating emoluments or average emoluments for pension purposes, 2½ per cent. on a Thoogyee's commission, when the average commission of the last five years of a Thoogyee's service exceeds Rs. 600 a year, is deducted as representing the expenses of his office, and pension or gratuity is computed upon the remainder. No deduction is made if the average commission of a Thoogyee for the last five years of service does not exceed Rs. 600 a year; in such case the pension or gratuity is computed upon the total amount of such average commission.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India in the Military Department, are republished for general information:—

Fort William, the 22nd February 1878.

No. 156.—The undermentioned officers of the Bengal Staff Corps, having completed 20 years' service, are promoted to the rank of Major from the dates specified, under the provisions of G. G. O. No. 808 of the 26th September 1866, subject to Her Majesty's approval:—

Captain Thomas Bernard Michell,—19th February 1878.

REGULATIONS.

No. 175.—Under instructions from Her Majesty's Government, the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish the following rules regarding advances of pay to officers under the furlough rules of 1868 and 1875:—

Officers proceeding on furlough to Europe may if they desire it, receive an advance equivalent to three months' furlough pay.

Officers returning from furlough will similarly be granted advances of pay at the following rates, on obtaining permission to return:—

For a Subaltern	£ 65
For a Captain	£ 100
For a Field Officer	£ 150

Recovery of the advances made in England to be effected in India by five equal monthly instalments at the rate of exchange fixed for the year.

ALLAHABAD,—CURATOR OF GOVERNMENT BOOKS.
NAGPORE,—CURATOR OF GOVERNMENT BOOKS.
LAHORE,— MADRAS,—MESSRS. HIGGINBOTHAM & CO.
BOMBAY,—MESSRS. THACKER & CO.

N.B.—Maps are not sold at the Office of the Surveyor-General of India, Calcutta, but applications for maps on payment should be made to Agents. This Department only issues maps, free of charge, on the Public Service. It is particularly requested that the nearest local Agent as above be first applied to for any map required on the Public Service before indenting on this Department. The cost of postage of parcels must be borne by applicants themselves as also such incidental charges as may be incurred at their request for mounting and binding maps. The best maps are invariably supplied in lieu of those asked for, which may not be available, and lists of all newly-published maps are periodically notified in the Gazettes of India and of Local Governments.

PART V.

Act of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 13th February 1878, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. VI of 1878.

An Act to amend the law relating to Treasure-Trove.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law relating to treasure-trove; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Treasure-Trove Act, 1878.

Extent.

It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force at once.

Repeal of enactments.

2. The enactments specified in the schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the same schedule.

Interpretation-clause.

3. In this Act—

"Treasure."

"treasure" means anything of any value hidden in the soil, or in anything affixed thereto:

"Collector."

"Collector" means (1) any revenue officer in independent charge of a district, and (2) any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of a Collector under this Act.

Owner.

When any person is entitled, under any reservation in an instrument of transfer of any land or thing affixed thereto, to treasure in such land or thing, he shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the owner of such land or thing.

Procedure on finding Treasure.

Notice by finder of treasure.

4. Whenever any treasure exceeding in amount or value ten rupees is found, the finder shall, as soon as practicable, give to the Collector notice in writing—

(a) of the nature and amount or approximate value of such treasure;

(b) of the place in which it was found;

(c) of the date of the finding;

and either deposit the treasure in the nearest Government Treasury, or give the Collector such security as the Collector thinks fit, to produce the treasure at such time and place as he may from time to time require.

Notification requiring claimants to appear.

5. On receiving a notice under section four, the Collector shall, after making such enquiry (if any) as he thinks fit, take the following steps (namely):—

(a) he shall publish a notification in such manner as the Local Government from time to time prescribes in this behalf, to the effect that, on a certain date (mentioning it), certain treasure (mentioning its nature, amount, and approximate value) was found in a certain place (mentioning it); and requiring all persons claiming the treasure, or any part thereof, to appear personally or by agent before the Collector on a day and at a place therein mentioned, such day not being earlier than four months, or later than six months, after the date of the publication of such notification;

(b) when the place in which the treasure appears to the Collector to have been found was at the date of the finding in the possession of some person other than the finder, the Collector shall also serve on such person a special notice in writing to the same effect.

Forfeiture of right on failure to appear.

6. Any person having any right to such treasure or any part thereof, as owner of the place in which it was found or otherwise, and not appearing as required by the notification issued under section five, shall forfeit such right.

Matters to be enquired into and determined by the Collector.

7. On the day notified under section five, the Collector shall cause the treasure to be produced before him, and shall enquire as to and determine—

(a) the person by whom, the place in which, and the circumstances under which, such treasure was found; and

(b) as far as is possible the person by whom, and the circumstances under which, such treasure was hidden.

Time to be allowed for suit by person claiming the treasure.

8. If, upon an enquiry made under section seven, the Collector sees reason to believe that the treasure was hidden within one hundred years before the date of the finding, by a person appearing as required by the said notification and claiming such treasure, or by some other person under whom such person claims, the Collector shall make an order adjourning the hearing of the case for such period as he deems sufficient, to allow of a suit being instituted in the Civil Court by the claimant, to establish his right.

When treasure may be declared ownerless.

9. If upon such enquiry the Collector sees no reason to believe that the treasure was so hidden; or if, where a period is fixed under section eight, no suit is instituted as aforesaid within such period to the knowledge of the Collector; or if such suit is instituted within such period, and the plaintiff's claim is finally rejected;

the Collector may declare the treasure to be ownerless.

Appeal against such declaration.

Any person aggrieved by a declaration made under this section may appeal against the same within two months from the date thereof to the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority.

Subject to such appeal, every such declaration shall be final and conclusive.

Proceedings subsequent to declaration.

10. When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure under section nine, such treasure shall, in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, either be delivered to the finder thereof or be divided between him and the owner of the place in which it has been found in manner hereinafter provided.

When no other person claims as owner of place, treasure to be given to finder.

11. When a declaration has been made in respect of any treasure as aforesaid, and no person other than the finder of such treasure has appeared as required by the notification published under section five and claimed a share of the treasure as owner of the place in which it has been found, the Collector shall deliver such treasure to the finder thereof.

When only one such person claims and his claim is not disputed, treasure to be divided.

12. When a declaration has been made as aforesaid in respect of any treasure, and only one person other than the finder of such treasure has so appeared and claimed, and the claim of such person is not disputed by the finder, the Collector shall proceed to divide the treasure between the finder and the person so claiming according to the following rule (namely):—

If the finder and the person so claiming have not entered into any agreement then in force as to the disposal of the treasure, three-fourths of the treasure shall be allotted to such finder and the residue to such person. If such finder and such person have entered into any such agreement, the treasure shall be disposed of in accordance therewith:

Provided that the Collector may in any case, if he thinks fit, instead of dividing any treasure as directed by this section,

(a) allot to either party the whole or more than his share of such treasure, on such party paying to the Collector for the other party such sum of money as the Collector may fix as the equivalent of the share of such other party, or of the excess so allotted, as the case may be; or

(b) sell such treasure or any portion thereof by public auction and divide the sale proceeds between the parties according to the rule hereinbefore prescribed:

Provided also, that when the Collector has by his declaration under section nine rejected any claim made under this Act by any person other than the said finder or person claiming as owner of the place in which the treasure was found, such division shall not be made until after the expiration of two months without an appeal having been presented under section nine by the person whose claim has been so rejected, or, when an appeal has been so presented, after such appeal has been dismissed.

and shares to be delivered to parties.

When the Collector has made a division under this section, he shall deliver to the parties the portions of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof, to which they are respectively entitled under such division.

In case of dispute as to ownership of place, proceedings to be stayed.

13. When a declaration has been made as aforesaid in respect of any treasure, and two or more persons have appeared as aforesaid and each of them claimed as owner of the place where such treasure was found, or the right of any person who has so appeared and claimed is disputed by the finder of such treasure, the Collector shall retain such treasure and shall make an order staying his proceedings with a view to the matter being enquired into and determined by a Civil Court.

Settlement of such dispute,

14. Any person who has so appeared and claimed may, within one month from the date of such order, institute a suit in the Civil Court to obtain a decree declaring his right; and in every such suit the finder of the treasure and all persons disputing such claim before the Collector shall be made defendants.

and division thereupon.

15. If any such suit is instituted and the plaintiff's claim is finally established therein, the Collector shall, subject to the provisions of section twelve, divide the treasure between him and the finder.

If no such suit is instituted as aforesaid, or if the claims of the plaintiffs in all such suits are finally rejected, the Collector shall deliver the treasure to the finder.

Power to acquire the treasure on behalf of Government.

16. The Collector may at any time after making a declaration under section nine, and before delivering or dividing the treasure as hereinbefore provided, declare by writing under his hand his intention to acquire on behalf of the Government the treasure, or any specified portion thereof, by payment to the persons entitled thereto of a sum equal to the value of the materials of such treasure or portion, together with one-fifth of such value, and may place such sum in deposit in his treasury to the credit of such persons; and thereupon such treasure or portion shall be deemed to be the property of Government, and the money so deposited shall be dealt with, as far as may be, as if it were such treasure or portion.

Decision of Collector final, and no suit to lie against him for acts done bonâ fide.

17. No decision passed or act done by the Collector under this Act shall be called in question by any Civil Court, and no suit or other proceeding shall lie against him for anything done in good faith in exercise of the powers hereby conferred.

Collector to exercise powers of Civil Court.

18. A Collector making any enquiry under this Act may exercise any power conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure on a Civil Court for the trial of suits.

Power to make rules.

19. The Local Government may from time to time make rules consistent with this Act to regulate proceedings hereunder.

Such rules shall, on being published in the local Gazette, have the force of law.

Penalties.

Penalty on finder failing to give notice, &c.

20. If the finder of any treasure fails to give the notice, or does not either make the deposit or give the security, required by section four, or alters or attempts to alter such treasure so as to conceal its identity, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty, and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

Penalty on owner abetting offence under section 19.

21. If the owner of the place in which any treasure is found abets, within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code, any offence under section nineteen, the share of such treasure, or the money in lieu thereof to which he would otherwise be entitled, shall vest in Her Majesty, and he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 23rd February 1878.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.		Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1	Burdwan, Feb. 23 '78	Nil	The winter crops are being reaped and gathered, and the sugarcane is being cut in many places. The spring crops are being sown. Cholera is still prevalent in the Bood-Bood, Culna, and Jehanabad sub-divisions. No reports have been received from Raneegunge and Cutwa.
	2	Bankoora, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—cool in the beginning of the week; cool mornings, hot days, and foggy one day. Prospects of the crops are the same as reported last week.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—getting warm. The winter crops are doing well. Sugarcane is being harvested.
	4	Midnapore, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—getting very warm. State and prospects of the crops are fair, but rain is said in some places to be required for the standing crops.
	5	Hooghly, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—unseasonably warm. The rubbee crops are fast ripening. Public health is normal. No fresh case of cattle-disease has been reported.
		Howrah, „ 25 „	0·005	Weather—warmer than usual at this time of year. There is no crop on the ground. Land is under preparation for the coming cultivation.
		Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Feb. 23 '78	0·71	Weather—hot. State and prospects of the crops are good. Health is normal. Cholera in some places still prevails.
	7	Nuddea, „ 23 „	0·20	Weather—generally foggy in the morning and becoming warm. The harvesting of the cold-weather crops is going on; there is no change in the prospects of the outturn, which will be rather poor.
	8	Jessore, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—rapidly growing warm. Mornings are generally foggy. The winter crops are being gathered. Prospects of the boro dhan are not good, owing to want of sufficient rain.
	9	Moorshedabad, „ 23 „	Nil	The weather is getting rapidly hot. The rubbee crops are reported to be generally in good condition. Cholera is still prevalent in three police thanas.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	10	Dinagepore, Feb. 22 '78	Nil	A high, warm wind from the south-west is blowing. Prospects of the spring crops are good. Rice is selling at from 12 to 28 seers the rupee.
	11	Rajshahye, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—clear and cold during the first, but warmer during the latter, part of the week. The rubbee crops promise a fair outturn. The seedlings of boro dhân are being transplanted. A few cases of cholera and small-pox have been reported from Nowhatta and Tannore.
	12	Rungpore, " 22 "	Nil	Weather—becoming warmer. State and prospects of the crops continue to be satisfactory. The recent rain has been very beneficial to all kinds of crops except tobacco and mango. It has much facilitated agricultural operations. Public health as regards fever is good, but some cases of cholera have been reported from the Kurigram sub-division.
	13	Bogra, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—bright and warm, with west and north-west wind blowing. The hail that fell on the 12th instant was not general. Khesari and other pulses are in ears. Nearly one-fourth of the sugarcane has been gathered. Mulberry and ganja plants are thriving. Ploughing goes on actively. A few sporadic cases of cholera were reported during the week.
	14	Pubna, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—hot. Prospects of the rubbee crops appear to be promising, but rain is wanted. The harvesting of huldi is not yet complete. Cholera in the Pubna town appears to have abated.
	15	Darjeeling, " 22 "	0·31	A good deal of misty weather, with a sprinkling of rain. Just now there is a very high wind, threatening more rain. The ground is being prepared for the rice sowings, and the recent rain will do good.
	16	Julpigoree, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—cool for the time of year. Exceptionally cool as compared to other districts in Bengal. The cold weather crops are good.
		Cooch Behar, " 21 "	Nil Dinhatta 0·63 Mathabhanga, 0·11	Weather—mild and pleasant. It is neither too hot nor too cold, but is becoming warmer in the day time. The tobacco and other standing crops are looking healthier than before, the late rain having revived them considerably. The ground is being prepared for bitri dhân. Public health is improving week after week.
		Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	17	Dacca, Feb. 23 '78	Nil	Weather—much warmer. Heavy fogs almost every morning. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	18	Furreedpore, " 23 "	0·28	Weather—seasonable. Rain with hailstones fell on the night of the 22nd instant. The condition of the crops now on the ground is generally good. In one or two thanas the cereals are suffering from want of rain.
	19	Backergunge, " 21 "	Nil	All is well.
	20	Mymensingh, " 22 "	Nil	Weather—fine, but warmer. Ploughing operations are proceeding. There is little on the ground, except millet. Injury to tobacco has been caused in places by hail on the 12th instant.
	21	Tipperah, " 22 "	0·20	Weather—cloudy, with wind from the south. Sugarcane is nearly all cut. Winter crops are in good condition. Average price of rice is Rs. 2-12 per maund.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	22	Chittagong, " 21 "	Few drops.	Weather—seasonable with south wind. Rain is wanted for the cold-weather crops Price of rice is from 9 to 13 seers per rupee; in the south it is from 12 to 16 seers.
	23	Noakholly, " 21 "	Nil	Weather—warm. The cold weather northerly winds have been replaced by southerly winds. Pulses, chillies, &c., are progressing favourably. Ploughing for the early rice crop is going on actively. Public health is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, " 19 "	0·90	Weather—seasonable. Cloudy at noon throughout the week. The hillmen are busily engaged in cutting jungle for jooming. Mustard is nearly gathered now.
		Hill Tipperah, " 20 "	Nil	Weather—sometimes cloudy; threatening rain, but none has fallen Hot weather is setting in early. No change in the prospects of the crops. Prices are stationary.
BEHAR
PATNA DIVN.	25	Patna, Feb. 23 '78	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Strong west wind blowing since the last two days. Prospects of the crops on the whole are good, but in many places caterpillars have completely destroyed kerâs (peas), khesaree, and masoor.
	26	Gya, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—unusually hot. High wind on the 23rd instant; maximum thermometer in the shade 92·4°. Prospects of the rubbee crops continue on the whole good, though in parts of the district insects continue their attacks, and masoor has been a failure in the sudder sub-division. Cut and given as fodder to cattle, it is reported to have caused death in many instances. Prices have risen since last report, and there are murmurs of distress. The rubbee harvest will bring relief.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR—(Continued.)
PATNA DIVN.—(Continued.)	27	Shahabad, Feb. 23 '78	Nil	Weather—generally clear, but occasionally cloudy. Peas and masoor are generally being reaped. Other rubbee crops continue promising. Fields are being prepared for sugarcane. Public health is good.
	28	Durbhunga, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—warm, with west wind. Prospects of the crops are good. Prices continue high. Health of the people is generally good.
	29	Mozufferpore, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—getting warm. West wind is prevailing. State and prospects of the rubbee crops are satisfatory. The prices of food-grains remain stationary.
	30	Sarun, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—clear during the first part of the week, but since the 20th instant the mornings are cloudy. The sun is getting gradually hot. West wind is prevailing. No rain during the week. The rubbee crops are doing well throughout the district, especially those along the banks of the Gogra. Peas, mustard and masoor are being harvested; wheat and barley are ripening. In some places slight injury has been done to the rahur by frost. Poppy is in flower, and is giving out pods. The Sub-Deputy Opium Agent of Sewan has reported that about one-third of the entire poppy cultivation, or about 15,000 beeghas, were destroyed by blight. Ryots are engaged in sowing cheena and planting sugarcane. Mango is in blossom. New peas and masoor are coming into the market. Prices are stationary. Public health is good.
	31	Chumparun, " 23 "	Nil	Sky is now and then overcast. There is every probability of rain. Weather is getting hotter daily. Prospects of the rubbee crops are the same as before; the average outturn is estimated at 10 annas.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION.	32	Monghyr, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—warm. West wind blowing. State and prospects of the crops are very good.
	33	Bhagulpore, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—hot and windy by day. Nights are cool. Prospects of the rubbee crops are excellent. No material alteration in the prices, which were reported last week to have a downward tendency. Health is good.
	34	Purneah, " 23 "	Nil	High west wind is prevailing. Prospects continue fair. Sugarcane is being cut in Kissengunge. Tobacco in Arrareah is excellent.
	35	Maldah, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—fair, and getting hot. State and prospects of the crops are generally satisfactory. Price of common rice is rising, there having been much exportation; the average price now is just over 16 seers per rupee. Public health is satisfactory. A few cases of cholera and small-pox have been reported, but no deaths.
	36	Sonthal Perghs., " 24 "	Nil	Weather—windy and changeable. A good deal of damage has been done to mohwa and mango trees by the hail of last week. Small-pox and cholera are bad in Deoghur.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN.	37	Cuttack, Feb. 23 '78	Nil	Weather—fine and hot No change in the state of the crops and public health since last report.
	38	Pooree, " 21 "	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. Sarad rice, kulthi, and mandia crops are being harvested. Dalua rice is progressing well on low land. Moong and kalai promise well. Common rice is selling at $14\frac{7}{16}$ to $18\frac{3}{8}$ seers for the rupee. Export of rice to the Madras Presidency continues. Public health is good.
	39	Balasore, " 22 "	Nil	Weather—fine. Prospects of the crops are satisfactory. A good many deaths, both from sporadic cholera and small-pox, have been reported.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Feb. 22 '78	Nil	Weather—much warmer. The Deputy Commissioner on tour writes that the rain and hail last week damaged the rubbee crops in the west of the district. Ploughing is being pushed on.
	41	Lohardugga, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable and getting warm. The rubbee crops have been below the average in the sudder sub-division, and considerably so in the Palamow sub-division. The export of food-grains has been very great, and has forced up prices so exceedingly that some hardship is beginning to be felt among the labouring classes in parts of the district. A good mohwa crop will avert distress. The high prices of food-grains has given a great impetus to emigration.
	42	Singbhoom, " 22 "	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Nothing to report about the crops. The mohwa and mango have up to this shown very indifferently, and the jungle fruits are also reported not as plentiful as usual. Coarse rice now sells at 20 seers for the rupee, and labourers and non-cultivators are emigrating to the tea districts in greater number than has hitherto been noticed by the Deputy Commissioner. The district is healthy.
	43	Manbhoom, " 23 "	Nil	Weather—favourable. Nothing fresh to report. If the weather keep up, we ought to have a good mohwa crop, which shall prove a relief. As matters are, there is scarcity of food for the poorer class owing to high prices in the north, north-west, west, and south-west of the district, and to a less extent in some other pergunnahs.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 25th February 1878.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway from 1st to 26tn January 1878.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 15TH FEBRUARY 1878.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway from 1st to 26th January 1878.

THE approximate figures are—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Nos.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	448,389	6,60,133	56,15,181	21,42,979	28,03,112
1877	522,468	10,56,038	50,58,444	20,53,354	31,09,392
Increase	......	......	5,56,737	89,625	......
Decrease	74,079	3,95,905	......	......	3,06,280

The coaching traffic in January 1877 was exceptional of course, the imperial assemblage at Delhi having bro[illegible] up in that month.

In merchandise traffic the increase of weight carried is 11 per cent., that in earnings only 4 per cent., but even this must be considered very satisfactory, looking at the special circumstances of the two years.

In January 1877 the bulk of the traffic reaching us from Oudh and Rohilkund viâ Cawnpore and Benares, and also from Sind, Punjab, and Delhi viâ Ghazeeabad, was either for Howrah or viâ Jubbulpore; this year nearly all the traffic from Sind, Punjab, and Dehli is for Oudh and Rohilkund viâ Allyghur, a run of 66 miles only over this [illegible], while that from Oudh and Rohilkund is trifling in comparison, as the following will show:—

	Viâ Ghazeeabad.	Viâ Cawnpore.	Viâ [illegible]
	Tons.	Tons.	To[illegible]
1877	4,000	6,400	2,45[illegible]
1878	17,500	1,150	650

The principal variations are in—

Increases.

Coal—Upward	Mds.	+ 34,323	Rs.	+ 28,930
Downward	„	—7,004	„	—4,895
Net increase		27,319		24,035

The increase in upward coal lies with the Kurhurballee fields, and has been mainly in coal for the Sind, Punjab, and Delhi Railway.

The apparent decrease in down coal arises from dealing with a period a day shorter than last year's, the daily average being—

1877 ... ... Mds. $\frac{10,19,600}{27}$ = Mds. 37,763

1878 ... ... „ $\frac{10,12,600}{26}$ = „ 38,950

or an increase of 1,187 maunds per day.

Hides ... ... Mds. 32,458 ... Rs. 37,565

This traffic has been exceptionally large for some time past; the weight carried in second half of 1877 was 12,000 tons, as against 9,000 in 1876 and 7,750 tons in 1875. The export demand is heavy, and good supplies in the North-Western Provinces.

Indigo ... ... Mds. 26,732 ... Rs. 29,998

This is entirely in Tirhoot indigo for the Calcutta market. The total outturn has been unusually heavy, the selling price fully Rs. 50 per maund below last year's rates, and the export market consequently active.

Jaggree ... ... Mds. 18,208 ... Rs. 3,308

There has been considerable demand this year from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway districts, which Behar has supplied.

Salt ... ... Mds. 60,059 ... Rs. 15,591

This is a recovery from a specially low state of trade at Howrah in January 1877 remarked on in my report for that month.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 57,459 ... Rs. 17,608

The export market has had another sudden impulse and supplies have come forward readily.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 1,39,932 ... Rs. 53,910

Of this increase in weight 50,000 maunds lies with Patna and 66,000 maunds with Cawnpore.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 6,905 ... Rs. 4,296

This, as for some months, has had the double stimulus of excellent crops in Tirhoot and a failure in Rohilkund, thus providing both a large supply and a market to send it to.

The important feature remaining to be dealt with is food grain, and the following table shows the increase or decrease (in tons) of each of the great branches into which we divide this staple :—

	Increase.
	Tons.	Rs.
Barley and oats	3 000	8,700
Common grains	5,900	60,200
Rice	......	32,200
Pulses	13,000	51,600
Total ...	21,900	1,52,700

	Decrease.
	Tons.	Rs.
Wheat	5,900	1,70,600
Rice	8,900	......
Total ...	14,800	1,70,600

Net increase in weight	Tons	7,100
Net decrease in earnings	Rs.	17,900

The decrease in earnings, it will be seen, is entirely with wheat; and the figures of traffic from the O. & R. and S. P. D. Railways, which were referred to in an early page of this report, will show how this arises.

At this moment in fact the great wheat-producing districts of Rohilkund and Western Oudh are suffering from scarcity which I fear is for the time very severe.

What are our prospects of export trade in wheat this season it is still very difficult to say; but at present there is no export at all. The last quotation in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce circular is—

"Quotations quite nominal, the supply of good quality being exhausted."

The shipments of wheat from Calcutta to the United Kingdom from 1st January to 7th February were—

1877	12,108 tons,
1878	6,881 ,,

the trans-Ganges districts of Bengal being still able to furnish their quota, although the North-Western Provinces, whence our wheat traffic should flow, are starved.

In rice, [illegible] the other hand, with 25 per cent. less weight, we earn 16 per cent. more money, the demand for [illegible] Bhagulpore rice being upward instead of over the short lead to the port.

[illegible] increase in this is, as in previous months, in traffic from S. P. and D. to O. and R. viâ Gazeeabad [illegible] does not add much to revenue, while with [illegible] the 10,000 tons increase 9,000 is in the same traffic (S. P. and D. to O. and R.); earnings, like the [illegible] about two annas a maund.

[illegible] this way that the falling off of 6,000 tons of wheat leaves a heavy deficit in earning against an increase [illegible] of other food-grains, even putting rice, with its longer lead, out of the question.

Decreases.

[illegible]ariat beer	Mds.	2,436	Rs.	6,403
[illegible]ment stores	,,	4,939	,,	9,365

[illegible] remark from me.

[illegible]	Mds.	3,233	Rs.	3,996

[illegible] against the large increases in 1877

[illegible]ton	Mds.	79,042	Rs.	1,18,886

[illegible]0 bales of cotton have reached Howrah during the whole month.

[illegible]emarked in recent reports, really no cotton available for despatch in the usual exporting districts ow[illegible]ns failure of crops.

[illegible]ce-goods	Mds.	18 454	Rs.	30,242

[illegible] decre[illegible] in weight corresponds almost exactly with the increase in the previous month.

The decrease in money is large, and this is due to the altered position of the population in the North-Western Provinces, where famine prices are ruling with great rigour and there is little trade doing.

It will be noticed that there is an increase of 3,000 maunds in cotton twist to set against this.

Sugar	Mds.	17,071	Rs.	12,176

I could say nothing here that would not be a repetition of my remarks in my December report. There has been a serious failure of crop in Rohilkund, and the French market does not offer the inducements it did last year.

The train mileage for the period has been—

The very high coaching mileage earnings in 1877 was due to the number of special trains run in connection with the Imperial assemblage.

The goods mileage earnings has kept up most satisfactorily.

On the Jubbulpore line the traffic has been—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Mds.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	25,858	79,748	6,18,612	1,79,521	2,59,269

Decrease	10,078	1,00,104	2,17,993	35,672	1,35,776

The coaching figures are lower than in 1877 of course, because all the notabilities of Western India, with their followers, body guards, studs, and carriages, travelled over this line in January 1877 on their return from the Delhi assemblage.

The merchandise traffic is also considerably lower than in 1877, when the export of grain from the North-Western Provinces Oudh, Rohilkund, Rajputana, and the Punjab, to the distressed districts of Southern and Western India was in full flow; but the statement of Jubbulpore line train mileage which is given below will show that every means has been taken to work economically, and that the earnings for goods train mile have been—

Food-grains — The increase in this particular staple is owing to the abundant harvest in Tirhoot and to the scarcity in the North-Western Provinces.

Hides and horns — This increase is attributable to the demand in the market; and as the hides from this district are of a superior quality, this traffic promises well.

Indigo — This increase is owing to a good season and to opening out of the Mozufferpore extension and to through booking with East Indian Railway.

Iron — This has principally been for the requirements of the several indigo factories, and has been diverted from the rivers to the railway.

Piece-goods — This increase is principally due to through booking with East Indian Railway.

Seeds—Indigo — This was an early consignment for the Sakra district. This is entirely owing to through booking with East Indian Railway.

Oil-seeds — This increase is attributable to the development of the system and to through booking.

Salt — This traffic is steadily increasing, and has been diverted from the rivers in many cases.

Saltpetre — This increase is due to the demand in the market and to the opening out of the Mozufferpore extension and through booking with East Indian Railway.

Tobacco — This staple shows a satisfactory increase owing to the healthy state of the plant grown in Tirhoot and the great demand for it.

All other goods — The increase is due to through booking with East Indian Railway.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Orders issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 5, dated 20th February 1878.

HIGH COURT, CIVIL SIDE.
Present :
The Full Court.

The Court are pleased to direct that the following be substituted for the penultimate paragraph of Circular Order No. 13, dated the 18th July 1877 :—

" 13. Order sheet.

" In proceedings after decree for the execution thereof, the trial nuthee shall be constituted of the undermentioned papers and documents :—

" 14. The decree-holder's application under Section 212, Act VIII of 1859 [Section 230, Act X of 1877].

" 15. Applications for substitution in place of decree-holder under Section 208, Act VIII of 1859 [Section 232, Act X of 1877].

" 16. Applications to execute against the estate of a deceased debtor under Section 210, Act VIII of 1859 [Section 234, Act X of 1877].

" 17. Notices issued under Section 216, Act VIII of 1859 [Section 248, Act X of 1877].

" 18. Applications by the defendant objecting to the execution proceeding.

" 19. Writs of attachment or possession, and returns of service.

" 20. Proclamations of sale and returns of service.

" 21. Proceedings of the Court holding a sale.

" 22. Applications by the decree-holder granting time to the debtor.

" 23. Statements of accounts.

" 24. Receipts and acknowledgments of satisfaction in whole or in part.

" 25. Vakalutnamahs.

" 26. The final order."

No. 6, dated the 20th February 1878.

HIGH COURT, CIVIL SIDE.
Present:
The Full Court.

The Court are pleased to direct that the following additions be made in Circular Order No. 14, dated the 19th July 1877:—

In the list of "papers to be preserved," and before the words "the periods for which the trial nuthee shall be preserved entire," &c., the following shall be inserted:—

"In execution of decree cases—

14. The decree-holder's application.
19. Writs of attachment or possession and returns of service.
21. Proceedings of the court holding a sale of immovable property.
24. Receipts, &c.
25. Vakalutnamahs by which a decree-holder authorises a pleader to receive money from the court.
26. The final order."

In page 2, the following shall be inserted after the words "or in executions, not proceeded with when three years have elapsed since the last application":—

The word 'application' must be here read in connection with clause 4, Article 179, Schedule II, Act XV of 1877.

No. 7, dated the 23rd February 1878.

Circular Order No. 186, dated 24th October 1861, issued by the late Sudder Court, prescribing a form of fly leaf for use with pending suits, is hereby cancelled. In future it will be sufficient if, on the termination of a trial, the fly leaf or index of the contents of the Trial Nuthee is prepared as directed in Circular Order No. 13, dated 18th July last.

2. The orders contained in the latter circular order for the preparation of supplementary indexes, shewing separately for each party to the suit the documents used by them, supersede the orders contained in Circular Order No. 12, dated 3rd December 1869, in so far that a list of rejected documents is not now required. All that is now necessary is to make up a list of all the documents admitted in evidence in the case in as many parts as there are parties.

No. 8, dated 23rd February 1878.

The Court are pleased to direct that the quarterly returns submitted to it by the Judges of Courts of Small Causes through the District Judge, under the provisions of Circular Order No. 10A, dated 26th April 1864, and Circular Memo. No. 6, dated 8th April 1875, be discontinued. As the Courts of Small Causes are now, under Act X of 1877, subordinate to the District Courts, it will be the duty of the District Judges to exercise the same control over them in the matter of their process establishments as they do over the other Subordinate Civil Courts.

No. 9, dated the 23rd February 1878.

As the High Court has ceased, under the provisions of Act VI of 1871, to exercise any control over the establishments attached to the Subordinate Civil Courts, it is no longer necessary that the annual reports on the validity of the security filed by ministerial officers, which some District Judges continue to forward under the provisions of Circular Order No. 34, dated 23rd September 1831, issued by the late Sudder Court, should be submitted for the information of the Judges.

2. District Judges must in future be guided in the matter of taking security from members of the establishments subordinate to them, and of periodically satisfying themselves as to its validity by any instructions which they may receive on the subject from the Government.

Sheriff's Office, the 27th February 1878.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Third Criminal Sessions of the year 1878, of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, for the Town of Calcutta and Factory of Fort William and the places subordinate thereto, will be holden at the Court-house, in the Town of Calcutta, on Monday, the Twenty-fifth day of March next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, and so on from day to day until the said Sessions be over. And it is hereby proclaimed that all persons who will prosecute any of the prisoners to be brought up for trial at the said Sessions be then and there to prosecute.

CALCUTTA, the 2nd March 1878. (123—1) G. H. SIMMONS, Secretary.

No. 101A., dated Calcutta, the 23rd February 1878.

From—MESSRS. W. WATERFIELD and J. TAYLOR, Auditors of the Accounts of the Port Commissioners, Calcutta,

To—The Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

WE have the honor to report that we have examined your cash and store accounts for the half year ended 30th September 1877, and have found them to be correct.

2. We have noted several items of expenditure incurred during the half year, as requiring the orders of Government for their final admission, and we observe that the needful applications for sanction have now been submitted by you to the Government. We beg at the same time to draw your attention to the provisions of sections 18 and 52 of Act V of 1870, which require the sanction of Government to be obtained before any change is made in the sanctioned scale of establishments or expenditure incurred for any purpose not provided for in the budget.

3. Among the charges which are thus at present under the consideration of Government, is the cost of a training wall along the Howrah bank of the river, which is estimated to cost Rs. 9,600, and which you recommend should be paid for from the Port Depreciation Fund. The work is undertaken with the object of training the river into a fixed channel within the limits of the port, and preventing the deterioration of the moorings; whereas in terms of your resolution of the 20th September 1872, which created the Depreciation Fund, and which has been approved by the Government, the fund should be exclusively applied in meeting charges for the renewal of block.

4. The following statement shows the net amounts of your receipts and charges during the half year :—

No. 102A., dated Calcutta, the 23rd February 1878.

From—MESSRS. W. WATERFIELD and J. TAYLOR, Auditors of the Accounts of the Commissioners for the Hooghly Bridge,

To—The Commissioners for the Hooghly Bridge, Calcutta.

WE have the honor to report that we have examined the accounts of the Hooghly Bridge for the half year ending 30th September 1877, and have found them to be correct.

2. We have noted two or three items of expenditure incurred during the half year as requiring the orders of Government for their final admission, and we observed that the needful applications for sanction have now been submitted by you to the Government. We beg at the same time to draw your attention to the provisions of section 26 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1871, which require the sanction of Government to be obtained before any change is made in the sanctioned scale of establishment or expenditure incurred for any purpose not provided for in the budget.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation Branch.

TENDERS are invited for clearing silt from the head of Midnapore Canal at Midnapore during the closure of the canal for April 1878.

About 30 lakhs of cubic feet of silt have to be removed. The work must be begun on the 1st April, and finished on the 30th of the same month.

The silt is nearly pure sand, and can be worked in as soon as the canal is run dry.

All information can be obtained at the office of the Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, 12, Writers' Buildings, or the office of the undersigned at Midnapore.

All tenders to be sent sealed to the address of undersigned not later than noon of March 15th, when they will be opened in presence of any of the tenderers who may attend.

Each tender must be accompanied by Rs. 300 as earnest money.

J. H. Apjohn, c.e.,
Executive Engineer, Cossye Division.

Midnapore, 1st March 1878.

On the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway.

FROM this date the prices of sâl beams and scantlings supplied from this depôt will be as follows:—

Beams.—21 feet in length, at Rs. 2-10 per cubic foot.
22 „ „ 2-12 „
23 „ „ 2-14 „
24 „ „ 3 „

Above the lengths given two annas per foot run will be charged.

Any inches over the foot will be charged as a foot.

Scantlings.—From 12 to 20 feet, at Rs. 2-8 per c. ft.
Under 12 and over 7, at „ 2-4 „
Under 7 feet, at „ 2 „

The above prices are for ordinary building purposes.

For Planking Sleepers, &c., special rates will be fixed by agreement.

The Department will still take orders for buildings all over at Rs. 2-4 per cubic foot, provided the scantlings are taken in fair proportion.

Second and Third Class Timber will be sold and price fixed by agreement.

Auction Sales will be held from time to time to clear off stock.

For further particulars apply to the Officer in charge.

By order of the Conservator, Oudh Forests,
Simpson Hilliers, Asst. Conservator of Forests.

The 1st June 1877.

SEALED tenders are invited by the Superintendent of Marine at the Calcutta dockyard up to 12 o'clock noon no Thursday, the 14th March 1878, for the supply, by contract, of the articles specified in the several classes entered in the schedule for one year, from 1st April 1878 to 31st March 1879, or until the date of sanction by Government of new contracts for the year 1879-80.

2. Forms of tenders, with copies of the schedule, will be supplied by the undersigned, and none others will be received. Tenderers must also distinctly understand that any alteration or erasure in the figures, &c., once entered in the three last columns of the schedule, viz. "Tendered rates," "Per," and "Amount of the tendered rates;" also omissions of totals, will render their tender informal and lead to its rejection.

3. Tenders to be superscribed "Tenders for the supply of miscellaneous articles."

4. Tenders will not be received after the hour named.

5. Parties may tender for one or as many complete classes as they please, but not for a portion of a class.

6. Parties must show in the schedule the rate, &c., at which they tender to supply each and every article comprised in one or as many complete classes as they intend to tender.

7. Each tender, before being opened, must be accompanied with the requisite deposit in cash.

8. Each tender must be prepared to supply all articles equal to the samples produced at the office of the Superintendent of Marine, which are sealed and kept at his office for their inspection, and to abide by the conditions specified in the form of tender.

9. No reason will be assigned by the Superintendent of Marine for rejection of any tender, and he does not bind himself to accept the lowest tender.

10. Persons desirous of undertaking the contract can obtain, on application at the office of the undersigned, printed forms of tender and schedule of the articles to be supplied, and any other information that may be required connected with the contract, and the conditions the tenderers must abide by, to prevent their tenders being treated as informal.

G. T. Robinson, Commander, I. N.,
Superintendent of Marine.

Office of the Superintendent of Marine,
